T HAS OFTEN been said, and none the less true, there's no beating the old electoral college figures And Omaha had the combination vesterday. Another frantic, fruitless, fat-bead struggie on the part of Uncle Dave's Rustlers.

It was ladies' day and a fashionable crowd of the fair ones were on hand to encourage the Omahas on to victory.

Futile mission. In the initial inning it was one, two, three for Omaha but the Bucks toted off three great big corpulent unearned runs.

Waish got his base on balls, O'Rourke his on Gilks' excusable error, and Campau his on another by the same individual. Waish scoring on this latter blunder, O'Rourke reaching third and Campau second. They both scored on Lally's single.

In the second Omaha went them one better. Visner led off with a hit, but was forced at second by Uncle, Collopy bunted safe, Hayes was plugged with the ball and Darby repeated Collopy's trick, on which Rowe scored. Vick then flew out to Lally, but Sheibeck cleaned the bases with a rattling two-bagger.
In their half Columbus tied the score, and in the next, after blanking Omaha, they took a lead of three on singles by Lally and Mc-Ciellan, a three-bagger by Breckenridge and a sacrifice by Jantzen.

In the fifth they added one more to their total on a two-sacker by Jantzen, Sheibeck's error and Walsh's sacrifice.

That was all they got and all they wanted. Omana, however, pulled out two in the sixth and one in the seventh, the first on successive two-baggers by Rowe and Collopy and Vickery's single, and the last on Giks' three-sacker and O'Day's balk.

Want the Ladies to Come.

During the present series of games on the home grounds the ladies will be admitted to Sportsman's park free of charge except at Sunday games. The series terminates one week from today. This afternoon Columbus and Omaha will close their present series, and everybody desirous of seeing a model ball team should not fail to be on hand and see Columbus. It gives an exhibition of the national sport worth double the admission price, and is the only team in the world that never loses. The great Clausen will be in the box for Schmelz's aggregation this afternoon, and he is a card in himself. He hasn't lost a game this season, and has only won fifteen straight. Can we down him this afternoon! There were a couple of hundred ladies on hand yesterday afternoon, and they are all invited back today. Game called at 8:30. The teams: Position. Columbus. Omaha.

Dedication of York College. YORK, Neb., June 8.-|Special to THE BEE.]-The most interesting feature of the York college commencement is the dedication of the new college building. This institution was founded but two years ago, and now, by the sacrifice and devotion of the oublic spirited men of the city and county and of the members and friends throughout the state of the United Brethren church, which organization owns and controls the college, a magnificent and imposing structure of brick and stone, containing all the modern improvements, has been erected and fur-nished.

At half past 10 o'clock this morning a large audience gathered in the college chapel to witness the dedicatory exercises of this building. The orator of the occasion was Dr. W. M. Beardshear, president of the lowa Agricultural college. In the beginning of the address he referred to the birth occas-ions of a human being, a community, a church, a nation and an institution in such a way as to form a fitting and pleasing in-troduction to the subject, "Something of a Lost Art," or "How to Mould a Man." After making a short but pungent comparison of some ancient and monern methods in education he proceeded to discuss in a fresh and masterly manner the vital aims in scholastic training. He presented in a thoroughly original and ingenious manner the orthodox doctrine of elevated manbood as the supreme end of the school. After the dedicatory prayer the keys of the college were presented by Dr. Beardshear to Judge A. C. Montgomery, president of the board of trustees. The judge responded with a ringing and appropriate address. Altogether the occasion was one of unusual interest and will probably rove to be one of more than a local historica Entertaining the Druggists. GRAND ISLAND, Nob., June 8.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The druggists reconvened at 9 o'clock this morning. Fifty new members were added, which swells the membership of the association to over 600. After taking in the new members, a list of papers was read on "Pharmacy," all of them being attentively listened to. This afternoon the visitors were taken to the fair grounds, where numerous and varied, races took place. The amphitheater and grounds were filled comfortably and every winner was given great applause. The tug of war between members of the association north of the Platte and those south of the Platte was von by the former.

