tomers, and the retail dealers throughout the state find the Columbus Buggy com-pany's exhibit a convenient location to inspect the newest styles in vehicles. At the state fair every year all the Nebraska whole-sale dealers are met and taken care of in the nost generous manner possible. Every possible courtesy is extended them, and they are well provided for. The boys in charge of this exhibit even have a suite of rooms down town, where they entertain during the evenings. Last week at the lowa state fair at Des Molnes the Columbus Buggy company received first promium over thirty different competitors for best general display of vehicles; this coming so close to their first premium received at the St. Louis fair last fall speaks volumes for the Columbus Buggy company's goods. They would be only too glad to compete here for a premium, but there is none offered. The Columbus Buggy company of Omaha siso represent

NEBRASKA'S FAIR EXHIBIT

More Money Required to Complete the State Board's Work.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER GENERAL

Adjacent States Are Preparing More Expen sive Plans Than Nebraska's Limited Appropriation Will Permit-Important Industries Must Be Neglected.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 6 .- | Special to THE Baz. |-The Nebraska Columbian commission met this forencon at the state capitol to complete the work left unfinished yesterday afternoon. The first thing taken up after the reading of the minutes was the commissioner general's report covering the past three months. The report is a strong argument in favor of an increased appropriation by the next legislature for the purpose of enabling the commission to carry out its plans of a state exhibit. It is as follows:

plans of a state exhibit. It is as follows:

To the members of the Nebraska Columbian commission: Gentlemen—Since my just report I have appointed the following superintendents of departments: E. Whiteomb, spiary: Frank A. Barten, educational: Lawrence Bruner, entomology, and also designated Commissioner S. P. Mobley to take charge of the printing exhibit.

On June 26, with other members of the building committee, I awarded the contract for the exect on of the Nebraska state building and which, on account of the demands made upon us by the suthorities at the World's fair grounds, we were oblized to increase in cost to the extent of $39 above contract price, which, however, was unavoidable and could not be forseen by the building committee, as the plans had already been accepted by the World's fair authorities. In this connection I beg to say that these people at Chicago are very arbitrary and their suagestions must be carried out to the letter whether timely notice or not has been given, and there is no appeal or recourse from the chief of construction in reference to buildings, etc.

I am continually receiving reports from the

and there, sho appeal or recourse from the chief of construction in reference to buildings, etc.

I am continually receiving reports from the superintendents of departments, particularly those of significance, which intimate favorable results as to the outcome of their work, the culmination of which, so far as the exhibits are concerned, will be reached during the month of September at the time of the holding of the county fairs and more particularly of the state fair. I think the result of the preliminary work done will show Nebraska in the front rank with states showing similar products to those we will exhibit. There is one contingency, however, which must be overcome. My visits to Chicago each time more strongly convince me of the necessity of an adequate appropriation to present Nebraska in its true light, and unless we can get a large increase from the next legislature I am satisfied it will be better for this state to abandon the purpose of attenting an exhibit.

Expenses Will Be Heavy.

Expenses Will Be Heavy. I learn the installation expenses are going to be much heavier than was originally contenpiated. This is one of the necessary expenses that cannot be overcome and must be met. To give you an idea in the rough of how little our appropriation would be available for an entire exhibit of Nebraska at this exposition. I beg to say the contemplated necessary expenses for the different departments already acreed upon to be presented by this commission, and which I have figured on with the chiefs of departments, will aggregate over $24,000 for installation expenses alone. Of course, cases, stands, railings, etc., which are purchased for this purpose, will be the property of the state; but, nevertheless, the original expense must be incurred, and in this connection I beg to say that it will be useless for the commission to consider any more interests than those which have already been undertaken, until some assurance is given of an increased appropriation. I learn the installation expenses are going Proprietion.

There are a number of manufactories, such as the bog and cattle packing interests, beet sugar manufactories and different industries as the hog and cattle packing interests, beet sugar manufactories and different industries which should have some and from this commission. They are as much entitled to it as any other interest, but on account of lack of funds we are unable to comply. The live stock men and the State Fish commission should receive some help from us, and for the same reason we cannot give it. When one examines the large interests we have in the state of Nebraska, and wil take the trouble to carefully analyze the allotments this commission has made to each, together with the estimated expenses of properly getting together and presenting the same at Chicago, it is my firm belief the people of the state of Nebraska will agree the money has not only been nonestly but judiciously distributed.

Nebraska is a state which needs liamizration. This can only be acquired by proper and judicious advertising. If we want people to come to us we must let them know that we are in the land of the living and have advantages to present. This can only be done by advertising, and the best advertisement I know of is to show the products of our unequalities only in the manner which will acceive know of is to show the products of our un-equalled soil in the manner which will achieve for them every credit which is their due.

