Lively Bidding on Library and Public Improvement Debentures-Commissioners Considering the Nebraska Central Proposition.

The city council will meet in a permanen t home of its own tonight and this is the first time that anything of this kind has occurred in the history of the city of Omaha. This home is on the second floor, in the outheast corner of the new city hall. The Interior finish of the room is not completed, but it has reached a point where it can be occupied by the city lawmagers. The new furniture has not yet arrived, consequently the old desks and chairs will have to be used for the present. The room will be lighted by two arc lights, the wires for which are being but in place. Contractor Coots has more than 100 men at work in the building and furnishes the in-formation that the entire structure will be ready for occupancy within the next thirty

The rooms which are to be occupied by the clerk, comptroller and treasurer are receiving the finishing touches and will be turned over to the city officials Friday morning. The court and rotunda present rather a ragged appearance, but this will not remain so much longer, as the marole men are at work and expect to have the wainscoting all in this week,

The two passenger elevators are here and are being put in though they will not be ready for use tonight After that detathat date councilmen can ride up and down from the chamber. At tonight's session, to prevent accidents, the stairs leading to the second floor will be securely planted, and light will be furnished by two are lights, one of which will hang in the main entrance and the other in the rotunda.

THE NEBRASKA CENTRAL.

County Commissioners Discuss Further Details of the Proposition.

Members of the Board of County Commissioners spent the morning hours discussing the Nebraska Central railway and bridge proposition. The point of issue was the appointment of a board of actitration to settle differences that might arise over bridge tolls and switching charges of other roads that might desire to occupy and use the Nebraska

Central property.

The members of the Board of County Commissioners held the opinion that the board of arbitration should be constituted by the appointment of one county commissioner, one member of the city council and one of the district judges. The representatives of the railroad company were favorable to the proposition, only that they thought they should have some representation on the

Another point at issue was the bridge. The commissioners argued that in matters of arbitration their jurisdiction should extend to the bridge as well as to the railroad lines and switches. The railroad officials had a different view on this subject. The right to construct the bridge was granted by United States authority and the secretary of war was the proper party to arbitrate upon the question of bridge rates.

All afternoon was spent over the matter, and at 5 o'clock the committee arose, reported progress and decided to sit again Friday Then the board held its regular adjourned session. The trustees of the village of Bennington demanded the money that the county authorities had collected from the saloon men of that village.

and asked for a lot of furniture for his office. He stated that he needed the stuff and would take it off the hands of the county when his term of office expired, providing the county had no use for the furniture at that time. Messrs, Van Camp, Berlin and Stenberg were appointed a committee to confer with the city council, the Board of Trade and the Real Estate Owners association relative to the assessment of property in Omaha and Douglas county. Cuairman Timme offered a resolution to retain M. Leahy as superintendent of the court house during the year 1892, Mr. Stenberg thought that the resolution was taking shap judgment on Major Pad-dock, who was absent. The resolution was adopted, Mr. Stenberg

The editorial in Sunday's BEE created apparently some sensation, and with a view of getting at some facts a repreentative called on Snow, Lund & Co. and the following was obtained: "Yes, we read the editorial and were delighted with it, for it goes to the right Is it a common practice? How much is paid for this business? "The prices paid vary for different cases. We know of one druggist who offers 15 and 20 cents a prescription; another has been known to pay as high as $70,00 a month and so goes. In such cases frequently unnecessary prescriptions are written for unnecessary amounts and the physician and pharmacist consult their own interests rather than the interests of their patients. The custom is an outrage on honorable physicians, honorable druggists and on the public. We for one will not submit to it, but make our appeal direct to the public, giving them he advantage of the lower price we are thus able to make.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight at Exposition hall the Banjo and Glee Clubs of the University of Michigan will make their first appearance before an Omaha audience.

THE CLUB AT ST. LOUIS APRIL 23, Here is what the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says of them.

Entertainment hall was packed last night when the University of Michigan Glee and Banjo clubs began their concert. The boys were all feeling in the proper spirit for the work before them. Since their arrival in the morning they had been the guests of friends, who left nothing undone to please them. They came to the hall from a banquet given in their honor at the St. Louis club. With this preparation it is no wonder that the general verdict was that the old college songs were never sung so well before. The U. of M. clubs have been here before, and they have been universally voted the best entertainers among the college clubs that have visited this city. They introduced several novelties last night, he best of them being the old rigmarole of Tobias and Bohunkus, given with a chair drill that was so good that the audience competled a repetition. The Glee club, under Director A. A. Stanley, was the special favorite of the even-ing. The clubs left after the concert on their special for Kansas City and Leav-

Mr. Johnson Gives a Bond to Secure the Title to the Ground.

