Charles Curtis, who was given credit in all the papers not long ago with being the hero of a suicide scrape at Cedar Rapids, has turned up safe and sound. He claims that the name of the suicide was Carter and that the telegrams to the various papers were either purposely or otherwise made to give the wrong name.

Judge McGee held a session of superior yesterday morning long enough to an assignment of law cases for the term. He also ordered a new trial in the squatter case of Redman against William Siedentopf, in accordance with the motion of the defendant. He then dismissed the jury until September 5, and adjourned court until Saturday. An investigation yesterday of the case where a number of boys were charged with placing obstructions on the Rock Island main track near Greendale, proves the published stories to be considerably exaggerated. I have no hesitatancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colle, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after other well known remedies had failed and it cured me in a few minutes. Alderman George D. Brown, who has been confined to his home on South Eighth street for the past seven weeks, died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Throughout his last iliness he suffered almost untold agony, but for over twenty-four hours preceding his death he lay in a stupor from which he could not be aroused.

The deceased was born in Watertown, N August 7, 1820. In 1855 be married Zaire Briggs, the wife who still survives him. In 1867 they moved to Council Bluffs, and ever since his arrival the deceased has been me of the best known and most highly respected citizens. As conductor he ran the first train over the Kansas City road from Council Bluffs to Bartlett, and for thirteen years he temained in the employ of the same company. He then engaged in the coal business for a few years. In 1891 he was elected alderman on the democratic ticket, a posi-tion he still held at the time of his death.

He was the father of five children, of whom three still live—Ed. L., George C. and Muhion B. The two latter were at home at the time of their father's death. The funeral will occur tomorrow evening from the family residence, 307 South Eighth when he reatly sets about it has come to light. When James R. Haney, who lives at 1014 Twentieth avenue, came home Saturday night from work he found that someone had broken into his house during his absence and thoroughly ransacked the premises. Arranging for a Convention. State Secretary W. A. Magee of the Young Men's Christian association, who has been in the city for several days past, returned yesterday morning to his home in Des Moines. While here he made partial arrangements for a convention of all the asso ciations in Council Bluffs district to be held at Corning, October 7-9. This district is one of five into which the state is divided and comprises lifteen counties in the south-western corner of the state. In it there are only five regularly organized associations, two of which are college branches. There are twenty-one places in addition to these where correspondents are stationed to keep the state committee posted as to the pro-gress of religious work. It is hoped that the coming convention will result in a general stirring up of association workers and in the organization of several new associations.

Another Lake in Sight. Unless all signs fall in a presidential year another lake will probably be given to the people a short distance south of Manawa. Ever since the recent high water the Missouri river has been eroding steadily and rapidly until a large tract of the finest farming land south of the city has been washed away. Between fifty and seventy-five acres belonging to I. S. Wright have disappeared in the river. The people living in the Kenkins resistence have been compelled to vacate, and at the last meeting of the board of trustees of Lewis township permission was given to move the Wright schoolhouse so as to get it out of danger. Later on it proved to be unnecessary, and the schoolhouse still stands in its accusthe schoolhouse still stands in its accus-tomed place, although the property owners
