It was cold and cark and dreary yesterday, but despite this discouraging condition of things, quite a fair crowd went out to Sportsman's park to see the second bout between the Hoosiers and the Rustlers. The bulk of the conceurse, however, was of the genus bleacher.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Umpire McQuaid put new ball on tap, and a misguided young man, yelept (laylo, on account of the won-derful slowness of his speed, took his position within the little square near the center of the diamond.

He was full of hope, confidence and prunes.

Gayle's Great Efforts.

Before he pitched the first ball he looked it carefully over, rubbed it between his palms, smelt of it, spit on his hands, took a rest on the fence and pulled the trigger.

It was a good shot-nearly taking Shelbeck's foot off-and limping painfully, for the umpire's sake, he went to first.

Young Mr. Gayle was exasperated, and he shook his good right paw flercely, and an al-titudinous pitch was the consequence. On this Shy ran to second.

Robert office then pressed his club against a nice drop, a regular marshmallow, and Shy scampered home. Bobby embezzled the next bag himself, but was caught trying to get home on Kel's safe drive.

The next moment Tun Berger stammed Collopy out at first, and your Uncle succumbed on a high one to Letcher.

What ought to have been a pile of runs dwindled down to one pearly little taily. But the Jays cidn't last as long as it takes to tell it.

McQuaid quit on a pop-up to Collopy, Lawrence smashed Æolus in the jaw three successive times, and he, too, wandered into other paths and byways.

Mr. Letcher shocked the whole team by making a hit. Then O'Brien, of German extraction, sent a little lazy one down to Collopy and when he reached first your Uncle had it there waiting for him.

And the Jays failed to score.

Camp, Hayes and Fitzgerald furnished speedy outs. Louis P. from Quinn to O'Brien, Eddie to O'Brien, and the song and dance man on three weird lunges into space.

For the Billy Harringtons Quinn was the first man up. He took his position at the bat and never said a word, but stood and looked at Darby in a way that made his heart beat thick and fast.

Ouinn took first. Some Double Pinys Come Up.

He made four failures to put her over, and Berger fouled to Collopy and on Old Hickory's not smash to the same corner the two runners were doubled. Colly shot the ball to Fitz and Fitz to Uncle. And the Jays failed to score.

In the next Darby led off with a grounder that had whiskers on it that would have made Gus Schmelz sick with envy. Shy flew out to Letcher and Gilks forced Darby at second, and Kelly did likewise for Robert Again were the Jays doubled.

After Tommy Naglo, the boy who used to tine 'em down to second like bullets from a gun, in the haleyon days of '89, had been awitched off at first by Collopy, Gayle made a hit. Following this marvelous achieve ment came a nice little parobolic fly to Col lopy from McQuaid's bat, and before Gavie ouid get back to first he nailed him, too.
And the Hoosiers failed to score.

In the fourth Collopy reached first on an accidental bunt. Rowe hit to Gayle, and, ambitious to give the Rustlers a taste of their own medicine, he turned to cut Colly off at second, but instead threw wild, and Colly went on to third and your Uncle to

But neither got any further. Camp struckout, Gayle and O'Brien attended to Hayes, and Old Hick and O'Brien to Fitz. For the Harringtons Lawrence gashed the circumamtient, Darby throw O'Brien out at first, and Quinn did the gashing act

And the Javs failed to score, Old Hickory juggled a hot one from the end of Darby's stick, and a wild pitch ticketed him to second. Shy miscued on his sacritice, his half-hearted fly failing into McQuaid's uplifted mauleys, Lawrence took another one from Gilks, and it looked like another arid waste for Omaha. But Kelly came next. He felt as if something ought to be done, and he did it. Swinging his omnibus pole he brought it forward square against one of young Gayle's bighest priced, and when the ball hit way out in Buck Keefe's center crocus bed Darby was in and Kel puffing on second. He stole third and Collopy's second safe scored him.
Your Uncle popped up a high one and Old Hick earned another p.

