Prospects for a Steady Increase in the Future Quite Encouraging-How the Week's Business Compares with Previous Periods,

OMANA. June 10.—Receipts for the past five days foot up 8,370 cattle, 32,421 hors and 766 sheep against 9,330 cattle, 55, 50 hors and 1,492 sheep the same five days last week, a falling off of about 1,000 cattle, 23,00 logs and 1,000 off of about 1,000 cattle, 23,00 logs and 1,000 sheep.

There was a better tone to the general cattle trade and desirable grades of beef and shipping steers moved freely at rather firmer prices than on Thursday. Although eastern reports were more reassuring, shippers and exporters bought but sparingly, although this was partly due to the rather indifferent quality of the offerings in general. Local houses, however, took hold freely; the trade was fairly healthy though. Holders of common light unfluished stuff and rough, oxey steers found the usual dull market with prices inclined to droop. Fair to very good 1,300 to 1,400-lb, steers and from $5.50 to $4.03. Some inferior light stuff soid down as low as $3.20. A very fair and tolerably early clearance was effected.

The supply of butchers' stock and canners.

The supply of butchers' stock and canners was better than on Thursday, and the quality ran more to extremes of good and bad. There were some old thin petters that sold as low as 75c to $1.00, while there were also some fat cows and heifers that sold readily for $1.25 to $1.55. Prices in meners were materially unchanged, and the same was true of bulls, oxen and stags. They so d at from $1.65 to $1.00. Calves, steady at $1.70 to $5.00 for common yearlings to prime veals.

The stocker and feeder trade was extremely light, and prices about steady at the recent decline. Representative sales:

Chicago, Ill., June 10.—F. G. Logan & Co., to Duncan. Hollinger & Co.; Wheat opened active at $1½c. July sold as high as $1½c and $6c and closed at $1c. Advices today from several winter wheat states report a great improvement in the growing crop. This had much to do with the selling. Foreign advices are stronger. England says the weather is favorable for crops, French advices are unfavorable and that imports for the coming year will not be less than $6.000,000 or 70.000,000 bu. The crop of Austro-Hungary is reported damaged by rust and rain. Our own government report due this afternoon will have some influence either way. Afthough we attach no value to it foreign buyers and the general public do. Undi our crop passes the critical stages we think buying on it breaks safe but at present it looks lower for the immediate future. Corn has been rather quil. July opened at $4c, sold as low as $8½c. closed at $4½c. With fine weather we think it will sell a little lower. The cash demand is good and the low grades selling about the same as contract. In the oat pit not much doing. Provisions fairly active. The prices will be in symbathy with corn. We are in favor of buying them on breaks.

Chicago, Ill., June 10.—Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to S. A. McWhorter: Favorable weather, increasing receipts at primary markets and siack demand for cash wheat have been the depressing influence to lay. Longs have sold on apprehension of a favorable government report, though most traders look for little change. It is thought that the improvement in kansas and on the Facilia coast will about offset the injury in other states, while a rather bearish report on spring wheat is looked for. The market has had a good decline and is in shape to do we have a cash of the provision market appears to be hardening. It is thought the big run of hogs is over for the present and that packers will cover their short sales and try to put prices higher.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 19.—(Special Telegram to Thie Bee.)—There was a right run of cattle today, only about 600 arrived, making a total for the week of $7.304, as, against 55.229 for the same time last week. The demand, while not developing any special urgency, called for more cattle than were comprised in the supply, and, consequently, prices pointed upward. They were a little bigher than on Thursday for all description except common grassy stuff. Nobody seems to want the latter, while the tendency in good to best dry fed cattle is in the opposite direction. Fair to extra 1.400 to 1.50-1b. steers were saleable at from $1.55 and common to choice 900 to 1.400-1b. steers were in demand at from $1.55 to $1.50. Stockers and feeders were quoted at from $2.25 to $1.55 and cows and he fers at from $1.25 to $1.50. The calf market was duil and declining, recent supplies having been not a little in excess of the demand with receipts of scarcely more than 21,000 head.

There was a stronger hog market; trade opened brisk at at least 5c advance on Thursday's quotations and though there was the usual talk about a weaker feeling at the close the late sales, quality considered, were quite as satisfactory as those made early in the day, only an inconsiderable part of the supply going below $1.85, the ruling prices being at from $4.80 to $4.90 for light and from $4.80 to $4.9 Chicago Live Stock Market.

WONDERFUL WORK.

Phenomenal Achievement of Miss Katherine Curry on a Typewriter.
A large gathering attended the Omaba Commercial college last night for the purpose of witnessing the typewriting exhibition given by Miss Katherine V. Curry, the champion typewriting operator of the Miss Curry comes from the Honley Busi ness college of Syracuse, N. Y., where she has charge of the practical department of that institution. She is a bright, intelligent young lady and has succeeded in winning many friends since her arrival in this city. The exercises last evening were under the control of E. H. Maybew of this city, who brought Miss Curry here for the purpose of convincing the public that the Smith Premer typewriter is capable of attaining higher rate of speed than any other machin higher rate of speed than any other machine that has yet been placed upon the market. The exhibition last night was convincing evidence that such is the case. In the first exercise, which was a dictation, Miss Curry reached a speed of ninety-eight words per minute and every letter and word was cut as clear as though the rate of speed had not been half so great. Upon another trial Miss Curry reached 114 words in dictation. In this the justification and the stroke of the letters were absolutely perfect. Then the letters were absolutely perfect. Thei the old exercise which all typewriter operators use when they practice for speed was taken up. This familiar sentence was rattled off at lightning speed, and according to the watches held by the judges Miss Curry made 163 words per minute. Following this she wrote 170 words and at the same time carried on an animal of conversation with To Wilson the words and at the same time carried on an animated conversation with Tom Wilson, the well known court stenographer. The great event of the evening was when Miss Curry cut loose and wrote 180 words per minute. R. S. Lell, who held the watch, declared that it was the most rapid work that he had ever with seed. No doubt that Mr. Bell told previous authenticated records except he own.

