CAPTURED THREE BURGLARS

Members of a Gang of Lincoln Thieves Arrested at Hastings.

STOLEN GOODS IN THEIR POSSESSION

Beveral Residences Entered and Valuable Articles Stolen-Further Legal Complications in the Affairs of the Lincoln Street Railway.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 1 .- [Special to Tuz BER. |-Three of the members of the gang of burgiars and sneak thieves which has been operating in Lincoln for so many weeks were captured at Hastings yesterday and brought back to this city today. Their names are Frank Kennedy, William Thompson and Frank Blake. Saturday the residence of P. H. Cooper was entered and a number of valuable articles stolen. The police telegraphed a description of the goods to the authorities of the surronniing towns and that night word was received from Hastings that the men were there with the stolen goods in their possession. Chief Otto at once, took the train for the Queen City and this afternoon returned with his men County Attorney Snell has made a formal complaint charging the men with grand larceny and they will undoubtedly be sent to the penitentiary for a short vacation.

Some One Slugged His Wife, Patrick Whitmore was arraigned in police Patrick Whitmore was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of wife-beating. Some one complained to the police last evening that a family row was in progress at the Whitmore residence, and when the officers proceeded to the scene of the disturbance they found Mrs. Whitmore suffering from injuries of a rather serious pature. She had a severe gash on the head and was cut and brussed about the body in a and was cut and bruised about the body in a manner to indicate that she had been roughly treated. Her husband asserted that he was not the culprit and endeavored to establish the fact that he had not been at the house the fact that he had not been at the house since six o'clock in the morning. He claimed that his wife had been drinking and seemed arxious to create the impression that she had injured herself. His case was continued until this evening, when he will be given an opportunity to establish his innocence. From the Police Court.

Bert Copeland and Joseph Lamont were tried in police court this morning on the charge of stealing a gold watch and chain from Miss Minnie Carr, a fellow boarder at 126 North Sixteenth street. There was no evidence to connect them with the crime and they were discharged.

John Wallick was brrught up on a charge of vagrancy, but on his promise to leave for Omaha at once was dismissed. John Cox was acquitted on the charge of visiting an immoral resort and Mike Devine convinced the judge that he was not intoxicated last evening.

E. F. Weir will be tried this evening upon the charge of conducting a disorderly house His resort is one of the most notorious in the city and the police have long endeavored to break it up.

Sixth Warders Object.

F. M. Woods and other residents of the Sixth ward have applied to the district court for an injunction to prevent the city council from making the proposed increase of 25 per cent in the valuation of the property of that ward. They ellege that the action of the board of equalization is unlaw ul for the rea-son that it did not convene on the day that it was ordered; that no complaints were made that the assessment was too low; that no comparison was ever made by the board and that no notice was ever served upon the residents of the ward as required by law. They show that the assessment of the First, Fifth and Seventh wards for 1892 are much less than the assessments for the year 1891, while for the Second, Third and Sixth wards the assessments for the present year are greater than for last year. Important Suits Instituted.

The legal complications in which the Lincoln City Street Railway company are involved are becoming more serious as the days go by. Suit was commenced in the district court today by Everett Finney, the new owner, against Messrs. Bush and Bigelow and the Lincoln City Electric Railway company for $30,000, on a note executed to Swan & Barrett of Portland, Mc, The State National bank also commences suit against Bush and Bigelow for $10,000, and against the Street Railway company for a like amount. Several other suits against the same parties were also filed, aggregating in amount $17,-

"I am a cooper by trade, and for many years worked in Chicago. About twelve months ago I had an attack of diarrhosa, which became chronic. I was treated by two prominent physicians of Chicago, but from them received no permanent benefit. I then went to Texas where I was again treated by a leading physician with results similar to those I had previously experi-enced. In May I came to Wickliffe, Ky., in a very debilitated condition, consequent upon this long continued trouble. I went to a drug store for relief. Chambertain's Colic, Choiera and Diarrhosa Remedy was recom-mended. The first dose relieved me, and mended. The first dose relieved me, and two 25-cent bottles cured me. I consider myself well today."

Mr. Sterling is 62 years of age and a very pice old gentleman, and reliable in all matters. He came nere in a very low state of bealth, but now says be feels perfectly well and buoyant and has had no symptoms of diarrhora for three or four weeks. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhora Romedy is very popular here.—G. W. Shivell, druggist, Wickliffe, Ky.

SOCIETY OF JESUS.

Father Thomas Sherman's Review of St. Ignatius Loyola's Work.

