Thinks Nebraska Democrats and Alliance Advocates Should Join Hands.

GROVER CLEVELAND IS NOT HIS CHOICE

Carlisle or Gorman More Likely to Carry the Strength of the Party in the West-Forecast of the Convention's Work.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.

Frank P. Ireland of Nebraska City is here hobnopping with democrats. He professes to believe the democrats will carry Nebraska this year. He says: "I don't know exactly what the democratic program will be out there, but my opinion is it will be the best sort of politics to join hands with the alliance and help them carry the presidential electors We are not wended to any particular candi-date for the presidency, though there is a strong feeling, that is growing constantly, that it would be in the highest degree unsafe to nominate Mr. Cleveland. I am no enemy of the ex-president, but on the contrary entertain the hignest rea gard for him. He is popular in Nebraska, but it is too apparent that he would be unable to carry New York state, our sine qua non of success. Just here I want to correct a fallacy that is being repeated a good deal of late. Some of Mr. Cleveland's friends are saying he will get the nomination without New York; in fact will be chosen before New York is called at the convention. These people forget that by democratic usage it takes a two-thirds vote to nominate and that this could not be had prior to the call of the Empire state, but it ought always to be remembered that the de mocracy is not given to one-man worship and has plenty of presidential timber. What's the matter with Gorman or Car-

The nomination of Colonel Frank Wheaton to be brigadier general in the place of General August Kautz, retired, sent to the senate today, gives universal satisfaction in Washington. Colonel Andrews, who ranked high on the list of colonels of infantry, was ordered home to await retirement several days ago, thus leaving Colonel Wheaton the ranking active colonel of infantry in the army. His promotion is therefore in the line of the policy which President Harrison has attempted to follow during the past three years, namely, to make army promotions by seniority in every case where controlling reasons have not existed for going further down Colonel Wheaton presented a service unexcelled by that of any of the contestants for the place. He had entered the army from civil life be-fore the war as a graduate of Brown university in Rhode Island; and served in the topo-graphical engineer corps in establishing the boundary line between Mexico and the United States, and was a captain of the Fourth cavairy a month before the war broke Colonel Wheaton at once raised a regiment of infantry in Rhode Island and joined the Army of the Potomac, where his record of gallant and efficient service is written in successive promotions and honorable brevets. Within a year he was a brigadier general of volunteers and participated in every engage-ment, both of the Army of the Potomac and in operations in the Shenandoah valley. He was repeatedly mentioned in orders and left the volunteer service as a brovet major general to accept at the close of the war a lieutenant colonelcy of Thirty-ninth infantry. From 1866 until his present well directed pro-motion General Wheaton has been engaged in active service on the frontier, participating in most of the important Indian camaigns, engaged in policeing the frontier and rendering safe the rapid march of civilization in that vast region which lies be-tween the Missouri and the Pacific coast.

General Wheaton's claims were, as stated in a Bre special last night, earnestly pressed by the Nebraska delegation, Senator Manderson particularly interesting himself in his behalf and securing for him the endorse-ment of more than a third of the senate. The Rhode Island delegation also pressed his candidacy. It is believed that the vacancy made by General Stanley's forthcoming retirement will be filled by the promotion of General Eugeno A. Carr of the Sixth cav-ry, now stationed at Fort Niobrara.

Rusk on Billy Goats.

Secretary Rusk is in favor of the proposi tion to import from Turkey a lot of the bred Angora goats for the purpose of introducing them into this country, as they can be raised by our farmers with great profit, but he gets back upon the "economical" policy of the present house of representafor following the policy proposed by a well known democratic member and import the goats at government expense, and then breed them upon government lands and distribute them out at government hands, gratis. He thinks that this would be paternalism with a in a letter which he has sent to Sydenham Alexander of North Carolina, a member of the house committee on agriculture, and in referring to the bill providing for the importation of the festive billy and nannie goat of the Angora breed and their propogation at government expense. Secretar Rusk says: "I understand that the Ottoman empire does, as alleged, prohibit the exportation of Angera goats from its dominions, and ap-preciating fully the importance of the industry in this country, I should be heartily in favor of our government's doing what might be in its power to obtain from the Turkish government the privilege for American breeders of importing Angora goats during a certain time and within a certain manner but I cannot see any good reason for the es-tablishment, under the auspices of the national government, of an Angora goat-breeding farm, to be maintained out of the na-tional treasury. I cannot see why the breeders of this particular animal should be entitled to aid of this kind, which has not been afforded to the breeders of any other pure blood stock."

Union soap is the king of soaps! JOE MILLER'S BUZZ SAW.

One Byrnes, a Scandal-Monger, Runs Against it to His Sorrow.

