MRS. SHEEDY WINS THE CASE

She is Awarded One-Half of Her Husband's Estate.

ALL THE PROPERTY MUST BE SOLD

Jadge Field Appoints a Commission to Dispose of the Real Estate-Other Relatives of the Deceased Receive the Remainder.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 22 .- Special to THE BEE.]-Judge Field this afternoon handed down a decision appointing J. Z. Briscoe, W. E. Stewart and W. J. Marshall a commission to sell the real estate of the late John Sheedy. He further decided that Mrs. Mary Sheedy, widow of the deceased, is entitled to one-half of the estate, subject to a mortgage given to Stearns & Strode. The mortgage represents the amount paid the attorneys for defending Mrs. Sheedy when she was tried for the murder of her husband. The other heirs are Michael, Patrick and Dennis Sheedy, Mrs. Mary O Brien and Mrs. Ellen O'Donnell, each of whom are awarded one-tenth of the proceeds of the sale. The property is to be sold and the proceeds di-vided, the commissioners being ordered to judgment in a sufficient sum to cover a possible judgment in a suit brought against the estate by James McHaffle. All claims heretofore owed by the probate court are made liens against the estate. The estate is valued at

Street Railway Will Be Sold.

The district court today ordered the sale of the property of the Lincoln City Street Railway company to satisfy judgments amounting to nearly $100,000. The first liens are: L. C. Humphrey, $2,338; Thompson National bank, $3,070; H. W. Rogers & Bro., $3,230; State National bank, $29,940; Swan & Barrett, $33,375. The first three named hold sit first mortgage bonds cach, the State bold six first mortgage bonds each, the State National bank thirty-two, and Swan & Bar-rett 100. The Westinghouse company is given a special lien on a generator and two cars to secure its claim of $6,550. Mechanics liens to the amount of about $1,000 are second, while judgments aggregating about $14,000 are given to twenty-five different parties. The Nobraska Commercial bank and the German National bank secure judgments for $6,794 and $3,270 respectively. The company is not to be confounded with the Lincoln Street Railway company, which covers a much greater part of the city with its lines.

The lawyers for the defense undertook to impeach her character. Tolson took the stand in his own defense and denied the charge of assaulting the girl. He was bound over to the next term of the district court in the sum of $1,000. William Clute was given a preliminary hearing on the charge of criminal intimacy with the same girl. He declined to testify, but the girl testified that she had been vol-untarily intimate with the defendant. He also was bound over. This afternoon he ex-pressed a desire to marry the girl but will pressed a desire to marry the girl but will not be given the opportunity. The girl will probably be sent to the reform school.

Extending the Rock Island.

Chief Engineer Day of the Rock Island railroad arrived in the city from Topeka this evening and tomorrow morning a sur-veying party will commence setting grade stakes for the new extension from Lincoln southwest. The line has been definitely located as far as Jansen, the first station east of Fairbury. Starting from O street the line leaves the city on the south-east. A depot will be built near Union college and the new Normal university, and a promising suburb will be built up in that quarter. The work of grading and ironing the extension will be prosecuted vigorously. Chief Engineer Day states that the com-pany will expend nearly $500,000 in Lincoin this season.

Lincoln in Brief,

The residence of Horace Ward at Eightcenth and K streets was entered by burglars last evening and a small sum of money An ordinance calling for a special election to vote $200,000 in bonds to pay outstanding indebtedness was introduced at the meeting of the city council last evening. The six persons injured in the runaway accident at Seventeenth and K streets last evening are doing well today.

About 100 invited guests assembled. The gathering was a most agreeable one. Tho music furnished by the orchestra was of the finest selections, and the refreshments were of the most delicious. CARICATURE IN AMERICA.

It Dates from andrew Jackson's Time But Only Took Real Shape in 1850.

