J. H. Marsh called at the police station yesterday afternoon, saying that he wanted to be locked up. He had tried to get along without drinking, but his jagged proclivities were too much for him, and he would go to the street with a bottle of rum, and get a load that made it necessary for him to occupy the whole sidewalk.

The saloon near the Northwestern depot, kept by Jack Mills, was visited by the tappers last evening. There were three in the gang, and one of them, whose name was not given, occupied the proprietor's attention while the other two went through the money drawer. After they had rifled it of its contents, they returned to the street, and were captured, but Shannon was captured later in the evening. The others are still at large.

P. W. Hodson presented P. A. Jerome of Omaha yesterday afternoon, saying that he was a bondsman in the case of obtaining money under false pretenses, which is now pending against him. In reply to Jerome, who stated that he was the gentleman who had planned the Lafayette addition to the city of Council Bluffs, Hodson was subjected by the court. Hodson finally succeeded in getting bail and was released from the county jail.

The council, as a committee of the whole, took a ride over the city yesterday afternoon in order to look up a number of things that were referred to it at the last council meeting. Among other things, they looked at the ground at what is known as Advent Hill, where the residents want an approach built so as to rid them of the mud and the mud-slappers when they go from their front yards to the street. An investigation was also made of the property of J. R. Dietrich, which was badly damaged by the recent flood.

John Mulhall, a resident of Avoca, was found lying in a very prostrate attitude at the corner of 12th and Broadway streets, Wednesday afternoon, with the combined weight of an enormous jar and a section of broken down fence pinned him to the sidewalk. He was taken to the police station by a policeman, and his refusal with such a wealth of profanity that the vice squad officer, who had been called to the scene, was overheard by several ladies who happened to be near by and they resulted in his being taken to a hospital in police court yesterday morning on the charges of drunkenness and using obscene language on the street.

Several feet of brick sidewalk was torn up by W. H. M. P. yesterday morning, and his property at the corner of Main street and Broadway, for the purpose of making some repairs. Before he had a chance to do so, however, he was seen by an officer from the authorities that nothing but stone or imitation stone would do, as an ordinance had been passed by the city council, forbidding the laying of any more brick sidewalk on Broadway, Pearl or Main streets. The ordinance was an investigation showed that it was really there. Pusey refused to put the bricks back or to build a new sidewalk, and instead of the place was torn up. Just how the difficulty will end remains to be seen.

DETAILS OF YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION

Primary Class Work Reviewed by Dr. Phelps, Owing to the Illness of Miss Laura Baldwin, to Whom That Subject Was Assigned.

Yesterday was the closing day of the county Sunday school convention. The morning session was opened by an interesting bible reading conducted by J. A. Howard, the missionary for Harrison county. Miss Laura Baldwin, who was assigned the topic of "Primary Class Work," had such a severe cold that she could not use her voice and Dr. Phelps, taking her notes, kindly presented her ideas in this department of work in the morning session.

The primary department of the First Presbyterian church, of which she is the superintendent, has ninety pupils.

Mr. J. C. Rose, secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, opened an interesting discussion on the question of how to secure substitute teachers.

The lesson on the text of the object teaching was also given. Col. Hoagland offered some practical suggestions as to methods of reaching the boys and girls.

In the afternoon, Mrs. P. J. Montgomery gave an excellent address on the question of how to secure and hold the young people in Sunday school.

The importance of music, the literary and social wants of the children and other practical topics were discussed by various speakers.

The secretary, Mr. Joseph Walls, presented his report, which showed that there were ninety-six Sunday schools in operation in Pottawattamie county during the past year. These were classified among the various denominations as follows: Methodist Episcopal, 23; Presbyterian, 7; Congregational, 2; Christian, 4; Cumberland Presbyterian, 2; Latter Day Saints, 5; Episcopal, 3; English Lutheran, 2; German Lutheran, 1; Baptist, 1; United Brethren, 1; Protestant Methodist, 1; Seventh Day Adventist, 1; union schools, 31. Number of teachers and officers in charge of these schools, 577; scholars in attendance, 6,542; average attendance, 4,855; number added to the church from the schools, 12; the money expended in support of these schools is $2,299.11. There are thirteen townships now organized in Pottawattamie county during the past five Sunday school conventions during the past year.

The mass meeting of children, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was a notable feature of the convention. Colonel Hoagland delivered one of his inimitable lectures, which interested and amused the little folks greatly.

On the recommendation of the committee on nominations the following officers were elected: President, Dr. S. Phelps; secretary, Dr. J. C. Rose; treasurer, Dr. J. C. Rose; executive committee, E. O. Preston of Oakland, and C. H. B. Brown of Council Bluffs. The county was also divided into districts, and it was decided to hold conventions at stated intervals in each of these districts. Another Failure Added to the Long List of Dead Italian Cabinets.

CHANGE OF POLICY, NOT OF MINISTERS

Public Feeling in Italy Intensely Opposed to a Further Pursuit of the Plan that Has Already Cost the Nation So Much Money.

Copyrighted 1920 by James Gordon Bennett.

Paris, May 27.—[New York Herald Cable.]—Special to The Bee.—It is truly pitiable to see the state into which politics has thrown Italy, a country so beautiful, so fertile, so rich in resources, and so rich in all those things that heart the civilization of the nineteenth century.

For the second time in one month a political crisis has arisen and the minister is overthrown. Signor Giolitti had hardly finished his speech on the program of the government when the Chamber arose in hostile array.

It is true that the majority of the government was only nine votes, but the majority included fourteen ministers and twenty secretaries of state, who voted for themselves.

Such a sight has rarely been seen in parliamentary history. The ministry has virtually dissolved, although the king declines to accept the resignation of Signor Giolitti, but whether his majority will finally accept the offered resignation or whether he desires to stay in office, it is not yet known.

The Chamber has decided to dissolve the government and to call a general election. The era of crises has now begun. Italy wants reform either by revolution or by a change of policy.

Radical Change is Demanded.

The Italian Chamber had no special antipathy to Premier Giolitti. It simply reflected Italian opinion. Italy understands that she is being deceived and not only so, but she is being deceived by the very men who are supposed to be her friends.