The feast of St. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus, was celebrated at St. John's collegiate church Sunday. Solemn high mass was sung in the presence of Bishop Scannell, with Father Mathery of Croighton college as celebrant. Rev. Peter Prince, S. J., of St. Xavier's college, Cincinnati, acted as subdeacon, and Rev. Eugene Magevney of St. Louis as deacon of the mass. Rev.
Martin Haarts, S. J., of Detroit, and Father Colaners of this city acted as deacon of honor to the bishop and Father Corbley of Creighton callege as master of ceremonics.
Father Thomas Sierman, S. J., of St.
Louis, son of the late General W. T. Sherman, delivered the panegyric upon the life and work of the founder of the order. His address was in substance as follows:

In 1521 the French army invaded Spain and attacked one of the fortified towns. The and attacked one of the fortified towns. The city authorities surrendered, but one who had been sent to assist and advise them withdrew in disgust with his soldiers, and fortified himself in a neighboring citadel. This was Ignatius of Loyola.

The French attacked the citadel and demanded the surrender of the forces within, but this was indignantly refused. They then made an attack on the citadel, and made a breach in the walls. Loyola was disabled a breach in the walls. Loyola was disabled by a cannon bell in the leg. This ended his brief out brilliant military career. He was struck down while defend-ing a breach in the wall of his castle, but there was another breach which he was destined to defend, which was one of far greater importance than the breach in any wall could be. There was a more fatal breach wall could be. There was a more fatal breach in the church, caused by the action of the traitor monk, Martin Luther, and that more traitorous king, Henry Tudor. Loyola was the brave defender who had been raised up as a soldier and defender of his country and the church, and he stands today in us, as the defender of the church is all lands. Even in this land of ours, where Christianty is swept aside, and where a bishop has been elected who does not believe to the divinity of Christ, here stands Loyola, here in this city, to resist the attacks made against the church.

As Loyola lay wounded on his couch at the hospital he studied the life of Christ and Brose from his sick bed a man transformed in the faith of God. He laid his sword at the foot of the Virgin, doffed his satin and slik and donned the garb of a monk. He was sometimes tempted to end his life, to stop the tumult within his soul, but he learned to master his emotions. After a period of penance Loyola went on a pilgrimage to the holy land. He found it in the hands of the Saracens. He essayed to preach his doctrines to the Latin races, but found that he must first master the language. He found himself at middle age compelled to begin with little children in the rudiments of Latin grammar. He thus obeyed the injunction of the Master, "Unleas ye become as little children ye cannot enter the kingdom of neaven." He went to a college to teach, but was thrown into prison because he had no recognized doctrine. He was not a commissioned officer in the army of the Lord, and he was commanded to be silent. He went to another college and met with the same fate. He then shook the dust of Spain from his feet and went to Paris. Here he grouped around him seven chosen souls. They took the vows of chastity, poverty and obedience, which are get the vows which bind us.

Obedience is the principle of unity. Here are we, 12,000 Jesuits, who are bound by our vows of obedience and act as one man. It is such obedience that gives the Catholic church lits strength and binds millions into one com-

Ignatius intended to go to Jerusalem, but the state of affairs there prevented. He then went to Rome and presented himself and bis little band before the holy father. His holiness received them and be explained his doctrine and rules.

At that time there was a great agitation in the church and societies belonging to the church were in a state of disorder. The cardinals were opposed to accepting any new order, but rather favored the reorganization of the old orders. Ignatius succeeded in overcoming this opposition. He showed that his order did not involve a change in doctrine, but was a simplifying of the rules of the church. The order was accepted as a new army or branch in the church, and before Loyola died he saw his order in twelve provinces, composed of thousands of men, who knew no bounds of river or nationality, and who were ready to go to all parts of the earth to carry the teachings of the church. In closing Father Sherman said he was glad he had seen the workings of the order in many lands. He had finished his studies in the Island of Jersey and had met there students who had been in every land and were eager to carry the doctrine of the church to every land. He paid a high tribute to Loyola, the father of the order, whom he characterized in terms of the highest praise, and closed by paying a tribute to his mother, the church, who had sonatched him as a brand from the burning and had brought him to a condition where his one desire was to spread the gospel of Christ and assist in him to a condition where his one desire was to spread the gospel of Christ and assist in the growth of the church.

In Time of Peace Prepare for War. Have you ever thought what you would do in case you or some of your family was taken with a severe attack of colic cholera morbus, dysentery or diarrhoa. In such cases it is not unusual for fatal results to follow before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. There is nothing that will give permanent relief so quickly as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhosa remedy. It never fails even in the most severe cases either for children or adults. FINALLY AT HOME.

Officials Take Possession of the New City Hall-How They are Located.

