NEBRASKA CROP PROSPECTS

Very Little Corn Has Yet Been Planted in

GRAIN MEN OF DIFFERENT OPINIONS

With Good Weather from Now on it Possible to Grow a Good Corn Crop in Nebraska-Farmers Now Planting.

The question heard on every hand among business men of all classes is: What are the prospects for a corn crop in Nebraska? Grain men are watching the situation very closely, and while they differ materially in their views, the general opinion appears to be that with good weather from now on it is possible to grow a very fair crop in Nebraska this season. Here is what some of the grain men say: James Walsh: The corn crop in Nebraska is in the most critical condition that it has been since I came to the state eighteen years ago. In my opinion, the temperature is too low to get a good stand of corn from the present planting. Unless we have exceptionally good weather from the present date we cannot expect to have even an average crop, However, Nebraska's chances for a crop are much better than any of the eastern states, and any corn that may be raised in Nebraska will command fancy prices, as the rapid advance in Chicago during the past three days would indicate. The Nebraska farmers that put forth the greatest efforts to raise a crop are bound to get a big price for it. I believe that Kansas and Nebraska are the only states in which it is possible to raise any-thing like an average erop, as the ground in these states is more rolling than in others.

C. C. Crowell of the Crowell Lumber and Grain company, Blair: The weather during the past few days has been good for plant-ing. The temperature is now low, but if from now on we have good weather we can from now on we have good weather we can have a good crop. There is so far very little corn planted in the state. What has been planted in my section is aiready coming up. We can plant corn up to June 1 and be reasonably sure of getting a good crop. It can be planted up to the middle of June, but of course the chances are not so good of getting a crop from such late planting.

Cockrell Bros. The crop outlook is bad throughout the west. There is a good deal being planted now, but the early planting is a loss, and much of it will have to be replanted. With good weather from now on we ought to raise a fair average crop in this state. In lows the condition is worse, as the soil does not dry out so readily, and from what we can learn we do not believe that they can raise over half a crop even with the best of weather from this date. There is one feature of the present situation which should not be lost sight of. At the very least calculation there is still 30 per cent of last year's crop remaining in the farmers' hands, and lowa farmers are holding a still larger proportion. Now, even if we do not raise over half a crop in Nebraska, that, taken with the old corn on hand, will be enough to put Nebraska farmers in good shape and prevent any great depression in

C. H. Chisam: The farmers are taking C. H. Chisam: The farmers are taking advantage of every little bit of sunshine to plant corn and the planters are now running pretty generally in Neuraska. Mr. Ritter, a Morse Bluffs grain man, said yesterday that if they could get the corn in even by June 15 he would not be afraid of a crop shortage. The season is fifteen days late, but there is still time enough. The agricultural implement two claim to have sold an unusually ment men claim to have sold an unusually large number of corn planters, and where on former seasons one planter has had to do the work for two or three farmers, now each work for two of threa farmers, now each farmer has a planter, and when they get to work they will not be long in getting the crop into the ground. Half of last year's crop is still in the hands of the farmers; possibly that is putting it a little strongly, but it is safe to say fully one-third. C. H. Fowler: You will not find any two men, even among those who have been out over the state, who will agree as to the crop prospects. According to my information, small grain is looking well, especially in the western part of the state. Very little corn has been planted east of Kearney. I do not believe to exceed 5 per cent of the planting has been done.

S. A. McWhorter: I do not think that the outlook is very brilliant, though my information from the country is not so bad as some others have been picturing. The sea-son is late, but they are doing some planting. The majority of the grain men who have been in the city during the past few days appear to take a cheerful view of the situation and they claim that with fair weather we may have a good crop.
Frank Faulkner of Schuyler said that they were listing corn in that section. Henry Reuting of Clay county says that it all depends upon the weather from now on. J. Auracher of Rayenna gives the same John Hastie, a heavy buyer of grain and live stock in Nemaha, Otoe and Johnson counties, reports having just been over this territory and the farmers are now planting corn. The farmers, however, are very bull-ish and will not sell their old corn, expecting higher prices. In the three counties there is well on toward one-balf of last year's corn crop still remaining in farmers' nands and resides they have jots of wheat. The grain is in the hands of men who are able to hold it and they propose to keep it and get the benefit of the advance if any should occur.

Mr. Duncan of Duncan, Hollinger & Co.:

Corn that has already been planted can not but be harmed by the cold, wet condition of the ground. The crop is going to be ex-tremely late even with good weather from now on, and is therefore a precarious crop at the best. If the weather is favorable there will still be a great risk of its being caught by the frost in the fall. Farmers in the meantime are not delivering any corn, and there is less in the crips at railroad stations, perhaps, than ever before. The large stocks reported in farmers' hands in the last goverument report has been drawn upon con-siderably for feeding, which has had to be carried on much later than usual. No doubt they have a very considerable quantity on hand but will not part with it in any wholesale way until the prospects for the new crop are better than they are now.