How Nebraska is Situated.

How Nebraska is Situated.

Without sufficient money to make this representation in the proper manner it occurs to hie that we will be in a more satisfactory position to ourselves not to exhibit at all. Fifty thousand dollars seems a large sum of money. In fact, when I assumed the office of commissioner general my impression was we should nearly if not quite accomplish the work desired with that appropriation; but the scope of this exposition has been materally enlarged, and this enlargement will apply in a like decree to the states and the incidental expenses likely to be incurred. If Iowa, Kansas and states similarly situated to Nebraska were to make but a small-exhibit, this would be attituated would be required from us; but we cannot afford to have lowa, Kansas and other states make an exhaustive exhibition (which they are preparing) of their products and industries unless we are equally represented.

The conception of the exposition and the views of the controllers, both mational and local, are entirely different and more comprehensive in 189, from what they were in 189, and states are simply keeping pace with these advances and enlarged ideas. The question read the front rank? This question can only be answered by our next legislature. With the present appropriation she will be hopeicsily in the rear. With sufficient money to carry out the plans of her commission she will be in the front rank.

In reference to the state building I beg leave to say I have made two trips to Chicago in reference to the state building. I beg leave to say I have made two trips to Chicago in reference to the state building. I beg leave to many persons connected with the buildings at the exposition grounds entertain the lapression that we will have the best looking state building on the grounds. Our location is admirable. In fact, with South Dakota, we have the two best sites on the grounds. Respectfully submitted.

Commissioner Mobley's Report. Without sufficient money to make this rep-

Commissioner Mobley's Report. Commissioner Mobley presented two re-ports, the first being his report as superin-tendent of the Neoraska newspaper exhibit.

In his report he says:
"I have received information from 608 newspapers giving information called for and necessary for the carrying out of the work projected. Almost without exception the Nebraska newspapers have reported promptly and cheerfully. I have addressed to the papers of the state on this section. papers of the state on this subject ecial circulars and letters and on every hand have received the most hearty aid, co-operation and encouragement. I have collected and arranged alphabetically for binding duplicate copies of 605 Nebrasa newspapers, and I expect by October 1 to swell the list to at least 700, as new papers are being discovered daily, not recorded in any catalogue or directory issued. "I expect to have the directory ready to go to press by January 1, 1803, by which time I hope to have complete duplicate files of all papers and magazines published in Nepraska. I have great confidence in the efficacy of this exhibit as an advertising medium for the benefit of the state and feel sure that time will demonstrate that no bet-ter investment was ever made by the state than the appropriation for this feature of the Nebraska exhibit." Mr. Mobley also submitted his report of the work done in the way of advertising the Nebraska exhibit. He has mailed 2,000 cir-culars and received and answered upwards of 1,530 letters. He has had printed 25,000 circulars, 12,000 letter heads, 10,000 enve-lopes and 6,000 cards. He has on file at his office 1,200 papers which have printed artiliculated to awasen a general interest Nebraska exhibit. The press of Nebraska has been most generous in aiding the the commission in every way possible. It was voted to invite the State Board of Agriculture to meet with the commission at the capital this evening. It was also decided that the commission should attend the dedi-catory cerementes at Chicago on October 21 in a body. The commission then adjourned for discovery.

Worked an Old, Old Game.

The state fair has brought the usual num-er of sharpers and tin horn gamblers to the city, and they ply their vocation in spite of the vigilance of the police. Last night a smooth young stranger with a mild man-nered voice called at a store in West Lin-coln and purchased a few articles, tendering in payment a one dollar bill, at the same time remarking, "Have you change for a five!" The accommodating meronant had change for a five!" The accommodating meronant had change for a five and he proceeded to hand it over with alacrity. He discovered his mistake after the stranger had left the store and the vicinity. This morning he appeared at the police court with his story and asked the assistance of the officers to ferret out the man who had swindled him. As West Lin-coln is beyond the limits of the city of Lincoin he was referred to some justice court.

Has Escaped the Cholera. The friends of Councilman Henry Veith who is at present visiting in Germany, have been very anxious in regard to his close proximity to the choiera scourge now rav-aging the provinces of that empire, and not-withstanding the fact that they know that he thas not been in the infected districts they addressed a caple message to him just they addressed a caple message to him last night. They were more than gratified today by the receipt of a message from Mr. Veith. He is at present staying at Hesse-Darm-stadt, and he states that he has not been ex-posed to the disease and that it has not made its appearance anywhere near that province. He is enjoying the best of health and is in good spirits.

From the Police Court.

