MASONIC GRAND OFFICERS

Work of Selecting Grand Lodge Officers Finished at Noon Yesterday.

THE FAITHFUL OFFICERS COMMENDED

Burial Service Presented—Thanked the Local Lodges for the Entertainment of Visiting Delegates—Proceedings of the Last Session of the Lodge.

Bright and early the members of the grand lodge of Masons assembled in the Scottish Rite room and at 8:30 Grand Master Slaughter declared the lodge ready for business, Grand Chaplain Martin offering prayer.

The election of officers, having been postponed from the night session, was first in order, the following grand officers being elected: Senior warden, John A. Ehrhardt of Stanton; junior warden, H. H. Wilson of Lincoln; treasurer, Christian Hartman of Omaha; secretary, William H. Bowen of Omaha; chaplain, Rev. George W. Martin, D.D., of Kearney; orator, James J. McIntosh of Sidney; custodian, Lee P. Gillette of Beatrice; marshal, Charles J. Phelps of Schuyler; senior deacon, Monroe C. Steele of Beatrice; junior deacon, John S. Dinsmore of Sutton; Tyler, Jacob King of Papillion.

The election completed, Brother Linsinger on behalf of the Omaha lodges, presented the burial service adopted by the lodges in this city, stating that it was necessary that some uniform service should be used. Without taking action the matter went over until the next meeting of the grand lodge.

Grand Officers Installed.

The installation of officers then ensued, Grand Master Slaughter calling upon Past Grand Master Robert E. French to officiate as the installing officer, assisted by Past Grand Master Linsinger as grand marshal.

After all the officers had been installed and proclamation made by the grand marshal the newly elected grand officers, S. P. Davidson, returned thanks to the grand lodge for the honor conferred upon him. He asked the hearty co-operation of every member to make the new Masonic year better than before. Without your hearty support, said the grand master, I will be powerless to fulfill the duties of this high office. With your assistance the administration of affairs will not be a failure during the present year.

Brother Wilson of Lincoln offered a resolution thanking the Omaha lodges for courtesies extended during the session of the grand lodge and their unflinching hospitality; adopted by a rising vote.

Past Grand Master Linsinger, on behalf of the Omaha lodges, accepted the vote, stating that while the lodges would have liked to have done much more they were handicapped by the number of events occurring in the city at the present time. He hoped, however, to be able to entertain the grand lodge in a more generous manner next year.

The grand master appointed as a committee to prepare a suitable testimonial for Grand Secretary Bowen, to be presented at the next meeting of the grand lodge, Brothers Slaughter, Jackson and Phelps.

Olden Time Customs.

Past Grand Master Linsinger, in support of statements regarding old landmarks made at yesterday's session, stated that he held in his hand a Masonic compilation published in 1767 which he obtained from the library of the grand lodge of England. He read excerpts from the book which were a revelation to many Master Masons present. He showed what costume prevailed in ancient times from King Solomon down, and made an earnest five-minute talk about keeping to the faith of the fathers in Masonry.

Grand Secretary Bowen said that he had been accused of having pet notions about certain things, and he pleaded guilty to the charge, but the pet notions had been obtained by reading the records of the past. He found in none of the old records the use of "worshipful" as applied in Nebraska to the grand master of the grand lodge. He was not an innovator, he said, but a stickler for the old customs that prevailed when Masonry was young. He did not believe in attaching the methods of the debating society to a lodge of Masons, and while he might be called an old fogey it must be along the lines of the past greatness of the greatest body in the world.

Brother Phelps said he was glad to know that there were several brothers in the lodge who were firm in the faith and thought that Mr. Linsinger had done Masonry in Nebraska inestimable service by collecting the records of the aformentioned and placing them at the disposal of the members of the grand lodge.

The various officers having announced that they had finished the work appointed to be done, Grand Chaplain Martin offered the following prayer: "Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father: At this closing hour of this grand lodge, we are to go forth among the profane, we ask for wisdom to be enabled to do so that the world may be better, and honor and glory be unto Thee. Help us, keep us and save us, we humbly pray now and forever—amen."

Grandmaster Davidson then according to Masonic custom closed the lodge in form, announcing that the deliberation of the thirty-fifth annual session were at an end and the grand lodge adjourned with out day.
