People Are Tired of the Madison Street OFFICE: - NO. 12 PEARL STREET. Motor That Doesn't Mots.

KICKING ON THE COMPANY'S POLICY

Forty-five Dollars Stand in the Way of Giving the Residents Relief-What A. C. Graham Says of the Situation,

The residents of South First and Madison streets have come to the conclusion that life without a motor line is a barren waste, ospecially when they have to walk from half a mile to a mile and a half to their places of business through the mud of a Council Bluffs springtime. It the motor company has ears to burn, it certainly has not a soul to dame, they must have been burning at a lively rate during the past few days. When injunction restraining the company from operating its lines on South First street was first issued by First Judge McGee everyone supposed that it would be only a few days until a settlement was agreed upon and the trains would be again running. But the weeks have slid by and the citizens of that part of the city are still walking. That part of the line never has more than paid expenses at this time of the year, and the company is accordingly very willing to let it lie lule in order to teach them a lesson. As soon as the park season opens there is but little doubt that the desired settlement will be effected, but the citizens do not feel like waiting for the blessed moment to arrive when they shall get When the line was commenced," said A. C. Graham vesterday, "almost all the property owners on South First street waived their right to have the company pay for the paying of the street in consideration of its putting the line on our street. We were erfectly willing to do that much, for we knew we would reap a rich financial benefit from the increased property values. The man who secured the injunction was almost the only property owner on the street who paving was $45, while mine, which I willingly gave the company, was ever $500. It is pretty pard to see where I am getting much benefit out of that $500 outlay now, and the question is being asked whether there is not some way for us to bring the company to terms. The claim of the company that it is operating under the charter expected to the old Council Buffs. charter granted to the old Council Bluffs Street Railway company may be all right, but one thing is certain, when I signed away my right to the pay for that paving it was in the interest of the Omaha and Coun-cil Bluffs Bridge company." Mr. Graham is only one of the kickers who are to be numbered by the score. The residents of Madison park, a new addition which was laid out since the building of the motor line, are especially inconvenienced, as they are now fully a mile from the nearest car and are left practically in the country. Some legal action is likely to be taken by the dissatisfied ones in the near future.

Couldn't Find McLaughtin. Constable Nicholson returned from Omaha esterday with E. J. Bell, whom he went to arrest on the charge of larceny preferred by Dr. M. J. Bellinger, Bell consented to come without a requisition, and was brought be fore Justice Hammer. He took a change of venue to the court of Justice Cones, who fixed his bond at $1,000 and set May 6 as his time for bearing. Bell gave the necessary bonds for his appearance and was dis charged.

Nicholson reported that he was unable to ind Dr. McLaughlin, who was wanted on the charge of moving morigaged goods out of the state. Bell stated that he saw Mcfaughlin Tuesday noon at dinner, but thought be must have gotten a tip somewhere as he had not seen him siers. Bell where, as he had not seen him since. Bell claims that he will have no difficulty in showing up his innocence of the charge preferred against bim when the case comes up for trial. He says the Elkhorn Horse and Land company, which he represents, has been the sole owner of the property which he helped to remove ever since last July, and that in moving it to Omaha as he did, he acted under the advice of lawyers. The missing property is now in Tilden, Neb.

Read below what one week of treat ment has done for a well known Counci Bluffs man who was seen at the Blanchard institute, at 555 Broadway, Council Bluffs, yesterday afternoon. There never has been a failure where this treatment is used, whether the thral dom to be broken was whisky, opium or tobacco. COUNCIL BLUFFS, April 19, 1892 - For the past twenty years I have been a hard drinking man, as my many friends in Council Bluffs well know. It was impossible for me to pass a saloon when I had the necessary money to buy a drink. I began taking the treatment at the Blanchard institute on April 12, and am surprised and gratified that I now have no appetite for liquor whatever. I sleep well and have a good appetite, and am satisfied that I am even now entirely cured. This is wholly unsolicited and DANIEL CLANCY. voluntary.

