

AFTER JOHN MAHONEY'S JOB

Numerous Applicants for the Position of Poor Farm Superintendent.

EX-COMMISSIONER ANDERSON'S CHANCES

Overtures Made to Mr. Berlin in Connection with the Chairmanship—What the Democrats Are Counting On—A Difficult Situation.

Two or three days ago, when L. M. Anderson's son appeared in the political horizon and when he threw himself into the breach, declaring that he was a candidate for the position of superintendent of the county hospital, the indications were that he might be a winner. But now all indications are at sea.

A number of other persons have shed their castors into the ring, which makes the naming of the next superintendent a difficult task.

Burr, a republican wants the place and has a petition several yards long, while Dorsey H. Houck is another candidate with strong backing.

Anderson is a dyed-in-the-wool democrat, but notwithstanding this fact some times indicate that he is in bad odor with his party, as Major Padlock and Charles Van Camp, both members of the board and both democrats, openly declare that he will not get the position.

The republicans on the board are also slightly at loggerheads upon the subject of uniting upon a man for the position.

During all of this time John J. Mahoney, the present incumbent, is sawing wood and not saying a word.

The trouble in the republican end of the board is right here. Two of the members have declared their intention of combining, one democrat, but as both of the democratic members are against him, they hope for no assistance from that side of the house.

Knowing Berlin's desire to preside he has been informed that he could have two republican votes if he would agree to vote for Anderson and also vote to remove Mike Leahy from the position of superintendent of the courthouse, but under no other conditions.

Berlin has listened to the proposition and has positively declared that he would do nothing of the kind. He has said that he would not go into a combine whereby the information would go out to the public that he secured the position by making pledges beforehand. He says that if elected his hands must be clean and that he must not be under obligations to any sect or faction.

This is the situation of the fight at the present time and without the conflicting interests are harmonized the board will be without a chairman for some months to come.

HIT FOX HARD.

Evidence Tending to Overthrow the Defense's Claim of the Prisoner's Insanity.

The testimony in the case of the state against Nicholas Fox, the South Omaha wife murderer, is completed. The attorneys have made their arguments and last night the jurors were left alone to decide whether or not the man was sane or insane at the time when he took the life of his wife on that cold December morning.

The testimony yesterday was an unexpected revelation.

As stated exclusively in The Bee yesterday, Albert Van der Carr, the boy from the Kearney reform school, was put upon the witness stand to testify that he was confined in the Douglas county jail for several weeks prior to June 1. During the early part of the month of May he had performed some act in violation of the rules of the jail.

As a punishment Jailer Miller locked him in the corridor in which the cell occupied by Fox was located. When the boy and Miller approached the cell Fox got down upon his hands and feet and jumped about, growling and barking like a dog. Shortly after that Miller went away and immediately thereafter Fox said, "Little boy, come here, I will not hurt you." Albert then went close to the cell and Fox first asked him for a chew of tobacco.

The boy said that he had none. After that Fox talked in a rational manner, asking how public sentiment stood regarding his case. Albert told him that he would have to hang. Fox laughed and replied, "I guess not until after I am tried." At this point the boy testified that an assistant jailer approached the cage, when Fox again got down upon his hands and feet, howled, barked and trotted about the cage, snapping at the bars like a mad dog.

The attorneys for the defense put the boy under a rigid cross-examination, but they failed to shake his testimony given on the direct examination.

Another blow to Fox's hopes was received when G. H. Fitch stepped upon the stand.

At the request of Sheriff Bonnett, Mr. Fitch spent Wednesday night in the cell adjoining the one occupied by Fox. He was there for the purpose of catching the murderer of his guard, and in this he succeeded most admirably.

Doctors Who Agree.

Dr. King, who treated Fox for several weeks subsequent to December 27, testified that for a time the man talked as rational as any person, but at once he became silent and refused to talk.

Dr. George Hiden, who has been the physician on the Douglas county board of insanity for more than eighteen years, and who has passed upon hundreds of cases of insanity, has been an interested spectator since the beginning of the trial. He was put upon the stand and in a short time furnished some testimony that led the spectators to believe that Fox was not as crazy as he appears.