This evening the delegates attended a concert at the opera house given by the Grand Island Philharmonic society. They came in almost in a body and were led to the best seats in the house. The election of officers takes place at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Notwithstanding the fact that there is a sign in every car cautioning passengers against gotting on or off the cars while in motion, whenever a request is made of these dignified individuals to stop the report of the state quest is either ignored or complied with in the most surly manner. I am not the only one who has observed this disagreeable habit of the conductors, but I could if necessary furnish the names of a score of reputable citisens who have received similar treatment to that of which I complain. While I do not wish to charge that the nuwhile I do not wish to charge that the numerous accidents that have recently occurred on the street car lines are due to this peculiar conduct on the part of the servants of the street car company, I do think that they would be considerably lessened if the conductors and gripmen would be more willing and attentive in the matter of stopping when requested by passengers so to do.

There is a strong movement among the German residents of Nebraska and adjoining states, which has also received the official endorsement of Governor Boyd, the mayor of the city of Omaha and others, to secure the establishment of a German consulate at Omaha. The movement has taken form in the shape of a petition which has been forwarded to Senator Manderson and by him transmitted to Mr. Theodore von Holleben, the German minister to this country,

It is set forth in the petition that there are at least 250,000 German Americans resident n Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming, North and South Dakota and Idano, Between Chicago and San Francisco there is no German consulate, and it is urged that the establishment of one at Omaha, the central point of all this extensive territory, could not but be beneficial to the Germans. The petition concludes with the recommendation of Mr. Moritz Meyer of Omaha for the consulship in the event of a favorable action upon the petition.

Passage of the Agricultural Appropriation Bill-In the Senate. Washington, D. C., June 8 .- The regular order having been demanded by Mr. Taylor of Illinois, the speaker of the house stated the regular order to be the vote on ordering the previous question on the third reading of the bill amending the act of 1890 for the forfeiture of certain railroad land grants. Mr. McRae of Arkansas (in charge of the bill) courteously yielded the floor to Mr. Hatch of Missouri, on whose motion the house went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. There was no general debate and the bill was read by paragraphs for amendment.

On a verbal amendment, a diversion was occasioned by J. D. Taylor of Ohio, who made a protection speech with a vigor which is characteristic of him, and who was an swered in a still more vigorous manner by Mr. Simpson of Kansas.

Mr. Taylor denied that free trade, free coinage of silver or the subtreasury scheme coinage of silver or the subtreasury scheme would benefit the farmers, and proposed the following legislation as the great needs of agriculturists: A merchant marine, internal waterways, connecting rivers of the south with the lakes of the north; the probibition of gambling in farm products; the free delivery of mails in the rural districts: the protection of farm the rural districts; the protection of farm products and the creation of a large home market; the pensioning of all the soldiers of the north and the education of the illiterates of the south; more banking facilities on the national banking system and the abolition of the tremendous waste of the liquor traffic. The committee then rose and the bill was passed.

Mr. McRae again called up his bill amending the act of September 29, 1890, forfeiting certain lands granted for the purpose of aiding in the construction of railroads. No quorum voting the house adjourned.

In the Senate. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.-There were but twenty-five senators present today. Mr. Call gave notice of his intention to address the senate next Wednesday on his resolution for an investigation as to whether railroad companies interfere with the election of senators.

Mr. Doiph read an argument in support of the bill introduced March 8, providing for the irrigation and reclamation of arid lands for he protection of forests and the utilization of pasturages. The pension deficiency bill was said before the senate and referred to the committee on appropriations.

Interesting Outgrowth of the Ex-Secretary's Son's Domestic Affairs. Washington, D. C., June 8 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-An interesting rumor which is difficult to substantiate in this city but which has several corroborative facts in its support is to the effect that Mr. Blaine has paid over the sum of $65,000 to Mrs. Nevins-Blaine for the whole correspondence which was addressed to her bear ng the ex-secretary's signature and of Mrs. Blaine and of young James G. Blaine, jr., in connection with the unfortunate marriage of young Blaine. These letters were sent to Mrs. Nevins-Blaine at the time of her sickness in New York and their character was such as to affect the public mind very unpleasantly in the event of their publication. It will be re-membered that at the time of the trial of the membered that at the time of the trial of the Nevins-Blaine divorce case Mr. Blaine, sr., gave a very caustic letter reflecting severely on Mrs. Nevins-Blaine and Father Ducy, the priest who performed the marriage ceremony. This called forth the response from Mrs. Nevins-Blaine, in which she asserted that unless the then secretary of state made a public retraction of the charges against her she would within ten days publish the whole of the correspondence in her possession from the Blaine family.

