All friends cordially invited. The funeral of Charles Barghausen will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence on Benton street.

Rev. W. S. Hooker of Shenandoah will preach in Trinity Methodist church this evening and hold the quarterly conference. All are cordially invited.

Bert Sheeley, assignee for John Green, filed his first report in the district court yesterday. According to it the claims against the business amount to about $1,800. In the district court vesterday the arguments of the attorneys in the case of Henry against Evans were on the again. Attorneys Smith McPherson and N. M. Puser held the boards the entire day.

Mr. Frank Case and Miss Maggie Keck, both of Council Bluffs, were married at their future home, 1806 Eleventh street, Rev. W. Levics, pastor of Bethany Baptist church, officiating.

This is reception day at the Women's Christian association hospital from 2 until 5 o'clock. An excellent opportunity is now given to inspect the entire building, as there fewer patients there now than for mouths past.

The annual ball of the Council Bluffs Row ing association will be given this evening at Royal Arcanum hail. Elaborate proparations have been made for the event, and it goes without saying that it will be one of the most important social affairs of the season

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Bertha A. Vogeier to John G. Bradley, to take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Vogeler, 321 Avenue F, on Thursday evening, April 28, at 80'clock. The groom is electrician of the fire department.

A meeting of the city members of the county democratic committee, the local com-mittee of the Pottawattamic Democratic association, and members of the various sub-committees for the democratic state conveation, will be held at the rooms of the Board of Trade, in the Merriam block, this evening. The entertainment being arranged by the Women's Christian association for the benefit of the hospital and which was to be given the last of this month has been postponed to give place to a talented company of artists from Chicago, who will appear under the auspices of the King's Daughters, the proceeds to be for the nospital.

Charles Forbes, who received considerable notice in the papers not long ago for running away from his family and leaving forged checks to settle a number of bills, has sent C. A. Tibbitts, the South Main street grocer, enough good money to settle his claim. The other men who were left in the lurch by his departure are expecting remittances soon.

Henry L. Cellone died about midnight Henry L. Cellone died about midnight Wednesday night at the residence of his brother-in-law, A. Louie, after an illness of ten months. He was the son of Mrs, V. Campardon and a brother of Mrs, A. Louie, Mrs, A. Metzger and Mgs, M. Duquette, The funeral will occur at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of M. Duquette, 36 Fourth street. street.

The work of staking out the ground for the new Northwestern depot was commenced yesterday. The baggage depot, where pas-sengers are now deposited, will be moved away and the tracks will be moved eastward and straightened, so that the depot will be east of where it is now. This will necessitate the moving of the bridges also. Almost the entire track system will be remodeled and the appearance greatly improved.

CAPES. Our line of capes is the talk of the city and county. We have them in tans (light and dark), salmon, grays and placks trimmed with lace and braid, embroidered in silk with jets, or a nice plain garment for those that don't admire trimming, from $5.00 to $25,00. See our $5.00 capes, well worth $8.50. All our garments run full length, from 30 to 36 inches. No old ones in stock; every garment new. (Second floor.) The city papers have often had occasion to write up Lafagette addition to the city of Council Bluffs. It is to be hoped that sooner or later the people of the United States will learn that Lafayette addition consists mainly of a rich and fertile tract of land at the bottom of the Missouri river, which, for reasons manifest to those who have been once bitten, can never become especially popular for a building site.

That this time has not yet arrived, however, is shown by the fact that every few days some real estate man or other of Council Bluffs receives a letter from a far off place asking about the desirability of Lafayette addition as a place of residence or a means of speculation. The latest inquiry is from a prominent real estate man of Petersburg, Va., and is worthy of note on account of the strikingly original representations which he says have been made to him about the property in the addition.

According to these representations the lots in Latayette addition are 45x100 feet in size, and each one contains an eight room house with all the mouern conveniences-city water, gas, electric lights, etc., and with a barn and coal house. The houses, it is suid, have been renting for 325 a month each. The present owner desires to trade off the town lots for farin property, and with that end in view has written to the Petersburg man, who the evidently thinks is too far away to make much of an investigation. The ciaim that this addition has wa-ther is certainly well grounded, as the residents of the place, if there were any, would have to sail from their beds to their break fast tables in boats. The gas which is mentioned as one of the attractions of the place is doubtless the gas that issues from the mouth of the city sower which is only a block from the entrance. Where the electric lights come in is a boser, however, as nothing of the kind has ever been seen there excepting during thunder storms. The Petersburg man was notified of these things by W. C. Stacy, who received the letter of inquiry, and it is hardly likely that he will returns for the remainder of his life. sides being a monument for him and a lasting benefit to the city. The building referred to is a fine fourstory pressed brick structure, the finest in the agricultural implement district, built for Aultman, Miller & Co., the Buckeye people. It stands on the corner of Thirteenth avenue and South Main, and is one of the handsomest and most conspicuous buildings on the street. The architecture has the merit of solidity as well as beauty. The walls are metallic colored pressed brick, a Council Bluffs product, by the way, with massive sandstone trimmings. It has a frontage of 120 feet on Thir-teenth avenue and 50 on Main street. It was built especially for the Buckeye people and is a model of convenience, for the handling and shipping of heavy farm goods. It has a five-ton Crane hydraulic elevator running from the basement to the top floor and every other convenience that modern necessities demand. Mr. Carrigg is more than pleased with the building and the investment, and it is quite probable that he will invest $40,000 or $50,000 more in the same locality during the year,

