THE OMAHA BEE. NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Propositions Looking to the Building of a Belt Line Railroad.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE NEW SCHEME

Plans Submitted to the City Council-The Proposed Route of the New Road-Rumors Concerning It - Happenings Across the River.

The city council met vesterday afternoon as a committee of the whole to consider the project of giving the Union Land and Improvement company a franchise to build and operate a railway in the north western part of the city, over certain streets and alleys that have already been mentioned. The company was represented by J. W. Paul of Omaha and all the councilmen were present when he unfolded his plan to them. His purpose is to begin near the intersection of North Eighth street and the river and build a track nearly parallel with the course of the river, passing under the east span of the motor bridge and ending at First avenue. This track is to be accompanied by all the switches necessary for operating a first class belt line. Through a large part of its course it is to be Isid on the levee, and this will rid the city of the trouble and expense of keeping the leves in proper repair, as it will be necessary for the company to keep it in repair for its own protection.

The object the company has in proposing the scheme, so says Mr. Paul, is the filling up of the land in the northwestern part of the city with factories. There is a large amount of vacant land there which at present is almost worthless, but which could be increased in value immensely if a systematic effort were made to secure manufacturing enterprises. The belt line will be used in connecting the manufacturing districts with the Northwestern on the north and with all the other roads centering in the city at the west end of First avenue. Through North I wentieth street the district has an outlet city itself, that street already being raised to grade. The ordinance which was proposed by Mr. Paul to the council granting the right of way was discussed at length and finally referred to the judiciary committee and the city atble, at the meeting of the council next Mon-day evening. Most of the aldermen are friendly to the scheme, but some of them have an idea that Mr. Paul's scheme is not quite so open and aboveboard as it seems to be at first blush. They think that he is trying to get the right of way in order to turn it over to the Nebraska Central railway, which will enter the city at almost the iden tical spot where the Belt line is proposed to be put. The council will make an effort to find out more about Mr. Peul's plans before passing the ordinance.

New Ward Division. At the council meeting next Mon dayevening one of the important things to be brought up for consideration is the new division of he city into voting precincts, to conform to the provisions of the Australian ballot law. At a recent meeting Aldermen Jennings, Van Brunt, Tibbetts and Smith were appointed a committee to figure out a scheme for redivision, and the result of their work will be presented to the council Monday evening for adoption or rejection. The proposed division is as follows: First Ward-Two precincts, divided at Broadway.

Second Ward-Two precincts, divided at Seventh street, to where it intersects with Sixth street, and then on a line to Rohrer's park and to the First ward line. Third Ward-Two precincts, divided at

Story street and the park line.
Fourth Ward-Two precincts, divided at Seventh avenue. This is a change, taking a strip of two blocks from the First and adding t to the Second precinct. Fifth Vard-Two precincts, divided at Seventh avenue.

Sixth Ward—Two precincts, no change. It is estimated that this will give a total of about 500 voters in each precinct. A new registration will be had this year by pre-

Chairman Harrity, when seen today, said:
"I am very much encouraged by the manner in which the leading and representative democrats of the country are coming to my support, Whatever differences may have existed prior to the Chicago convention have disappeared. All seem now disposed to lend every effort and to bend every energy to win success in November. The letters and telegrams from the leaders of the party are of the most cordial character. They all say in effect: 'Place me where I can do the most good and I will give my best services,'
"It looks to me as if we were to have a

The proposal which is finding large acceptance at the Cariton club is that the government will open parliament by an-nouncing the introduction of a franchise ro-form bill including such a redistribution of seats as will correct the present abnormal system of representation. The conservatives having no reason to fear a 'one man one vote" measure, if accompanied by redistribu-tion on the principle of equal electoral districts, of taxation and representation going ogether, are now fairly alive to the fact that the Salisbury government has lost a chance to carry a redistribution bill favorable to the

The "one man one vote" measure, when passed, will affect 200,000 votes and throw them chiefly on the liberal side. A redistribution of seats, based on recognized liberal prin ciples, would increase the number of English members by about forty, mostly conservatives, and the Scotch by twenty, and twenty members.

The appeals now being made to him and his colleagues to challenge the liberals on franchise reform have some ministerial sup-port, but the majority of the members of the cabinet appear to rely upon an early breakup of the Gladstone movement through a repture of the internal forces on which it must rest. It is just barely possible that Lord Salisbury will yet be persuaded to throw down the glove before the opposition. If he does so it will inspire the unionists with rampant courage and enthusiasm which they have never yet shown.

