It looks as if the syndicate which yesterday purchased the Lincoln City Electric company's street car line, will have several legal battles to fight before it can take possession and operate the property. WON IT BY A LITTLE TRICK

Democratic Sharp Practice Carries the School Board Election for Conoyer.

HOW THEY WORKED WEHRER FOR A VOTE

Created a New Office and Then Filled it with Charlie's Friend—Hot Fight of the Anti's Against a Hopeless Situation.

Members of the Board of Education who had been flattering themselves with the thought that they had practically accomplished the defeat of Mr. Charles Conoyer in the contest for the secretaryship of the board were suddenly made a ware of the fact last night that they were not trotting in the same class with Mr. Conoyer's supporters.

In the election last night Mr. Conoyer's friends secured another victory so clean cut and decisive that their opponents left the field in disorder immediately after the first volley, leaving everything to the victors. The anti-Conoyer men were not within hailing distance of success at any stage of the game.

Speaking Began Promptly. Promptly at 5 o'clock the board took up the business of the evening proceedings from the point where business was shut off when the board adjourned on last Saturday evening. A lot of eloquence was expended in discussing the advisability of laying stone sidewalks along the west side of the Lard school. Mr. Gibson offered a resolution in favor of letting the contract for natural sandstone walk to Messrs. Furnas & Sons at a cost not to exceed 19 cents per square foot.

Mr. Elgutter moved that the board proceed to the election of a secretary, an inspector of buildings, a foreman of repairs, and an attorney of the board. This motion had a flash of lightning in it. It contained a new idea, a scheme for the creation of a new office, that of foreman of repairs, and the substitution of inspector of buildings for superintendent of buildings.

Mr. Elgutter moved an amendment providing for the election of a secretary first, a foreman of repairs next, an inspector of buildings, and then a superintendent of buildings. Mr. Elgutter made a vigorous attack upon the scheme, but Mr. Martin and Mr. Gibson, who formulated the plan, only smiled and called for the vote.

Mr. Elgutter finally grew somewhat warm and irritable under the cross fire poured into the supporters of the scheme, but Mr. Martin fairly overhauled with good humor and indulged in remarks of a somewhat humorous nature, while Mr. Gibson, Mr. Elgutter and others denounced the scheme as illogical and fraudulent.

When the ballots were counted the result was announced as follows: For secretary, Charles Conoyer, 3; William Coumra, 3; Zimmerman, 2; Holbrook, 2; For inspector of buildings: C. A. Willis, 8; Joe Hummel, 1; rest scattering. Superintendent of repairs: Joseph Hummel, 8; Mr. Hamilton, 3; rest scattering.

For attorney: F. E. Baxter, 9; F. E. McCoy, 3; Leo Ecklund, 1; rest scattering. President Spalding then announced the election of Mr. Conoyer, Mr. Willis, Hummel and Mr. Baxter for the offices named. There was an expression of some disgust at that moment enveloping the features of the anti-Conoyer men, while the faces of the Conoyer faction glowed with manifestations of supreme satisfaction.

It was stated to THE BEE reporter that the way the six democrats on the board won the fight for the election was by vote of Mr. Conoyer, who was voted for by Mr. Hummel and for Willis as the price of Conoyer's vote. Secretary Conoyer appeared to enjoy the victory very much. The board then settled down to routine work.

As a Board of Equalization—Work for the City Council. The city council will meet this evening at 5 o'clock as a board of equalization. If the members anticipate a short and uninteresting session they will undoubtedly be disappointed. Complaints upon the returns made by the assessor are coming in with great regularity, and the kicks are very large. The owner of real estate objects to his assessment and states it is too high, and the same is true of personal property owners.

The complaints come from people all over the city, and the clerk's office was crowded yesterday, looking up the returns and assessments. In most cases they did not go away without a complaint being left for the council to consider. The more important complaints are as follows: Holmes and Smith, the owners of the brick block at 248 N. street think an assessment of $300 is too high, and they would like a fair figure. T. F. Elliott believes he has been done an injustice and asks that the assessment of his property at Twenty-seventh and H streets be reduced from $500 to $400. There are many other complaints and the above is but a sample lot.

The personal list is larger than the complaints are numerous. The American Water Works company is down for $7,000 and asks that the amount be reduced to $4,000. D. Hunter, who lives at Twenty-eighth and G streets, is assessed at $1,500, which that gentleman considers too high by $500. S. M. Press believes $1,000 to be too high for his personal property, and asks it be reduced to $750. The council will consider all these complaints and a great many more and a long session is promised before its labors are completed.

For Cruelty to Animals. Charles Arwick was fined $1 and costs in police court yesterday by Judge Fowler. Arwick is a vendor of fruits and was fined for cruelty to animals.
