Still Cutting Prices—Monday and All This Week Will Be Made Memorable

BY OUR TREMENDOUS SLASH IN PRICES.

Cost, Quality or Desirability Not Taken Into Consideration in This Stupendous Attack on Prices—Never Were Our Friends Given Such a Chance. China silks that we have been selling at $1.25 will cut Monday to 75c. All our crepe de chine, $1.35 quality, cut to 90c. Fancy brocade and diagonal crepes, value $2.00, cut to $1.25. 20 pieces all silk greenlines, all qualities from $1.50 to $2.50, cut to 90c. These are the most desirable silks in the market. Our entire line of ladies' shirt waives, including the $1.00, $1.25, $1.35 and $1.50 waist, Monday morning only 75c each. Our $1.50 percale wrapper, warranted fast color, Monday 90c each. We have a few more of those ladies' blazer suits made of all wool material, sold by us and diamond belt with every suit. We will give away a wash waist and silk Windsor tie, Monday morning, suit complete, only $6.75 each. CLOAK DEPARTMENT. We have about 200 ladies' spring and fall jackets, and will close at about 50c on the dollar. We will divide this stock in two lots. Lot 1—Ladies' blazers, roofers and top coats, ranging in price from $5.00 to $8.00, all new made goods, Monday morning only $4.75. Lot 2—in this lot you will find some of our best garments that have been sold by us at $13.50. Monday morning we offered this lot at $6.95. COLORED DRESS GOODS. At cut prices for this week. Our object is to close out every yard of summer goods, therefore the prices: Half wool polka dot challies, 25c quality for 14c. A few pieces all wool grenadine, 30c quality for 18c. A genuine camel's hair suiting, which we sold at 48c, for 25c. Another lot of fancy suitings worth up to 85c for 45c. A whole lot of perhaps 70 short dress patterns, including the very latest cuttings and weaves, were sold for $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75. If 5 or 6 yards will make you a dress take your choice for 95c. Another odd lot of hair stripes, checks, crepons, chevrons, etc., etc. We never sold a yard under $1.00 and most of them at $1.25. Take your choice for 75c. Another lot of henriettes, serges, cashmeres, serpentine, zigzag, etc.; come in lengths from 5 to 61 yards. They were sold for $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. Take your choice for 75c. BARGAINS IN BLACK GOODS—3 Lot 1. The 69c black silk wrap henrietta is all sold, but having had a great many inquiries for it we cut the price on our $1.35 quality (for this week only) to 75c. This is positively your last chance on these goods. Lot 2—We will close out every yard of Priestley's novelty weaves which we have sold for $1.25 and $1.50; this week 88c. This is a very low price for the quality. Here is the third and it's a dandy. 42-inch all wool side band nun's veiling, very light weight and cool for summer. Be considered it a big bargain at 75c, but the season is far advanced, so here goes, 47c per yard. N. B. FALCONER. Lake Superior Resorts. Night after night she says she has been driven from the house and compelled to sleep in the outhouses. She has had several little children in the woods and is in constant danger of her life. When not abusing her Mrs. Ambuster has been kind and affectionate, and she is compelled to do the work in the shop in order to make a living. She is Ambuster's second wife and very much younger than he. Big Mining Enterprise. Mr. M. L. Roeder of this city has returned from the east, where he went with his brother, A. B. Roeder, in connection with business involving certain mining operations which they have recently undertaken. In conversation with a Bee man Mr. Roeder said: "Last week a New York and Philadelphia banking firm purchased $500,000 worth of shares of treasurer's stock at par, putting the success of the Colorado and Idaho beyond peradventure. The property is now producing over $70,000 per month, and has turned the eyes of capitalists toward this camp. It is predicted that the mines owned by this company will prove the richest producing mines in Colorado. "There is no stock for sale, as the entire block was taken in the east and only enough of this was sold to pay up the balance of the indebtedness and successful carrying out of the deal." Mr. Roeder is receiving the congratulations of his friends. Among Military Men. Captain Robertson of the infantry stationed at Madison barracks, New York, is visiting friends in the city. Miss Leo, daughter of Captain Leo of the Ninth Infantry, is visiting Miss Stanton of this city. Forty recruits have been sent from David Island, New York, for the Eighth Infantry. Twenty of the recruits will go to Fort Robinson, from there to Fort Logan, Colo. They will arrive in Omaha about the middle of next week. Captain John F. Guilfoyle of the Ninth cavalry at Camp Bettleys, Wyo., has been requested to report for duty to Major Benham in connection with the small arms practice at Fort Logan, Colo. The following named officers will report in person to Captain Charles A. Colledge, at the department rifle camp near Holyoke, Neb., July 23 for duty in connection with the approaching annual department rifle and cavalry competitions. As Staff Officers—Lieutenant Charles H. Cochran, Seventh infantry, Fort Logan, Colo.; Lieutenant Lawson M. Fuller, Ninth cavalry, Camp Bettleys, Wyo.; As Sergeants—Lieutenant Maury Nichols, Seventh infantry, Fort Logan, Colo.; Lieutenant James L. Drain, Seventh cavalry, Fort A. Mrs. Ambuster Wants the Police to Save Her From Further Abuse. Mrs. Louis Ambuster came to the police court yesterday for protection from a cruel husband who is the proprietor of a meat market at 1933 Vinton street. Night after night she says she has been driven from the house and compelled to sleep in the outhouses. She has had several little children in the woods and is in constant danger of her life. When not abusing her Mrs. Ambuster has been kind and affectionate, and she is compelled to do the work in the shop in order to make a living. She is Ambuster's second wife and very much younger than he. Big Mining