

SHE SAVED HER OWN LIFE

Terrible Experience of an Old Lady with a Large Rattlesnake.

BITTEN BY THE VENOMOUS SERPENT.

His Deadly Fangs Plunged Into Her Finger—She Kills the Monster and Administers Such Heroic Treatment as to Survive.

PRINGLE, S. D., Aug. 15.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Last Friday morning Mrs. Joseph Horgan had an experience at her husband's ranch four and a half miles east of here, as thrilling as it was terrible. About 9 o'clock that morning Mrs. Horgan was signing the top of a cupboard when her left hand was bitten on the second finger of her left hand by a large rattlesnake which had crawled up there.

Mrs. Horgan, despite her 64 years, is still alive and the snake is dead.

When she had recovered from the shock and horror of the bite she hastily secured a cord and wound it tightly around the finger above the bite. Then she cut two deep gashes along the sides of the finger, and then she sucked the blood from the finger. Armed with a club she returned to the kitchen and soon dispatched the snake, not, however, without a desperate and dangerous battle, for his envenomed fangs were in her hand and he was fighting with her. But Mrs. Horgan is also something of a fighter, and while busily dispatching the vicious snake she kept striking it with the club until it was finally killed. When she had killed the snake she had won the fight she again sucked blood from her finger and sought for an antidote.

A pint of whisky she secured and drank. To make assurance doubly sure she mixed a strong dose of acetone and swallowed it. She made the mistake of taking too heavy a portion of the deadly poison, however, and it affected her head.

All this time Mrs. Horgan was alone in the house, and though she had availed herself of all assistance at hand, the effect of the rattlesnake's venom was becoming apparent. Her arm was beginning to swell and pained her dreadfully, showing the poison was entering the circulation of the blood. Her situation was becoming desperate.

At this time Mrs. Horgan was alone in the house, and though she had availed herself of all assistance at hand, the effect of the rattlesnake's venom was becoming apparent. Her arm was beginning to swell and pained her dreadfully, showing the poison was entering the circulation of the blood. Her situation was becoming desperate.

The doctor arrived at a point of bone charcoal and soda and administered spirits of ammonia internally. This he kept up all night, and Saturday morning Mrs. Horgan was sufficiently recovered to be removed to Hill City, where she could have better nursing.

The swelling in her arm was subsiding and the discoloration had entirely disappeared. This is taken as showing that the danger has passed.

Dr. Spence said Mrs. Horgan's prompt action and heroic treatment of the wound undoubtedly saved her life. He considers the preliminary treatment of bleeding, whisky and acetone as efficient as anything that could be taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Horgan formerly lived at Hastings, Neb., but came to the Black Hills about eight years ago. His ranch is now one of the finest and best stocked in the country. Mrs. Horgan is well known and has many warm friends who will congratulate her on having safely passed through a most horrible experience.

[Dr. S. W. Mitchell, the eminent authority on the subject, recommends the application of a ligature about the injured part, and then the application of the ligature in precisely the manner pursued by Mrs. Horgan. He states, however, that whisky, or other alcoholic liquors, must not be relied upon as an antidote. It serves only as a stimulant to the heart's action, which is usually greatly enfeebled by snakebite. The antidote treatment is also advocated by Dr. Mitchell. This is only preliminary treatment, and as soon as possible after being bitten, the patient should be placed in charge of a competent physician.—En. H.]

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Various Matters Considered and Passed Upon Last Night.

After the parade last night the Board of Education transacted some business. A communication from the Plasterers' union was referred to a committee of three. It referred to the matter of having workmen paid when discharged on the laying open of the wall.

An application from Miss Jansen of Chicago for a position as teacher of German was referred to the committee on High school.

There was a long, hard protest sent in by "Citizens of Davenport School," in which there was some very peculiar spelling and some vigorous charges against the principal of the Davenport school. The communication was filed.

Mr. C. E. Babcock then slipped in a very serious resolution, which, if it had carried, would have practically taken Superintendent Hamilton's resignation. The resolution sought to place the supervision of all remains under the control of the architect of the board. The resolution was lost by a decisive vote of seven to three.

On recommendation of the committee on kindergarten Miss Bella Shields of St. Louis and Miss Annie B. Smith of LaPorte, Ind., were elected as directors of the two kindergarten schools that are to be opened next term.

The committee on buildings and property recommended that the contract for putting in slate base at the Hancock school be let to Baile & Reed and that the contract for putting in the stone steps at the Leavenworth school be awarded to Benjamin Mequist.

The usual work took place over the election of a few janitors who had not been included in the list elected last week. The committee on heating and ventilation for the new school building of the board of education was also organized.

Several members of the board wanted Mr. Weber to explain why his contract was dropped. He declared that he was one of the best janitors in the city. It was broadly asserted that the reason Mr. Weber had been dropped was because he was a Jew. Mr. Weber said he was not a Jew and that he had done some work about the building last winter that incurred the ill will of the plumbers. He said he would work for the board of education for the next year and that he would be a good janitor.

An effort was made to elect the remaining janitors, but the only one securing eight votes was Mrs. Kate Anderson of the Hickory school, and the election of the others was postponed.

The status of the new Hartman school was discussed informally by Mr. Martin and Mr. Morrison. Mr. Morrison was opposed to having the money needed for the new school building for the Hartman school charged against the Hartman building fund. He wanted it charged against the general fund, so that the amount appropriated would cover the cost of the new building. Mr. Martin stated that the bids submitted for the new building were in excess of the appropriation and that the members of the board must take care to make an effort to change the plans in such a manner that the building could be put up within the appropriation.

