

SOUTH OMAHA BENEFITED Good Effects of the Bond Election on the Magic City.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS UNDER WAY Swift & Co. Begin the Erection of Extensive Additions to Their Plant—The Bonds Did It—Others Will Follow Suit.

Some days before the Nebraska Central bond election The Bee predicted that the passage of the bonds would remove some of the restrictions that had heretofore affected the live stock industry of South Omaha and pay for the large additions to the capacity of the stock yards and pecking houses. The news of the result of the election had scarcely been announced when the prediction was fulfilled.

New Buildings to Be Erected. Two additional large brick buildings will be erected to the same height as those already built. The shipping department will be expanded by a building 26x114 feet, which will be erected just south of the present slaughter house. The greater part of this building will be occupied by shipping coops.

Good Effects of the Election. The plans for these improvements have been lying on Superintendent Johnson's desk for some time, but the company hesitated to carry out any definite action as it was doubted whether sufficient stock could be obtained to supply such an immense establishment as the additional improvements contemplated. The passage of the bonds was the key to the situation and as this was assured it was decided to go ahead with the work.

Slugged by a Grader. Thomas Nolan of Omaha, who has charge of the grading gang at Twenty-third and J streets, was severely injured by a curb in the hands of one of his men just before noon yesterday. Nolan was on the grader when the fellow ran up and struck him in the head with a curb.
