FOR LOVE OF A FIREMAN Miss Elva Jones Takes Strychnine Because She Was Crossed.

HER PARENTS FORBODE THE MATCH Tragic Ending of What Was Considered Merely a Girl's Episode—The Po. See How the Dead Girl's Chain of Events.

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night Miss Elva Jones, 17 years of age, who lives with her parents at 2328 DeKalb street, attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of strychnine.

Before swallowing the drug the young lady exhibited the bottle to a neighbor and declared her intention of ending her life.

A doctor was called and word sent to police headquarters. The physician deemed a stomach pump necessary and sent to the city jail for one to do the operation.

A love affair was the cause, Miss Elva was infatuated with Charles Burd, a fireman stationed at No. 3 engine house on Harney street, but the relatives and parents of Miss Elva objected to the young fireman's attentions.

This step caused the young lady to grow despondent and she decided that life without Charles would be a blank and not worth living.

Physicians worked over her for several hours and for a time with hopes of saving her life, but the delay in obtaining proper remedies and appliances proved fatal.

The family and friends of the deceased are greatly shocked at the sad outcome of what was supposed to be a trivial girl's affair.

Coroner Maul was notified and will decide about holding an inquest today.

Miss Jones left a letter with a friend sealed, stamped and addressed to Charles Burd with the request that the note be mailed this morning.

Hannah Hughes, a near friend of the dead girl, was taken to police headquarters last night and placed in the matron's quarters to await the arrival of the coroner.
