They Pass the Substitute for the House Exclusion Bill by a Large Majority.

CLOSING THE GATES FOR TEN YEARS

Text of the Bill Passed by the Senate-Personal Matters in the House-Reed and Crisp Engage in a Wordy War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.-Numerous protests, principally from Seventh Day Adventists, urging congress not to commit itself to any religious creed by urging that the Columbian exposition be closed on Sundays and two remonstrances from Massachusetts against the passage of the Chinese exclusion bill, were received and read.

Chinese Exclusion Bill.

The Chinese exclusion bill then came up, and the pending question being the adoption of the substitute reported by the committee on foreign relations, Squire proceeded to argue in favor of the house bill or some other vigorous measure. It was very doubtful (he thought) that the house bill would pass, and he would vote for the amendment, believing that to be the quickest way of arriving at a re-enactment of the existing law. But he also believed that there should be engrafted on it a provision for the registration of Chinese and for the issue of certificates coutaining photographs.

Mr. Mitchell said much as he regretted to antagonize the deliberate judgment of the committee on foreign relations, he felt im-pelled by a sense of duty to vote against the substitute reported by that committee and in favor of the principles of absolute Chinese exclusion, as expressed in the house bill. He was not, however, inspired with great hope that anything he might be able to say at this time would be potential in presenting the adoption of the substitute. Nobody should suppose that he was talking with a hope of defeating the committee's substitute. He whelming majority. Passed by a Big Majority.

The discussion was continued until 4 o'clock, when the vote was taken on the substitute reported from the committee on for-

Messra, Wolcott and Doiph were paired with Messrs, Kenna and George.

Mr. Platt moved to amend the substitute so as to exclude from the anti-Chinese laws, to be extended for ten years, the Scott excu-sion act of 1888, and made a brief argument in support of the amendment.

Mr. Sherman said that he was not inclined to vote for the amendment, though he de-clared that the Scott law was one of the most vicious laws that had been passed since he had been in congress. Its passage, he said, was the result of a mere race between the two political parties to try and influence the vote of the Pacific coast in the last presi-Mr. Platt's amendment was rejected-yeas.

The Bill as Passed. The bill as passed is as follows:

Section I. That all laws now in force pro-hibiting and regulating the coming into this country of Chinese persons and persons of Chinese descent are hereby continued in force for a period of ten years from the passage of this act. Sec. 2. That any Chinese person or persons this act.

See, 2. That any Chinese person or persons of Chinese descent, when convicted and adjudged under any of said laws to be not lawfully entitled to be or remain in the United States to China unless he shall make it appear to the justice, judge or commissioner, before whom he or they are tried, that he or they are subjects or citizens of some other country, in which case he or they shall be removed from the United States to such country, provided that in any case, where such other country of which such Chinese shall claim to be a chizen or subject shall demand any tax as a condition for the removal of such person to that country, he or she shall be removed to China.

Yee, 3—That any Chinese person or persons of Chinese descent arrested under the provisions of this act shall be adjudged to be unlawfully within the United States, unless such person shall establish, by affirmative proof to the satisfaction of such justice, judge or commissioner, his lawful right to remain in the United States.

See, 4—That any Chinese person or person of the United States.

Sec. 4—That any Chinese person or person of Chinese descent, once convicted and adjudged to be not lawfully entitled to be or remain in the United States, and having been once removed from the United States in pursuance of such conviction, who shall be subsequently convicted for a like offense, shall be imprisoned at hard labor for a period of not exceeding six months, and thereafter removed from the United States as hereinbefore provided.

IN THE HOUSE.

Personal Matters Engage Attention-Reed and Crisp Till. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.-Personal matters occupied the attention of the house again today. Should or should not Mr. Walker's unspoken remarks deriding his rolleagues, Messrs. Williams and Hoar, as

"mugwumps" appear in the record! Democrats thought they should not, while republicans, basing their opinion principally upon the action of the house a few days ago seciding that a book of Henry George's might be spread upon the Record and given free publication and distribution, were of a contrary opinion, so the day was practically wasted. A slightly acrimonious colloquy or tween the speaker and the ex-speaker gave pice to the proceedings. The house took up the motion made on Saturday by Reed of Maine to lay on the table the resolution expunging from the Record that portion of the speech of Wulker of Massachusetts not uttered on the floor, reflecting on Williams and Hoar of the same

Mr. Boutelle moved to recommit the resolution with instructions to the committee on rules to take under consideration the entire subject matter, including the remarks pub-lished in the Record by the rentleman (Mr. Waiker), under leave to print, so that the remarks of Mr. Williams of Massachusetts, remarks of Mr. Williams of Massachusetts, animadverting the republicans, and citations made by the former as tending to show the custom and usage of the house in regard to the latitude of debate and to report to the house as soon as may be such measures, if any, as said committee may deem expedient for the reform of any existing abuses in regard to matter printed in the Record and for the preservation of decorum in debate. Mr. Boutelie inquired whether the chair would not count the house.

Mr. Reed-There should be no exhibition of temper on the part of the chair.

The Speaker—There is not, and so there should not be any attempt at scolding on the part of the gentleman from Maine.

the chair would not so state it.
Mr. Reed - Then, as the chair interprets the rule, it does not require him personally to make a count of the members present. The Speaker—The chair has stated that he adopts the count as made by the clerk and that is conclusive on this question. [Cries of "Regular order."] Mr. Reed-I ask the chair, under the rule,

BULLDOZING THE JUDGES.