Enterprise. Mr. M. L. Roeder of this city has returned from the east, where he went with his brother, A. B. Roeder, in connection with business involving certain mining operations which they have recently undertaken. In conversation with a Bee man Mr. Roeder said: "Last week a New York and Philadelphia banking firm purchased $500,000 worth of shares of treasurer's stock at par, putting the success of the Colorado and Idaho beyond peradventure. The property is now producing over $70,000 per month, and has turned the eyes of capitalists toward this camp. It is predicted that the mines owned by this company will prove the richest producing mines in Colorado. "There is no stock for sale, as the entire block was taken in the east and only enough of this was sold to pay up the balance of the indebtedness and successful carrying out of the deal." Mr. Roeder is receiving the congratulations of his friends. Among Military Men. Captain Robertson of the infantry stationed at Madison barracks, New York, is visiting friends in the city. Miss Leo, daughter of Captain Leo of the Ninth Infantry, is visiting Miss Stanton of this city. Forty recruits have been sent from David Island, New York, for the Eighth Infantry. Twenty of the recruits will go to Fort Robinson, from there to Fort Logan, Colo. They will arrive in Omaha about the middle of next week. Captain John F. Guilfoyle of the Ninth cavalry at Camp Bettleys, Wyo., has been requested to report for duty to Major Benham in connection with the small arms practice at Fort Logan, Colo. The following named officers will report in person to Captain Charles A. Colledge, at the department rifle camp near Holyoke, Neb., July 23 for duty in connection with the approaching annual department rifle and cavalry competitions. As Staff Officers—Lieutenant Charles H. Cochran, Seventh infantry, Fort Logan, Colo.; Lieutenant Lawson M. Fuller, Ninth cavalry, Camp Bettleys, Wyo.; As Sergeants—Lieutenant Maury Nichols, Seventh infantry, Fort Logan, Colo.; Lieutenant James L. Drain, Seventh cavalry, Fort A. Senator Manderson introduced a bill in the United States senate July 5 to create a national highway commission. The bill, which has been referred to the committee on interstate commerce, contains the following provisions: Section 1. A national highway commission be created, composed of two senators of the United States, to be named by the vice president, five members of the house of representatives, to be named by the speaker of the house, and five citizens to be appointed by the president of the United States, to represent by and for the several States, territories and the District of Columbia, each of the states and territories that may be by its executive, or otherwise, appoint one. Section 2. The commission shall continue in existence for two years from the date of its organization and shall hold its meetings in Washington during the sessions of congress, but may adjourn to any other place, and may call such other places and times as a majority of all its members may elect. Section 3. The duties of the commission shall be: First—To devise and formulate plans for the establishment of a national system of roads and bridges with branches attached to the various agricultural colleges and experiment stations. Second—To consider and report whether a general system of road construction, with post roads might profitably be established and built under the supervision of such national system, and as a part of its means of execution. Third—To report what action has heretofore been taken by the United States in highway construction and maintenance, and to report whether any such action should be taken, and what is recommended to be done for the proper maintenance and repair of the same. Fourth—To collect and disseminate general information regarding roads and their improvement. Fifth—To procure the exhibition at the World's fair in Chicago of the best methods and appliances for road making, and to provide for organized, practical instruction in the art of road construction, and the use of the free of cost, to all who may desire it. Sixth—To collate the various recent state laws regarding the construction, and to report what action should be taken to authorize and facilitate it. Seventh—To inquire and report whether any form of national aid to the same is desirable and practicable, and especially to consider the feasibility of co-operation by national, state and county authorities in a general system of road construction, and upon their agreement in each case as to the joint character of the work, their joint supervision of its execution, an equal or equitable division of its cost, and the use of the joint credit in order to obtain the necessary funds at a low rate of interest and long terms of payment. Eighth—If such co-operation is approved, to report what action and legislation or constitutional amendments are required to authorize and facilitate it. Ninth—To investigate and report upon the use of convict labor in highway construction. Tenth—To report whether it is practicable by legislation to regulate the construction of vehicles so as to insure the better preservation of road surfaces. Eleventh—To submit its views and recommendations upon other subjects connected with road improvement, that may suggest themselves or be brought to its attention. Section 4. The officers of the commission shall be president and vice president, who shall not be members of the commission, and a secretary chosen by the commission who may or may not be a member. Section 5. All members of the commission, including the associates, shall have an equal voice in its action, but a majority without counting the associates shall constitute a quorum for business at any regular or properly called meeting of the commission. Section 6. The commission shall report to congress from time to time, and in case of the failure of a majority agreement upon any of the subjects committed to it, the commission shall report by sections, as its members may agree, for the information of congress and the public.
