NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

School Board Members Will Have an Interesting Time.

WHO ORDERED THE INVESTIGATION

Some Difference of Opinion as to the Utility of an Expert Accountant In Examining the Books of Wil-Ham Groneweg.

Secretary E. E. Wright of the school board is busily engaged in bringing up the secretary's books to date, as he was authorized by the board at its last regular meeting. They are in a terrible muddle, no entries having been made in them on the credit side since 1882, so that ten years are to be posted. The work of the secretary will be used to a great extent by the committee which is to investigate the treasurer's books during William Groneweg's administration.

Apropos of the investigation, there is a good prospect of a serious disagreement between some of the members of the board as to the employment of A. T. Rice as an expert accountant in going over Groneweg's books. It was understood that a motion to authorize the investigating committee to employ Mr. Rice was passed, and Mr. Wells, the chairman of the committee, instructed him to commence his labors. The other two members of the committee, Stacy and Bridenstein, claimed that they had been merely ordered to employ him if necessary; they did not consider it necessary; and consequently put a veto on Wells' action. Wells made the motion about which the dispute arose, and he says he had no thought of leaving it to the dis-cretion of the committee whether the investigation should be aided by an accountant. He wanted it to be thor-ough and intended that an ex-pert should be employed. Stacy and Bridenstein, on the other hand, say that the proviso, "if necessary," was in the motion and they would not have voted for it had it been otherwise. Although the records bear out Wells in his claim, the other members stick to theirs and say the secretary must have been wrong in making out the re-port of the meeting. In the meantime the investigation is at a standstill and nothing can be done toward clearing up Mr. Groneweg's record or otherwise until the dispute between the committeemen is settled, a thing which does not appear to be

Still Discussing the Constitution,

The Epworth league board of control spent mother day in the discussion of the constitu tion of the league which is to be presented to the Methodist conference for ratification, and succeeded in getting five of the nine articles out of the way. The discussion was scarcely less heated than that of Thursday, and as an indication of the stubbornnes with which each one present fought for the adoption of his views. Nine amendments were proposed to one article, and every one was defeated after a long contest, the article in question finally being adopted as it first stood. The same experience was had with almost all the amendments precessed to with almost all the amendments proposed to the constitution, and the five articles were finally adopted in almost identically the same form they have stood for the past three years.

One of the interesting features of the afternoon session was a virit from Bishop Hurst of Washington, D. C., and an intermission in the diaccussion was decided upon long enough to hear an interesting and eloquent speech from him. The bishop is at the head of the great American university. finally adopted in almost identically the same great American university at Washing-ton, which is being largely endowed by contributions from the Epworth leagues all over the country, and is one of the foremost man in the Methodist denomina tion. His address was consequently listened to with the closest attention by all those present, the visitors as well as the delegates. Last evening a mass meeting was held in the Masonic temple, which was largely at-tonded by persons of all denominations. A number of interesting addresses were made, the speakers being M. D. Carroll of Cincin nati, G.; Dr. B. L. Paine of Lincoln, Neb. Dr. Berry, Editor of the Epworth Herald, of Chicago: Ar. R. R. Doherty of New York, and F. H. Knight of Springfield, Mass. Will Close Them Up. The police have received instructions from headquarters not to allow any saloons to run that are not orderly in the commonly accepted meaning of the term. " This move is the resuit of the notoriety that a number of the saloons of the city have obtained by reason of the ease and dispatch with which country greenhorns and others who were not so green have been robbed openly and above board by means of the seductive power chip or else in the good old fashioned way. There are three, and possibly four of these places which are covered by the ban of the police, and when the owners of the places come up to the office of the city clerk on the first month to pay their monthly fines, they will be notified that no permit will be issued to them or to any one who allows them or the them, or to any one who allows them or the fellows who have been banging around their places, to run saloons. It is expected that the decision of the authorities will raise a small sized tempest among the people who have been allowed to run things in almost their own way for so long, but the order will be enforced to the letter.

An Attractive Art Sale.

MAY RULE TWENTY DAYS MORE.

Venezuela's Insurgents Prepared to Take President Palaco's Stronghold. [Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett, BUENAVENTURA, Colombia, (via Galveston, Tex.), April 29.- By Mexican Cable to the New York Herald-Special to THE BEE. I-Dispatches from Caracas say that twenty days longer is the period set down for the further duration of the Vdnezuelan revolution. General Crespo communicated with friends at the island of Caracas three or four days ago that he would meet them at Caracas on or before May 18.