This was never carried out. It is now

This was never carried out. It is now learned that Mr. Blaine at once took steps to regain possession of this correspondence and negotiations were entered into to induce Mrs Blaine to give up the letters. The price said to have been put upon them was $100,000. But after a protracted correspondence octiween the representatives of both sides this sum was reduced to $65,000. Mr. Blaine had not this sum available at the time, and in response to representations from him, a consultation of a half dozen or so of his intimate personal, political and business friends was called, at which the whole amount was subscribed and handed over to Mr. Blaine. The man who is said to have headed the list with a subscription of $15,000 is Mr. Richard C. Kerins of Missouri, while five others contributed $10,000 a piece. How the Money Was Paid,

As to just how the money was paid over to Mrs. Nevins Blaine there is doubt. One atory has it that one of the principal objects of Mr. Blaine's visit to New York was to over the money and receive the bundle letters in return from his former daughter-in-law's representatives.

Another story says that Father Ducy, the priest who married the pair, acted as the ottomwa.

go-between and in corroboration of this ver-sion it is recalled that Pather Ducy was in OPENED THE TOURNAMENT Washington last week and had a long conference with Mr. Blaine at his residence and on Saturday last, after the return of the pries on Saturday isst, after the return of the priest to New York, Mrs. Nevins-Blaine and her family salied for Europe. It is well known that Mr. Nevins, the father of the heroine in this stery, was in reduced circumstances and it has boon part of the current gossip in New York in this connection that his board bill at the New York hotel, where he resided, had not been paid for two years. The fact therefore that he should now be able to take his family to Europe is regarded as substantial evidence in support of the story that the letters of his daughter have been bought at that price.

A gentleman who occupied a prominent position in the Interior department under the Cleveland administration, and who was in Sioux Falls, S. D., when Mrs. Nevins-Biaine was there securing her divorce from young James G. Blaine, said this morning: "I talked with Mrs. Nevins-Blaine and with her lawyers, and from what they told me about those leiters I think that Mr. Blaire got a a pargain when he got them for $65,000. It was throwing them away at that price. If Mr. Blaine is nominated at Minneapolis have no doubt the democratic party wou have no doubt the democratic party would have paid a much greater sum for the letters They were simply violous, and the fact that they were sent to young Mrs Blaine at the time when she wai lying on her back prostrated with sickness they were especially cruel, and the bargain which has been made included, besides the payment of $15,000 for the letters, an annuity of $1,200 or $1,500 for the paby until she

ened Cut Next Week. Circago, Ill., June 8.-Those railroad officials who contended that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe would not dare to put into effect its reduction of second class passenger rates from the Missouri river to California points are beginning to see their mistake. It is now apparent to them that President Manvel was in earnest when three months ago he gave notice to the advisory board of the Western Traffic association that ninety days from date his company would reduce the second class rate between Kansas City and the Pacific coast from $35 to $14.70. The ninety days will expire on June 15, and on that date the officers of the road say the reduced rate will certainly be put into

At the recent meeting of the Western Traffic association in New York Vice President Springer of the Atchison agreed to can cel the notice, provided the presidents of the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Burlington, Northwestern, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grando and Southern Pacific would sign an agreement to discon-tinue the payment of unauthorized commissions on immigration tradic. He gave them until June 1 to sign the agreement and three of the presidents declined to attach their sig natures to the document. President Cable of the Rock Island gave as a reason for rejecting the proposition that the Southern Pacific maintains agents in Europe who have authority to pay any commissious necessary to secure the business, and therefore other roads cannot compete with it with only the authorized commission to offer on this side of the ocean. President Clark of the Union Pacific declined because of the Northern Pacific's well known contract with A. E. Jonson & Co., which cannot be canceled without the consent of both parties, and President Jeffrey of the Rio Grande could not enter into the agreement Grande could not enter into the agreement because the Central Pacific will not consent to pay its proportion of any commission on business going over his road. Thus it is settled that the new rate will go into effect next week, making the second class fare $14.70 from Kansas City and $24.70 from Chicago to California points. ago to California points.