State fair week is producing the usual har vests, and the police court records will be full for the remainder of the week. The first attle job of work performed by Judge Waters this morning was the sentencing to the county jail of four young toughs who looked as if they had straved from the paths of moral rectitude at a very tender age. They got thirty days each. Twelve doves of the soiled variety who came down from Omaha to assist in making the state fair a success were gathered in last night. This morning they were fined the usual amount.

Sam Nefsky was released, he having proved that he had not violated the provisions of the garbage ordinance. Hi Goldwater was arrested this morning for violating the sidewark ordinance. He will have a nearing later.

Nathan Cohen is learning the ways of advanced western civilization by sad experi-ence. He was fined $6.20 for peddling without a license. Ed. Harris, Frank Dougal and Ben Rose got $6.20 each for not leaving their jags at home when they come to the fair.

A. L. Sparks was fined $6.20 for imagin ing that he could not take in the glories of the fair without protecting himself with a loaded gun of formidable caliber. Five lost children were reported at the police station at noon and the returns will not all be in until Saturday night.

Verdiet of the Jury. The coroner's jury which investigated the mysterious death of Henry Kolar, the Russian found dead beside the B. & M. track last Tuesday night, made up its verdict to-day. Since the adjournment of last Thursday night nothing has been discovered to throw any light upon the manner in which the man came to his death, and so the jury could do nothing more than return a verdic to the effect that he came to his death from causes unknown. The doubt as to whether Kolar was the victim of an assassin or an ac ident will probably never be removed.

Heard in the Court Rooms. John Crater today commenced suit for a divorce from his wife. He alleges among other things that soon after they were married she entered into a conspiracy to have him placed in an insane asylum. He also alleges cruelty and desertion. Alice Shamp petitions the district cour for a divorce from her husband, John. De

Martinette Bush informed the clerk of the district court today that, although she had aiways been a kind, loving and faithful wife to her husband, he has continually treated her with cruelty. She wants a divorce. Messrs. Burch and Smith, the defendents in Chancellor Creighton's $20,000 damage suit, filed a demurrer in the district court to day, claiming that the chanceltor's petition cause for action. The case arises from the University Place muddle.

Lincoln in Briet. Mayor Weir this morning appointed seven assistant health officers in each of the seven wards of the city. The city will be thor-oughly scoured and cleaned under the direction of these officers and everything put in readiness for a cold recention to the cholera courge if it should take a notion to com this way. Herpoisheimer's big department stores covering a quarter of a block of ground at Twelfth and N streets had a narrow escape from destruction last night. A pile of coal sanner and the fire soon spread to the floor. Someone saw the smoke issuing from the basement windows and turned in the alarm. The prompt arrival of the fire department prevented a big blaze and a heavy loss.

Frank Kennedy, the smallpox patient, has een declared cured and has been returned to his former quarters in the county fall.

The extension of the street railway to the new Lincoln normal college was completed oday and an electric car made an initial trip fternoon. The two miles of track were laid in twelve hours. A colored barber named John Sharp was arrested at 3 o'clock this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. He is accused of stealing a lot of jeweiry from parties in Grand Island.

The semi-annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture will be held in this city on Thursday evening.

It would be of incalculable benefit to railroads could the brokers be dispensed with, but as long as there are differential or weak roads just that long will scalpers obtain. Single-banded a strong road stands little chance to run against several weak roads that join in a pool for business, and it would be suicidal for a strong road to combat the brokers when other roads are in a combine for business to a given point. The fight inaugurated by the Milwaukse to clean the market of excursion tlekets is by no means a new one, the Chicago brokers having come in contact with cago brokers having come in contact with the Milwaukee people on more than one occasion, and that road is hated with an intensity that knows no law by Chicago scalpers. GREAT CROWDS AT THE SHOW

Yesterday's Attendance at the Nebraska State Fair Was Unusually Large.

SPLENDID ARRAY OF EXHIBITS SHOWN

Every Department Crowded Beyond the Wildest Expectations of the Management-Many Attractions Offered to Sightseers.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 6 .- [Special to THE BEE. |-All day yesterday the superintendents of the various departments were more than busy, putting their houses in order and assigning space to belated exhibitors. The latter worked with a will, and today finds an elegantly arranged display of the products of the farm, factory and studio. The State Agricultural society has given twenty-five annual exhibitions, but in all its history not one has been equal to the present. Every department is crowded in spite of a lavish expenditure of money on the part of the society in enlarging buildings and perfecting more convenient arrangements. The managers declare they expected the fair to grow in proportion to the development of the state, but were not prepared for the flattering increase which greets them at this time.

