A LYN AVINE LIBERT A REST AND A STATE ASS.

ouit just where he did last year, simply because he is an arrant coward. His heart is not in the right piece, and his performance today again demonstrated the fact. Jere Covington saved considerable ground by hugging the inner rail while making the turn into the home strotch, and when he breasted Russell shortly before reaching the last furions post, which marked the end of a mile and a furlong, tussell throw back his ears in a cowardly fashion and refused to run further. Covington, seeming to see that he had the race at his mercy, became over confident and began easing up on the Judge. This performance nearly cost Morris the race, as Taral, who had been unable to get through the bunch before, came up with a tremendous burst of speed under the most vigorous riding. Fortunately for the Norris backers, Coving-ton turned in his saddle and discovered his danger just in time to prevent Taral from teall ng the race and the stake from him.

Covington's Cool Cunning.

A sixteenth from the finishing point, he sat down and began to ride the Judge with his hands. Taral was slowly but surely gaining on him, and he undoubtedly would have passed him, simply because he was being more strongly ridden and had not even drawn his whip. Then Covington seemed to whip the Judge. In realty he was hitting Pessara on the rose, and each time the last bead to escape punishment. Taral shouled to the last to stop, but the youngster had an old head on his shoulders, and he kept right on smashing Pessara over the hose.

old head on his shoulders, and he kept right on smashing Pessara over the nose.

The finish saw Judge Morrow victor by a head. Three lengths away, a bad third, came Russell, who was the same distance in front of Raceland. Then came Charendon, Banquet, George W., Kingmaker, Fairview, Madstone, Port Chester and the 4 to 5 favorite, Longstreet, a disgraceful last.

Major Covington rode a really clever race on the winner, and was placed in the floral chair and a borseshoe was presented to the winning jockey by the association. The yeart assemblage favored him with a grand salve of applause. The lad deserved all the praise that was benned upon him by the distinguished group of turfmen surrounding the jockey and judge's stand. jockey and judge's stand.

Atter the Race.

Racciand's poor performance is explained by the fact that when he returned to the by the fact that when he returned to the stand after the race it was seen that his suddle girth had broken and Flizpatrick was minus one of his stirrups. There is no excuse for Longstreet's defeat. He was run off of his feet in an endeaver to keep up with the flying Fairriew in the first part of the race. The fractional time was: First furlong, 23 seconds; the haf, 47% (thenomenally fast time); three-quarters in 1.14; thile in 1.42% and the mile and a quarter in 2.08%. The track was dry on the stelace and damp underneath. It was what is known as a dead track, that is totally deveid of elasticity or springiness.

Judge Morrow, the apple of Green B. Morris' eye, is a 5-year-old bay horse by Vagabend-Moonlight. He took part in twenty-cight races last year and was first past the post eight times. His best record for the handicap distance is 2:08 4-5.

The only good weather since the meeting opened brought out about 5,000 people, and the books had things pretty much their own way. The track was in a fair condition, but not at all fast. The event of the day's card was the Kentucky Oaks, and the prize, worth $3,759. was easily captured by J. E. Pepper's fast filly, Miss Dixie.

OMAHA TOOK THE ODD GAME

Rowe's Rustlers Succeed in Hammering Out Victory at Milwaukee.

COLLOPY DID IT WITH HIS STICK

His Work Was on the Brilliant Order-King Kelly's Catch-Columbus on Easy Avenue Now-How the Other Games Were Settled.

