PUGILISTIC MONARCHS.

Sullivan and Corbett in New York City

Rival Attractions. New Youk, Aug. 28 .- Now that the preparatory work is all over and Sullivan and Corbett are in the pink of condition for their great prize fight, which is to take place in New Orleans September 7, the excitement will be intense until the battle takes place. Both pugitists will be in town tomorrow, where they will remain until they leave on their respective trains for the baft! ground. Sullivan will show at the Clermont avenue rink, in Brooklyn, tomorrow night avenue rink, in Brooklyn, tomerrow night and it is thought that the building will not be able to accommodate the large throng that will crowd there to see him.

Corbett, on the other hand, will give a fouble-headed entertainment at the Madison Square garder, this city. The afternoon entertainment will consist chiefly of exhibiting his style of training to the public, going through the entire program, which will doubtless prove highly interesting, as the average person has not the slightest idea doubtless prove highly interesting, as the average person has not the slightest idea of the tremendous amount of labor and exercise he is compelled to undergo in order to reduce his flesh and harden nim up for the terrible ordeal of a prize fight. In the average the entire entertainment will consist chiefly of boxing, wrestling and an exhibition of hand bail playing between him and Lawter, the Chicago champion. It is pretty generally believed that both these entertainments will be largely attended, and especially the one given in the afternoon as the men who go to see Sullivan in the evening will see Curbett in the afternoon in order to draw comparisons between the respective

Corbett and McCaffrey

The sporting public is somewhat anxious to know what will be the outcome of the meeting tomorrow morning between Corvett and Dominick McCaffrey. The men were never friends, but since McCaffrey has been airing his opinions so freely about the Corbett-Sullivan fight in the cally papers, the feeling between the two puglists has been a very bitter hatred. Opinions differ.

batred. Opinions differ.
Sullivan a few weeks ago was regretting the fact of not having a better man to meet than Corbett, as he would be dragging his friends away down to New Orleans to see a comparatively one sided fight, as it would be over in a few punches and that would scarcely pay them for a long journey. Cor-bett, on the other hand, was delighted by the compliments Sullivan paid him, and is training harder for this fight than he ever trained in his life before. Corbett feels just as confident that he is going to defeat Sullivan as "the latter does that he will have a "soft snap" with Corbett. Jim smiled pleasantly today and said: "I see

antly today and said: "I see that Sullivan is taking precau-tions, according to a paragraph relating to his fighting shoes," The great thickness of the sole and the unusual height of the heel of these shoes are intended to raise Sullivan from the floor and put him nearer on an equality with Corbett in height than he would otherwise be.

With another pleasant smile and wink Jim said: "It is evident that if Sullivan thinks he is to have such an easy time, his friends are not quite so sure of his soft snap and are doing every thing in their power to further

Results at the Annual Tournament a Suc cession of Surprises. NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 28.-The annual tournament of the National Lawn Tennis association is approaching its end. The present series has been more than usually full of surprises. Indeed so pronounced has been the tendency of things to go contrary to general anticipation that onlookers bave ome at last to expect the unexpected.

One result of the play, up to the second round, was the removal from the lists of an unusually large number of mea once among the best, who, with their retirement from the present tournament, are practically sent permanently to the roar and are likely never to appear again as formidable candidates for championship honors, if at all. Among these are Joe Clark, Quincy Shaw, Huntington, Stocum, Phil Sears and possibly Knapp, all strong players in their time.

Of the four men who have reached the finals, Hovey came by the smoothest way, having an easy match with each man, and not being called upon to exert himself. Wrenn's hardest work was against Knapp, and that was hard enough. Hall won two pitched batties on the way, against Hobart and Chase. The former could not have been other than in doubt, but the second should apparently have been easier than it seemed. Larned, like Hovey, had an easy time of it, though he passed such men as Slocum and Valentine. Hall is no longer formidable, as

Play in the semi-final round, postponed from Saturday, will begin tomorrow. As to the outcome it is extremely hazardous to even venture an opinion. It would seem as though Hovey and Hall should win on Monday, and so come together in the finals on the day following. But Wrenn and Larned are not to be counted out until after they have been beaten. Neither is generally leaked upon me are probable but as a prosibile. looked upon as a probable, but as a possible winner. If Hovey and Hall finally mee most of those who have followed the play name the former as the more likely to win. Whoever the winner of the all-comers may be, it is the general opinion that Champion Campbell will successfully defend his title, and by his third yietory again be able to carry off the big cup as his personal property.