Redistricting the State. A circular has been received from George Greene, adjutant general, announcing the tact that the state has been redistricted for military purposes so as to make four regiments instead of six and with twelve companies in a regiment instead of eight, as heretofore. The change is in accordance with a law passed by the legislature at its session just closed amending the multary code. Hereafter the Dodge Light guard of this city will be known as company L. Third regi-ment, lows National Guards. The resigna-tions of Colonel C. V. Mount and Lieutenant Colonel F. B. West of the old Fifth regiment are accepted, the commissions of all staff officers and the warrants of non-commis-sioned officers are revoked, to take effect April 3 and the Fifth regiment band sta-tioned at Bedford is mustered out. An electioned at Bedford is mustered out. An elec-tion is to be held in the various companies of the state to fill the offices of colonel and lieutenant colonel, and appoint two majors. The new Third regiment will include the fol-lowing companies: Des Moines (two com-panies), Villisca, Gienwood, Indianola, Shen-andoah, Oskaloosa, Creston, Bedford, Red Oak, Council Bluffs and Greenfield.

She World Dance. A domestic quarrel caused by the love of n woman for tripping the light fantastic has ripened into a full-fledged divorce suit. Thaddeus L. Miller, who works at the Ogden iron works, is the defendant. He states that he and his wife, Mary Miller, had a disagreement some time ago because she ran away from home to go to dances and left him to get his own meals and look after the children. He told her that such goings on must sease, but she wheadted him into allowing her to go to just one more dance before she swore off forever. But when that one dance was over she did not come back, and although that was seven weeks ago she is not back yet. He has seen her, however, and between them they have agreed that it is good for man to live alone. She has secured the services of an attorney and will allege cruel and in-human treatment on the part of her nusband. She has two children, but Miller states that sae does not want the custody of either of them. He has advertised for a good home for them in the hope that they may receive the care they ought to have.

An Old Case Reopened. The case of H. L. Henry against William Evans and others occupied the entire day in the district court. The case has already been tried and decided, it having been re ferred to L. W. Ross as referee and the final decision of the court having been based on the findings of the referee. The plaintiff is now seeking to have the case reopened, and as ground therefor makes a number of objections to the findings of the referee. John N. Baldwin, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, spent a large share of the day pro-nouncing an invective upon Referee Ross, and if it had been given to a man whose honesty and integrity was less well known the object of the roast would have retired from the field with a sadly battered reputa tion. A number of attorneys are still to speak, and it is likely the case will not be completed until the latter part of the week.

Some of the unfeathered pets whom Marshal Templeton now has confined in his cage have been resorting to strange schemes to avoid working out the price of their board and lodging on the street. One of them a day or two ago tore his clothing in such a way that he was obliged to stay in doors or cause remark when he went on the street. Another cut his shoes into strips and then calmly sat inside the jair waiting for a new pair to grow. The plea of sickness which was formerly so popular has failed into disise, as the city physician has a way of de elding whether the sickness is genuine or imaginary. Sold it for Butter. John Burkett, a farmer representing himself as living near Red Oak, came to the city yesterday with a wagon load of what was purported to be country butter, but which afterwards turned out to be a striking compound of lard, suct, kerosene and other dainties. He succeeded in passing off a lot of it on a Lower Broadway grocer and received a lot of groceries in exchange. As soon as the grocer took a whift of the strange conglemeration he started off for the police station at a lightning gait. An hour later Burkett was rounded up at the police station with a charge of cheating by false protenses entered against him. He will have a preimmary hearing before Judge McGee this

Grand Jury Discharged. The grand jury made its final report yesterday afternoon and was discharged until June, when it will reconvene. No indictments were returned, and that fact was not a greater surprise to any one than to the people who have been on the anxious seat for the past three weeks for fear the result of the investigations of the jury would put them where they did not want to be. The consemence of the agnouncement that the grand jury had finally adjourned caused many a long breath of relief to be drawn.

Jarvis' wild olackberry is the best. AMUSEMENTS.