Casanas is not a prisoner as was at first supposed, but he is held at bay on the prairies in the district about the headwaters of the Guaria river. Between him and Caracas are many miles of country swarming with unattached rebels, a barrier of mountain chains and the organized forces of Generals Guerre and E. Rodriguez whose rear is protected by a wing of General Crespo's army. It was one of Casanas' aides and a strong body guard who were driven into Valenica lately and surrounded there together with Ybarra, whose defeat may be heard of in the next news from the front Crespo ordered Mora to attack him just as soon as he received expected reinforcements from Los Andes, Casanas has sent an aid from Sombrero to notify Ybarra of his per-ilous position. General Allayon thought that the mounted party of government troops working up toward Valencia was General Casanas making his escape and the party was followed with skirmishes at Ortiz, Tina quille and outside of Valencia.

Surrounded by Insurgents.

Casanas is entrenched in a camp and the insurgents are closing upon him. It is positive that he has not yet been taken. General Crespo's son was made a prisoner ten days

It is not believed that the dictator will carry out his threat of excuting the young man if his father advances upon Caracas. Palacio's f suffer but Palacio, while a dictator, is not considered an inhuman person. Leaders of the revolution and interested people at Caracas say that while Palacio may threaten to kill Crespo's son he is not brutal enough to do it or order it done.

Dr. Rojas Paul is in communication with nfluential Venezuelans in Caracas and New York tooking to the recognition of the insurgents' party and the banishment of Palacio. I will give you details very soon. The railway telegraph from Tucacas and Barquasimeto is still interrupted and it is impossible to get messages through that way

Ex-President Rolas Paul has gone to Curacoa from Trinidad. He denies that he has made overtures to the British, promising them if he is successful in getting control of the government through their aid, to give them the territory which is in dispute Trouble Over the Canal.

PANAMA, (via Galveston, Tex.), April 29,

—[By Mexican Cable to the New York

of the Chamber of Commerce called on the governor of the state today to protest again the closing of the canal as prejudicial to the interests of industry and commerce. They affirmed that citizens should be protected against the unjustifiable tyranny nonopolists which the canal and the rail roads support. The governor admitted the hope that a satisfactory solution of the diffi-culty would be reached before long.

PISTOLS AT TWELVE PACES,

Another Duel Results from the Borrowe

Fox Fake. [Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett.] BRUSSELS, April 29.— New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE. |- A duel took place yesterday afternoon two miles from Ostend between Mr. Harry Vane Milbank and a Frenchman whose name as yet is un known. The duel was with pistols at twelve paces. The Freachman was wounded in the hip and was at once conveyed to a yacht, which immediately disappeared. cause of the duet is said to have been certain insulting language on the part of the 'renchman about England in a restaurant Among the seconds were M. Lestrange and M. Fournier, one of whom was also a second n the recent duel at Nicuporte between Messrs. Fox and Borrowe, about which I cabled you the other day.

LONDON, April 29.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to The Ber.]—The man who was wounded in the duel with Mr. Harry Vane Milbank near Ostend last night was not the Duc de Moray, but a Frenchman, who is still unidentified. The reason for supposing that he was the duse was because he and Mr. Milbank had a vio-lent quarrel at Brussels on Tues-day and Mr. Milbank telegraphed to a friend that he would fight de Morny at the earliest opportunity. His reason for quar reling with a stranger has not yet been fully given. Mr. Milbank telegraphed this even-ing from Brussels that he would be here tomorrow. He seems to be able to remain i Belgium in defiance of the police and th laws. This is probably due to the fact that he enjoys the friendstip of the minister, who I believe promised last week Mr. Borrowe and him as much help as it was possible to give in the case any serious results fol lowed the Fox-Borrowe duel.

Chicago Republicans. CHICAGO, Ill., April 29.-The republican convention of this (Cook) county, held today, nstructed its delegates to the state convention to vote for the renomination of Governor Fifer; for henry L. Hertz of Chicago for state treasurer and for George S. Willetts for congressman-at-large, Resol were also adopted favoring insertion of a plank in the Resolutions platform recommending the repeal of the compulsory education law, endorsing the administration of President Harrison and calling on the republican national convention to incorporate a plank in the national plat-form in favor of an eight-hour day, and the creation of a secretary of labor, to have a position in the cabinet.