Omaha, 6; Milwaukee, 5. Columbus, 9; Minneapolis, 4. Toledo, 3-3; St. Paul, 2-4. Indianapolis-Wet grounds,

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 16 .- [Special Telegram to Tan Ban, |-Omaha took the last game of the series from the Browers this afternoon in a close and exciting game. It was an uphill fight for the Rustlers, but they stuck to their task and scored the winning run in the ninth inning, after one man was out. The game abounded in brilliant plays, mingled with an occasional error. The heavy stick work of the Omahas was a foature, but the splendid fielding of the locals kept the score down. Both pitchers were batted hard, but Handiboe had a shade the best of it. There was a continual kick against Umpire Corcoran's decisions, and in the sixth inning he fined Sheibeck $1 for delaying the game. The playing of Collopy at third was again the feature of the game. He captured three hot ground balls that seemed good for a single in each case, and retired the runners at first by beautiful throwing. He also contributed to the base hit column in a marked degree, having four singles out of five times at bat. "King" Kelly was obliged to doff his cap on account of a catch he made against the left field fence. The only play of any note by the locals was a pretty one-hunded stop of a hot grounder by Krieg. The locals started the run-getting in the second inning. Singles by Lake, Krieg and Hamburg and Henry's couple, assisted by Kelly's error, netted four tailles. Shelbeck's error and Henry's three-base drive was responsible for one more in the third.

The Omaha boys waited until the third inning before commencing operations. Shelbeck opened with a double, went to third on Gliks' out at first and scored on Krieg's wild throw to first to catch Kelly. Kelly reached second on a passed ball and scored on Collopy's single. In the sixth singles by Collony and Westiake and Rowe's two-bagger scored two more tailies. In the seventh Gilks made a hit, went to second on an error by Lake and crossed the plate on Collopy's hit, tying the score. After one man was out in the ninth, Sheibeck hit for a single, went to second on Gliks' sacrifice and scored on Collopy's fourth single. Score MILWAUKEE.

George Godfrey Proves Too Much for Suilivan's Former Boxing Partner. New Your, May 16.-The heavyweight glove contest between Joe Lannon and George Godfrey drew a jarge crowd to the Coney Island Athletic club tonight. Lannon tipped the scales at Pio and Godfrey at 185. Godfrey was first to land, which he did hard with both right and left. He landed many good blows before Lannon got down to work, but when the later did commence to fight he got in some left-handed jabs and several hard right-handed swinging blows.

In the second and third both men fought in a vicious manner and a number of teiling blows were struck. Lannon was knocked down in the third, but was quickly up again.

The fourth was the florest and most exceeding the basis of the state of the condensate of the state o citing of the fight and ended the battle. Lannon directed all his blows for Godfrey's stomach, while the colored man played for Lannon's head controlly. He kept jabbing him straight in the face with his left and swinging his right back of Lannon's ear until he had him so groggy he could scarcely stand Lannon swung a vicious right, but it fel short of the mars, and before he could re-cover, Godfrey landed a right-handed upper cover, Godfrey landed a right-handed upper cut, which sent Lannon stargering across the stage, and another from the shoulder with the left knocked him down and almost out. As soon as he got up, Godfrey was at him again ham-mer and tengs. Lannon was growing weaker every second. Both were so much excited that neither seemed to hear the gong at the call of time, and went right on fighting. SOUTH OMAHA.

Departure of the First Fast Train from South Omaha to the Seaboard. The new fast freight on the Northwestern which will run between Omaha and Chi cago and there connect with the fast seaport trains, left South Omaha yesterday on the first trip at 12 o'clock. The train will leave each day at 12 o'clock, and is run expressly to accommodate the South Omaha packers. This new train enables the packers to lessen the time between Omaha and New York twenty-four hours, and they are thereby enabled to place their fresh meats for the export trade on the seaboard in a much less expert trade on the scaboard in a much less time than heretofore.

Tho train was put on by the Northwestern through the efforts of John S. Knox, traffic manager for the Cudahy Packing company, and that company is the only one of the four at South Omaha now interested, although it is expected the Omaha Packing company will become interested in a few days. The train arrives in Chicago twenty-six hours train arrives in Chicago twenty-six hours after leaving South Omaha, connects at that city with the fast scaport trains, arrives in New York and the products for the export trade are transferred to the fast line of steamers, arriving in Liverpool ten and one-balf days after leaving Omaha.