W. J. Byrnes a partner of Ed Koen in the publication of a disreputable sheet, ran up against a buzz saw in motion in the county jail Monday afternoon, with the usual results. Byrnes and his wife have been at the county jail frequently during the past few weeks visiting E. A. Koen, who is in jail awaiting sentence for criminai libel, of which charge he was convicted in the dis-

Jailer Miller and his deputies have extended every courtesy to the visitors, but this did not protect him, as in the last issue of the publication an attack was made upon Jailer Miller. Monday Byrnes and his wife visited the jail again and while there Mr. Miller spoke to them about the article in the paper. Byrnes and his wife at once became wrathy and began abusing the jailer, who stoodd it patiently until one of the pair buried an epithet at him that he don't stand from any man-or woman-and then the fun became fast and furious. At Mr. Miller's first symptom of resentment of the insuit offered bim he was bodily assaulted by the pair. Mrs. Byrnes sprang in front of her diminutive better half and reached for Miller's eyes. Joe is not slow himself in a free-for-all, and in a jiffy he had pushed the woman to one side, and given her husband a couple of good sicks in a position where they would do the most good. Then they closed again, and when the curtain was rung down on the last act of the tragedy, Mr. Miller was eating his lunch in office, two dilapidated ex-visitors were hobbling down a back street, and one of the jailor's assistants wiping up the gore Byrnes has a faculty for getting into scrapes of this kind. A MILLION DOLLARS INVOLVED.

Suit Affecting the Ownership of a Large Amount of Omaha Property.

A petition was filed in the United States circuit court vesterday involving the title to $1,500,000 worth of real estate within the city limits now owned by Phebe Rebecca Elizabeth Elwina Linton and her husband, Adolphus Frederick Linton, of Brighton, England.

The defendants are W. Greenwell & Co. and John Whitaker Cooper, James Greig and Ernest Tozer Jansen, and suit is brought to set aside deeds and mortgages on the ground Mrs. Linton is of American birth, being the daughter of Colonel Finlay of Kittan-ning, Pa., who is now in the city in consulta-tion with J. T. Cathers, the attorney of the istate, with reference to the case. It seems that Mrs. Linton was induced to give a deed to twenty-one lots in this city to Brown, Jansen & Co., bankers, on condition of the release of a certain mortgage, which, it is alleged they did not hold, and which was not recorded for a year after it was given. She was also induced to give a mortgage amounting to £7.500 to secure anote given by her nusband for an alleged debt of that amount, which it is claimed that a reality he did not owe. It is alleged that the whole was a deal to swindle her out of her property through a deal made with her husband, who was thoroughly and com-pletely hoodwinked by the scheming parties. The mortgages amount to over $100,000, and the deal throws a cloud on property consist-ing of seventy-eight lots in this city, twelve

NEBRASKA'S BUSINESS MEN.

Arrangements for the Third Annual Convention of the Association Great preparations ary being made for the convention of the Nebraska State Business Men's association which convenes in this city on the evening of June 14. On the 11th of that mouth the Manufacturers and Consumers association begins its first annual exposition, which will continue in session

General Secretary R. F. Hodgin of the association has issued the following official cir-cular for the convention: The third annual convention of the Nebrasia State Business Men's association will be held in Omaha June 14, 15 and 16. The meeting will be called to order on Tuesday evening, June 14, at 8 o'clock. Each local branch is entitled to one delegate for every ten members and one for every fraction thereof. The presidents of the local branches are delegates at large by virtue of their office. Secretaries are requested to call a meeting at once to select their delegates and to immediately notify the general secretary whom the delogates are. Towns that do not have local branches are entitled to one delegate, which delegate will be entitled to all privileges of the floor except to vote. Alternates to serve in the absence of the regular telegates should be elected. Credentials must be prepared and signed by the president and secretary of each local branch. Two copies of the same being pre-pared, the original will be used by the chairman of the delegation and the duplicate to be forwarded to the general secretary as soon as the delegates are elected.

New York Republicans May Demand His Candidacy-His Campaign, it is Alleged, Will Be Conducted Secretly-Mrs. Blaine's Ambition.

New York, April 19 .- A political movement has taken place within the last twentyfour hours which will greatly change the present political situation. It is stated that Secretary Blaine will accept the republican nomination for the presidency if the party will nominate him at the national convention at Minneapolis in June with any degree of unanimity, and it comes from the highest authority. It is affirmed that since he wrote his letter to Chairman Clarkson declining to allow his name to be presented before the convention and withdrawing from the race his mail has brought him innumerable letters from promipent republicans all over the country urging him to reconsider his decision and to become a candidate, and the pressure became so great and forcible that he was unable to stand out any longer against the wistes of his friends, his supporters and his party. He has decided to place his candidacy in the hands of his friends and leave it with them.

