The trial of the Fifth ward aldermanic contest case was booked for yesterday morn-ing in superior court, but Attorney Harl, who appears for Alderman Smith, was engaged in nnother trial and a postponoment was taken until this morning. The fire department was called out yesterday foreneon by a small blaze at A. S. Scrib-ner's biacksmithshop, 710 Main street, caused by a broken chimney. A hole was burned in the roof around the chimney, but the blaze was extinguished before it had time to do any further damage.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following persons: Seth F. Winch and Miranda J. Mitchell of Omaha, Archie Pul-lem of Omaha and Clara Branden of Council Bluffs, Charles H. Donnell and Susan Sowers of Omaha. The last named couple were married by Justice Hammer.

A suit for $100 damages was commenced in Justice Cones' court yesterday by S. The levy was made by Deputy Sheriff Harrington, and be is made a defendaut to the suit. The case will be tried on Judge Deemer went to Nebraska yesterday morning, and there was no morning session of district court. In the afternoon the case of Barnett and Wallace against Stewart & Hunter was again on, Attorneys Askwith, Hall and McCabe making their arguments before the jury. Smith McPherson will make his argument this morning and the case will then probably go to the jury.

Culef Nicholson took the members of the fire department through the various implement houses yesterday, in order that they might obtain an idea of the kind of work they would have to do if a fire should ever happen to break out there. The upper floors are packed full of highly inflammable articles, and a fire that started there would be sure to give the firemen a chance to show the stuff they are made of.

The Philomathean Literary society will meet this evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. There will be music and a debate on the question: "Re-solved, That the young men should go east instead of west to grow up with the country." Affirmative, led by C. S. Lawson; negative led by J. E. Knotts. The social union of the First Presbyterian church will meet with the liferage speed. meet with the literary society.

Justice Hammer rendered yesterday a de cision in the case of the state against Attornev Emil Schurg, charged with the embezzle ment of $17 from Lutner R. Wright of Omaha. The highest sentence that could be imposed under the statute was given him, a fine of $100 and an imprisonment of thirty the of $100 and an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail. His bond for appear was fixed at $100, and at a late hour las night he was still hustling for a bondsman. Jack Williams, who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of vagrancy, was brought up in police court yesterday for trial. Among his effects was found a diary, in which a de-tailed account of his life for the past three menths was given. It proved him to be a tramp of the first water, and although it had no great amount of literary merit, it made very lateresting reading on account of the insight it gave into the instand outs of a tramp's life. On the strength of it Williams was given a seven day sentence in the city

It is said the processes southwest corner. It is said the prospects for securing the right of way from him are very good, and the projectors of the ent prise do not look for any trouble from the park commissioners.

Elmer Braden, a constable of Silver Creek township, went to the house of Alexander McKinzie, a farmer, a few days ago, to levy on some stock. When he made known his errand McKinzie seized a revolver and made a breas for him, threatening to let a large installment of May sunshine into his digestive organs unless he retired. The officer retired, and yesterday filed an informa-tion against McKinzie in Justice Swearingen's court charging him with assault. McKinzle will probably be arrested today.

An effort is being made by some of the friends of Dick Grandon, who is in jail awaiting a trial on the charge of highway robber; and assault with intent to commit murder, released on bai. A woman called on the sheriff yesterday and made some in-quiries about the amount of the bond that would be required for his appearance. She claimed that Grandon was with her the night when the robbery took place. It is thought by the authorities that if Grandon succeeds in getting out he will shake the dust of this part of the country from his feet for good.

B. S. Harrington had a rather exciting ex-perience with a fractious horse Sanday afternoon. He was leading the animal out of the stable yard when its foot became entangled in a piece of barbed wire. It at cangled in a piece of barbed wire. It at once began to rear and plunge and in a moment Mr. Harrington's limbs were also tangled up in the wire. The horse wint plunging along and dranged its owner for fully ten vards, during which ordeal Harrington's limbs were badly becerated by the barbs. If he had not managed to keen a tight hold on the halter strap there is but little doubt that he would have been seriously injured, if not killed. injured, if not killed.

THE OMAHA BEE. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Members of the School Board Meet in Regular Monthly Session.

TREASURER GRONEWEG'S BOOKS BALANCE Report of the Committee of Investigation -The Old Superintendent Re-Elected-Meeting of the City Council-News from Across the River.