For a time it looked as though the Board of Education would be compelled to reconsider its action of proposing to buy the Johnson lot at Twenty-second and Dodge streets for a site for the proposed Central school building. This lot was owned by S. R. Johnson, who had some connection with the affairs of the Neoraska and Iowa Insurance company when that concern was on earth.

The other day when the property of the officers and directors of the company was attached by Receiver Wyman, this lot fell into the bands of the sheriff and the Board of Education was out in the cold, as far as a site for the Central school building was concerned.

Yesterday matters were adjusted and ere many, hours the title will pass into the hands of the city. This was brought about in this way: Johnson was desirous of seiling the lot and the Board of Education was anxious to purchase, but the cloud upon the title closed Now Mr. Johnson has executed a bond for $70,000, which when approved by the court and Receiver Wyman will be filed with the deed. Then the proceedings, as fa as they relate to the lot in question will be dismissed.

Proceedings of the City Conneil and Other Happenings in the Magie City. The city council met in regular session last evening. Councilman Wood of the special committee to see the county commissioners in regard to securing the services of an assistant county physician for South Omaha, reported that the committe had seen only one of the county commissioners and he had not offered any encouragement.

Councilman Haley offered a resolution authorizing the city clerk to procure his office stationery and supplies without an order from the council. Wood opposed the resolution as an infringement upon the preragatives of the finance committee. The resolution was lost and Haley tore it up in disgust. The ordinance committee asked for one week's additional time to consider the occupation tax ordinance, which was granted.

Frank Patetka usked permission to erect a wooden building within the fire limit. His request was tabled. George II. Pettys wanted to be a police-man and was referred to the mayor. The report of City Transurer Hoctor for March was read and referred. The report snowed a balance on band of $119,171.25. The city treasurer asked for an expert ex-amination of his books, as they had not been examined by the council during the past two years. ## FASTEST IN THE WORLD.

Burlington Officials Claim Their New Flyer is a Record Breaker. "What is the fastest regular passenger train in the world?"

"The Burlington's No. 6 between Denver and Chicago," say the representatives of the B. & M. passenger department in a chorus. This is a startling statement, but, taken with a qualification, it is literally true. The answer to the question which heads this article must always be qualified because of the varying conditions under which different trains run, the principal of which is distance. The new Burlington train is said to be the fastest in the world for the distance, and that makes its performance a notable one. It leaves Deaver at 7 a.m. and reaches Chicago at 2:15 p.m. the following day, making the time enroute twenty-eight and a quarter hours for a distance of 1,046 miles. Between Donver and Hastings the distance is 387 miles and is covered by this train in nine and one-half nours. The Pennsylvania limited requires ten hours and fifteen min utes for the 385 miles between Chicage and Alliance, and the Lake Shore limited is ten hours and ten minutes making the 387 miles between Chicago and Pamesville. The com-parison makes a remarkably creditable show-

The new fast passenger service on the Burlington was inaugurated Sunday and is now working most satisfactorily. The new time eard did not go into effect on the Chicago, Burlington & Quiney until noon and at that hour the west bound train was at Lucas, Ia., an hour and ten minutes behind its new time card. That time was made up before reaching Ashland, and the train rolled into Denver on the tick yester-day morning. The east bound train, Num-ber 6, left Denver at 9 a. m. on the new card and made every station on time. More-over, it had seventy-two through passengers and fevery berth in the steeping cars was

ing for the western line on a long distance

Among the passengers was a party of newspaper and railroad representatives, consisting of Guy Adams of the Denver San, J. W. Freeman of the News, Robert Daiton of the Republican, Staaley Stokes of the Times, Pullman Superintendent J. M. Smith and Charles H. Howard, rity passenger agent of the Burlington at Denver. Messrs, Adams and Freeman were accompanied by their wives. They were not at Hastings by their wives. They were met at Hastings by W. F. Vaiii, city ticket agent at Omaha, who escorted the party to this city arriving on time at 11:30 p. m. The visitors spent yesterday in viewing Omaha, and took the other fast train at 4:40 for home. because we put thirty or forty handsome new spring shades in men's suits in our window this morning, that don't make spring window shades of 'em does it

For six years-constantly-continually-every day-day in and day out-Sunday's excepted-through the columns of The Bee-we've endeavored to impress upon you two facts; that we carry the very best class of ready made clothing manufactured in the whole United States-and that we are in a position to-and do,-give you more value for the price than you can get of any other house-east or west, We have tried to impress you with these facts-not only in newspapers but in our transactions with you. We have sold you good goods. Not in all our immense stock of men's clothing do we carry one single solitary satinet or shoddy suit-not one. Not many clothing houses-big or little-can truthfully make that statement. Every garment that we offer for sale is honest-has honest goods in it-is honestly madeis honestly trimmed-will wear honestly-and is marked with an honest price. Today we make a notable offering at special sale of