S.- | Special Telegram to Tue Bee. |-The first organization of its kind at Camp Sheridan is Pemberton's female drum corps, which caused all the veterans present to tage in the sights whilst keeping in step with the beat of the drum. They came in on an afternoon train and proceeded to camp at

The camp is ready for the thousands who are expected to fill it with animation within a few hours. In fact, several hundred are already here, having come in by train from the Superior reguion and by wagon from variouz parts of the state. In point of convenient arrangements and beauty of construction, Camp Sheridan far excels all past efforts. Experionce has been rather a dear school to the cunion committee, but the active members have profited by it, and the result will be appreciated by all who may come. One of the most important features this year will be the more complete organization of state societies, to the end that all may, in the future, act in unison. It has been suggested, and the suggestion will be carried out, that every the suggestion will be carried out, that every state organize, and that the secretaries of the various state societies then hold a meeting and organize by electing a president, secretary and treasurer, so as to crystalize the work and make it possible to reach by mail any member of any state organization. It is also proposed that each state prepare a roster, giving not only the comrade's name, company, regiment and present place of residence, but also the place from which he enlisted. "Where Did You Enlist?"

This will be a great help in the search for friends. The question most often asked at a reunion is, "Where did you enlist!" Stormy weather is the only thing that can privent the present rengion being the largest and grandest ever neld in the state.

A majority of the old soldiers of Nebraska are farmers who settled here in an early day and most of them are now comfortably situated. The season has been a favorable one. Crops are good and the soldier farmers feel that they can spend a week shaking hands with the boys, and listening to the words of patriotism which are sure to be uttered from the rostrum and around the camp

The city too, offers attractions. Grand Is land is in her Sunday clothes and the citizens are a unit in one grand effort to properly entertain the nation's defenders. Broken Bow has a tent to accommodate 500 of its people who will attend the reunion. Street cars are running to the camp every ten minutes, and are well filled with visitors who want to take a good look at the camp be fore the crowds come. Since this is, also, the last day that carriages or vehicles of any de-scription will be allowed on the grounds, the people are enjoying the opportunity.

A light shower fell last night, settled the dust and made the visit to the camp doubly pleasant this morning.

West Point News. WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 28 .- | Special to

THE BEE. |-The intelligence of the death of Peter Walla has been received by his friends in this city. Walla was born June 25, 1865, in Wisconsin and emigrated with his parents to West Point in the fall of 1868. He was a resident of this city till 1877, when he left for Chicago, where he has lived since. For eleven years he has been engaged in business with his brother Paul. His health began to fall about a year ago, and on August 17 he left for Palmer Lake, Colo., in com-pany with some of his friends, and August 20 he died. He was out one day in the country where he expected to regain his health His remains were brought to this city Monday evening and taken to St. Charles cen tery Tuesday morning for burial.

While on his way to McKirahan's lake Otto Kerl accidently fell off a dirt wagon beneath the wheels, the wagon passing over picked up he was found to be unconscious. He was hurriedly brought to his home in this city and a physician summoned. Keri's consciousness has been recovered and he is now resting easy.

At the residence of Fred Schmellar Tues day morning a wedding celebration took place, the event being the marriage of Mr. Ira C. Batchelor to Miss Clara Bergtoid. The groom is a promising young lawyer from Omaha and the bride is a cultured young lady of this city. They left for a trip to Colorado Tuesday afternoon, after which they will make their future home at Omaha. Ferdinand Koch returned Saturday from Germany, after having a pleasant visit of about three .nonths. During his absence he visited Prague, Dresden, Munich, West-baden, Leipsic, Berlin and numerous smaller places. His daughter Agnes, who accom-

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 28.-[Special elegram to THE BEE. |-There was an exciting scene at the dedication of St. Patrick's Catholic church in West Cedar Rapids this norning. Bishop Hennessy of Dubuque was present and the crowd was so large that the capacity of the church was insufficient to hold the people, Suddenly the cry of "thief?" was raised and a man, pursued by a crowd dashed out of the church. A couple of policemen, who were present, soon had the fellow in charge.

The crowd was wrought up terribly and cries of, "Shoot the thief!" "Lynch him, lynch him!" were heard on every side, and it was with some difficulty that the officers succeeded in getting their man to the The thief had snutched the pocketbook of Western Cattle Will Begin Coming This Week-A Good Run Expected. A good run of western cattle is looked for at the Union stock yards this week, and the receipts will be very large for several weeks to come. The movement of the western rangers has just begun and is slightly behind the time they began coming in ast year. The reason for this is plain to those who are familiar with the matter. The western ranges have been favored with an abundance of rain this year and the grass has remained green longer than is usual. The cattle are fattened and ready for market, but it would be unprofitable to ship them until the grass has turned a little. They would not be sufficiently hardened to stand shipment taking them directly off of the green grass. The cattle are in as fine a condition as they have ever been heretofore, and some very desirable stuff may be looked for when they begin to come in

Picked Up a Runaway Boy. Last evening Officer Kroeger found a boy district by acclamation. P. M. Moodie was about 16 years of age hanging around the streets and took him into custody. The boy's appearances indicated that he was traveling a rocky road, his clothes being ragged and dirty and he was the perfect picture of one who had followed the leachings of the dime novel, came west to become a conqueror and here and was trying to get home completely conquered himself. He gave his name a Charles Soukup and says he ran away from home last June in company with several other boys about his own age. His father conducts a small store in Chicago. The police will care for the boy until his parents are neard from.