It is further stated that Blaine will not publicly make known his decision, but that his friends will secretly work for his nom-ination, and will place his name before the convention with sufficient strength to insure his nemination. The authority is Blaine's closest friend in New York City and the recognized leader of the party in the state, and coming from such a source it will stand undisputed. This friend in speaking of Blaine's candidacy said that the secretary had at last decided to reconsider his decision and to accept the nomination providing it is unanimously tendered him. "This decision," he continued, "was made very reluctantly by Mr. Blaine, but it was simply out of the question for him to do otherwise. There may be many reasons given for this change, but I believe that the real reason is that he sees that the majority of the republicans of the country want him ominated, and since he has placed his candidacy in the hands of his friends I do not think anything can prevent his nomination in June, nor his election in November. This nnouncement of his candidacy will be haited with delight by every republican in

"He is the idol of the republican party, and, being such, should be nominated with or against his consent, and if he had not changed his decision I, for one, was in favor of nominating him against his wishes, and many others were in the same position. This announcement puts Blaine in the race again, and in the race he will stay until the close. There will be no backward movement now. and even if Blaine so desired, as his friends would prevent it. He has given them his word and they will do the rest.

"Another reason is that this change was the total place of the language was the total place."

due to the influence and exertions of Mrs. Blaine, who has all along advised him to run and who has great influence with the secretary. It is believed that she was greatly put out when Blaine wrote his letter to Pard of the Tribune, withdrawing his name from the national convention at Chicago in 1888, when his nomination was inevitable, and that she was also terribly disappointed, when he wrote this letter to Chairman "Sill another reason is that the letters he received from the prominent republicans were of such a character that no man could fail to give them utmost attention. were imperative. The letters from New York were, of course, the most important, and were given the greatest consideration and weight. The views of nearly all the writers r an in the same channel.

The Indiana letters also occupied a promi nent place in his reconsideration. They ran nearly in the same strain as the New York letters, and coming from the home of the president increased their importance. It can be safely relied upon that if Blaine's health is as good in June as it is now, he will be the republican nominee, and will be a hard candidate to defeat."

Anything to Beat Harrison.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 19 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-It was reported here today that a secret meeting of republicans from thirtytwo countles in the state is soon to be held in Omaha or Lincoln in the interest of the Alger boom for president. It will be remembered that when General Alger passed through Omaha recently he stopped off between trains and was the guest of Hon. John M. Thurston in Omaha. This has given rise to the query, Is Thurston quietly looking after the interests of Alger in the county conventions throughout the state! Vandervoort is also out the state! Vandervoort is also a strong Alger man and is known to be doing what he can to assist the boomlet. It is also being passed around here that Biaine is not altogether out of the question. The plan is said to be that wherever possible the delegations shall be opposed to instructing for Harrison, so that in case a stampede can be worked up lightning may strike Alger, Blaine or some dark horse. It is believed here that the fonding of the anti-Harrison men will die very, very vonng.

The speaker then proceeded to show that it was the duty of Christian people to pray and work for the ceeded to show that it was the duty of Christian people to pray and work for the kingdom of God just the same now as it was centuries ago when the command was first given by the Savior. The nature of the kingdom desired was then spoken of. He heid that no one should think about the coming of a temporal kingdom, but a spiritual one. The kingdom of God came by grace. It was a kingdom of grace and glory. There could be no glory without grace. The work of grace was the first step. The faithful followers of the meek and lowly Nazawork of grace was the first step. The faithful followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene should be willing to suffer some inconvenience for the good of the cause he had espoused. There were difficulties to be overcome, but the true followers of Christ would not be discouraged by that fact. In gleshor not be discouraged by that fact. In closing the speaker exhorted his hearers to be diligent and not to put off the important work of heiping to bring about the coming of the kingdom. He said there was no use to wait. hingdom, the said there was no use to wait, now was the time to be up and doing. The kingdom would come just as ssen as the people were ready for it. The council is composed of equal numbers of republicans and democrats. When the council met the democrats discovered that one of their number was absent and they lost no time in getting out of the chamber. The sergeant-at-arms issued war-rants for their arrest in order to compel their attendance, but the officers were unable to serve them, for the democrats had anticipated this and fled to Kansas. The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its host of imitations; every genuine article its counterfeits. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies, and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Allcock's Porous

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are the standard of excellence the world over, and imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as Allcock's," are only emphasizing this fact and admitting "Allcock's" to be the acme of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between gold and copper.

The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having