Political caricature in the United States virtually dates from the first ad-ministration of Andrew Jackson, says the Century. There had been occasiona efforts to use caricature as a political weapon previous to that time, but they were too crude in execution, too spas-ON SALE AT THE STONEHILL STAND AND AT THE BOSTON STORE. Tomorrow we continue our great silk modic in appearance and too indefinite in purpose to be taken into consideration in tracing the beginnings of our modern school. The advent in national politic of so robust a personality as General sale of Stonehill's sliks. Silks for Jackson seems not unnaturally to have blouses, silks for waists, silks for wrap-pers, silks for dresses, silks for skirts stimulated a resort to pictorial me us for both assailing and defendiny him. He had entered the presidencg as the savior of his country, a military here of indomitable valor. His fight against the U. In fact, all All of Stonehill's gros grain silks, China silks, fancy summer silks, brocade trimming silks, cool evening silks, faille and unceremonious methods of conductsilks, figured silks, Japanese silks, all go in lots at 26c, 39c and 50c; all guaraning controversies with political opponents, the subservient conduct of his famous "kitchen cabinent" and its disteed to be worth double the price we ask olution when Van Buren withdrew from it, had combined during his first term Black China silks with heavy woven to enhance greatly his attractiveness as a popular idol. He appeared before the people as their only champion brocade, black gros grain silks, black surah silks, black India silks, black taffeta silks and black faille silks, all against the oppressive designs of a huge money monppoly in which the whole world was joined. He was the "people's friend" in all crises, the giant who, single-uanded, was fighting their battles against enemies from all quarters. Every conspicuous act of his pub lic life was performed amid uprear and turmoil. Even when his "kitchen cabinet" was dissolved there was so much dramatic dissurbance that one of the political caricatures of the time pictured him, armed with a churn-dasher, clearing the kitchen of all opponents as with the very besom of destruction. In the United States the many figured group cartoon appears to have been a steady favorite since Jackson's time. Its immediate inspirers were undoubt-edly Gillray and John Doyle, more especially the latter, whose sketches had been filling the shop windows of London for two years when similar productions began to appear on this side of the began to appear on this side of the water. Doyle had followed Gillray at a considerable distance, however, for he was a far inferior artist in every way, having slight perception of humor and being hard and inflexible in his meth-ods. What Doyle did was to take Gillray's occasionall act of giving a correct likeness and make it his own perma-nent practice. His sketches are valuable today chiefly for this quality, all his drawings of leading men of the period being veritable por-traits of real historic value, some of them the best in existence. Our early American political caricaturists followed Doyle's example as faithfully as their powers as draughtsmen would permit. That they did not succeed very well in the beginning, the Century thinks, was not strange. Drawing was scarcely not strange. Drawing was scarcely taught at all in this country at the time and the only persons who were skilled in it had drifted here from abroad and had little knowledge of our politics and public men. It was only in very rare instances, therefore, that a lithograph caricature of an earlier date than 1840 can be found which is even tolerable, either in conception or execution. There was a slight improvement after that period and by 1850 a sufficient advance had been made to justify the assertion that the foundation of a school of American political cacicature had been laid. Disease never successfully attacks a sys-tem with pure blood. De Witt's Sarsaparilla makes pure, new bloodandenriches the old.

CRETE, Neb., June 22.-[Special to THE BBE.]-The managers of the Nebraska assembly or Creta Chautauqua are working with all their might to have this year's assembly a success in every respect as well as financially. No exorbitant salaries for teachers and speakers will be paid this year. The high priced speakers have been the rock, year ofter year, on which the finances of the association have been stranded. But, neverassociation have been stranded. But, never-theless, the program offered is an exception-ally good one. The arrangement of the grounds has been improved upon. One of the new features this year is that the iadies of the Congregational church of this city have enture charge of the dining hall. They give their services gratuitously to the cause, and any balance of profit at the end will be turned into the treasury of the assembly. This insures visitors that they will sit down to a home made dinner and not to restaurant hash. All other arrangements are made under the same conditions. Another feature this year, which is commendable, is that the meeting does not open until after the Fourth of July, so that the dwellers in the city of tents will not be disturbed by the small boy and the fire cracker.