A lengthy hypothetical question reciting the Fox family history, and the acts of the man on trial, was propounded to the doctor. In a case of the kind mentioned, he said there was no doubt but that the person was deluging insanity. He had visited the Fox cell a number of times, and had seen Fox running around barking like a dog. He had examined the back of his head, and had found no indications of a wound having been inflicted by a blunt instrument some five years ago, as testified to by witnesses in the depositions.

Since the beginning of the trial he had studied the patient and was positive that he was deluging insanity. If there was any mental affliction it was mania, but it was not probable that there was any mania, as in a case of mania a patient would always talk a great deal and his mind would rapidly travel from one subject to another. The countenance would portray the feelings, but there was nothing of this kind in the Fox case. Fox, he said, had one thought that was constantly in his mind and that was to stare and try to look wild. He said that was the strongest evidence against mania. In fact, he said talking was the gist of a mania. Mania with silence would be worse than "Hamlet" with Hamlet omitted. There was method in Fox's madness and he had played his part remarkably well. The men he said were afraid to talk, for if he opened his mouth he would disclose his sham. The effort would be too great and he was sharp enough to know that he did not care to take the chances.

SCHOOLS AND SCENERY.

Landscape Artist Cleveland Talks of Play-grounds and Boulevards.

Mr. Cleveland, the landscape gardener of Minneapolis, is making a general inspection of the parks of Omaha in the employment of the park commissioners, with a view to completing plans for the improvement of the tracts lately acquired by the city for park purposes.

In company with Superintendent Adams Mr. Cleveland visited Bonis park and made a careful inspection of the grounds. As soon as the engineer has completed the cross-sectioning Mr. Cleveland will begin the plans for the improvement of the High school grounds.

Mr. Cleveland said: "When the people of Minneapolis first began to talk about boulevards I thought it would be a waste of money to purchase the land, but that was entirely unnecessary. The property owners soon discovered that the laying out of a park or a boulevard was a direct means of increasing the price of their lands and lots, and the commissioners were soon flooded with petitions from property owners asking that lands be accepted as a free gift for boulevard and park purposes. They even laid out boulevards and voluntarily offered to have their adjacent property taxed for ten years to pay for improving the boulevards they donated to the city. In one instance I know of a boulevard three miles long that was donated and the property adjacent was taxed by request of the owners themselves to improve the boulevard. They were wise in doing so. There is their property today located on a fine boulevard and it will always be a delightful inheritance for the owners and their posterity."

Turning again to the question of beautifying the school grounds Mr. Cleveland said: "The educational effects of neat and attractive school grounds upon the school children can scarcely be estimated. To be surrounded by neat, well-kept and handsome grounds will impress the rising generation with the importance of having neat and beautiful homes, and they will learn to detect squalor and disorder, taking the health, happiness and education of the school children all into consideration. I think I am not putting it too far when I say that the improvement and beautifying of your school grounds is one of the most desirable considerations in connection with your educational facilities."

Mr. Cleveland will probably remain in Omaha a couple of weeks working upon plans for the new parks and the school grounds that are to be improved.

When you go to Denver stop at the American house. Rates $2.50 to $3.50. Remodeled throughout.

MEN'S SHIRTS--BOSTON STORE

Stonehill's Entire Stock Men's Shirts and Underwear Must Be Closed Out.

A GREAT DAY FOR MEN TODAY

Stonehill could easily afford to mark his goods low, but we have cut his prices right smack in the middle.

On sale at THE BOSTON STORE

And at STONEHILL'S OLD STAND. Immense lot of men's sateen, oxford and cheviot shirts, with yokes and pocket flaps, well made and finished, that Stonehill sold for $1.00, go today.

All men's cheviot oxford and Madras shirts, excellent patterns, that Stonehill sold for $1.50, go at 88c.

All the finest grade of men's Scotch flannel, silk striped, hotany flannel, finished in the best possible manner, that Stonehill sold at $2.00, go at 98c.