Pleasant to the End. Then just to keep their hand in the Rustlers executed another double-their third in the game. Quing went to first on palls. Berger pushed a grounder down to Shy, who scooped it up and threw it to Fitz and Quinn was nipped, then Fitz fired it on to your Uncle and Berger was also made a sucker of. Carpenter died enroute to first, Sny's quick throw beating them by a dozen yards or

And again the Jays failed to score. In the sixth Camp beat a little infield tap out, Haves fouled to Nagle and Fitzgerald to O'Brien, while Darby wafted. The Hossiers didn't last as long. Mc-Quald flew out to Shy, and Darby threw the Indiana battery out at first.

And again they failed to score. In the next the Rustlers made their fourth and last run. Shy made a hit and Gilk got his base on four wide ones. Keily hit to Gayle and Shy was headed off at third, but on Collopy's third safe hit Bob got home and Keily to third. On Rowe's hit to Carpenter he and Kelly were doubled, Carp throwing Uncle out at first, and O'Brien Kel at the plate.

As usual the Jays failed to score, and in fact kept on failing until the ninth, when, by the grace of Omaha's only error, they managed to squeeze in a soutary tally, and were happy.

About this time Letcher delivered himself of the only evidence he has so far given of his right to draw a salary. Uncle drove one away out into right for a good bard single away out into right for a good hard single.
Collopy was tearing along toward home at the time Leicher got the ball. What did he do! Why, that big Jay threw to Nagle as prettily as anything you ever seen, and Collopy was caught at the plate.
This is how the Jays got the run:
McQuaid made a hit, and Lawrence followed with a hot one down to Collopy, and over easer to cut the same of short Collopy.

over eager to cut the game off short Colly threw to Fitz to catch Mac, but his throw was bad, and both runners landed safe. Letcher's sacrifice advanced the runners, and on O'lirien's long fly to Kel, the first ran

City Records in Danger. The records and valuable papers of the city of South Omaha are not in a place of safety and the city council should lose no time in providing quarters for the municipal offices which will be secure from loss by fire. A number of local capitalists contemplate the erection of several business blocks, and it would seem that the opportunity is at hand for providing suitable and safe quarters for the city's officials. A number of the members of the city council seem to be of the opinion that the best way out of the dilemma will be to lease quarters in one of the new brick blocks which will be erected during the present season, at a reasonable rental for a term of years, providing the owner of the building will put in a large vault, equal to that which the municipal business demands.

OF PRESBYTERIANS

Considerable Difference of Opinion as to Just What it Is.

CALL FOR AN FENTIRELY NEW CREED

Matters to Be Presented at the Meeting of the General Assembly at Portland, Ore., This Month Which Will Attract General Attention.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1 .- | Special to THE BEE. |- For several months the Presbyterians of Portland and its vicinity have been preparing for the meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which will begin on May 19 and last nearly two weeks, Although this is the forth meeting of the as sembly this venerable body has never been further west than Omaha, and only once has it met so far west as that. For a number of years the project of carrying the Presbyterians to the Pacific coast has been under discussion, and after numerous consultations and-what was equally important-the lay ing aside of a mileage fund large enough for the increased expenses consequent upon such an extended trip, the claims of the Pacille coast were seriously considered last year at Detroit, Mich. Invitations were received from the Calyary church of San Francisco and the blest physical policy. Francisco and the First church of this city. But the speech that captured the assembly was given by Dr. A. J. Brown, the paster of the First church, and by an almost unant mous vote it was decided to accept the invi-tation. Early in the fall a large committee of arrangements was appointed, with special committees on hospitality, information, finance, preparation of assembly rooms, missions and pulpit, press and printing, banquet, excursion, music, railroad and trans, portation, and an excentive committee comprising the leading ciergymen and laymen of the presbytery. Preparations have been made for the entertainment of 2,000 people-commissioners, officers and visitors. Dr. Brown promised last year free entertainmen for at least 2,000 commissioners and $20,000 if necessary for the expenses.

