Streedemus Handibon curied the sphere around their necks in the most exasperating transer, and when the game was over it was sens that Omaka had stacked up ten runs and Ht. Paul two.

That was sort o' evening up matters. Sinciped in the outset took his base on balls. Honfo was very lobsterlike in the face and hardly over the offeets of the jag he has been carrying around with him for a MAY OF LWO.

Young Mr. Hogdriver signalized his debut by a fly to Visner, but Donaghue, who had his batting breeches on, smashed out a tyrus, the ancient, accepted a gift, only to be tucked away with Portland Motz. The latter hit to Uncle who tapped the bag with his little foot, then threw Sut out at second. There was no joy in the second for either, mor the third for that matter, but in the Fourth the Omahas raked in three big tailtos.

King Kel made a beautiful long his over after Visner and Collopy had perished Uncle Dave pushed out a two-sacker and Westiake a single. On the latter Dave scored.

In their naif the Aposties got what the boy shot at and the Omahas came right back and continued the pyrotechnics, Unrby, who natted like a fiend, and any child knows how a fiend bats, experienced no trouble whatever in immediately finding the rosy Keefe for a single, while Shy picked out two and Gilks one. Kelly and Visner went out on long flies, but Collopy placed his club up against Keefe's jaw for three sacks and three more runs were piled up. In this inning the Aivord children got their second and last run, one a two-bagger by Hoggy and another of the same sort by Phiadelphus Donaghue.

Darby Won the Nickel. "Now, boys," remarked Uncle Dave at this juncture, "we'd better make it even ten - Mr. Koefe is out of wind and I don't believe in imposing on any man," Westfake then proceeded to smash out his third safe hit, Handiboe following with its mats, but the latter was caught napping by a quick snap from Cornelius Dugdaie. "Knock in that run, Darby, and here's a mekel for you?" shouted uncle as he jugled a handfull of twenty-dollar gold pieces in his pauts pocket. "Knock it in, kid," he reeated, 'and come get this lucre.'

Biff! That was Darby's-tree colliding with

Fort Wayne Gets the Crowd.

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The St. Paul base ball club was today transferred to Fort Wayne and the fate of the Apostles has at last been settled. President Williams submitted the question of the disposition of the unfortunate ciub to the various members of the West-orn league, and their votes were re-ceived by telegraph today. Frank Debl Robinson of Cleveland, who owns a street rankway in Fort Wayne, is at the head of the Fort Wayne company. He will assume all the salaries and expenses of the club from this date forward. The league will be compelled to stand the losses incurred thus far. Denver was unable to take a better proposition than the first, because of difficulty in the matter of securing grounds. The only changes that will be necessary will be to change the St. Paul dates to Fort Wayne.

Excellent Exhibition Given at the Omaha Club House Last Night.

FINE TUGGING, BOXING AND WRESTLING

Farmer Burns' Hard Work in Throwing Galentin-One Busy Day on the Several Race Tracks-lowa Sportsmen's Successful Meeting.

Last night was club night at the Omaha Athletic club and about a fifth of the attendauce the merits of the evening's card deserved was on hand to witness the sport, The program opened with a tug-of-war, two out of three, between the club team and the Bohemians. This was a most stubborn and interesting event, the club team winning the first and third pull, after a tremendous struggle. Following this came a four-round sparring exhibition between two local colored pugs unworthy of more than a mere mention. Then came Ed Rothery, who, with proper training, would have made one of the greatest welterweight fighters Fistiana ever knew, and Danny Daly. They gave a fine show of the beauties of artistic sparring, and elicited salvo after salvo of applause. Against his burly and skilled antagonist gentlemanly little Dan madd a most excellent display. Teddy Gallagher and Jimmy Noonan followed in another four-round go, refreshing and spirited from start to finish. The pugilistic program wound up with a very stirring bout between Ed and Arthur Rothery, in which Jack was about as good as his The premier event of the evening, one that should have packed the house from pit to dome, was the catch-as-catch-can wrestling maten, two in three, between Farmer Burns, the unquestioned champion of the world, at this style, and Prof. E. T. Galletnin, another very clever exponent of modern athletics. The catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling is the most natural style of all the many in vogue in the modern times. It permits of any hold, and contestants are at liberty to ex-ercise all or any means to bring an opponent down. It is in this style we come to the highest development in wrestling. But space forbids a disquisition on the great sport, or even an extended notice of last night's magnificent battle. Suffice it to say, with all his vaunted reputation and marvelous prowess, the great and unequaled Farmer found a worthy opponent in Galentin. However, after numerous thrill-ing situations in which the butlock and the cross-butlock, the full and half nelson, the crotch, the quarter, the arm, the back ham-mer, the headlock, chancery, backhold, trip-lock, strangle, the flying and all other holds known in this masterful passage-at-arms, the unconquered and all-conquering Farmer won two straight falls, the first in thirteen and the second in fifteen minutes, and the crowd highly elated over what they had been treated

Instead of 150 people witnessing this splendid exhibition the club rooms should have been packed at double the price.

The Kentucky stable entry, Deerfoot and Bird's Eye, carried most of the money, but neither horse made a showing at the finish. As the horses were rounding the turn into the stretch Deerfoot staggered ngainst the fence and fell. Her rider, J. Murphy, was hurt, but the extent of his injury is not yet known. Deerfoot had her skull fractured by striking against one of the roots and was killed the posts and was killed.