The school board met in regular monthly cesion last eyening with all the members present. A statement was read showing the amount of special taxes due from the school pistrict to be $1,004. Tals was referred to the finance committee. Member Stacy stated that this was the proper time for the election of a superintendent for the ensuing year, and he moves the re-election of Prof. H. W. Sawyer for the year 1802-331. Atthis juncture Dr. O. W. Gordon rose and said that he had been requested by a number of citizens to ask the board to postpone the election of a superintendent for one

This suggestion did not meet with much approval from the members of the board and s vote was taken, resulting in the unant nous re-election of Prof. Sawyer. Chairman Field of the committee on buildings and grounds reported that it had been necessary to keep pumps running constantly for the last mouth at the Twentieth avenue school house to keep the cellars free from

Chairman Wells for the committee appointed to investigate the books of ex-Treasurer William Groneweg, made its final report. report of the committee, which in-

The report of the committee, which in-Rice, who had been employed to assist the committee, was very long but the following is the substance of it:
In the teachers' tund three vouchers were found in which the amounts charged by the treasurer were $6.02 in excess of those charged by the secretary. On the other hand three orders were found in the contingent fund in which the amount charged by the secretary was $6.65 in excess of that charged by the treasurer. In the school house fund an order was issued October 7, 1881, in favor of C. Straub for $5,073.57; this order was charged by the treasurer as paid March 25, 1882, with interest, $5,208.90, making a difference of $195.93. There were also charged by the treasurer during 1881 and 1882, for which no order was issued, four coupons and two bonds in payment o nterest, aggregating $7,850, making a total inference in this fund of $5,045,33.

"The treasurer's books," says Mr. Rice in his report, "show that during Mr. Grane-weg's term of office his accounts had been examined by the committee ap-pointed by the board and certified to as correct, and that the vouchers for all money charred had been receipted for by said committee. It would seem that all differences in the teachers and contingent fund statements were clerical errors, as the various committees had the original vouchers before them, whereas I have been obliged to rely on the secretary's for all informa-tion, as the original vouchers have probably been destroyed; at any rate, I understand that they cannot be found. The treasurer's books also show that balances due were properly receipted for by his successor. On referring to the members of the meeting held November 20, 1882, the finance com-mittee reported that they had set-tled with Mr. Groneweg as treasurer to the end of his term, and examined his books and vouchers and found them correct."
The committee closed the report as follows: "The committee have examined the book and accounts and find the report of Mr. Ric to be correct, and have to state in addition that Mr. Rice states that he has compared the books of the county treasurer with the books of Treasurer Groneweg and finds that Mr. Grone-weg's books and the entries thereon agree with the books of the county treasurer as to the amounts received by Groneweg from the county treasurer,

"As an explanation of the item of $194.33

As an expandation of the item of $194.33 difference drawn on the school house find in favor of C. Straub, the committee find that on October 29, 1881, the Council Bluffs Savings bank paid Mr. Straub the face of the order, and that on March 25, 1882, the said order was presented to Mr. Groneweg and paid with interest accrued at per cent per aunum.

The affidavit of John Beresheim, vice pres dent of the Council Bluffs Savings bank, was attached to the report to corroborate the lasstatement. The report to corroborate the last statement. The report was adopted and the committee, consisting of Lucius Wells, W. C. Sincy and L. E. Bridenstein, discharged. Superintendent Sawyer stated that it was the intention of the management of the Chautaugun to set apart one day to be known as "School day," and that on it the children of the schools would have some special exercises, including an address from a prom-inent castern educator. At his suggestion an appropriation of $10 was made to pay the xpenses of a drawing and penmanship ex-

WORST OF THE SEASON. Last Night's Storm Was the Hardest of a

There wasn't any necessity for the street commissioners' men to flush the streets last night. Jupiter Pluvius did it without any expense to the city.

2 Last night's electrical storm was the severest of the season, in fact for many months. All day a narrow trough of extremely low parometer, extended from Texas to North Dakota, and it was through this trough that the storm swept with all the fury of a cyclone. During the latter part of the afternoon banks of black and grayish clouds began to form along the south-eastern horizon and then gradually overspread the whole sky. After a little preliminary skirmishing the lightning got down to work and opened the battle o the elements by sending a great vivid flash clear across the sky from norizon to horizon. A dealening crash of thunder followed, and ien the flood-gates of heaven were opened

At 9:45 p. m. there was a remarkably vivid flash of lightning, and for an instant the city was as light as if the full moon had been shining. From 19:30 to 10:40 p. m. the heaviest rain fell, the self registering anemometer at the signal office registered forty-nundreaths of an inch of water in the fifteen minutes. This amount of precipitation in such a short space of time is something remarkable.

