

HIS LIFE IS THE STAKE

If Nick Fox is Playing a Game It is for the Best of Reasons.

DEEPLY AFFECTING SCENE IN COURT

Little Roy Fox Put on the Stand to Tell How His Father Killed His Mother—What the Witnesses Swore To.

The state has made out its case against Nicholas Fox, the wife murderer. The testimony is all in and last night the defense commenced the introduction of evidence tending to show that Fox is mad for years...

The usual order that attends murder trials was on hand when the criminal court opened yesterday morning.

Nicholas Fox, the murderer, seemed as bright as a dollar, though mentally he presented a somewhat disfigured appearance. He was not as violent as when in court Tuesday afternoon...

Twelve jurors who had not formed any expressed an opinion were secured, and were cautioned not to read anything in the newspapers purporting to be the facts in the case.

Dr. Kelley of South Omaha was the first witness sworn. He was called to the house on the morning of the commission of the crime.

Dr. Stannah of South Omaha was called to attend Charity Fox on the morning of December 22. He made an examination of her body and found her suffering from the effects of a pistol wound.

In making his examination the doctor found bruises and cuts upon the body, limbs and head of Mrs. Fox, all of which she told resulted from blows struck by her husband.

Moses Dougherty, who resided in the house adjoining the Fox house, was awakened on the morning of December 22 by the report of a pistol.

Witness told Fox that he would not die, but that he would like to take the razor and finish the job. Fox then gave him the revolver saying "that is what I used in killing my wife."

At the session of the court yesterday afternoon there was a pathetic scene, and one that brought tears to the eyes of many of the spectators in the great court room.

Witness asked Fox why he committed the crime and was informed that the deed had been done at no time did Fox talk in a manner that would indicate that his mind was unbalanced.

William Sherman, a brother of Charity Fox, the murdered woman, residing at home, four doors from the Fox home, at 5 o'clock on the morning on which the murder was committed he was awakened by the cries of his sister.

John Sherman, another brother of Charity Fox, followed the murderer toward the Sarry county jail, where he was taken and held until his brother intended to kill Fox, but after seeing that he had drawn the razor over his throat and was bleeding freely, they thought he would die.

Mrs. Kate Smith was called to the Sherman house the morning of the murder. She was a witness to the dying statement made by Mrs. Fox, who said that Fox knocked her down, kicked her and then shot her through the head.

Fox was unusually calm during the afternoon session of the court, and the opinion that he is playing a part is rapidly growing.