Paris, April 25 .- The trial of the anarchist, Ravachol, will begin tomorrow. The rush for tickets of admission to the court house has been somewhat decreased by the threat of the socialists that they will not allow any sentence against him to be carried out. Is is feared one of them will gain admission to the court room and throw a bomb at the judge.

Eclair publishes the text of the anarchist manifesto advising anarchists to abstain from voting at the elections on May day, and further urges the working people to seize the workshops and commence a social revolution.

In the city and in St. Etlenne renewed arrests of anarchists are taking place. Strong precautions are being taken at the Paiais d'Justice to prevent any manifestation being made tomorrow by the anarchists during the trial of Ravachol. The trial will last only one day even if it is found necessary for the court to sit all night to finish up the

Monster Demonstration of Working People

Projected. Baussers, April 25 .- According to present indications, the 1st of May demonstration in Mons will pass off as quietly as in previous years. About 5,000 workmen, headed by the labor leaders, will murch through the streets of Mons and most probably hold a meeting at the bourse or in the market place. The police will be kept in reserve, however, prepared to intervene if necessary. The gen d'armerie will also be confined to its bar-

FABRICATIONS PURE AND SIMPLE. Reports of Riots and Anticipated Trouble

In Rome Untrue. Rome, April 25. - Reports put in circulation to the effect that disturbances had occurred In this city yesterday and were likely to be renewed today, and that in consequence of the gravity of the situation the authorities had begun barricading the houses of the government officers and also the banks and the Austrian and other embassies here, have peen found, upon investigation, to be pure invention. There has been no trouble here whatever and none of the extreme precautions which it is alleged the authorities and private persons are taking to resist the imaginary mob are visible on the closest inspection. The socialists are showing no signs of preparing for violent manifestations against the government, the nobility or the foreign embassies. On the contrary, everything is quiet at present and points to a peace observance on May day.

At a largely attended meeting of workingmen held here it was decided that the morning of May day.

ing of May day should be spent in private gatherings and that in the afternoon meetings should be held in the open country, where according to the ideas of the leaders there would be no provocation for the police interfering with the assemblages. At the conclusion, of the proposed country meetings, also in accordance with the peaceful designs of the leaders, these who took part in them will return in small groups to their homes in a quiet and orderly manner.

From the present May day arrangements announced by the workingmen it seems as if they were very desirous of avoiding any conflict with the authorities and had decided upon a program which would not violate any laws and which would not give the police any cause to disperse their meeting. So well arranged and so conducive to good order ap-pear the plans laid out for the May day cele-bration, that the minister of the interior has signified his approval of the mode adopted for observing this great labor festival.

Even the anarchists, the most violent of all those who take part in the celebrations, are in favor of spending the day in an orderly manner, and at a recent meeting, at which all the matters connected with the occasion were thoroughly discussed, it was decided that it would be to their interest not to hold public meetings on May day, and that the only manner in which they would show their sympathy with the movement would be by a general cessation of work on that day. There has been no disorder in any of the large cities of Italy and nothing has occurred in Milan, Turin, Pisa or Loghern, in which places the labor agitation is strongest, to give the least cause of alarm to the authori-

PREPARING TO LEAVE THE REPUBLIC

When All Hope is Gone the President Will Quickly Escape to a Foreign Land - Details of the Recent Battle.

[Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett,1 Manacaino, Venezuela (via Gaiveston, Tex.), April 25.)-By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald-Special to Tun Bur. |- The federal sts have fought another battle with the government treeps and again scored a victory. The fight occurred in the plains near Valencia, and this exactly suited the federalists, the majority of whom are lancers most to be feared when afforded an opportunity to display their horsemanship. Details of the losses on both sides have not yet been received here, but the encounter is said to have been accompanied by the usual number of desertions from Palacio's ranks to those of the enemy. The rout of the government forces near Palito the other day has further strengthened the cause of the revolutionists and reports reach this city of the spread of the rebellion in both eastern and western states.

Day by day the uprising is assuming a more serious aspect, and the opponents of Palacio are slowly but surely drawing closer and closer toward the capital. The government will have to make a determined effort to stop the progress of Crespo's followers or it will have to face a serious insurrection in Caracas itself.

The capital is in a greater state of alarm at present than at any time since the rebelhon began. The fees of the administration are growing bolder in their denunciation of its acts. Palacio is well aware of the perils of the situation.

His officials continue to send out glowing accounts of the restoration of peace throughout the republic, but the news continues to be of a more discouraging nature. It is pretty safe to say that should Crespo and his combined armies, which are said to number about 10,000 men, ever fight their way across the state of Carabobo Palacio will promptly attempt to put into execution his well planned flight out of the repuolic.

California pioneer and old resident of this city, died at his home on West Thirty-seventh street on Saturday night at the age of 77.

On May 16, 1841, Mr. Beiden and companions started for California with the first company of enigrants and ploneers that ever crossed the plains. The party consisted of sixty men and one woman, Mrs. Keisey. About one-third of the party were mass onaries going out to convert the Indians. After a journey of six months they arrived at California. They arrived there on November I. Bill, two years prior to the entry of Gener d Fremont into California. Mr. Beiden was a director of the Eric radirona and a number of the Union League club and the New England Society of New York and the Pacific Union club of San Francisco. During the war he contributed largely to the sanitary condition of San Francisco.
