Ketcham Furniture Company Gets an Everlasting Grip on Omaha.

RECENT DISCOVERY IN ITS CONTRACT

Little Clause Which City Officials Say Binds Omaha to Buy Its Furniture of the Ketcham Concern Forever.

While the members of the city council are talking about advertising for bids for furniture for some of the rooms in the city ball that were not included in the contract with the Ketcham company, the agent of that concern is not saying a word, although he is doing considerable laughing in his sleeve. He is a sly fellow, and, while he has not said so, he feels that everything drops into the hands of the man who is willing to wait and bide his time. The reason why this agent maintains this passive position is beagent maintains this passive position is de-cause he is of the opinion that he has a con-tract which works both ways, one that catches them coming, as well as going. Instead of being jughandled, it has handles on both sides, which he proposes to grasp when the proper time comes, or when the council attempts to invite bids for additional furniture. It is this way: The contract is a very plain, simple, everyday document, in which, for the sum of $14,720.50, the company proposes to furnish all of the articles enumerated in the schedule, which is made a part of the contract. On the schedule is where the company gets in its work. That document names chairs, sofas, desks, divans, hatracks, bookcases and scores of other articles. Opposite each one of these there is a price at which they will be furnished, and then the saving clause upon which the Ketcham peopie propose to stand and prevent any compe-tition is to the effect that if the city should require additional furniture it will be furnished at the prices named in the schedule.

No time is stated, and the opinion is ex pressed in official circles that ten years hence, should the city want a new table or a new chair, it would be compelled to purchase it from the Toledo concern regardless of its value at the time, but at the prices stipulated in the schedule.

Several of the city officials in discussing this subject said that it would be folly to ask for bids; with the schedule, which the council accepted, the Ketcham company had the city on the bip and it was absolutely power less to get away. Of course the city could ask for bids on the furniture which it proposed to buy, but if the bids should be higher than the prices made by the Ketcham company at the old letting they would have to be rejected. If they should be lower, then the Ketcham people would come in and demand the contract under its old schedule. If this was refused the Ketcham concern would enjoin the city from awarding the contract, alleging that it had an agreement with the city by which the latter was bound for all time to come.

A prominent lawyer of the city who has had occasion to look up the contract and the schedule of prices on the furniture said that there was no donot but that the Ketcham people had everything their own way; they had worked hard and had spent lots of money, but by so doing they had been able to manipulate things until they had secured just the kind of a contract they wanted, one by which they could hold the city's furniture trade forever, if they felt so disposed.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS. a Barber Contract Was Ignored-

Some New Engagements. There was a little side play at the session of the Board of Public Works held yesterday afternoon, which was hard for an outsider to understand. On August 26, when the bids on paving were opened, the Barber Asphalt company was a competitor. Its bid, however, had not been sent to the council and on account of the failure Major Balcombe took the chairman to task. He started in by say-ing that it was a trick perpetrated by the chairman.

The chairman said that he had not for-warded the contract simply because the con-tract lacked the signatures of the members. Major Balcombe had refused to sign the contract and had also refused to give his reasons for withholding his signature. The chairman demanded why he refused.
"I don't care to hold a post mortem," said

Major Balcombe, "but I can give my reasons." "It was on account of the change in the specifications," said Major Furay.

That settled the discussion and the board proceeded to business.

J. M. Wilson presented a biil of $66 for twenty-two days' pay as sidewalk inspector on permanent walks. The bill was rejected and Mr. Wilson allowed $48, which the board figured out was the amount to which he was entitled for sixteen days' service. Katz & Callanan were awarded grading contracts as follows: Grant street, from Forty-second to Forty-fifth streets, at 14% cents; the alley in block 5, Improvement association addition, from Nineteenth to Twentieth streets, at 189-10 cents; the alley in block 4, Campbell's addition, from Twentieth to Twenty-first streets, at 2454 cents, and the alley between Dupont and Castellar streets, from Twenty-ninth street to the west line of Dupont Place, at 22 cents per cubic yard. The board will meet again Monday morn

WEEPING WATER, Non., Oct. 28, '90.—Dr. Moore: My Dear Sir—I have just bought the third bottle of your Tree of Life. It is indeed a "Tree of Life." Doctor, when you so kindly gave me that first bottle my right side was so lame and sore and my liver enlarged so much that I could not lie upon my right side at all. There was a soreness over my kidneys all of the time, but now that trouble is all over. I sleep just as well on one side as on the other, and my sleep rests and refreshes me, and I feel the best I've felt in fifteen years and I know that it all day. In fifteen years, and I know that it is all due to your Tree of Life. Yours very truly, Kings of the Elevator. The people of Omaha who have occasion to do business at the city hall are rapidly becoming disgusted with the elevator service furnished. Up to this date three elevator men have been on the payroll to run one elevator, but with even this number of con-ductors there has been little if any service. The men are overbearing and insulting. They spit tobacco juice on the floor of the car and kick if they are compelled to make an extra trip. These men go on duty at 8 o'clock in the morning and quit when the 5 o'clock whistle begins to blow. If a party happens to be on the fifth floor when the whistle blows, that party has to walk down, as the elevator man will not go after him. Even with the short hours the men work, they object to running after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoons, and never think of making an evening trip.

Webster and Miss Webster are due to sail by the Normannia, of the Hamourg packet line, this week or next, and should they sail from Southamp ton, as they must now do, the question arises whether they would be detained in quaran tine for twenty days, as the president's pro-clamation intimates would be a reasonable length of time, Mr. William A. I felt better, and in a few moments took another dose, which entirely relievee me. SCHOOL DAYS COMING.

Plans of the Superintendent for Resuming School Work Promptly. Superintendent Fitzpatrick is very busy at present getting the teachers assigned to their places for the coming year. It is a difficult task on account of the fact that severai of the teachers will be kept out of school by sickness for several weeks, per-haps for a whole term. Aside from this and haps for a whole term. Aside from this and the filling up of vacancies there will be few changes from the arrangement of last year.
It is hoped that the publis may be all enrolled and assigned to their proper grades and the work of recitations be got under way within a couple of days after school opens or by Thursday of next week. A great deal of valuable time has been lost in the Quaha schools herefore by not lost in the Omaha schools heretofore by not getting the organization of grades and classes completed for several days after opening. Superintendent Fitzpatrick made an effort to correct that fault last fall and hopes to have the difficulty still more completely removed at the opening of the schools next week.