Policy of the Irish Party. The Irish party are not entirely reassured, in spite of the liberal declarations that the home rule bill will be expedited, and until Mr. Gladstone adds the assurance of an immediate dissolution of parliament, if the House of Lords reject the bill, a suspicion will haut them that the measure will not be hastened. the Coast.

The best known dog in America arrived in San Francisco Sunday evening on the Central Pacific overland, says the Examiner, and is stopping with the Wells-Fargo people. His name is Railroad Jack and his traveling record is something remarkable. In all the large cities of the United States he is a familiar figure, on all of the prin-cipal railroads of the country he has been a passenger and more than one railroad president has been honored with a visit from him.

Some months ago Jack took a trip down to New York from his home in Buffalo and was introduced to Chauncey Depew of the New York Central in the private office of that official. Mr. Depew presented his caller with an annual pass, and since that time Jack has spent a good deal of his time on the trains of the New York Central. He is so well known, however, that passes are not necessary. His preference is always for the express car. The messengers are his triends. At their hands he gets the best food obtainable, a comfortable place to sleep always, and such other attentions as his distinguished career merits. There is not an express messenger from Maine to California who would not fight for Jack, and on a very slight provocation at that. After cele- Omaha and Council Bluff electric motor in a of the evening of sufficient that ing an after-dinner stroll about the town, the tourist fell in with an ill-tempered Mormon dog of immense proportions and fighting mien. Jack has fighting blood in his veins, though he only weighs thirty-seven pounds. When the Salt Lake animal growled a challenge, the New Yorker was at him in a moment. It was a long and fierce struggle. Next morning Jack wandered down to the depot, and boarded the first train for Ogder, or three legs. His right foreleg was badly chewed and entirely unfit for service. One of the thirty express tags at-tached to his silver coltar, which was presented by the Illustrated Buffalo after a brief stay in Albany the happy pair made a tour of California. At New Orleans Mrs. Jack got into a fight and was so severely injured that she died on board a train bound for San Francisco. The unhappy groom at once returned to his native town, and since that time up to the date of his late departure for the coast he has confined his travels princiaplly to the state of New York.

"When a man has found relief from a dis-tressing condition, he feels like telling of it for the benefit of others who may need the same kind of help." The speaker was Mr. P. F. Dresser, of Glen-wood, Iowa, the well known contractor and bullder. Continuing, Mr. Dresser, in a recent interview, related to a reporter the following

P. F. DRESSER, GLENWOOD, IA.

"I suppose few men or women ever suffered from catarrh more than I. It would be too long a story to give you alt my symptoms, but I can say that I feel very thankful that I am free from that painful and dangerous disease. "It is unspeakable relief to be rid of the buzzing and ringing that was always in my ears and which I feared would really set me crazy. My head was dizzy, my nose filled up and I could not keep my throat and nose clear although I was constantly hawking and spitting in the endcavor to do so.

"I am free from all these annoying conditions now and am also cured of a dyspepsia which was very distressing. I often had a disgust for food—especially mornings; my stomach f-it havy and I bio ited after eating. My food seemed to do me no good.

"The comfort and rest I now get at night is wonderful to me, for I used to toss about unable to sleep and every morning I feit worse than when I went to be i. This is all different now. Every night's sleep refreshes and restores me and I rise full of ambition for my daily work.

"But the most remarkable and valuable effect of the treatment was upon my hearing. I was almost totally deaf. I could hear only when peope escreamed in my ear and then it was difficult. In walking the streets of Omnaha I could not hear a cable car passing, nor a heavy wagon on the pavement close by me, in fact, so far as hearing went, I was dead to the world.

"Having been perfectly and completely cured by Drs. Cope and and Shepard, I caunot say too much in praise of their skill. My deafness is entirely cone. Although a young man I never expected to be able to hear again and concluded that my catarrhal disease would steadily wear ne out. My case was a serious one and life seemed a burden, afflicted as I was. The scientific work of Drs. Copeland and Shepard has made me a new man, has given me back the use of all my senses and I am anyous that every afflicted person may know where they can find relief and cure. I am sure these physicians can do for others what t