It is the wish of the Portland people that the assembly so soon to meet in their city should be pre-eminently a missionary as-sembly, and to that end a commit-tee has been appointed to bring this question specially before the commissioners who, in reaching Portiand, will traverse the great mission field of the church. The First church issues a monthly paper, called "The Hesperian," and early in the season, in an editorial, this statement was made: "Home and foreign missions should have at least a day each and more if possible. The committee on mis-sions and pulpits will endeavor by corre spondence and otherwise to bring this about and to prevent these causes being crowded into a corner. We are interested in the Briggs case and in revision, but the problem of the evangelization of the great west is to as of paramount importance.

But while the committee feels so strongly about home missions it will be utterly imressible to crowd the Briggs case and revision into an exprese. In fact, it seems probable that the coming assembly will be made memorable by the defeat of revision and the ordering of a new creed for the Presbyterian church. The revision commitce appointed two years ago, with Dr. W. C. Roberts, president of the Lake Forest university, as its chairman, has prepared its second report which has been made public. By the limitations imposed when the appointment was made the committee was unable to introduce any propositions tenning to impair the Calvinistic system of doctrine taught in the confession, and it is admitted that the mem-bers of the committees have done their best in view of all the circumstances, but they have not satisfied the great mass of the church, it is believed. Many of those who copposed revision at the outset, feel that the committee have gone too far, while those who were extreme revision ists insist that the result is altogether too conservative and that the changes made are not at all satisfactory, and, further, that the emper of the church in regard to revision has chauged since the matter was first broatched, and that no revision is possible now which will satisfy all parties. The only thing that can keep the Presbyterian church united, they say, is not an unrevised confe sion, nor the confession as amended by the revision committee, but a new creed which will in some respects resemble the one out lined by Dr. Henry Van Dyke of New York City. When discussing the matter in his prosbytery he said that those whom he repesented wanted a new statement of essential doctrine for four reasons:

"First, because it will be simpler. We want something that a plain man can understand: something we can put into the hands of those that need instruction without confusing their minds. Second, because it will be more scriptural. We want something that has the tone and accent of the New Pestament: something less like a law paper and more like a creed, which can be read in the churches without injuring the spirit of devotion; something that will uplift and warm the heart. Third, necause it will be shorter. Eleven thousand words is too much. The substance of our faith can be put into half that space. If we leave out the non-essential we shall be able to put more strength into our faith in the essentials. And this will bring us nearer to our brethren and help to clear the way for the unification of Christendom. Fourth, because it wil have a better balance. In political theology the important thing is the emphasis. We want a creed that will lay a massive em-phasis upon the love of God for the whole world, the atonement of Christ for all man-kind, and the free, sincere offer of the gospel for every creature."

The revision committee, on the contrary, feel that if its report is adopted it will satisfy all except a few extreme conserva-tives and a few extreme radicals who will be equally unable to agree upon a new creed. The progress of the discussion of this important question will be watched with great

The subject most important next to the re vision question, and perhaps of greater pop ular interest because it has in it a personal element, will be the discussion of the Briggs case. This will come before the assembly in two ways. Last year his transfer from one chair to another in the Union seminary was disapproved by a vote of 440 to 60, but so in-tense was the feeling on the part of the semi-nary directors that at a meeting held shortly after the assembly they reaffirmed his ap-pointment, or rather his "transfer" as they term it, and decided to stand by him. Besides disapproving the appointment the assembly appointed a committee, headed by President Patton of Princeton, to consul with the directors relative to the relation ex-isting between the seminary and the assem-bly. This committee held two meetings in hiv. This committee held two meetings in New York and after the adjournment Dr. Patton and Dr. Hustings signed the following statement: "The adjourned conference which began on Wednesday last between the general assembly's committee and the directors of the Union Theological seminary was concluded on Friday, evening. A full, free and calm discussion was had of all the points at issue. There was throughout an obvious and earnest desire to reach harmoniously and earnest deafre'to reach harmoniously some conclusion. The committee did not and could not yield as to the general assembly's interpretation of the agreement of 1870. On the other hand, the seminary directors did not yield their position with regard to the transfer of Dr. Briggs. The fact is "leacepted on both sides that there es an honest difference of opinion between the way parties to the agreeopinion between the two parties to the agree-ment of 1870, which difference will be re-ported to the general assembly as for the present irreconcilable. The committee will recommend that the status quo be recognized in the hope that some action may be taken which will lead to a harmonious settle-ment of the question involved. The members of the committee and the directors of the eminary have reached a better understand ing of one another by the free and courteous nterchange of views, and on both sides there has been an honorable disposition to seek those things which make for peace. In the conclusion of the conference the venerable Dr. Butler addressed the committee in few kindly, impressive words, to which Dr. Patton responded in a like spirit, and then with the doxology and the benediction, the conference was adjourned sine die, "Fancis L. Patron.