After many long years of patient waiting Omaha has come into the possession of a city hall. The structure however, is not completed but the work has reached a point where the contractor, John F. Coots, has turned the keys over to the superintendent of the building, and today most of the city of the building, and today most of the city officials are at home in the new structure. For the present the basement will remain unoccupied, except as a place for the storage of city property, though in course of time, should the growth of the city demand such a move, it will be fitted and furnished for officers. Until that time, however, the engineer and fireman will hold undisputed possession of all of that portion of the building below the first floor, as you enter the building

On the first floor, as you enter the building from the Farnam street front, you find the city cierk occupying ten rooms to the right. On the left are the apartments of the city treasurer. Farther on and in the northeast corner are the rooms of the chief of the fire department, while to the left are the rooms set apart for the fire and police alarm sys-tem. The northwest corner of the first floor is occupied by the comptroller.

The entire south half of the second floor is taken up by the council chamber, with committee rooms extending to the north side of the court on the west side of the building. Then to the north and on the west side are the rooms of the park commission, while in the northwest corner are two rooms which the plans state are for the overseer of the city poor, though at this time no such an official has an existence. The city physicians and the Board of Health have rooms on the north side, with the chief of police taking up the rooms on the east side, north of the council chamber. On the third floor the mayor has a suite of cool, airy rooms in the southwest corner, with the license inspector just to the north. Still north of that official is the assistant attorney. The city attorney has the rooms in the northwest corner, extending well around on the north side. In the northeast corner, and occupying three rooms, is located the fire and police commission. The balance not asigned. The fourth floor is full of offices. The entire north side and the offices in the northwest corner are occupied br the engineering department. The Board of Public Works has the southwest corner and part of the west side. Then on the south side, in their respective offices, are located the street commissioner, the sewer, sidewalk, meat and milk inspectors. The gas inspector has the southeast corner rooms with the boiler inspector to the north. Farther north are the rooms occupied by the in-spector of buildings and the plumbing in-

of the rooms on the east and south sides are

The fifth floor is set apart for the Board of Education and the Public Library association, but those bodies have not as yet decided to move into the quarters.

Deputy United States Marshal Harris came in yesterday from Hooper, Neb., with the most complete outfit of counterfeiters and counterfeiting implements and devices that have been captured in Nebraska for a long

The counterfeiters were discovered and located by the city marshal of the town of Hooper on the Eikhorn road, about thirty miles above Fremont. They were living in a tent on the bank of the river and the presence of a lot of counterfeit sitver dollars and $5 gold pieces in Hooper soon after the tenters arrived fastened the suspicion upon them.

Several of the merchants of Hooper made small sales to the three men living in the tent and in making change were swindled by tent and in maring change were swindled by having counterfeit gold pieces left with them in lieu of the correct amount of legal money. When Deputy Marshal Harris made the arrest Saturday evening he found a complete outfit of molds, ladles, babbit metal, about twenty $5 pieces made of the worthless metal used by the counterfeiters, some of which had been gilded, and a half-dozen counterfeit silver dollars.

The molds are made of plaster of paris The molds are made of plaster of paris blocks about four inches square, having the imprint of the $5 piece and the sliver $1 piece very neatly formed in them. The counterfeiters had a large quantity of the metal used in making the spurious coin and a box full of gliding or wash with which they prepared the $5 pieces for circulation. Their work was not that of experts, however, for the dollar pieces were miserable ever, for the dollar pieces were miserable efforts at counterfeiting. The $5 pieces were better imitations than the $1, but the gilding was so thin that it could be very easily rubbed off.

The names of the three counterfeiters are C. W. Dutcher, C. H. Holden and Grant Baughmann.

Holden and Banghmann have lived for some time at Lee Colfax county, and Dutcher seems to be a roustabout. They are all under 30 years of age, are unmarried and be long to the common laborer class. They were given a preliminary examina-tion yesterday afternoon and held for trial.

Union Pacific Telegraphers Waiting for an Increased Wage Schedule. D. G. Ramsey of East St. Louis, grand chief of the Order of Telegraphers, was expected in the city yesterday to assist the grievance committee in convincing the Union Pacific officials of the justness of the demand for an increase of wages. The committee and Assistant General Manager Dickinson have discussed the proposed rules and have reached an understanding that is satisfactory to both sides, but, very naturally, Mr. Dick-inson objects to an advence in the scale of wages. It is probable that another confer-ence will be held today, when Mr. Ramsey will present the case of the teleg-raphers. There are about 900 operators on the Union Pacific system, most of whom would be affected by the proposed schedule and rules.

"I suppose few men or women ever suffered from catarrh more than I. It would be too long a story to give you all my symptoms, but I can say that I feel very thankful that I am free from that painful and dangerous disease.

"It is unspeakable relief to be rid of the buzzing and ringing that was always in my ears and which I feared would really set me crazy. My head was dizzy, my nose filled up and I could not keep my throat and nose clear although I was constantly hawking and splitting in the endcavor to do so.

"I am free from all these annoying conditions now and am also cured of a dysnepsia which was very distressing. I often had a disgust for food—especially mornings; my stomach frith cavy and I blo tted after eating. My food seemed to do me no good.
