

IT COST HIM A FORTUNE

Henry Oliver's Interesting Story of Misplaced Confidence.

HIS MONEY NOT PROPERLY INVESTED

No Accuses James E. Lansing of Taking Advantage of Family Connections to Fraudulently Convert to His Own Use a Large Sum.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—One of the most sensational law suits ever instituted in Lancaster county was filed with the clerk of the district court this forenoon. It is a suit arising from a dispute between Henry Oliver and James F. Lansing, the owners of the new Lansing theater in this city. Oliver sued Lansing for $50,000, which amount he claims the latter has fraudulently converted to his own use. The petition filed today by Oliver alleges that having married Lansing's sister he has always reposed the utmost confidence in him and looked upon him as a brother; that up to 1891 the plaintiff had lived in Georgia and during his stay there made a large sum of money, believing that the latter would protect his interests; that Lansing fraudulently converted to his own use a large proportion of the funds sent him for investment; that he sold one lot for $30 more than he accounted for sixteen blocks in East Lincoln that were worth half that amount. A great many similar cases are cited and the court is requested to compel Lansing to make a full accounting of all the funds placed in his hands by the plaintiff.

Realty of the Rock Island.

The Rock Island attorneys have filed an answer to the complaint filed by the plaintiff for an injunction filed by the Lincoln street railway some weeks ago. In the answer the Rock Island alleges that it has received a franchise from the city council permitting it to lay its track and establish a street car line in the city limits of Lincoln, and that it is entitled to a franchise from the city council for the same purpose. The Rock Island has agreed to pay the city $1000 per month for the franchise granted by the city council. Each allegation of the plaintiff is specifically denied and the court asked to dissolve the temporary injunction.

Heard in the Courtrooms.

A bill of sale executed by the Capital Heights Street Railway company, conveying its property to the Lincoln City Electric Railway company, has been filed with the recorder of deeds.

G. Bigelow files an affidavit asserting that John A. Rollins remained in the service of the Lincoln City Electric Railway company after he had been discharged by the Lincoln City Electric Railway had formed a combination to buy the road as cheap as possible and to get large deficiency judgments against Bush and Bigelow as possible.

Frank Rawlings today commenced suit in the district court to compel J. D. Davis to stand that and started east again. He landed in South Omaha yesterday. A companion whom he picked up along the road stole the coat from him.

Seeking a Runaway Girl.

John Humbert was in South Omaha yesterday seeking his daughter, May Humbert, who ran away from her home at Oakland, La., two weeks ago in company with Alice Richardson. The young ladies were traced from Oakland to Colorado, and after a long search there all traces of them have been lost. Mr. Humbert's daughter is 16 years old, while her companion is 23. No cause for their leaving is given and is a mystery. Mr. Humbert formerly resided in South Omaha, and was engaged in the business of contracting. He now conducts a meat market at Oakland.

Derrick Fell on Him.

John Anderson, an employee, was badly injured at Swift's packing house yesterday afternoon. He was struck by a falling Derrick. His left arm was nearly torn from the shoulder, and the bone protruded through the back and hips. His injuries are serious, but will not prove fatal. He was removed to his home at 10 o'clock.

James Richardson was arrested for stealing a hat from John Bauer, but Judge Waters discharged him when it was discovered that the stolen headgear was a campaign plug.

Detective Pound returned from Council Bluffs, where he had been to identify a prisoner suspected to be connected with a gang of sneaking thieves who have been working in this city.

John Burke is still suffering too much from the gunshot wound in his neck to stand a preliminary examination. The hearing was again postponed until tomorrow afternoon.

Frank Walker, George Dean and Frank Smith were lined up this morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. They were released and started for Omaha in the rain.

John Boyd has come to the sentence of William Sims, a convict in the state penitentiary who has nearly completed a term of imprisonment for burglary. Several prominent railway men of Omaha became interested in his case and secured him employment with the general manager of the Pennsylvania company at Chicago, and he will take his position there August 1. Jules Lombard of Omaha made a personal appeal to Governor Boyd in the young man's behalf and the governor granted his request. The communication shortens Simpson's term about a month.

