Two Cut-Off Islanders in Trouble Over a Grocery Store Deal.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING THE OWNER

Alleged to Have Traded a Worthless Note for Good Property-One Claims That the Consideration Was First Class.

H. Pyburn and P. M. Hodson, two resi dents of Cut-Off island, were brought to this city yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued from Justice Cone's court charging them with cheating by false pretenses. The information alleges that on the 16th of this month a trade was made between the defendants and James Covie of this city, by which Covie gave them a grocery store with its fixtures, a horse and wagon, all of which was valued at $425, receiving in payment a note which, it is claimed, was signed by Hugh Nelson, so Pyburn and Hooson represented, and was secured by a mortgage on a lot in Highland place, Omaha. This note was made payable on the 20th of this month. The prosecuting witness claims that he relied on the representations of the two men in making the bargain, but that he afterwards found that the representation that the note was secured by a mortgage was false. He of insanity vesterday morning for an exammustion. He was accompanied by his wife, who had filed the information against him. His case proved to be an uncommonly sad one, from the fact that be is just sane enough to realize that his mind is not what it should be, and the efforts be makes to control the workings of his mind are pitiful. He was formerly a brakeman in the employ of the Union Pacific. About five years are while coupling cars in the company's yards he was caught between the bumpers and badly crushed about the hips, so that he has been a physical wreck ever since. After a time his spine become affected and it was not long until his mind commenced to wander After examining him the commissioners de cided that he ought to be taken somewhere for treatment and they accordingly directed that he be taken to Clarinda. He was very much opposed to being taken away from nome and the decision of the commissioners was carefully kept from him. He will probably be taken to the asylum this morn

Important Case Decided. Judge Macy made a decision yesterday in the case of the Citizens State bank of St. Louis against John T. Stewart and Mary C. Walker, tried last October, in which twenty acres of land lying just east of Fairmount park in this city is involved. The bank had seized the property on a judgment rendered in 1872 against Mrs. Walker, but Stewart claimed he owned a half interest in the prop-erty. The case was tried and has been in the courts in one form or another ever since The decision of the court is that the title to the property, which is valued at about $20, 000, rests in John T. Stewart, and that the other parties have no claim upon it what-ever. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court.

TACKLED "PINE TOP."

What Alderman Chaffee Learned of Methyl

Alcohol in a Texas Forest. There once was a story that the day was not far distant when a man could take his rip saw in hand and go out to a pine log, saw out a fair article of houer and get drunk before dinner by simply digesting the saw

This was regarded as a noax, but just at this time C. L. Chaffee has evidence in his possession which shows that the story was not idle talk, but that it was the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Some weeks ago Mr. Chaffee visited the nine forests of Texas with a view to purchasing a large stock of lumber. He had been through the camps and had noticed that many of the men indulged in an occasional drunk, but he was unable to locate the fountain head or even where the stuff was manufactured or sold. One day be asked the foreman of one of the camps where the men procured the inquor.

"Why, out of the roots, the knots and the boughs of the trees," answered the foreman. Mr. Chaffee, having been a member of the Omaha council for many years, knew that men sometimes talked through their hats, and informed the Texan that he was doing the very same thing. The Texan laughed as only a Texan can and said to Mr. Chaffee, just follow me." Mr. Chaffee followed and was led some distance into the woods where in operation he saw a full fledged plant for manufacturing alcohol. There was not an ear of corn in sight, but there was a still and any amount of knots, himbs and brush.

"But you cannot make alcohol out of this stuff," said Chaffee.

"But you wait and see, said the Texan, "and I will show you a trick that you never dreamed of." continued the man of Texas The plant was fired up and the boiler was loaded with the wood, stumps, chips, roots and boughs. The machine commerced to make steam, and a short time thereafter raw alconol commenced to run from the end of the "worm of the still.

According to Mr. Chaffee's statement, be looked on in surprise and simply remarked, "That takes for only the cake, but the whole bake shop, cook and all."
Mr. Chaffes learned that several of these stills were being operated on a large scale and that pine wood alcohol has become one of the exports of Texas. He also learned that the refuse was drained off and manafactured into an excellent quality of axie Then upon continuing his search after knowledge he found that the stumps that were not boiled into alcohol were boiled for oil and that from the boilings were made turpen time, red or machine oil and excel-ient quality of oil that is used in mixing

After the alcohol and oil is boiled out of the pine wood the natural inference would be that the pulp would be thrown away, but such is not the case, as it is all piled up and burned to charcosi, which is shipped north. Then there are ashes which accumulate during the charconing process, but they are no, wasted, for they are worked over into corcontrated lye, which finds its way into the nor bern market. This one factory is not alone, nor is at the only one of the kind in Teams, as Mr. Chaffee learned that there are a dozen or more in