"Chairman of the General Assembly's Committee. "THOMAS S. MASTINGS, For the Directors of Union Theological Seminary."
In the meantime, Dr. Briggs has been teaching in the seminary, and as his colleague and successor in the Hebrew chair, Prof. Brown, has been in Europe the greater part of the year, he has been practically fil-ing his former chair.

The second phase of the Briggs case will be the appeal from the prosecuting com-mittee of the New York presbytery, which dismissed the heresy trial begun there last summer. After the committee had made its report citing the charges and specifications, and Dr. Briggs had made a reply, the pres-bytery dismissed the case, and it is against this action that the appeal is brought. In addition to that the members of the com-mittee have lodged a complaint against the presbytery with the New York synod. According to the usual course the case should go from the presbytery to the syned and then to the assembly, and the appeal may not be brought up this spring. When the case was before the presbytery of New York last fail, protests against the ruling of the moderator and against the decision of the presbytery were offered, and these have been signed by many who voted to dismiss the case in the presbytery.

It is not certain yet who will serve as mod-It is not certain yet who will serve as moderator. Two names have been prominently mentioned, those of Dr. Wallace Radchiffe and Dr. S. J. McPherson. Dr. Radchiffe is a Princeton graduate and the pastor of a leading church in Detroit. Dr. McPherson is a Chicago man, to whom the presidency of Lake Forest university has been offered since the resignation of Dr. Roberts.

Dr. Radcliffe was born in Pittsburg nearly fifty years ago, was graduated at Jefferson college thirty years ago, had his theological college thirty years ago, had his theological training in the United Presbyterian semintraining in the United Presbyterian seminary at Allegheny and at the Presbyterian seminary at Princeton. He was ordained by the presbytery at Philadelphia in 1866, serving as pastor of the Woodland church for four years. From Philadelphia he went to Reading, first as stated supply of the First church, and later became its pastor. He has served as moderator of the synod of Philadelphia, and would make a strong moderator.

Dr. McPherson is a young man of much promise and is exceedingly popular in the west. He is a progressive man, and the only word neard against his selection is that Chicago has had two moderators within the last ten years, Dr. Herrick Johnson and Dr. Marquis, and that it is not fair to the rest of the church to choose a man from Chicago so soon again. Dr. McPherson was born in Wheatland, Monroe county, N. Y., in 1850. He was graduated at Princeton college in 1874, with the first academic rank in his class. For one year he was tutor in mathematics at Princeton. In 1875 he entered Princeton seminary. In 1877 he gave the master's oration. He was licensed to preach by the presbytery of Rochester in 1877, and was installed, by the presbytery of Morris and Orange, paster of the East Orange Presbyterian church in September, 1879, Here his labors were largely blessed. In November, 1882, he entered the pastorate of the Second Prespyterian church of Chicago.
The following statistical table contains in brief the record of the growth and progress of the Presbyterian church for more than 250 years. Prior to 1789 accurate figures seem to be unattainable:

Obstacles That Confronted the Firemen in Fighting the Fire-Damages and Insurance-Ottawa, Kapsas, Suffers Loss from a Conflagration.

the Tribune from Winnipeg, Man., says: The most extensive fire in the history of Winnipeg occurred about 2 o'clock this morning, and before it was gotten under control sixteen or eighteen buildings were totally destroyed. A space covering nearly three acres is now a mass of smouldering ruins. The fire started under the stage of the Princess opera house and was burning, it is supposed, about an hour before discovered. Members of a theatrical company were playing there and left their dressing rooms and the house was locked up. About 1 o'clock 200 people in the Grand Union opposite heard a loud explosion in the theater, and almost instantly the place was filled with flames.