Harry Miller: 1 have just talked with responsible grain men at Schuvler, Seward, Crete, Harvard, Geneva and Benton and they all say that the farmers and Benton and they all say that the farmers are plowing and planting corn rapidly and are not worried a bit about the crop, if they can get the seed into the ground by June I. While the corn crop is undoubtedly late the ground is in such spiended condition that corn planted by June I with an average season afterwards will yield a better crop in the Missouri river territory and especially in Nebraska, than on an average season if in Nebraska, than on an average season if planted the middle of May. Of course if the weather should continue as it was last week, that is raining all the time, then there would be danger of a calamity to the crop. At present there is no danger.

BRUTALITY UNPUNISHED.

After Nearly Killing a Horse William Gresham Discharged by the Prosecution. William Gresham, hving at Thirteenth and Grace streets, was tried in police court for abusing his horse.

There were haif a dozon eyewitnesses to the alleged cruelty who corroborated the story of savage brutanty told by the complaining witness. One lady, Mrs. Judge Shea, told the court that she had heard the sound of the blows at her home two blocks away and had gone down to beg the man to stop because she could not stand it any longer. The man was using the butt end of a "blacksnake" and the poor beast's tongue was folling out of its mouth and it was scarcely able to stand on its feet.

When she asked him to desist he turned on her with a torrent of abuse and foul names.

her with a torrent of abuse and foul names, and warned her not to come within reach of his whip. The beating was kept up for over an hour, and horrified the whole neighbor-hood. None of this testimony was broken down in cross-examination, and no extenua-tion was pleaded by the defense. Judge Berka says now he would have fined the man if he had been allowed to do so, but the prisoner was discharged on motion of the state, represented by City Prosecutor Cocbrane.

Cases That are Demanding the Attention of Judges and Juries.

Twelve jurors, good and true, assisted by Judge Ferguson are trying to determine the ownership to one of the town lots in Florence. The property is worth but $300, though double-that amount has been paid in costs and attorney fees. Since the beginning of the suit generations have passed away, while the litigants have passed from youth to old age.

Properly speaking, the suit is entitled Hannah K. Kubourne against Josephine White, but on account of children, aunts, uncles and cousins having been drawn into uncles and cousins having been drawn into the fight there are a score or more of plaint-iffs and defendants. In the early days, as far back as 1857, the lot was in the old Mor-mon town and was in the possession of Eliza Mitchell, long since deceased. The Kiloournes, heirs of Mrs. Mitchell, claim title through the deceased, while the Whites allege an undisturbed occupancy and squatter's title that dates from the 60's.

HAS DECLARED ITS INDEPENDENCE

Major Furay Presents a Resolution Which is Intended to Express the Attitude of the Board on the Paving Specification Matter.

The members of the Board of Public Works have concluded to lock norns with the city council. At the regular meeting beld yesterday afternoon a resolution looking to this end was introduced by Mr. Furay. The members, however, thought they would better take time to consider the matter, and for tnat reason final action upon the resolution was postponed until this morning. The trouble is right here: Some weeks ago the council passed an ordinance instructing the board to prepare the specifications for paving and then to invite bids on the same. Following out these instructions the board and the city engineer prepared the specifications with a ten-year guarantee on stone, brick and asphalt. The specifications passed to the council, and by that body were approved. Soon after bids were received and approved. The awards were made and the bonds accepted. + Thursday night the bids and all of the papers reached the council, where, after a lengthy discussion they were rejected. The board was instructed to prepare new specifications similar to those in force in 1891 and ask for new bids, Councilmen Jacobsen and Prince, in speak ing of the resolution, stated that the members of the board were right and that they should stand upon their rights. The only thing that they feared was that in case they made a bold stand the majority of the council might pass an ordinance revoking all powers of the board, except those granted by charter. If this should be done the members of the board would be simply figure heads, as they would be unable to transact any business, aside from passing upon esti-mates and looking after unimportant mat-Opened New Bids.

On the paving Murphy was the only bid-der. His bid was $2.80 per square yard on Sioux Falis granite, with a ten-year guarantee and $2.30 on white Colorado stone. Last season, with the one-year guarantee, the bids were $2.05 on Sloux Falls and $1.92 on the Colorado stone. The award was held to await the disposal of the resolution.

Are you just at that age when you're getting to be a perfect crank about your clothes? Do you make a vigorous kick if your coat is an inch too long to be "right in line," or your "trouserloons" bag at the knees? Does your paternal ancestor still foot the bills, or do you have to go out and rustle for your own bread-and pie-and cake-(and occasionally "cream for two)?" Don't you often wish, when you put on your old "Sunday-go-to-mash-'em" suit that you wore last year, that you could afford, (or could talk Dad into affording it), one of those new nobby suits you see around town in the windows marked ten and twelve dollars. We're going to help you out this week. We've been buying pretty heavily of those same suits lately-getting ready to treat you to a surprise party.

400 BIG BOYS' SUITS

To fit boys from fourteen to nineteen years old-go on sale on our second floor today. They are cut in the most recent style. They are correct as to shape. They are made just as you'd order them made in a tailor shop. The workmanship is perfect. They are in all the new fancy checks, pin heads, plaids and mixtures. They are in fine all wool cheviots, cassimeres and homespuns. Several of the same styles were in our great seven-fifty sale of men's suits. The coats are the proper length and have patch pockets. The pants are cut the regulation width. -IN FACT-they are the same identical suits you've seen around town at ten and twelve dollars. Until Saturday night big boys and men of mall stature-can get fits in these suits-at