WANTS A SETTLEMENT.

George R. Wheeler Will Enjoin the Motor Company. Another dose of grief is in store for the motor company if George R. Wheeler, a wealthy resident and property owner on Pierce street, has his way about it. Yesterday a suit was commenced in the superior court which has for its object the enjoining of the motor company from operating its line on East Pierce street until Wheeler is paid suitable damages for the use of the street in front of his residence on Pierce street near the corner of South First. In his peti-tion, which was prepared by ex-City Attor-ney Stewart, be alleges that the company ney Stewart, be alleges that the company lad its tracks on Pierce from First to Oak street on October 13, 1889, which was Sun-day, that day being chosen in order that the plaintiff might not have an opportunity to go into court and secure an injunction restraining the company from proceeding with the work. The building of this line, he claims, street, was the offender, and although the details of the case are too horrible for publi-cation the giri tells things which, if true, IUSTICE, one who saw the act thought at once he had cornered a burgiar, and sent word to the police station. Officer Murphy hastened to the scene, armed with a dark lantern, and cautiously perfect in at the win-dow where the darkey had disap-peared. The instant he stuck his dark lanter haids the bulget the bulget light lantern inside the building the bright light struck the darkey in the face. There was a mumbled ejaculation of surprise and several feet of African humanity foundered around the room under the impression that the day of judgment had come. It was finally learned that it was the colored janitor of the build-ing, who had been attending a dance and referred to stay all night in the office rather than go home. Quite a crowd had assembled on the street to see the burglar bagged, but they were obliged to go home in disappointment.

Miss Tennant's Concert. The first of the popular subscription concerts organized by Miss Tennant Clary was given last evening in the hall of the Young Men's Christian association before an audience that testified its appreciation of the artists' efforts by very liberal' applause. It is to be regretted that the number present was not larger, for the program was excellent and artistically rendered. Mendelssohn's concerto in G minor for two pinnos, Mme. Muentefering at the first and Miss Clara Hawley at the second, was a delightful treat and pleasantly introduced the musical feast which followed. In the andante movement Mme. Muentefering was hardly up to her standard of excellence, but in the finale she was completely mistress of her art and her instrument, although now and then she had to compete with Miss Hawley's pronounced use of the pedal, a mistake which all young planists make. Captain John Kinzie sang "Dear Heart" by Pinsuti with excellent appreciation of its possibilities. Captain Kinzle has wonderfully improved in his singing in the past year, and possesses a clear tenor voice past year, and possesses a clear tenor voice of beautiful quality, particularly in the upper register. For an encore he sang "The Answer." One of the big numbers on the program was Rubinstein's sonata in G major Op. 13, Mr. Cabn, plano and Mr. Butler, violin. Mr. Cahn, who is always the careful, conscientious musician, was not at his best in this number, although now and then his brilliancy and technical skill showed uppermost in the magnificent composition. Mr. Butler, while somewhat handicapped by the breadth of the arrangement for violin, won enviable encomiums for his studious interpretation, giving evidence of one of the coming violinists of the country. Miss Clary from a sick bed in order that her audience might not be disadvantage, having arisen from a sick bed in order that her audience might not be disappointed. She showed in her methods excellent training, her voice being a light dramatic sopraco adapted particularly to colorature work. For her second number she sang Verdi's coloration works elebrated cavatina "Ernani," but her showed that the singer was not at her best Captain Kinzie's "Celeste Aida" was the most pretentious of his numbers and he sang it with dramatic force and brilliancy, moriting the encore he receized. Mr. played Wienawski's "Polonaise" w Butler played Wienawski'a 'Polonaise' with ex-quisite tone and purity of intonation, showing finished technique and good bowing. In man-ner he suggests his old teacher, Nahan Franko, and he plays with quite as much intolligence as that errafic genius who once lived in Omaha. For an encore he gave Hauser's story of "The Bird," playing it with fine feeling. Mr. Cahn played the ac-companiments for the soloists very accept. ably, although now and then he was too strong in the forte passages, failing to shade his accompaniments to suit the varied quality of the voices.