When the fire brigade arrived it was found that the water works company had closed down for repairs, and as the hydrants were usciess the hose had to be laid to tauks before the water was turned on the fire. By that time the opera house and five or six stores in the opera house block were completely wrapped in flames, and so quickly did the block burn that not a dollar's worth of stuff was rescued.

The flames spread with terrible rapidity, and lifteen minutes after the alarm had been sounded they had crossed an alleyway and caught McGregor's large livery static, in which were thousands of dollars worth of carriages, etc., including all the wagons of the Dominion Express company. So not was the fire that none of these were saved. And then, in spite of all the efforts of the firemen, the flames spread to the buildings on the opposite side of the street. Frost & Wood's agricultural warehouse, Green's ex-tensive feed store, a carriage repairing shop, the Salvation Army barracks and three pri vate residences across the street were all fire at the same time and all were purned to the ground with their contents except Bawling's grain warehouse, which was partially saved. Three residences and a large stable back of the opera house were also destroyed and little if anything saved.

The Grand Union hotel was also in great danger, the windows being cracked by the great heat, but the bremen, aided by a favor able wind, saved the big hotel. Russ & Swift's Uncle Tom company lost everything, including special scenery, ward-robe, etc. The proprietors of the opera house are heavy losers. They carried only $6,000 insurance, which would barely cover the scenery and properties. Total losses are very heavy, but cannot now be estimated, while the insurance appears to be exceed-Tragedian Frederick Warde was to have Offiawa, Kan., May 1.-A disastrous fire started today in a livery stable in the north part of town. A strong wind was blowing and after destroying the stable, the fire spread to Crowder Bros', steam laundry and J. C. Spencer's frame house, both of which were destroyed. Brands from the fire were carried by the wind across the river and set fire to the stables of the street car company and to an adjoining livery stable. Both of the latter were destroyed. The loss is $35,000

Miss Lettie Huntley,

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me There Was No Hope and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my led. Under my face were napkins continually residenced with blood from my meath.  could ent nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was unders in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

A Wasto of Money but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to log it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feet a little stronger, but thought I toniy fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month if could walk neroes the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dimer, and said I wasted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six mouths was as well as ever in my life. It is now tour years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemor-rhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably Saved my Life."

A SLUGGISH STREAM.

It Gets Foul and Poisonous Unless it is Kept Constantly Flowing. At this season of the year people feel more or less weak, run down, wearled and depressed. It has been commonly supposed that it is du to impurities of the blood, and that only by purifying the blood can good health be secured. Is this true? Let us see. The blood gets imnure because it is sluggish. How does a stream get impure with green soum and poisons on the top? Simply because it doesn't run. A running stream is not impure, but a stagnant or sluggish stream siways is. If, therefore you would keep your blood pure, keep it moving, keep it throbbing. The moment it begins to be sluggish, it will begin to be impure, and you will feel the effects in tired, weak feelings, depressed emotions, and a thousand and one troubles which siways follow. The proper way to keep the blood stirring is by the use of a parestimulant. In moderation. Stimulate it gently, and it will keep in constant, healthy motion, and good health will follow. There is but one way in which this can be done, and that is by the use of the purest and best stimulant you can find, preferably whiskey, and there is but one absolutely pure, medicinal whiskey known to the world, and that is Duff's Pure Mait. Selentists admit thus, the doctorsaliconfirm it. It is more generally used to-day than any other whiskey which the world has ever seen, and it is popular only through its merst. Do not let any druggist or grocer deceive you by saying they have something "just as good" "something they can recommend," etc. When any dealer says this, he has an interested motive, which usually is, to sell you something cheap and inferior on which he can make more money. Do not be so deceived. or sluggish stream niways is. If, therefore