Important City Contracts to Be Awarded. Two important city contracts are to be awarded by the council Monday evening, September 5, and bids have been advertised for. The first is the paving of L street from Twenty-fourth street west to Twenty-seventh street. The estimated cost of doing the work is $13,000, and the contract must be completed within sixty days. The other contract is for the laving of all sidewalks in the city for the next year. This contract has been held by R. H. Griffith for the past year, and is quite a plum, and a

At the Farnam street theater yesterday, for the second time within a week, the pop ularity of the dialect comedian was strik ingly demonstrated. George C. BEE.]—About 9 o'cleek this morning a small residence belonging to Judson Hughes, situated near the cefiner of Fourteenth and Clarkson, was nearlig descroyed by fire. It was occupied by the family of J. A. Hagle, who had just taken possession of it vesterday. The fire originated by reason of a defective flue in the kitchen. Nearly all of Mr. Hagle's household goods were saved without injury. They were insured for $550. The loss on the building is $200 or $500; insured. The play, "A Royal Pass," is based on the operations, or rather the machinations, of the Russian police system. Ivan Zotoff, a Siberian refingee, is pardoned, but the royal passport falls into the hands of an enemy, who causes him to be rearrested. The incidents leading to the recovery of the pass and Zotoff's escape to Germany form a plot of considerable power and interest. In fact it has a fuller and more consistent story than many plays of its class and the dramatic complications are worked out with clever probability and effective climaxes.

Mr. Staley plays the character of a droil, good natured, musical German, who is a friend in need and opportunely steps in to foll the viliains at critical stages. The support is not strong, but Mr. Staley, with his acongs and his comicanties, is the central figure and is quite equal to entertaining the audience. His first appearance last night was greeted with a salvo of applause, and he had the audience's resibilities in commotion Nugget! Nugget! Nugget! Buy Big Nuggetbaking powder. 33 oz. 25 cents. during every scene. The locomotive race in the third act was an exciting piece of real-ism, and the house went into a frenzy of cheering that would not be stilled until Mr. States appeared before the curtain and bowed his acknowledgements.

Among the company was a child, Bessie Tunnelle, who attracted deserved attention. The little tot, besides being pretty and saying her lines well—generally all that is required in such roles—actually made an effort at fitting dramatic action to the words. During one of the choruses she was a curious study as she tried to imitate the movements of the older people, meanwaile joining in the song with an earnest vim, and she got a round of handelapping for her sweet cute-

PREPARING FOR LABOR DAY.

What Is Being Done to Make Its Celebration a Grand Success,

A rapidly increasing interest is manifested in the preparations for the coming labor day celebration in Omaha. Another meeting of the committee of Central Labor union was the committee of Central Labor union was hold at Gate City hall at 10 a m, yesterday and every member of the committee was present. Sixteen additional assistant marshals reported for instructions, making forty-three that have reported up to date. The arrangements have been so far perfected that a full participation on the part of the various local societies is assured. These include all the trade unions, Knights of Labor assemblies and other societies of Omaha, South Omaha and other societies of Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Among the organizations which will be represented in the parade are the Omaha Wheel club, the Swedish Singing society, the Bohemian Turners and St. George's sc ciety and the Durant Hose company. The and inspiriting bagpipes will be a prominent feature. The South Omaha aggregation of cowboys will be out in force.

The music will be one of the most notice-able features of the parade. Nearly every band in Omaha will turn out in addition to Dalbey's band of Council Bluffs and the South Omaha band.

There will be two bands at Syndicate park during the afternoon, one of which will render a concert program while the other will furnish music for those who wish to dance Speeches will be made by General Van Wyck and D. Clem Deaver, each of whom will be limited to thirty minutes. General Van Wyck will discuss the labor question and Mr. Deaver will orate on "Home In-dustry." The latter subject was assigned in deference to a request from the Manufacturers and Consumers association, which has been very liberal in its donations toward the enterprise One of the features of the picnic will be a barbecue in the interests of which the largest steer in the stock yards will be sac The manufacturers and wholesalers will have floats representing the various business enterprises of the city. The committee decided to request all wholesale houses and factories to close during the day and to invite the mayor, city council, city and county officials, district judges and the fire department to participate in the parade. The mayor and city officials of South Omaha are also included. The program and line of march is not complete but will soon be ready for publication No intexicating inquors will be allowed in the park and all games of chance will also be strictly prohibited.

J. B. Schupp was appointed grand marshai with D. Clem Deaver and Frank Heacock as nides. E. Q. Overall will be the marshal in charge of Central Laber union. The division marshals choosen so far are Stephen Carmody, James Kirk, M. Wilson, J. A. Long and C. L. Newstrom. W. B. Musser will be master of ceremonies.

The committee will meet again this even-ing at the residence of W. B. Musser, 1315 Capitel avenue and again Tuesday evening at Gate City hall. All assistant marshall are requested to be present, also any committee of arrangements. Any society that has not received a formal invitation and would like to be represented in the parade should send a marshal to the committee or address the secretary of Con-