MURDERED AT A DANCE.

Charles Stout Miller, Robert Frazier in Otoe County.

BROKEN Bow, Neb., July 28.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—During a dance near Ryne's postoffice, in this county, Robert Frazier attacked Charles Stout and injured him so severely that he died. Stout had circulated a slanderous story about Frazier, and the latter approached Stout and remarked that he had a settlement to make with him. At once he struck Stout and knocked him onto a bed in the room, where a child was sleeping. Some one removed the child and allowed the assault to proceed. In the scuffle Frazier got Stout down on the floor, where he jumped upon him with his feet, stamping him in the breast, head and face in a most vicious manner. Parties present who made an attempt to separate the combatants, and others interfering in Frazier's interest. As soon as he had finished his murderous assault, Frazier fled, leaving his hat and coat in the room. His victim was taken charge of and a doctor called. He did not regain consciousness. Frazier is still at large.

Hunting for Choice Locations.

Spencer, Neb., July 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—News has just reached here of the passage of the bill opening to settlement that portion of the Fort Randall military reservation, under the name of the new territory of Spencer. This newly added territory is in Boyd county, and includes the area thereof to the extent of about three townships. It is directly east and northeast from Spencer, straddling the county line and makes Spencer the geographical center of the county by a great majority. Settlers are swarming over the tract by hundreds.

HALL COUNTY FARMERS DELIGHTED

They Were Preparing to Employ the Services of a "Rainmaker" When the Shower Commenced—Reports from Various Points.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—During the night seven-tenths of an inch of rain fell here, and the subscribers to the rain fund, raised to secure Melbourne's services, are joyful this morning. They have their much-needed rain and their money too. It may have been just one day however that would have given $2,500 for a benefit they have now received gratis. A good rain was badly needed. Corn is beginning to dry up. A good yield is now assured. This experience with Melbourne has created much stronger confidence in the weather service.

BRAZEN, Neb., July 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—The Swedish Lutheran church members of Omaha held their annual picnic here today. It had been raining nearly all night and was still hard at it when the excursionists arrived. They secured the opera house and had the train backed up to the side walk and all made a dash for the place where they had a very enjoyable time after which they took possession of the town and left it until 7:30 p.m. when the train left for Omaha.

Tale of Boy Who is Now Sick at the Police Station.

Frank Andreas, a lad 17 years of age, is at the police station ill. His home is in Evansville, Ind., and his people have been通知 of his misfortunes. A few weeks ago he had secured work in the cotton mill at that place. He was to receive $1.25 per day, but when he was put to work he found it possible to earn only 75 cents. He quit and then began performing piece labor. He could not stand that and started east again. He landed in South Omaha yesterday. A companion whom he picked up along the road stole the coat from him.

FARM HANDS WANT BADLY.

Forty Thousand Men Needed in the Dakotas to Harvest Wheat.

Sr. Pay, Minn., July 28.—There is a panic among Dakota farmers, less than a week ago, to harvest their great wheat crop which is now being cut in the southern part of South Dakota. North Dakota begins its wheat harvest in about a week or ten days, and all farmers are especially anxious. It has been estimated that from 200 to 400 laborers are needed in each county in South Dakota, east of the Missouri river. This means about 10,000 laborers. Southern Minnesota needs help in the harvest field, also, and North Dakota will begin harvesting in about two or three weeks. Altogether, conservative estimates are that 40,000 laborers are needed within the next month in order to harvest the immense grain crop of the northwest. The yield promises to be very great, if only the crop can be harvested.

In order to induce laborers to come to the west, the railroad companies have given notice of reduced rates of $12 round trip from Chicago to Denver and return, because it was the first to make concessions to the Knights Templar.

Mr. White said the statement was absurd on its face, and added: "The Santa Fe company placed the whole matter before the commission, and the commission is to make a final decision in the matter."