Mr. Morrison again combatted the scheme to change the plans of the new Hartman school. He declared that the board had taken $5,000 out of the general fund to purchase sites for other buildings, and that it was not fair to take the money out of the general fund for the Hartman school, but when it came to buying additional ground for a South Side building then the board became very particular in having all the money taken out of the special appropriation for that school. He thought that was very unfair.

Dr. Spalding wanted the board to reject all the bids and readvertise, with the hope of securing bids low enough to be within the limits of the appropriation.

Mr. C. E. Babcock moved as an amendment to Dr. Gibbs' motion that the board proceed to readvertise for bids for the erection of the new building at the Hartman site. Carried.

The board authorized the committee on text books to purchase some books needed upon the opening of school.

The board adjourned to meet next Monday night.

What McKinley Said. OMAHA, Aug. 15.—To the Editor of THE BEE: I noticed in THE BEE a denial of the W-H's assertion that Governor McKinley stated in his Omaha address that the "consumer paid the tax." The governor did so state and made a good point against the free traders by so doing. His words were: "When you place a tariff upon articles not produced in this country, upon articles in which there is no competition here, then the foreigner brings his wares to this country at the usual price, but adds the amount of the tax at the custom house, and you pay the tax. But when a tariff is placed upon articles which are manufactured in this country, and the foreigner meets competition here, then he cannot add the tariff to the usual price of his wares for that reason. So that under Mr. Cleveland's idea of tariff you will pay the tax, but under the republican system the foreigner pays it." HENRY HICKMAN.

Disease never successfully attacks the system with pure blood. DeWitt's Sarsaparilla makes pure, new blood and enriches blood.

How Garbage Should be Handled. Sanitary Inspector Brevoort returned from Denver yesterday morning and at once took up the matter of handling garbage.

Mr. Brevoort expresses the opinion that Omaha is a long distance behind Denver in the way of handling sanitary affairs.

In Denver the garbage removal is done by the city. It is dumped into a covered wagon, the refuse floats away, while all hard material is gathered up and put upon the streets, or upon low lots. Last year the city expended $20,000 in the sanitary department, while Omaha expended but a trifling more than $10,000. Denver has eleven inspectors, while here the business is handled by three men.

DeWitt's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood, increases the appetite and tones up the system. It has benefited many people who have suffered from blood disorders. It will help you.

Douglas County Republicans. The Douglas and Reid club of the county precincts met at Douglas precinct Sunday afternoon.

In the absence of President Timmer Mr. Lane of West Omaha was made chairman of the meeting and F. Crawford of East Omaha secretary.

A committee was appointed to secure speakers and make arrangements for a joint debate between Allen Root and some good republican speaker at Elkhorn August 21, at 1 p. m. F. Crawford, H. Kelsey and G. Stevens will arrange for the meeting.

The next meeting of the club will be held at Elkhorn next Sunday, August 21, at 1 o'clock sharp.

Cook's Extra Dry Imperial Champagne is better, healthier and purer than the imported article. It has a delightful bouquet.

Will Join the Militia. The Omaha guards will become a part and parcel of the state militia and next Monday night they will be at the armory for the purpose of being sworn in. Captain Milford in speaking of the proposed change, said last night that the main object was to give the guards a better standing. Financially it would be a great benefit to the guards, and would bring the boys more prominently before the public.

DeWitt's Sarsaparilla destroys such poisonous scraps, skin diseases, eczema, scurvy, etc. It timely use saves many lives.

Will Address His Old Regiment. John Butler left for Columbus Junction, Ia., last night, where today he will deliver the address at a reunion of the Fifth Iowa infantry. Thirty years ago Mr. Butler was a member of the regiment and fought with the boys through the unpleasantness of the early '60s. This accounts for his presence in Iowa.

THE SCHOLAR TEACHERS.

Mrs. Nettie Rhett, a Teacher in the Omaha View School, Comments Mrs. Copeland & Shepard.

Teaching school is a toilsome and exacting employment. The work is far from healthful. The dust of the school-room and the physical and mental strain induce catarrhal troubles, headaches and nervous exhaustion. Quite a number of teachers are being treated by Drs. Copeland & Shepard for these and kindred complaints. Among them is Mrs. Nettie Rhett of the Omaha View school, who briefly says:

"I went to Drs. Copeland & Shepard to get relief from a severe and persistent headache. The pain affected the frontal region—the eyes, temples and forehead. On top of this, there was pain, burning and smarting in the back of the head. My system was worn out and I was weak and nervous. I rested poorly at night. In fact, my nervous system seemed broken down and exhausted. I have received great benefit from Drs. Copeland & Shepard. My headaches are entirely gone, also the catarrhal trouble. I am steadily gaining strength and nervous force and the treatment from these physicians has been highly beneficial to me in every way."

Catarrh, plainly speaking, is a loathsome disease, and especially so to women, as it not only unites them for their duties, but it makes them feel that their friends and the people they meet very painful to them and very humiliating.

Miss Millie Gunderson, of the Merriam Hotel, 33rd and Dodge streets, contracted catarrh in childhood. This well known young lady says:

"Ever since I was four or five years old I have had catarrh. Dryness and irritation of the nose and throat with hawking and spitting in the vain effort to clear them were always present. I often choked up and felt pain dropping from up in my head into my throat. My sides and chest were sore and painful. A coated tongue and tainted breath attended every day. I was clearly well and can thank these physicians for curing me of a disgusting disease."