The announcement brought out a hearty cheer. Miss Curry claimed to be able to write from ten to fifteen more words per minute than any other operator on any other machine.

A question arose that the machine was put up for this special purpose, but this was easily disproved, as the dictation exercise was upon a Smith Premier that was taken from the rooms of the business college. The machine upon which the nighest rate of speed was made was one which has been used by Miss Curry during the past nine months. The manner in which the Smith Premier performed its work last hight convinced the witnesses that it is the machine which must soon take the place of all others if accuracy soon take the place of all others if accuracy and speed are to be taken into consideration. At intervals during the evening the Omaha Banjo-Mandolin club furnished some delight-ful music and at the close an elegant and dainty lunch was served in honor of Miss Curry's visit to this city.

Typewriting Speed Exhibitions a Fake. In newspaper parlance I desire to say that the exhibition of wonderful speed now and then displayed by "exhibition operators" on writing machines are fakes pure and simple.

Beyond exploiting some typeriter*
they demonstrate absolutely nothing beyond showing what bad work a typewriter can be made to do*they set bad example to thoughtless operators are banged and rattled to pieces*and many an operator * becomes a careless and valueless typist.

I have before me a sample of this rapid writing recently accomplished * and the manufacturer of the machine on which this bad writing was executed is looding the country with accounts of the test.

What does he prove by it? Certainly not that his machine will do such work as is required nowadays. No sane employer would tolerate for a moment such work as is displayed as the result of this exhibition.

Some manufacturers, I am pleased to see, appreciate the fact that such tests prove very little. They employ them for the purpose of proving to themselves that their macnines will respond with accuracy and precision to marvelously rapid manipulation, but they do no spread broadcast accounts of what has been accomplished and attempt to mislead the public into believing that such rapid work can be done in the course of ordinary business.

I have before me a sample of work recently written by Charles H. McGurrin of Kalamazoo, Mich., in which 190 words were written in 60 seconds (eight words more than the Syracuse speci men), and the alignment is perfect, and only once did one letter overlap another, and yet the manufacturers of the machine on which this work was done are not advertising it; for though they know it cannot be equalled on any other machine, they know also that it is far beyond what can be accomplished in actual business and that to encourage operators to endeavor to attain such speed would simply result in a mess of bad work which would be a credit to no Truly, speed contests in either shorthand or typewriting, amongst practical men and women of the grand aggrega-tion of shorthanders and typists, are in disrepute; and this is as it should be. Beyond affecting silly and foolish boys and girle, they carry little, if any, weight.

The day of speed contests has gone by Frank Harrison's Shorthand Magazine, June, 1892.

There were eight new members initiated after which refreshments, consisting of strawberries, ice cream, cake and iemon-ade, were provided. The festivities were prolonged until a late hour and all enjoyed a delightful evening.

Notes and Personals. The local Sons of Veterans are making an effort to have the next annual encampment located at South Omana. Judge Fowler had a busy day yesterday Over twenty cases were disposed of, all of which were petty offenses.

The assessment for South Omaha is now nearly completed. It is estimated that the valuation will be increased about $250,000 over last year. The ladies of the First Methodist church gave a very pleasant social at the church pariers last evening. The entertainment was unique and the patronage liberal.

The Ryan-Wilkes fight is exciting more in torest among the local admirers of the manly art than any pugilistic event that has occurred in some time. Wilkes is the favorite in the few bets that have been made.

The Second Ward Republican club was one of the first political organizations to ratify the renomination of President Harrison. The ciub held a very enthusiastic meeting at Kaspar's hall on South Thirteenth street last night. It was a brief session, but the memoers of the club displayed great enthusiasm over the work of the Minneapolis convention. President George Straker stated the club would prepare itself to meet with the Central league club when it decided, some time next week, to hold a general ratification meeting. The club will hold its regular meeting next Firday night. night.

Sixteen Miners Burled in Ruins. MUNICH, June 10 .- An explosion occurred in a coal pit near Wesbach and sixteen miners were buried in the ruins.

They Followed Copy. "Horrors,

Cincinnati Commercial: "Horrors, what an obscure hand you write!" said the literary editor to the new space writer as he turned in a bit of poetry.
"Oh, it's plain enough," interjected the poet hastily. "The rhymes and the meter will nelp the compositor out, and there'll not be the least bit of trouble if they just follow the copy."
And the manuscript went hustling up the tube to the composing room.

"Sa'ay, what dod-gasted chump has been sendin' in his Chinese laundry bill for copy?" wildly yelled out slug 10, wiping a sudden burst of perspiration from his forehead and glaring at his last take. "I can't make head or tail out of this thing!"

"Well, Chinese or no Chinese," cried the hurrying foreman, "make whatever you can out of it and snag it up in mighty short order, for we're late now. And the type fairly jumped from the case into the stick.

"Good Casar!" gasped the proof! reader, clutching at his brow. "Are my eyes failing or is this a premonition of nervous prostration?" Then he rubbed his eyes and stared. "By the gods! either I've got the blind staggers or slug 10's on a royal toot!" At that instant a scream came down the spout: "Rush that proof along for heaven's sake! We're late!" The proofreader grouned, galloped down the column, hesitated, and then desperately thrust the slip into the tube, huskily murmuring, "I compared it with the copy and that is as near as I can get to Hebrew these days."

That night the new space writer hurriedly wrapped up and addressed a copy of the issue without a glance and dropped it into the mail, with this brief