LONDON ANARCHISTS ACTIVE

They Are Expected to Cause Trouble at Hyde Park Sunday.

SOLDIERS AND POLICE READY TO FIGHT

Entire Force of the City Will Be Assigned to Duty in Order to Suppress Any Demonstration of a Dangerous Character.

[Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett, 1 LONDON, April 29 .- | New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE. | - "No God! No laws! No property! Remember Chicago!" will be the cry of the anarchists at Hyde park on Sunday next. Half a dezen roughly printed posters with these words in bold, red letters on them have peen torn from the walls by the police in the east end and futile efforts made to find the authors of the lawless mottoes. Scotland Yard officials are steeped over heads in the work of assigning various bodies of police to duty for Sunday and scattering men in citizen's clothes among the thousands upon thousands of people who will be in and around the park to listen to the speeches in favor of the eight-hour law. Orders have been issued to have all the troops stationed in London ready for any emergency, which means that the entire force of guards will be wept under arms all

The London rioter has little consideration for the police, who dare not draw their batons save under exceptional circumstances, but he takes to his beels at sight of the soldiers, for whom he has a wholesome respect. The police inspector said to me this evening :

They Fear Foreign Anarchists. "The only cause for apprehension that we have is that the 400 or 500 foreign anarchists who have sought refuge on English shores may incite their British brothren to attempt deeds of violence and it will take but little to make other people follow suit. If the day be fine there will be over 250,000 people in the park, but the police have their orders and expect to carry them out to the letter. If any speaker makes the slightest attempt at anything approaching a revolutionary ut-terance ne will be torn from the platform without ceremony."

The city police, which is a distinct body from the metropolitan force, is also very active, although the officials believe the an archists will confine themselves to waving red flags and shouting "Vive l'anarche," in which pastime they will be permitted to indulge. The police are keeping a close eye on the foreign cutthroats now in London, in the hope of entrapping them in overt acts before Sunday, so as to put them out of harm's way, Louise Michel, who has been teaching school at Tottenham Court road, has excelled other communists and incidentally spread the propaganda, is said to be chafing to come out Sunday and say something wild, but if she knows what is good for herself she will remain at home and keep her tongue in her cheek.

"ULSTER WILL FIGHT."

Monster Anti-Home Rule Demonstration-

Sensational Speeches by Leaders. Copyrighted 1872 by New York Associate 1 Press, London, April 29,-May day in England promises to be peacefully observed. The celebration of the day will be confined to a demonstration in Hyde park, under the auspices of the London Trades council. This demonstration will probably be confined to speeches. It has already been arranged that sixteen platforms shall be erected, from which relays of speakers will address the crowd. The list includes the names of Cunifighame, Graham, the socialist, who represents the northwest division of Lanarkshire in the commons: Tom Mann and Ben Tillet, the labor leaders, and Steppiak and Volchowsky, the exile Russian nihilists, The action of the authorities in arresting the editor and publisher of the anarchist paper, the Commercial, is likely to exercise a wholesome restraint on those inclined to be everything will be quiet. Want an Eight-Hour Law.

Resolutions will be adopted at each of the Hyde park meetings declaring that the estab-lishment of an international eight-hour labor day will be the most important step toward the ultimate freedom of the workingmen and urging Parliament to pass the eight-hour law. Nearly 100 foreign anarchists are said to have arrived in London during the past week, but the revolutionists declare that the greater portion of them are sham anarchists sent by the continental police to watch and report the doings of refugees in London. A mysterious incident, which many per sons connect with the anarchists and their preparations for May day, occurred at Fleetwood Tuesday night. A sentry who was or guard at the magazine there was attacked by two men, who knecked him down and en leavored to take his rifle from him. During the struggle the sentry managed to touch the electric bell connecting with the guard room. The men evidently heard the soldiers who ran from the guardroom to see what the occasion was for the ringing of the bell, whereupon the sentry's assailants fied.