GOULD'S NEW RAILROAD.

Kansas City, Wyandotte & Northwestern Parchased by the Wizard. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 24.-The sale of the Kansas City, Wyandotte & Northwestern railway to Jay Gould was completed yesterday. The road runs from Kansas City to Beatrice, Neb., a distance of 175 miles, with a spur from Tonganoxie, Kan., to Carbondale, Kan., a distance of forty-five miles. The road was never a paying one, and about two years ago it went into the hands of a receiver. It was then bonded at $3,750,000, of which $1,400,000 were held in England and the remainder by the Northwestern Construction company.

The latter agreed to self their securities to Jay Gould for $2,000,000 and Mr. Gould took up all but $460,000 of them, claiming that that amount of the bonds appeared on their face to have been cancelled. The construction com pany claimed to the contrary and brought suit to compel Mr. Gould to complete the trans-action. Acompromise of the suit has now been effected and Mr. Gould takes the remaining securities.

The road will be used as a Missouri Pacific feeder and may buextended north from Beatrice to tap the Union Pacific, making a connecting tink between that system and

NEBRASKA'S MILITARY BOARD

After a Careful Investigation the Members Exonerate General Cole.

HIS BUSINESS METHODS WERE CARELESS

No Disposition on the Part of the Board to Question His Integrity-What the Report Indicates-Lincoln News Notes.

BEE.]-The Military board, consisting of Adjutant General Vifquain, General L. W. Colby, brigade commander, Colonel J. P. Bratt, commanding First infantry, Colonel C. J. Bell, commanding Second infantry, and Major J. C. Watson, judge advocate, has completed the examination of the accounts of ex-Adjutant General Cole and submitted its findings to Governor Boyd. It will be remembered that within a short time after General Cole's retirement on the 5th of last February it was announced that his accounts with the state were in a most unsatisfactory condition. The books had been improperly kept, records were incomplete and vouchers missing. So hopelessly were the accounts entangled that it was thought best to place them in the hands of a competent expert. Mr. T. H. Leavitt of Lincoln was employed and his work was very thoroughly done. It has not been charged by any member of the Military board that General Cole was an embezzler. All through the somewhat lengthy and tedious examination his personal integrity has not been questioned by General Vifquain or any of his associates on the board. The only charge against him was carelessness in keeping the accounts of the General Cole was present during the de-liberations of the board and was given every opportunity to explain and correct matters, His personal explanation in regard to many matters was accepted unhesitatingly, al-though he could show no vouchers or records. The board found that there was due the state from General Cole the sum of $1,440.86. Of this amount General Cole believes that he can present vouchers for $475 and he will be given an opportunity to do so. He drew a check for the balance, $965, and handed it to General Vifquain. The statement of facts and figures made by the expert is an inter-esting document, not only because it is of a character which does not often appear in print, but because it shows how loosely honest men in office can handle and account for the public funds intrusted to them. Findings of the Board,

Findings of the Board,

Second—That we find that moneys belonging to the Nebraska national guard have been paid to persons that were not entitled to it and for purposes not contemplated by law.

Harry Hall Pardoned.

Harry Hail, a convict in the Nebraska penitentiary, whose history is familiar to all readers of The Ber, was today pardoned by Governor Boyd, who makes the following statement in reference to the case: statement in reference to the case:

I have fully considered the application for the pardon of the said Harry W. Hail, and I find that circumstances attendant upon his case make him a fit subject for executive elemency. I find that he pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree with the expectation of mercy at the hands of the trial judge, and that if he had had a formal trial certain extenuating circumstances might have lessened the severity of his sentence. I find that on the 2d day of January, 1891, Governor John M. Thayer, then about to retire from the office of governor, commuted the sentence of said Hait to nine years actual service in the penitentiary. Because of the escape of Hail on the 5th day of January, 1885, his recapture and return not occurring until the 3d day of December, 1889—the being absent from the prison twenty-three months—it was claimed on behalf of Hail that the commutation issued by Governor Thayer was a substitution of sentence for that passed upon him by the court of Cheyenne county, and that, under the statutes relative to good time which may be earned by all prisoners abiding by the rules of the prison, said thall was entitled to a deduction of some months from the terms of Governor Thayer's commutation. His case was taken before the supreme court for the rendering of its opinion upon the point; but, owing to the wording of the commutation, "nine years actual time in said penitentiary" the court held that it could not grant a babeas corpus for his release. There has been a doubt in my mind as to whether Governor Thayer in commuting Hall's sentence intended to deprive him of good time; it being a fair supposition that the exhibition of mercy made by the governor did not contemplate the deprivation of that elemency granted by law to all prisoners whose behavior is up to the required standard. The warden of the penitentiary reports Hall to me as being exemplary in his behavior, and I am impressed with the view that under all the circumstances attendant upon his case, he has been sufficiently punished; and I therefore grant him a full and unconditional pardon, restoring him to his liberty and to all his rights and privileges as a citizen, and the order of release to the warden of the penitentiary is herewith issued.

Mayor Phillips, however, concluded to approve the resolution and sign the war rants in the interest of the workingmen employed on the contract, who would otherwise be kept out of their pay. I used the other half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla with like results. About four years after, the child first afflicted was again tormented like Job. and I bought a bottle (on Sunday at that) and again a cure. I gave some of the medicine to a poor woman and two children; they were helped as were mine. Through a testimonial sent to C. I.
