

NOT WORKING FOR NEBRASKA

Why Bills of Interest to This State Die in the House.

THEY ARE NOT LOOKED AFTER THERE

While the Republican Senators Secure the Passage of Such Measures in That Body the Alliance Congressmen Fail to Do Their Duty.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.

Another important Nebraska bill has been passed by the senate and is now in the hands of the president...

Probably two dozen of bills of very great importance to Nebraska, and a score of private bills have also been introduced...

Measures Now in the House. The Bee correspondent recalls to mind several of the local bills which have been passed by the senate...

Among the prominent ones are Mr. Manderson's bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Norfolk...

All of these bills and many more of direct interest to Nebraska as a state and her citizens, personally and individually, have been passed at the present session of the senate...

Washington Republicans Interested. Hon. Robert P. Porter, superintendent of the census and one of the best posted tariff speakers in the country, as well as a walking encyclopedia on industrial subjects, will address the Nebraska Republican association of this city at its next regular meeting...

Senator Paddock today called the attention of the Bee correspondent to an evidence of the fact that the representatives of the press of Nebraska and several other parts of the country in connection with the latest scheme to raise a national food bill...

Mr. Graham, a Socialist Member, Suspended from the House of Commons. LONDON, May 4.—Mr. Richard Haldane's bill to confer upon local authorities power to compel land owners to sell their land, in order that it may be divided into small holdings, was discussed in the House of Commons.

Mr. Herbert Asquith (advanced liberal), member for East Fifehire, spoke quietly in favor of the measure. He contended that the owner of the land on which human residences are built is not entitled to the improved value of the land due to the increase of the population.

Mr. Graham returned: "All right, I am not a socialist, but I am a socialist in the sense that I believe in the right of every man to have a home."

TRADE TRAINING SCHOOLS

A Branch of Education Much Neglected in America.

Leon Mead discusses in the Engineering Magazine the important question of trade training in America.

The skilled labor of this country today is performed largely by foreign-born workers. It is a well known fact that the vast majority of trade training before coming to these shores.

While industrial schools are yet comparatively few in the United States, their general establishment seems merely a question of time.

The London Polytechnic Institute furnishes industrial training to young men of from 17 to 20 years of age, who have completed their education in the public schools or at college.

Mr. Scott of Illinois, who originally offered the resolution, spoke in denunciation of the sugar trust and in favor of the proposition.

Mr. O'Neill of Missouri contended that the trust was a violation of the anti-trust law, and if so whether proceedings had been instituted for such violation.