Bound to Draw Gladstone. The liberals in Parliament have been con gratulating themselves for a few days past upon a report that the speaker would not allow Mr. Blane to make his proposed motion, that the time has not arrived to grant home rule to Ireland and that Mr. Gladstone's ingenuity would not be taxed in making a reply to the motion, which, it is considered, is nothing more or less than an attempt to force from Mr. Gladstone a declaration of what his home rule bill will be. The liberals contend that Mr. Blane's motion could not be heard on Friday week, as it had been forestalled by Dr. Clarke, who gave notice of his intention to raise the question of legislation regarding the local affairs in Great Britain and Ireland today and, according to the liberary lates are the second of the result in th eral interpretation of the rules, a question having been debated and disposed of cannot be discussed at a subsequent date. But this afternoon, whom Mr. McCarthy asked whether the discussion of Dr. Ciark's motion would not prejudice Mr. Blane's motion, the speaker gave a cold chill to the liberals and McCarthyltes by announcing that discussion would in no way prejudice or interfere with

Mr. Blane's motion To Instruct the English Voter. The unionists continue to make every preparation for their mammoth anti-home rule demonstration in Ulster. The seriousness of the movement can be judged from a speech made by the marquis of Londonderry at Dub-lin last night when he said that it was the duty of the Irish unionists to bring before the English voter the fact that within twenty miles of his shore he might have a hostile parliament and a hostile country. It would be impossible, he declared, to exaggerate the danger this would be to England in case of a foreign war. The mionist convention to be held in June must grove to the English that the Ulsterites are determined to resist by every means in their power any attempt to repeal the union of Great Britain and Ireland. The marquis adder:

will fight." "Uister mer cannot be handed over to the dictates of an Irish parliament," continued the marquis, "a majority of whom they knew to be men whose actions and words prove them a disgrace to any civilized country

Theirs the Right of Resistance. Earlier in the week the duke of Devon-shire (Lord Hartington) spoke at Derby. This was the first time he had addressed a political meeting since his elevation to the House of Lords. In his speech he drew a parallel between the condition of affairs at the time of the great revolution and the state of affairs that would be created by passing any home rule measure that would be approximately unsatisfactory to the nation-alists. He declared that in the event of the adoption of such a home rule measure the protestant minority of Ulster would be subject to the tyranny, not of a king but of a majority dominated by the same alien creed in the most intolerable form. He maintained that the right of resistance which belonged to their forefathers also belonged to their contemporaries, although they must avail themselves of the right at their own risk and stand ready to be praised or condemned according as they succeeded the reverso.

The endorsement of the Uister movement by two such men as the marquis of London-derry and the duke of Devoushire has caused a sensation and has showed how deeply serious the movement is.

Smut from a "Blasted Ear."

The newspaper Modern Society, comment-gupon Lady Somerset's praise of Ameri-an women, takes occasion to make a most vile and despicable attack upon Americans. The writer, who presumably knows as much about the subject of American women at he does of any other, says that the horrible im-purity of the most fashionable girls in the larger cities of the union is well known. "The Deacon marriage minus the jistol shot," he adds, "is the typical American menage. The truth is that London society is impure here Americans will be apt to admit that the writer speaks from knowledge], though, maybe, after all is said and done, it is less so than the society of New York."

Never since the birth of negro minstrelsy has there been a stronger organization than Lew Dockstader's minstrels. This famous mpany will appear at Boyd's new theater on Sunday evening next. Among the strong features of the show are Meintyre and Heath, the popular exponents of the south-ern negro in plantation songs, dances and walk-arounds, and the wonderful three Marvelies in their latest and greatest specialty entitled, "From the Sublime to the Ridic "If home rule is earried there must be civil war in Ireland." This statement produced tremendous cheering and cries of "Ulster" 'Hotel Punch de Leon."

A DARING ROBBERY

Doc'ors and Druggists Conspires-Their Victims are the Sick and Afflicted --This Grievious Pillage Has Long Been Tolerated But It Ha: Had Its Day.

Under the title "Unprofessional Practices," the OMAHA SUNDAY BEE, of Ap. il 24, editorially says (italics ours): Ap. il 24, editorially says (italies ours):

It has become a custom among doctors who stand high in their catling to accept free use of office rooms at the hands of draggists, and in some cases doctors enjoying extensive practice have had their office rent paid outright by druggists whose prescription blanks they use. This mutual exchange of favors might not be discreditable were it not for the fact that some, if not most, of these doctors purposely prescribe coormons doses of medicine when they know that the great report is not to be used. These double and troble do ses of costly compounds are not only an imposition for the benefit of draggists and doctors, but they often cause greath iridship and absolute distress to people of findled means afflicted with diseases. Many poor men and women in distress have to Many poor men and women in distress have to pawn their furniture and clothing to pay in flated drug bills on the top of doctors bills, which in themselves would be burdensome

This is a most startling indictment, but it is all too true and the charge is not denied by the accused. "It has become a custom" is the excuse. To add to the profits of the druggists costly and hurtful compounds are forced upon helpless and suffering men and women. The little children are not spared. Not even does the lisping babe in the cradle escape. History furnishes no parallel to this wanton practice. It would cause the blush of shame to mantle the check of the most bloodthirsty barbari in that ever scuttled a ship or cut a throat. To make war upon the sick has ever beenregarded as a crime even in those ages and blimes where human life has been held the cheapest. This practice, then, of compelling the sick to buy and swallow vile and injurious mixtures that are not needed has not even the respectability that might attach to it as a relic of an tiquity.

