Peculiar Death of Free Zimmer at the Pacific House.

BELIEVED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Finding of an Empty Laudanum Bottle Under the Dead Man's Window Apparently Confirms the General Opinion -Local News Notes,

Fred Zimmer, a man apparently about 60 years of age, was found dead in room 44 at the Pacific house yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock. He has been a guest of the hotel a number of times during the last month, registering sometimes as from Council Bluffs and at others from Omaha. No one seemed to know, however, who he was or what business he was in. He came to the hotel Monday night, and after he had gone to his room be showed signs of illness When he was asked what was the matter he replied that he had been on a big drunk he replied that he had been on a big drunk, and was just getting over the effects of it. He went again to his room Tuesday night, and some of the hands about the hotel claim to have heard him groaning at different times. All efforts to awaken Zimmer failed, and finally, at 10 o'clock a boy climbed into the room over the transom and found him lying partway on the hed. and found him lying partway on the bed, dead. There were indications that he had been dead at least six or eight hours.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon An inquest was held vesterday afternoon at which a little more light was thrown upon the mystery. George Drake, an old resident, identified Zimmer and said he used to live here many years ago and was engaged in the meat market business. Later he had a shop in Omaha, and for several years was in St. Joseph. He recently appeared here again and not long since told Mr. Drake that he was planning on buying some stock which he would slaughter and then peddle out the meat. He has been dividing his time between the two cities. viding his time between the two cities

An Omaha acquaintance said that Zimmer recently had in his possession not only a botfecently had in his possession not only a bot-tle of whisky, the evidence of which was from time to time apparent, but also a bottle of laudanum. This informa-tion led to a closer examination of the room where he was found dead and under the window was found an empty laudanum bottle. This, with the evidence of physicians, and other circumstances, led the jury to find in its verdict that it was a case of suicide.

There was not a penny found on the body There was a little note, which appeared to have been written some time before and carried about in his pocket. It bore the words: "When you see this tele-graph Will Evans, Rock Falls, Ill." The coroner, surmising that this might be some friend, wired the person named, informing him of the death.

All on Account of a Girt. A first class sensation is brewing in the northwestern part of the city which is likely to end in bloodshed unless Harry P. Davis, a well known young man of this city, meets with a change of heart before the finale comes. A girl is at the bottom of the affair, as usual. Davis formerly considered the girl his own private property, but less than a week ago another young man stepped in and cut him out. This was the signal for violent oppo-sition on the part of Davis. The girl's parents became frightened at his bloodthirsty actions, and refused to al-low her to leave the house that night for fear of a tragedy. He has made a number of threats during the past few days, and his friends fear that something serious will result from the displacement of the unfortunate young lady's affections.

Booths for Voters. Since the passage of the Australian voting law this county will require 174 voting booths, of which sixty-nine will be needed in this city. Under the law there must be one voting booth for each sixty voters. The expense for the booths will reach between $1,000 and $1,500, according to the proposals made thus far by manufacturers. They are quite simple in construction, and it seems that they can be provided by home shops and local mechantes, thus leaving the money here instead of sending it away.

There were at least 1,000 delegates and vis-

VEST'S OPINION OF CLEVELAND.

He Would Be a Weak Candidate the Mis souri Statesman Thinks. Chicago, Ill., June 15.-A rumor was cur rent during the afternoon that Senator Vest of Missouri had abandoned the Cleveland forces. The result was a very determined effort on the part of newspaper men to discover the senator's exact position, and an Associated Press reporter was finally fortonate enough to find him at supper at the Wellington, whence he proposed to take the train east a few moments later. Mr. Vest was asked to define his position, in view of the amount of talk which had occurred, and he said: "I am not in Chicago on political business nor do I propose to attend the convention, but I am a democrat and I want to see my party nominate a man who can be elected. For that reason and in view of this talk, I authorize the Associated Press to say that I am apprehensive that Mr. Cleveland cannot carry the state of New York. This most unfortunate fight in our part v in that state makes me fear that we will lose it unless we go outside of it for candidate.

Cannot Carry New York.

"I felt this apprehension ever since I understood how deep and bitter was the feeling between the two sections of the organization and I speak of it now because the time has come when I felt that the democratic party has the right to ask an expression of opinion from every democrat. My feeling toward Mr. Cleveland has never changed. I regard him now with the same respect and confidence and friendship that I have ever feit but I doubt his power to carry his state."

OHIO'S DEMOCRACY. Preliminary Work of the State Convention-

Split on Silver. Columbus, O., June 15 .- The democratic state convention met here this morning. The committee on resolutions was in session till early this morning, when the work was turned over to a subcommittee which has not yet been able to agree. The hitch is on the silver plank. General Finley and other free silver democrats insist on the free silver plank of last year, but an effort is being made to straddle the question. The tariff reform plank has been agreed on and sumptuary legislation is denounced. The convention was called to order by Chairman J. A. Norton of the central committee. The mention in his address of the names of Cleveland, Hill, Gorman, Whitney and Campbell was greeted with applause, which showed that all had followers in the convention Hon. J. E. Neil was made temporary chairman. In his speech accepting he predicted the defeat of harrison and Reid, and declared that it took so much money to carry Ohio for McKinley it gave the republicans no assurance that Ohio was a republican state. He said the majority of the people of the state were opposed to a protective tariff. On the subject of the currency, he said the democracy always managed money matters so there were In his speech accepting ways managed money matters so there were ways managed modey matters so there were no fluctuations in the value of metallic currency, and it was left for that party to restore the equities between gold and silver. References to the various candidates were applicated. The committees wer, then accommittees wer, then acnounced and a recess was taken.

The democratic state convention con-cluded business at 5 p. m. by the selection of W. D. Shaw of Aglaise, W. C. Gear of Wyandotte; John M. Filley and T. J. Cogan of Cincinnati, delegates at large to the Chicago convention.

Candidate for the Presidency. Lowett, Mass., June 15.—The Evening Star today received the following autograph letter from ex-Secretary of the Navy Whitney;

New York, Jude 14, 1821.—Dear Sirs: Many thanks for your kind thoughts of me and your flattering words, but I must say to you in all seriousness that I not only am not a candidate, but have told my friends so in such a way that they understand it, and no one will work for me. I do not wish the nomination. No lieutenant of Mr. Cleveland's, particularly one who is so well known to the managers of the party as I am can take the nomination. He would instantly be charged with scheming for himself, and for that reason, if no other, I would say positively. If I thought it necessary, that I would not take it if it were tendered me. It will not be, because I have tied the hands of all my friends, if for no other reason. I appreciate your friendship, but this is the truth and there is nothing under the bush. Yours truly. W. C.