Just before midnight the rain ceased for nearly half an hour and the register then showed the precipitation to be one and fif-teen-hundredths inches. Shortly after midnight the rain commenced again and contin ued for a couple of hours, running the total precipitation up to one and one-half inches. The motor cars were compelled to stop running about 0:30 and did not resume their regular trips until about 11 Hundreds of people who visited the theaters were put to a great deal of inconvenience, for the curtains went down just when it was raining the hardest, Telegraph and tele-phone wires were useless for a time, but the operators were able to resume work after Observer Bassler of the weather bureau skipped out for home in disgust when the storm broke and left his office in charge of First Assistant Lawton, who had to take the abuse of the public the rest of the night. The storm of last night was the last of the series, and several days of clear, fair and varm weather is promised.

A Well Known Omaha Lady Relates an Unus al Experience A Natable Case and Care.

In a certain neighborhood in this city there is at present much controll upon the remark-able restoration to health of Mrs. G. W. Andrews, of 1214 South Sixth street, who is the wife of a well known consider on the Union Pacific rallway. Here was a woman whose sufferings and unrest badie fair to unsette her mind. She was nearly crazed by her distressful condition and she feared that meanity would finally be her dreanful portion. Since Drs. Copeland & Suepard began their work in Omaha they have had no case yielding more gratifying results than that of Mrs. Andrews. Their efforts have resulted in a verificible rescue of the perishing and why should not the facts be frankly state?

Mrs. Andrews says: "It is both a picasure and a duty to tell of my great change from sickness to health. I cannot fully describe my recent condition, for me one can express they suffering in words. I had been alling for wife of a well known consuctor on the Union seven years. I had constant backache—pains shooting all along the spine and hips. My back feit weak enough to break. My head pains were terrible. It alongst makes me shudder to think of the m. They were in the back of the head and neck; also on top. The scalp was tender and sore. No one knows, or can know, the axony I suffered in my head before I found relief. I did not know what it was to be free from pain. It was pain—pain, all the time. I could not sleep—for years I had not had a good night sreat. For three long years my nights were spent in dreary waiting for the morning. Then came another wretched day with no comfort—no relief. I had no ambition. My hope of cure was gone and I became despondent—caring little whether I lived or died. My stomach distressed me greatly, and I was badly bloated with gas which came from indigestion.

"My heart was very weak. I had palpitation and pain that filled me with alarm. If I exerted myself a little I was out of breath, and when I went to see Drs. Copeland & Shepard I loudd scarcely get to their office I was so weak. My ankies and feet swelled during the day mis were tender. I also had dropsy of the face which puffed me under the eyes so that my neighbors said the swellings looked like baz. In fact I was bloated all over and my color was of itself enough to prove my serious condition. I had no ambition to work or make any plans for the future. So nervous and miser, ble had I become that I was indifferent to everything about me.

"It would be a long and dreary tale should I give an account of my search for heip. But I looked far and wide. I consulted several physicians in Philadelphia and Harrisburz—also four in Omaha—but with no relief except that they relieved my pocketbook. When Drs. Copeland & Shepard assured me trey could help me I did not believe them. But their skill, kindness and patience have saved me—not only saved me from wretchedness and distress but—I know—have saved my life. The most fortunate day in my life was that on which I became their patient, for today

nent."
Mrs. Andrews can be found at her residence and will verify in every point the above statement. No lady in Omaha stands higher in the esteem of her friends than she.

PRESS COMMENTS.

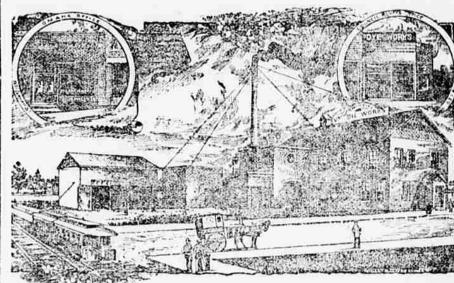

In the last appropriation tall, there is an item for the grading of Massachuseits avenue, extended, toward the American University. The line of Massachuseits avenue has been hid out on a direct extension of the line now rue mine to Rock Creek. A plat of the same has been made and the people owning the lined through which it extends will be asked to denate the right of way. This will give a straight avenue from Shordan Creic through the University grounds, except where it runs through the Observatory grounds. Here it will be put upon a circle, so as to be at least 1000 feet away from the harmonistist in might be disturbed by truthe along the street. If this meets the views of the narries interested, the Sidable will be spent in grading on this line. Washington strends star,