The train does not cary exclusively the products for the export trade, but also those intended for the trade in the New England territory, which has grown to be of considerable magnitude to the Omana packers.

The putting on of this new train by the Northwestern and the great lessening of time is but the preliminary of what will fol-low. The Burlington is arranging to put on a similar train, and it is expected the other roads will fall in line and a race for record breaking be inaugurated in this field. new departure in the conveying of the products of the Omaha packers to the seaboard is a most important one and one which will prove to be of great benefit to their interests. Its value cannot be overestimated.

Meeting of the City Council. The city council met last evening. Mayor Miller presided and Councilman Walters was the only absentee.

City Attorney Van Dusen reported that the city cannot open up N street unless the street is opened up to the river, as that was the provision of the ordinance, and under which the property owners waived damages. To open up the street to the river would require an outlay of a large sum of money to bridge the lake on the street. The proceed ings were irregular and the attorney stated that it would be necessary to begin proceedings anew. No action was taken.
Frank Pivonka submitted his plans for his new building, and proposed to furnish quarters for city officers for two years at a rental of $1,200 per year. Mr. Pivonka is to put in a vault for the city's use on the second floor, where will be located the offices of the treasurer, clerk, attorney, engineer, and building inspector. The proposition also calls for the two basements, each 20x63 feet in size, the corner fronting on Twentysixth street, and the adjoining room. The basement rooms will be used for council chamber, police court city jail and police headquarters. The proposition will be neted upon at a meeting to be held Thursday evening.

Seven saloon licenses were ordered issued. Chief Smith was instructed to purchase a fire alarm box and locate it at Twentieth and R streets.

Councilman Bruce introduced a resolution that all bids received be deposited in a sealed iron box to be opened by the mayor and city clerk in open council meeting and the bids be examined by them. The other members were opposed to taking the opening of bids out of the hands of the street committee, and Mr. Bruce's maiden resolution was laid upon the table.

An ordinance was introduced prohibiting the laying of more than two tracks upon any one street in the city. Referred. Also an ordinance providing for the borrowing of money to put in a storm abutment at the approaches to the Q street viaduct.

Ordinances were introduced fixing the amounts of licenses for circuses, pool and billiard tables, itinerant venders of fruits and vegetables, peddlers, and outside merchants delivering goods sold to the retail trade in South Omaha. They were referred to the proper committee.

The citizens of the Fourth ward asked to have a fire alarm box put in at Thirty-third and J streets. Referred.

J. W. Sipe tendered his resignation as weightmaster in the First ward. Dr. Gse Wo owns a lot at Twenty-fourth and I streets, and at a former meeting of the council was ordered to fill the lot, which is about fifteen feet below grade. Government Troops Descring to the Insurgents-General Rodil Dies Like a True Soldier-Killed by His Own Men-The Situation.

Convertabled 1892 by James Gordon Bennett t Manacaino, Venezuela (via Galveston, Tox.), May 16 .- By Mexican Caule to the New York Herald - Special to THE BEE. ) -Confirmation of the capture of the city of Bolivar by the insurgents and news of the death of the commander of the government forces, General Santiago Rodil, has been re-

The one thing which delayed the progress of the revolution has been the want of arms. Thousands of foueralists are in the field un armed, barring such rude weapons as they use in the sugar cane cutting season Crespo understood the seriousness of the situation and saw that it was necessary to have places opened to the landing of arms at the northwestern end of the coast and in the southern section. Bolivar is a large town, having landings, docks, etc., and arms for the rebels can now the landed there with safety. It will be an easy matter to distribute them to the revolutionary camps throughout the country.

Made a Good Defense.

