W. H. Uhler of Omaha Sues James McGrew of Lincoln.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS ASKED FOR

Sequel to a Police Court Affair of Last Week -W. R. Dennis' Burgiar Bound Over -Mayor Weir's Timely Warning.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 29 .- | Special to Tan BEE. ]-A neat type-written document filed with the clerk of the district court furnishes the sequel to the somewhat peculiar state of domestic affairs unearthed in this city last Thursday night when W. H. Uhler of Omaha caused the arrest of James McGrew for living with Mrs. Unier without legal warrant or authority. Mr. Uhler has sued McGrew for damages in the amount of $10,000 for aleniating his wife's affections. In his petition he alleges that in 1888, and many times since, McGrew debauched Cynthia M. Uhler, then and still the wife of plaintiff, thereby aléniating and destroying her affection for him and depriving him of her society, fellowship and assistance. In consideration of these facts Unier asks for damages in the amount of $10,000.

Wygent Bound Over.

Abraham Wygent, the mau discovered in a closet in the residence of W. R. Dennis last Saturday morning, was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of burglary. He entered a piece of not guilty and set up the defense that he had not forced his way into the house, but had entered through the front door, which he had found open. His story was disproven, however, by the testi-mony of a number of witnesses who swore that the house had been securely tocked and fastened several hours before Wygent effected an entrance. He was beand over to the district court in the sum of $500, in default of which he was sent to the county jail. Wrgent is the same man who entered the Williams residence on South Seventeenth street one week ago last Sunday morning. He was taken to the place by the police Saturday afternoon and fully identified by Mrs. Williams, who caught a full view of his face when he entered her room.

Mayor Weir's Timety Warning. Mayor Weir this morning issued the following proclamation: "In view of the danger of an invasion of our country by that terrible pestilence, th cholera, it seems very necessary to put the city in as good good sanitary condition as posrible. Therefore, all citizens are earnestly requested to st once remove all offensive matter from their premises and to thoroughly clean all vaults, allevs, cesspools, etc., and to promptly empty swill barrels whenever they may become offensive. It is a surprising fact that some prominent physicians permit a great amount of filth in alloys in the rear of their premises, and storekeepers and meat markets pay little attention to health and cleanliness in disposing of their rubbish and Unless the matter is promptly attended to within five days from date, special officers will be detailed to thoroughly examine the city, and all offenders against the laws of health and decency will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

Adams County's Fine Rain.

HASTINGS, Nob., Aug. 20,-|Special to THE BEE.|-Last night a heavy rain fell over Adams county which arrived at a most opportune time for farming. About 8 o'clock the storm began, presaged by a heavy wind, After a few minutes a fall of hall set in, which threatened to blow in or crack exposed windows. Fortunately, the hall ceased before any serious damage had been done and a steady fall of rain lasting nearly through the entire night began failing. The inch or more of water which fell will have a most salutary effect upon fall pasturage and will render the ground moist enough for fall plowing. While the hall and wind cut the corn somewhat and in cases blew it over, the rain which followed will more than counterbalance the other effects.

Two counterbalance the other effects.

CLOSED THE VIADUCT.

The Eleventh Street Structure Must Be Thoroughly Overhauled for Safety's Sake. The street commissioner was given his orders, and at noon yesterday he closed the Eleventh street viaduct by building barricades at each end of the structure. The street cars, wagons and foot passegers are prohibited from crossing.

Chairman Birkbauser of the Board of Public Works said that it was impossible to say what would be done with the viaduct. What was needed was a new bridge, but whether or not there would be one was a matter resting wholly with the city council. In the first place the old viaduct was not wide enough to handle the traffic, and, again, at best, it was a frail structure, not designed to carry street cars and heavy traffic. If re-pairs were made, he thought, they would be very costly. A new deck and stringers would have to be put on, as almost the entire wood work had rotted away. Superintendent Smith of the street railway company said that for a day or two it would inconvenience the people on the south end of temporary. The company would run the Walnut Hill cars around the Howard street oop and handle the South Eleventh street passengers with the Thirteenth street line.

Official Notice. OMARIA, Aug. 29 .- The Eleventh street viaduct is closed to all kinds of travel on recom. nendation of city engineer and order of Board of Public Works.

CANNOT BE EXPELLED.

Jackson, Higgins & Co. Win a Legal Battle Against the Live Stock Exchange. The members of the live stock commission arm of Jackson, Higgins & Co. are in high spirits. They have fought a legal battle and have routed the enemy. Last spring this firm and the South Omaha Live Stock exchange had a row. It was over commissions. The exchange charged that Jackson, Higgins & Co. had violated its rules and that they had paid dealers and stockmen a commission for shipping stock to their firm. The members of the firm denied the charge in a most emphatic man-ner. An investigation followed, at which it was proven that a man who was in the employ of the firm, unknown to any of the members, had advanced a dealer enough money to pay his return fare to York, this state. The firm had bought a large number of cattle from the York man and had refused to allow him a rebate of railroad fare.

The explanation did not satisfy the members of the exchange, and at a meeting they voted to expel the firm. Getting wind of this Jackson, Higgins & Co. applied to Judge Irvine for a restraining order to pre vent an expulsion. This was argued at the May term of court and yesterday the judge handed down an opinion, in which he held that Jackson, Higgins & Co. had not violated the rules of the exchange and that they could not be expelled. SUNDAY'S HOMICIDE.

Results of the Coroner's Jury's Inquiries

In the Case, The inquest over the body of Paul Tomaso, the Italian who was killed during a quarrel by Peter Scalese Sunday, was neld at the morgue yesterday afternoon. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death by a blow with an iron bar wielded by Scalese.

No additional evidence of any importance was developed by the testimony. Pas-quale Cartoldi, who runs the boarding quate Cartoid, who runs the boarding car on the Burlington at which the laborers are fed, saw the trouble and his testimony was somewhat damaging to the prisoner. He said that Scalese picked up the bar and Tomaso remarked that he was not afraid. Then Scalese struck him twice, once on the thigh and again on the temple. The victim had no weapon of any kind, Scalese was present at the inquest and lis-

Washington Bureau of The Bee, 513 Fourteenth Street, Washington, D. C., Aug. 29. The resurvey question was again taken up today by Senator Paddock, who spent two hours in the Interior department struggling with officials. Grant, Arthur, Cherry and two or three other counties are anxious for

SOUTH DAKOTA LINEN.

Another Industry Put in Operation Through the Workings of the McKinley Bill, Collector Alexander of the customs office has just received a new evidence of the beneficial effects of the McKinley bill. It is in the shape of linen goods manufactured by the linen mills of Sloux Falls, S. D. The mills have but recently been opened, but they are turning out, some very credit-able looking goods in the coarser fabrics made of linen, such as toweling and crash. The proprietors have sent to Mr. Alexander about twenty samples of their product, also some of the raw thread as it appears before weaving.

The mill machinery was imported last spring, passing through the Omaha customs house, and the proprietors promised Collector Alexander that they would send him some samples of their product when the mills were started. Mr. Alexander is agreeably surprised by the excellent quality of the goods sent, although the mills are intended at present only for the coarser grades of goods.