Last night's change of bill at the Boyd brought Shakespeare's exquisite forest idyl, 'As You Like It," and Miss Gale's Resalind proved the most artistic of her three roles. She bears the airy moods of comedy with brighter grace than the wooful lines of emotional parts. The conscious effort noticeable in heavy roles has vanished and given way to quickened speech and spontaneous action. There is witchery in her smile and Rosalind affords abundant opportunity for the exer-cise of such sorcery. She fits the merry banter with a delicate play of action and presents a characterization most gay and winsome. The great bard's genius was su-perior to the mediocrity of the supporting company and his humor moved the to frequent merriment, despite a commonplace utterance.

SIX PEOPLE ON EACH CLAIM

Some of the Inconveniences Incident to the Last Oklahoma Rush,

THERE WAS NO BLOODSHED IN THE RACE

Good Order Prevailed, and Though the Crowd Was Great Disturbances Did Not Occur-Tales from Eye Witnesses-57,000 People in the New Country,

KINGTISHER, Okl., April 20.-The general rush of colonists into the Chevenne and Arapahoe country yesterday was remarkable for the same reasons that the rush into Oklahoma was noteworthy-freedom from trouble and accidents.

The rioting reported from Guthrie last night as having taken place at the Oklahoma City land office did not occur. The story of disturbance told by Miss Connie Scrensen seems to have been only the exaggerated imaginings of a timorous woman. The soldiers at no place had any trouble with the crowd. It was a large gathering and acted as a check upon itself. Everyone who has ever seen a "boomer rush" know just how it would be, and the result proved the absurdity of the talk of the probability of bloodshed, as was predicted by the tenderfoot correspondents. There will be a great many contestants. Most of them will be over claims on the border, There are now an average of six people on every claim along the Kingfisher border. Exen one swears he was the first on the land and has witnesses to prove it.

When the land office was closed last even ing sixty-six sets of papers had been filed by claimants. The line outside had been added to every minute during the afternoon and when the office closed 300 claimants were in line. They were all given numbers by Marshal Grimes. They were respected during the day and each arrival as he took his place at the end of the line was given a ticker which bore on its face, besides its number the signature of the marshal. hundred and fifteen flings were made dur-ing the day and there was but little dimunition in the number of claimants. No trouble of a serious nature has occurred.

Claimed by a Nebraska Man.

The town site boomers at Okarche do not seem to be disturbed over the claim by Pierce, the Nebraskan, that he has taken up the town-site homestead. The boomers staked out the town site just the same and organized a municipal government. C. S. Cooper, formerly of Colorado, was chosen moyor, and Jacob Switzer of El Reno town marshal.

Those who depended on steam to reach the town-site at the crossing of the Rock Island town-site at the crossing of the Rock Island and Choctaw roads had better luck than those who made the journey to Okarche in other ways. Trains on both circular reached the town site at just three minutes after noon. The run was only half a mile from the border. The horsemen and pedestrians acrived a few minutes later, and at 1. Circular ways 1600 meonle, were later, and at 1 o'clock over 1,000 people were swarming over the site like ants. The spot has been named Caddo Springs, and its occupants have chosen a town government.

A messenger from Watonga, the county seat of county C, says the first settler reached there at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It was a ride of twenty-three miles from the border, and many who started never got there, having ridden their horses to death at the start. Several good horses, worth more than a let in the town, were killed in the race. There was no trouble at Watenga. A temperary city government was organized last night, and things are run-ning along smoothly today. The town numbers about 1,000 people.

Population of the New County. The population of the new county is esti-mated at 57,000 people-nearly double the number which it was expected would colonize the lands. Captain Woodson of the Fifth cavalry figures out the population this way: 'Twelve thousand people invaded the country from the eastern border, 15,000 from the Cherokee strip line, 5,000 from the wes-

Union City, Okl., April 20.-A report omes from nine miles west of here that one man was killed in a dispute over a claim yesterday, but the rumor cannot be con firmed. A number of boomers are returning, disappointed at not getting claims.