Besides the killing of General Rodil, General Lucio Espanoz, the government's chief in the Alta Orinoco, was made prisoner at Bolivar. He was in command of the town while Rodil was out on the plantations forcing the farm bands into Palacio's army. The rebel chieftain Genzales Gil rode into Bolivar at the head of a column of cavairy nearly 1,600 strong. Espanoz made as good a defense as he could, but after a light brush with General Gil he surrendered, as did 200 troopers under him. The men immediately enrolled themselves under the insurgent banner. A few were killed or wounded on both

Gil, fearing the return of Rodii with a strong force, retired with all the arms and supplies in the government parque. On the second day after Gil's raid General Rodil reentered the city with a large number of recruits and veterans. He was exasperated at the state of things in Bolivar and condemned a half dozen military officers whom he found in the city to be shot because they had not defeated the rebet raiders.

The same afternoon General Celestine Burozo, who narrowly escaped a like sentence, was sent out to muster a regiment of horsemen for the government service. He organized and ordered his men to follow, and rode with them into the tracks of the rebels Meanwhile the civil magistrate of Bolivar, Senor Alfredo Alcata, twice sailed down the Orinoco with about 300 men, each time intending to engage the enemy from the transport Succorro. On each occasion he returned alone, his troops having forced the engineer to land them. Rodil thereupon, with 200 mounted many processing to the return to the second them. men, proceeded up the right bank of the Orinoco to locate the insurgents' camp, which was on the left bank. Before reach ing the point which he thought was nearly opposite to where the rebels were encamped his troops revolted, took him prisoner and demanded the immediate countermanding of the order to shoot certain of their comrades at

Died Like a Soldier.

Rodil refused to give the order and was shot, and the soldiers rode back into Bolivar and found that town in the possession of the insurgents, who had taken it without firing a

One of Rodil's guards rode into the town with the general's head on his sabre. General Gil ordered the head and body interred. General Gil now occupies Bolivar with nearly 2,500 well armed men. He is proceeding to establish posts along the Orinoco to its mouth, so as to keep the river open for vessels bearing arms to the insurgents. Among the important government officers killed lately in the Andes action was General Manuel Vincento Romero Garcia, a brave officer and a man of education. The discovery has been made that dynamite explosions ain nd about Caracas have been caused by men under the direction or General Abdot Otazo, lately of Caracas. He has made his escape from the city and has called to his standard the stevedors of La Guayra. Dr. Casanas' resignation as commander-inchief of the national forces was a great surprise to many. His record, as a bitter anti-Guzmancista, however, easily accounts for it. The announcement that Bolivar had been taken by Crespo's followers was not a surprise. The commandant of the plaza, who, by the way, is a brother of Dr. Casanas, late gen-eral in chief of Palacio's forces and speaker of the House of Deputies, some time ago openly expressed his disgust at Palacio's re-ported alliance with the Guzmancista faction, and threatened to resign his post should the rumor prove a fact. The latter negotia-tions opened by the executive with the British also coming to his ears, no doubt acounts for the weak attempt he made to de fend the city when the rebel forces advanced on it. The government, in fact, had advices two weeks ago that they could not afford to depend upon young Casanas, but knowing the commandant's popularity Palacio hesi tated to remove him.

The city of Bolivar is the key to Crespo's stronghold, the Aita Orinoco, and its possession will be of great value to him. It commands the highway to the Llanos, where, attended by 5,000 sturdy Llaneros nis million cattle are grazing peacefully upon a thousand broad savannahs. Naturally there is no little rejoicing in the revolutionary rank at the news that the place is in Crespo's power.

Was Too Well Fixed. Detectives Savage and Dempsey arrested Paul Lyons last night for having too much lewelry on his person.

Lyons had been employed in Burhorn's jewelry store in Council Bluffs for two or three weeks past, but left suddenly yesterday, taking a half dozen solid silver spoons, a couple of watches and two watch cases. The prisoner had some of the plunder in his pockets, but had already pawned two watches. The detectives recovered all the property. When questioned at police headquarters Lyons admitted the theft but said he stole the jewelry to get money enough to send for his wife and child, who, he claims, are now in Salt Lake City.