The stock exhibit is not only larger but better than ever before. The 541 cattle stalls are all full. Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky and Nebraska are represented in this department. The sheep and hog pens are all taken and more room is being provided. There are nogs here from a dozen states. Three hungred horse stalls are occupied, and the entries for the races were never before so numerous. Fifty additional stalls were added this year and yet all Lincoln horsemen have been requested to remove their stock from the grounds at night for lack of quarters.

Farmers Making a Slendid Show. Horticultural hall has emerged from a promiscuous heap of farm products to an artistically arranged combination of county exhibits which no state in the union can excel. Prof. Bussey remarked that every year the cultivated grass crowds farther and farther west, and this year there are luxuriant specimens of the various grasses from counties which, a few years ago, were not supposed to be capable of producing anything of the kind. Sloux, Burt, Gage, Hitchcock, Dundy, Kearney, Box Butte, Harlan, Kimball and Perkins counties are among those having particularly poticeable ex-hibits. Box Butte has a splendid collection of sheaf grains and grasses, among which is a sheaf of oats higher than a tall man's head. In spite of a late, wet spring, Ne-braska farmers never in their lives before had the material at hand to make such a magnificent showing as they are proudly exhibiting here today. Some of the counties post the sign, "The rainmaker falled," or "We did not hire a rainmaker," to show that their own hands and brains.

assisted by nature, is all that is necessary to raise a crop in Nebraska. The Grand Island and Norfolk beet sugar orks have a combination exhibit, the main catures of which are samples of beets, 200 sacks of sugar and a miniature representa ion of the beet sugar palace at Grand Island. The Crote mills are represented by a 12x18 model of the "B" mill, filled with flour.

The state fishing exhibit is attracting more than ordinary attention, from the fact that the specimens are much larger in size than formerly, and a number of new varieties are here. The Deautiful mountain trout, swimming about among great blocks of ice with which their aquarium is provided, are especially interesting.

D. C. Mosher, in charge of horticultural hall, says: "We have more flowers and less fruit this year than common." In spite of the fact that this is a poor fruit year, the display is very creditable and horticultural hall has a kind of garden of Eden appearance. In Other Departments.

The bee and honey hall, although twice as targe as last year, is filled with an exhibit which attracts much attention. Bees, honey and patent extractors are on every hand. A wreath of beeswax flowers made by Mrs. Whitcomb is worth a trip to Lincoln to see. The poultry show is also in advance of former years. The old cook that chronicled Peter's disgrace and all his descendents are here. A number of patent incubators are on exhibition.

The agricultural implement department is at least one-third larger than ever before. Omana and Council Bluffs lead in exhibitors, with Lincoln a close third. Superin-tendent J. M. Burks says the display of wagons, buggies and carriages is away in excess of all former years, while threshers, reapers and plows have failen off. Men di-rect from Des Moines say the display here is re than double that of the lows state fair. The windmilt exhibit covers an acre of

H. G. Clark, superintendent of the display in mercantile hall, says he could have set nearly as much more room if it had been prepared. The hall is very large but every inch is taken and many shut out want of space. "Our exhibit," said he, "is not only larger but finer than ever be-We have exhibitors here from Monnouth, Ill., from Iowa, Kansas and other states. Art hall has kept pace with the general advance and is one of the most attractive ex-hibits here. In textile fabrics the display is specially fine.

Everything is on a larger scale and in nearly all departments the rapid advance in agriculture and the arts, which is so marked at this time, is a gratifying feature of the oxhibit.

The attendance today is very large, the ample grounds, amphitheater and all halls and buildings being filled with thousands of visitors from this and other states. There are twenty-one uniformed bands on

This is children's and people's party day. The little folks are here in force, and if anything escapes their observation it is something unworthy of notice. The magnificent agricultural and farm product exhibits seem to overshadow political demonstrations, f such were intended.

Hundreds of people were turned away from the amphitheater this afternoon, for want of room. Every hotel in the city is crowded to its fullest capacity, strangers in some instances paying as high as $1 for a cot in a corrider. There probably has never been as many people at the Nebraska state fair, from abroad, as now. The weather we see from abroad, as now. The weather is cool and air bracing. Tomorrow will be the big day, though it is hard to see how it can excel to lay in point of numbers present. Among the Exhibitors.

The Nebraska Binder Twine company's exhibit attracts much attention, and as a Nebraska manufacturing company's entorprise deserves special mention. Their twine is tested every few minutes, and this testing demonstrates to the satisfaction of all that the best binder twine in the world is made at Fremont Neb. The saise of the company's at Fremont, Neb. The sales of the company last year amounted to 700,000 pounds, and this year every farmer should insist on having Nebraska made twine.