The mission of the true physician is a grand one. It is his noble function to aid nature and safely pilot his patients through the valley of the shadow of dis-But when, to satisfy mercenary greed, he prostitutes his exalted office by injuring his patients and retarding their recovery by over-dosing, he is guilty of a crime too enormous to be fully characterized by words. To prescribe medicines in sickness beyond the actual indications in the case, is but adding to the danger and hindering recovery. indeed, not actually causing death. The inseparable dangers and suffering, and the necessary expenses of sickness, are appalling and burden some enough, with out adding to them for selfish ends. It is high time for those physicians and druggists who are honorable exceptions to this iniquitous rule, to see to it that this custom expires.

Drs. Copeland & Shepard, long ago, saw this evil and disastrous trend, and as a result have instituted a method that does away entirely with these abuses. Between them and their patients there are no middlemen, nor middle profits. They do not load the patient's system with drugs and nostrums and unload his purse to feed the profits of palatial drug stores. Drs. Copeland & Shepard furnish their own medicines and in the delicate matter of deciding what to give and how to give it, they are governed solely by the great end in view—the patient's restoration to health.

AN OFFICER'S STORY.

Catarrh and Quinsy-After Fifteen Years He Got Relief-The Gratifying Results of Skilful Treatment Well Exemplified.

[Men who are exposed to all kinds of wea-(Men who are exposed to all kinds of weather, day and night, are peculiarly liable to catarrh and chest troubles. The changes from heat to cold, and from moist to dry weather, induce irritation of the nose and throat that leads to permanent disease of these parts. Catarrhal symptoms first affect the nose and then extend to the throat and bronchial tubes. The tonsils often enlarge and remain so: they are tender and spongy, and nearly fill the throat, affecting the voice and inducing an annoying couch. On taking cold they swell and inflame, fill the throat and are intensely nainful. Headache, throatache and duliness of hearing are frequently grouped in these cases. Neuraiglas, brenchitis and poor appetite are to be looked for.]

The treatment I re ceived from Drs. Copeland & Shepard was beneficial in every way and produced the most gratifying results. I heartay commend them is succ essful physicians in chronic diseases

EVIDENCE MOUNTAIN HIGH

Proving the Success of Drs. Consland and Shepardin Their Treatment of Catarh and Ali Caronic D seases.

During the past few months several thousand cases of cataerh and chronic diseases have been treated successfully by Drs. Copeland and Shepard. Their patients come from all over the west. It is worthy of note that each published case is genuine and the statements absolutely true. The name and address of every patient is given, and every testimonial is a free-will offering for the benefit of others needing relief. Every statement is true to fact and entirely free from exaggeration or fancy. Their strength and interest are found in their imple truth. To gild or adorn them would but obscure the lesson they teach. AFTER SIX YEARS.

When a young man obtains entire relief from agonizing pain and discomfort that have been his enemy for years, his friends marvel and rejoice. His relief is theirs also. Such a case is that of Mr. Herman Schultz, of 22nd and Vin-

I had been badly affected by catarrh for six years, and during that time no one can tell how I suffered. My throat was sore, dry and tender; at times it pained me greatly, and there was a tickling and roughness that was very annoying. I was hoarse and at times nearly lost my voice. Every time I took a slighteold I was much worse. My nose was so stepped up I could hardly breather by severe blowing I could get it open, but it soon would become closed again. I had to breather through my mouth which dried my tongue and throat. My head ached almost constantity and made me sick. I suffered greatly in this way. Pains—dull or sharp—were nearly always present and made life almost a burden. No one can tell the relief I feel since Drs. Copeland and Shepard treated me. I am glad and can truly say that all my misery is entirely relieved and in every way I feel eured and well. The method of treatment of these physicians is pleasant for the patient and for the kindly interest they showed in my case, I sincerely thank Drs. Copeland and Shepard.