All Stonehill's 50c and 75c men's sateen and outing flannel shirts go at 25c.

Our entire stock of men's hair-briggen underwear, with French necks, that he sold as high as 75c, go at 25c.

Stonehill's best grade of hair-briggen and colored underwear, all sizes, shirts or drawers, that he sold for $1.00, go at 75c.

Stonehill's very finest grades of fancy striped and imported underwear, your choice today 40c.

STONEHILL'S MEN'S SUSPENDERS, 10c.

Today we will close out all of Stonehill's suspenders at 10c a pair.

BOSTON STORE MILLINERY DEPARTMENT. NO MERCY SHOWN TO PRICES.

Our entire stock of summer millinery, together with the remaining millinery, Stonehill's stock, will be sacrificed today.

Not a single hat, not a bunch of flowers, not an untrimmed shape will we carry over; they will be offered to the public at prices that would sell summer hats in December.

We have still quite a number of trimmed hats left from the Stonehill stock, some of these are real beauties and made of the very finest materials used in Mr. Stonehill's trimming rooms. All will be sold without reserve at $1.00.

This is the largest set ever made by any millinery house in the land. Just reflect that some of these hats cost from $7.00 to $8.00 to produce.

All the remaining trimmed hats, whether in The Boston Store or in Stonehill's old stand, will also be sacrificed and you will be able to select a fine dressy hat at a price that would barely buy a respectable garden hat yesterday.

Of untrimmed shapes we have about 3,000 left, the very finest and most costly braids being represented among them. Two weeks ago you would have paid from $2.00 to $2.50 for the first grades, and now we offer them all at the uniform price of 25c. The very next thing to giving them away.

For misses and children we have laid out a line of trimmed hats at from 15c to 25c that will please the most fastidious.

Sciatica Promptly Cured.

BEATRICE NEB. Nov. 6th, 1891. About the middle of August the writer was prostrated with an acute attack of Sciatica. For two months was scarcely able to walk across the room without assistance; the pain was intolerable. The usual remedies only gave temporary relief; became almost despondent. A friend who had visited, and been treated for rheumatism at Excelsior Springs, advised me to give the waters a trial. Had my first bath at the Elms sixteen days, drinking the Sulphur Springs and Bonis Waters, taking hot salt sulphur baths daily.

In one week the pain subsided; from that time on have improved rapidly, gaining strength every day. Walked about the town and over the surrounding hills of Excelsior Springs.

Am convinced that persons afflicted with sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., will be greatly benefited, if not completely cured by the waters of Excelsior Springs. Scarcely too much to say in praise of the waters. The Elms and their delightful surroundings.

(Signed) FRANK BARCLAY, Sr. The waters are bottled only by the Excelsior Springs Company at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

And Christmas, up to ten or a dozen years ago, were recognized among business men, as sort of dividing lines between the dull and busy seasons. "After the Fourth" seemed to be the time for the merchant of that period to get "four kinds of bait" and go "fishin'." Times have changed. Progressive merchants (that's us), have discovered the fact that men will buy goods in July as well as in any other month, if the inducements held out are strong enough. Our recent great special sales--sales that have crowded our store from basement to roof--sales that have not only been "town talk" in every corner of our city--but which have been heard of in every city and town and hamlet in the whole west--have left our stock of suits in a somewhat demoralized condition. Here we have left half a dozen suits at eighteen dollars--forty at fourteen dollars--twenty at twelve dollars--maybe a dozen lots of ten to twenty-five each at fifteen dollars--several lots at thirteen dollars--a few lots at seventeen dollars and so on--making in all an aggregate of several hundred

FINE SUITS.

These suits are in sacks and frocks, they are in all wool--and silk and wool--cassimeres--and worsteds; some are bound--some are not bound; some are dark--some are medium--some are light; there are plain colors, plaids, stripes--checks; in fact, there is a better line of suits to select from than most houses can show you at from twelve--fifty to twenty dollars. We have sorted all these odd suits into two grand and distinct lots, placed them on separate tables and from now until after the fourth, you can choose as you like from the two lots at $9.00 and $12.00.
