SETTLED A VEXED QUESTION

What Fort of Sheet Asphaltum May Be Used in Paving Decided.

LONG DISCUSSION BY THE COUNCIL

Reports from the Special Committee Which Was Given the Paving Ordinances Finally Passed On-Will Pass the Ordinance Tonight.

The city council held a lengthy session last night and got along well enough until it struck the paving question. At that moment it run against a snag and everything

Mr. Lowry, the chairman of the special committee appointed to receive and correct the paving ordinance, stated that he had something to report. The council listened while the clerk read a twenty page report, stating what material should be used in paving the numerous streets on which the Board of Public Works had invited bids. The report stated that the ordinances which accompanied it had been examined, and that they provided for the laying of store, brick and Trinidad sheet asphaltum from the pitch take in the island of Trinidad.

There was a minority report, signed by City Engineer Rosewater and City Attorney Connell, which caused all of the trouble.

In their report they stated that they concurred with the balance of the committee in the matter of stone and brick, but thought that on asphalt it was sufficient to say that the material was sheet asphaltum, from the tsland of Trinidad, so long as the contractors entered into the contract having the maintenance clause.

Warm Discussion Then Ensued. President Davis, who had called Mr. Prince to the chair, intimated that the two gentlemen had not reported as they had Attorney Connell replied that the report was exactly as he and Engineer Rosewater Mr. Edwards insisted that it was the understanding that the ordinances should tame the asphalt from the lake and no other class of that material. Attorney Conneil argued that if the main report was adopted the whole question would be settled.

That settled it and the report with the amendment by Engineer nosewater and Attorney Connell was adopted. Some of the memoers were not quite sure of their positions upon the question and Mr. Edwards raised the point that the two officials were not members of the committee, but had simply been named to advise with the members.

Mr. Prince held that the point of order This started a scare.

Chaffee wanted to withdraw his motion to adopt, but Mr. Prince ruled that it was too Then the members commenced to change their votes, and when the result was announced only Messrs. Eisasser, Howell and Prince stood by the report.

Mr. Chaffee moved to adopt the main report, but he was ruled out of order, as the report had gone glimmering.

Mr. Lowry forged to the front and moved a reconsideration. That got the matter be-fore the council once more.

Trying to Get Untangled. Mr. Howell moved that all of that portion referring to stone and brick be alopted. President Davis declared that such a move would not be regular and that the only way to reach the report would be by amena

Ar. Elsasser saw a chance to score, and moved to amend the report by including Engineer Rosewater and Attorney Connell's suggestions. He said it made no difference where the asphalt came from so long as the contractor put up a good bond that he would seep the pavement in repair. There were but two men who could bid on the product from the bed of the lake, and they were in caboots. One would bid a cent lower on one district and then they would reverse the pian. Mr. Chaffee declared that Mr. Eisasser was talking what he had read in the papers and not what he knew. Mr. Elsasser admitted that he had read a few things, but judging from observation, he thought that he knew whereof he spoke. Then everybody talked and at last the main report was adopted and the clerk was instructed to have City Attorney Connell en-gross the ordinances to conform with the report of the committee. That would take several hours and while discussing the quesion a motion to adjourn until tonight went through, at which time all of the paving orfinances will be up for passage.

Some Vetoes Sent In.

The mayor vetoed the item in the appropriation ordinance of John F. Coots for $179 for three wash basins in rooms in the city ball. The mayor wrote that Mr. Coots has no authority for locating the wash basins, In the veto message the mayor called the attention of the council to the urgent necessity of scrutenizing all bills for the city hall, stating that the time was close at hand when bills of this nature would be worked through the council. The veto was sustained by a vote of 11 to 2.

The mayor sent another veto to the counment for the purchase of eighty-two election booths ordered during ex-Mayor Cusning's

The council could not understand the veto and it was referred back to the mayor for street commissioner reported that

$5,544 had been expended by his department and that some of it had come from other funds. He asked for instructions. In a lengthy letter the mayor wrote about the nonarrival of the elevators for the city hall. He said that owing to their failure to arrive many of the officers were unable to occupy their rooms in the building. Then the major said: "I recommend that the su-perintendent of the city ball ascertain who is responsible for the delay in the completion of this work. It has been the understanding that there was an architect for the city ball, whose cuty it was to superintend its construction and see that necessary changes were made and that the required work was done. I believe that if the architect had properly discharged his duties he would long since have determined who was responsible for doing the work that s necessary to do before the elevators can

With regard to this, there seems too much thirting of responsibility. The Crane Ele-rator company claims that the plumber should do certain work, while the plumber contends that the work referred to is not for him to do. The result is that nothing is done, and the city, while paving large fees for architectural services, is put to great loss by reason of the delay."

Routine Work. J. F. Tilly notified the council that he had appointed S. I. Morrison as an inspector to look after water connections. This was referred to the mayor.

There was a report on the number of lights that had been ordered since the apportionment was made.
The report showed that of the 425 gasoline hights 290 had been located. Thirty one are lights were ordered and lifty had been to-cated. The same report showed that of the 156 gastights 196 had been located.

Mr. Chaffee declared that the wards had not voted fair. The councilmen had agreed to a certain number of lights and resolutions locating more than the agreed number had been ordered in some of the wards. Mr. Bruner said the sicking was in bad

Mr. Chaffee said that Mr. Bruner agreed apon the number of lights. All other lights that he had ordered located were located by trickery and fraud. The members were elected as reform members and he hoped the ldeas of reform would be carried out

Mr. Howeil said that members of the elec-tric light committee were making excuses for their action. Mr. Edwards said that someone had mon-keyed with the deal and hoped that they would place themselves right before the

"Just take a look at my shirt," said a street car conductor to a Bas reporter yesterday as the two stood on the platform of a Sixteenth street car and the bell ringer threw open his coat and exposed a nether garment fairly saturated with perspiration.
"This weather and the orders of the company combined are stewing the life right out of us conductors," he continued. "You see they won't let us take our blue coats off. We have to keep our uniform on if it kills us to wear them. I feel just like a squeezed dish rag every night. I have lost ten pounds in two weeks simply by excessive perspira-tion. will not report until next Tuesday night. Mr. Edwards, the chairman of the commitee, stated that a meeting for the purpose of looking over the several estimates would be held some time this week. If the walls and ceilings are decorated they will be in oil and not in water colors as the chairman has stated that to do the work in water colors would be throwing away the public money. In oil the cost, he said, would be between $2,500 and $3,000 which at the present time was a useless expenditure of money. Mr. Eiwards does not look with favor upon the subject of decorations. He holds to the opinion that the interior of the chamber looks well enough for the present and that it would be better economy to expend the money for some other purpose.