Attorney General Stone rendered a de cision yesterday in reply to an inquiry of Governor Boies in regard to the legality of an appropriation made by the last legislature to reimburse a farmer for the loss of a span of borses which became afflicted with glanders and had to be shot by the state veterinary surgeon. The statute gives the legislation the right to pass appropriations only by a two-thirds vote when the money is intended for local or private purposes and has not been provided for by pre-existing laws. Mr. Stone holds that the present case comes under the mean-ing of the statute and that the appropriation is legal, provided it passes by a two-thirds Conferred the Red Cross.

One of the largest Masonic gatherings even seen in Council Bluffs occurred Wednesday evening in Masonic hall. The occasion was the conferring of the order of the red cross on C. E. Walters and F. A. Slichtor, a coremony which is always accompanied by a banquet. On this occasion the Knights Templar outdid themselves and the feast was one of the most elaborate in the history of Masonic doings in Council Bluffs, The bacquet was arranged by the lady friends of the order. The tables were iaid in the form of an Egyptian cross and orna-mented with cut flowers. The hall and chandeliors were trimmed with flags. Upon a raised dias at the end of the hall was a large cross of similar shape, composed of. American Beauty roses, surmounted by a bank of Easter and calla lilies. The follow-

Youthful Depravity.

A case of shocking depravity on the part of an 11-year-old girl was brought to the notice of the police by Rev. Henry Delong yesterday. Ethei Moss, who lives at the corner of Second avenue and Fourteenth was without authority from the city council and in direct violation of a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to lay a track without permission from that body. It was also done without con-demnation proceedings and without making him any compensation for the dam-age to his property, which he places at $1,500. The track was furthermore laid close to his curbstone in such a way as to cut off the approach of a team, instead of being laid in the center of the street as it might have been. The comedy element, which is an unusually strong feature in "Devil's Mine," which is next week's attraction at the Farnam Street Ite also wants damages in the sum of $1,500. A meeting of the property owners on South First street and Graham avenue was held theater, opening with the matines perform ance, is supplied by a trio of characters, the last evening at T. J. Clark's store, 146 Upper Broadway. The meeting had not been an nounced through the papers, but some quiet work had been done by those interested, and us a result about fifty were present. The purpose of the meeting was to devise some plan for bringing the molor company to terms and compel it to resume the running of trains on the South First street line. W. M. Shepard was appointed president and J. P. Greenshields secretary and the meeting proceeded to business without further ado. The following set of resolutions was prepared and adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the action of the Omaha and Council Blud's Rallway and Bridge company. In refusing to operate its trains upon South First street and Graham avenue, has been a Frist street and Orman avenue, has been a great injury and inconvenience to the citizens and property owners residing on said street. Be it further Resolved. That the following named per-sons, to-wit: A. C. Graham, T. J. Clark and Fred Lamb, jr., be appointed a committee to wait upon the officers of said company and ascertain from said officers what action, if new said commany intends to take in recard to any, said company intends to take in regard to train service on said street. The end of the movement is not yet, by any means. An attorney has been secured by those interested and a suit is to be com-menced in a day or two to prevent the trains from being run in front of the Fearon property on Broadway, near the intersection of Scott street. In this action the motor company will be taken at its word and the ground upon which the suit will be prose-cuted is that the company has no right to operate anything but horse cars anywhere in the city, the company having virtually re-pudiated the ordinance of 1886. The war has ust commenced and something interesting

Read below what one week of treatnent has done for a well known Council Bluffs man who was seen at the Blanch-ard institute, at 555 Broadway, Council Bluffs, yesterday afternoon. There never has been a failure where this treatment is used, whether the thrallom to be broken was whisky, opium or tobacco. COUNCIL BLUFFS, April 19, 1892 -For the past twenty years I have been a hard drinking man, as my many friends in Council Bluffs well know. It was impossible for mo to pass a saloon when I had the necessary money to buy a drink. began taking the treatment at the Blanchard institute on April 12, and am surprised and gratified that I now have no appetite for liquor whatever. I sleep well and have a good appetite, and am satisfied that I am even now entirely cured. This is wholly unsolicited and voluntary. DANIEL CLANCY. voluntary.

Jobn Lehfers, working for a farmer south of Avoca, was painfully wounded by the bursting of his gun. The wearon he used was of a very old pattern, and while out shooting it burst, blowing part of the barrel almost through his arm just above the wrist, splintering the largest bone very badly. The arm will have to be amputated. Besides this a large amount of powder was blown in his face and eyes.
