Prospect Hill Cemetery Discussed by Members of the Cou cil.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO ITS ENLARGEMENT

The City Attorney Again Given Instructions to Draw Up an Ordinance to That Effect-Paving the Streets-Details of the Session,

The deliberations of the council last night, owing to the absence of President Davis, were presided over by Mr. Chaffee. For a long time the meeting was uneventful, and then the Prospect Hill cemetery became the aubject of discussion.

At the last meeting of the council the Cemetery association applied for permission to enlarge the burial grounds by adding a strip of land on the south and another on the east. The council voted against any enlargement of the cemetery, and the city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance prohibiting any further enlargement.

City Attorney Connell last night reported that it was not any enlargement, but was simply to fence in, improve and sell burial lots from the two strips.

A taution was made to accept the report of the attorney, but four members were on their feet to protest.

Mr. McLearie said that the city attorney should have obeyed the instructions of the council and reported back the ordinance as

Mr. Howell said that it was simply a move to enlarge the cemetery. The title to the two strips was in the Byron Reed estate, and the city attorney could offer no excuse for not reporting the ordinance. Mr. Munro moved that the papers be referred back to the city attorney, and that he report the ordinance as instruted. Thought it Could Not Be Enforced,

Mr. Eisasser said that the motion was being engineered by the Forest Lawn Ceme-tery association, and was for the purpose of crushing out of existence the Prospect Hill Cemetery association. The city could pass the ordinance, he said, but it could not be enforced.

Mr. Prince replied that if it was any scheme it was the scheme of residents of the city, living near the cemetery who had tired of drinking the water that had passed over the dead bodies buried there.

Mr. McLearie protested against Mr. Elsasser stating that it was a scheme upon the part of the Forest Lawn people. He proposed to first protect the living and the dead afterwards. If there was any scheme it was upon the part of the Prospect Hill people to enlarge their grounds and sell lots for speculation. The wells around the cemetery had been poisoned and no further enlargement should be allowed.

City Attorney Connell said that if the strips were within the boundaries of the old cometery and a portion of it, the council pould not pass an ordinance that could be enforced, but if they were outside of such boundaries the city could control the Mr. McLearie said that Byron Reed never

At last the motion was put, and by a ma jority vote the city attorney was instructed to prepare the ordinance.

The mayor vetoed the ordinance ordering the paving of Twenty-eighth street from Poppleton to Woolworth avenues, for the reason that it was improperly drawn. The city engineer was instructed to draft the roper ordinance. Alfred Millard was named as an appraiser to assess damage arising from the proposed reconstruction of the Sixteenth street viaduct, vice S. P. Morse, who was formerly appointed but who is now out of the city. The appointment was confirmed.

The bids for carpeting the council chamber were opened and referred to the committee on public property and buildings. The city engineer was ordered to establish the grade of Forty-fifth street from Lodes to Grant street, and Military avenue, from Grant street to the city limits.

An ordinance was ordered locating the license inspector in some other room in the city hall, instead of the one which he now Tackling the Smoke Nulsance.

Mr. Eisasser's resolution to instruct the city-engineer to prepare an abstract, showing all lands and lots deeded to the Union Pacific Railway company by the city and by private individuals during the years that have rolled away was placed on file. It was argued that it would cost several hundred dollars and would require a year's time of one man.

The ordinance tooking to the paving of Seventeenth street from Harney to St. Mary's avenue was placed on file. The ordinance ordering the paving of Seventeenth street from Farnam to Harney street went over for one week, that the council might do a little investigating. There were two majority petitions for two different kinds of material. This came about by Chairman Berlin of the Board of County Commissioners having signed for the county for one kind of material, while Commissioner Stenberg of the same body had signed for mother kind of material.

The council went into committee of the whole and for an hour or more the members discussed the time-honored ordinance pro-viding for the relocation of sixty-eight fire hydrants. The idea of the ordinance was to take the hydrants from the suburbs where they are paid for at the rate of $75 per ansum and bring them to the center of the city and there locate them as intermediate hy-drants at $10 per annum each. When the ardinance came up for passage it was de-feated by a vote of 3 to 9. Then there was a resolution adopted instructing the ward councilmen to report the number of hydrants that could be removed and relocated in their respective wards.

He is a Youthful Forger. A bright little lad scarcely 14 years of age was locked up in a cell at the city jail last night and charged with forgery. Sometime ago the boy, who, by the way, was a waif, and who gives his name as Louis Jones, was taken in charge by Mrs. Van Cott, who lives at 1611 Howard street. The poor, puny, hungry child was fed, clothed and taught lessons from the school books at hand. Prosperity in the way of regular meals, and a comfortable place to sleep, was too much good luck for the boy. He wanted money, a little was enough, but be wanted it, and made an awful effort to get it. After a little practice the lad learned it, and made an awful effort to get it. After a little practice the lad learned the Van Cott signature, which was good at the bank, then some blank checks were pro-cured and four of the oblong slips of paper filed out for various amounts. The next step was to present the bits of paper at the bank for payment. Of course the swindle was discovered by the cashier, who declined to honor the checks, and the arrest of the boy followed. A complaint charging misde meaner will be filed against him today.

In anticipation of an increased business next year the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad intenus to expend from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 this year in extensions, track betterments and new equipment. Of this amount $1,630,000 will go into a new bridge over the Missouri river and greatly enlarged terminal facilities at St. Louis. Two new iron bridges, each costing $43,000 more than the old structures they re-place, are being eracted on the northern branch; $100,000 will be northern branch; $100,000 will be spent on an enlargement of the company's Chicago facilities. The contract for new equipment includes fifty focomotives, fifty-nine passenger coaches, fifty-five chair cars, 1,000 stock cars, 1,000 coal cars and 200 furniture cars. The Burlington's terminal investments in the north end of St. Louis preparatory to the extension of the St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern line from St. Peters to St. Louis has aiready cost nearly $3,000,000, which includes one of the largest freight stations in the world.

Everybody is familiar with the work done by the Prospect Hill Cemetery association in reclaiming the grounds and making most beautiful a once neglected and almost desolate place. A year or more ago the association built a picket fence around the cometery eaving astrip of ground bordering the cemetery and between the old and new tence line. This strip defines the old roadway Byron Reed estate and is wider at the south end than in any other place. The strip there measures about 125 feet. The owners of this strip propose to dedicate it to the cemetery association from This barrier of the complex of the strip propose to dedicate it to the cemetery association from This barrier of the complex of the cemetery association from This barrier of the cemeter association for the cemeter of ciation free. This has raised a protest on the part of property owners across the street whose lots face the south end of the cemetery grounds as originally platted.
The matter was taken before the city council and that body asked the city attorney for an opinion. It is reported today that Gity Attorney Connell is possibilities of a bargain had been of the opinion that the city has no right to interfere in the matter; that there is no legal obstacle to the dedication of the strip to the cemetery association.

This will make it possible for this tand to be cut up into burial lots and sold, and under the law the proceeds must apply solely to the maintenance of the grounds.
