

MUCH SHORT STOCK SOLD

nothing occurred to break the ease of the money market. With a reserve of over $100,000,000 coming from America into the traditional objection to frequent changes prevented the Bank of England from reducing its rate to 2 per cent.

Even a Good Bank Statement Did Not Save Those Interests. Those Interests. Those Interests.

Speculators Agree that the Gould-Sage-Clark Management Must Give Way at the Approaching Annual Election—Review of the Situation.

New York, April 24.—(Special Telegram to this office.)—The market closed weak Saturday. The bank statement was good, but that did not help it. Selling predominated and while a good deal must have been short stocks, here and there unmistakable evidence appeared that long stock was coming out.

But in the present condition of things there is not much chance of enjoying a circuitous rise. The market is generally a good one on deposits from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent. You can have a dull market, with certain stocks dropping, but the market is generally a good one on deposits from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent.

Money is Too Cheap. Money is Too Cheap. Money is Too Cheap. Money is Too Cheap.

There is a great disappointment to the bulls that London failed to rally a great deal on Monday morning, after the holidays; in other words, that instead of following the lead given here and buying it took advantage of a higher price to unload on the market.
