$100,000 Fire Sale

Furniture, Carpets, Draperies.

We have placed on sale our entire stock, at prices regardless of costeverything must be so'd.

Many of our choicest goods were barely reached by smoke, and are practically as good as before the fire, still we have decided to sell the whole stock this month, not wishing to carry any thing over that was in the building during the fire and at the end of the month will sell the remaining goods at auction.

The only restrictions we make in selling goods at these prices are, they cannot be exchanged or returned—the identical articles purchased will in every instance be delivered, and we guarantee nothing as regards quality.

We have a large force of men at work repairing and refinishing goods, and as soon as presentable will from time to time be placed on our floors.

The sale ends September 30th.

How a Domestic Tragedy Was Narrowly Avoided in Lancaster County.

MANY LINCOLN CROOKS CAPTURED

Several Burglars Who Expected to Profit by the Presence of the Fair Visitors Slightly Disappointed-Capital

City Gossip.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 10 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-A wronged husband and an erring wife were reconciled in the police court this afternorn, and a case which for a few hours promised to end in a domestic tragedy was brought to a happy denouement. A young married woman named Mrs. Eva Martin was arrested at her boarding house at Twelfth and P streets last evening on the charge of adultery, the complaint being preferred by her husband, the corespondent being Edward Bancroft. Both of the men in the sast of Ceresco, in this county, and Bancroft pine miles east of the same place. The history of this particular piece of do mestic infelicity makes a somewnat lengthy story, but it may be condensed about as follows: Bancroft was always a frequent vis-Itor at the Martin residence and the husband never had cause for suspicion that all was not right. One day last spring Martin and his wife quarrelled over some trivial affair and as a result he abused her and she left m, taking her 2-year-old child and going to Minous. Nothing was heard from her for some time, but finally Martin's brother dis covered that she had returned to Nebraska and was living with Bancroft as his wife state of affairs. Monday Bancroft and Mrs. Martin came to Lincoln and engaged a room at a boarding house at the corner of Twelfth and P streets. Martin, who was watching the movements of the pair, at once swore out a warrant for their arrest and placed it in the hands of an officer. woman was soon arrested and taken to the station. An officer was sent for Bancroft this morning and he was brought to the city at noon. Both sides had secured attorneys and the case had been set for Monday, but late this afternoon Martin and his truant wife had a long interview over the matter and as a result Martin withdrew the com plaint against Bancroft and with his wife on his arm left the station. He has promised to e with her again and will treat her better

The Lincoln police force was unusually vigilant during state fair week and as a re-suit fewer robberies and burglaries were reported than ever. FOR OMAHA'S YOUNG MEN.

What the Young Men's Christian Asrociation is Doing for Its Local Members. Citizens of Omaha who take an interest in the welfare of young men are justly proud of the work being accomplished by the Young Men's Christian association. Never in the history of this noble institution have the efforts put forth seemed to accomplish the desired purpose so fully as they are at present, and the prospects for the future of the as-sociation are indeed encouraging.

Since the coming of Mr. Frank W. Ober last year and the beginning of his very officient work as general secretary the association has taken on new life and has been reaching out after young men in a way that means great good to the community. central aim of the association is to b young men physically, mentally and morally It is not a church-it is a place where the velfare of young men is made a specialty.

During the summer just drawing to a close the gymnasium has been greatly improved by the purchase of a large amount of new apparatus and by a general overhauling. The instruction in the gymnasium is under the able direction of Mr. Sheldon and great care is taken to suit the exercise to each in are required to pass a physical examination so that there may be no danger of injury from over-violent exercise for those who may be suffering from disease or physical weakness of any particular part. The gymnasium has been carefully examined by the building inspector and is perfectly safe and secure in every detail. every detail, thus assuring all who take ex-ercise there that they will be in no danger of accident caused by the breaking of the apparatus. One of the most interesting features connected with the Young Men's Christian association in Omaha is the Current Topic club which was organized last year and proved to which was organized last year and proved to be a winning card from the very start. The club will begin the new year next Monday night and Dr. Duryes, the able and indefa-tigable leader, will deliver an address upon the work of the coming winter. Y. M. I. Popularity, To convey the esteem and sentiment which was generally expressed by the happy congregation which gathered at the pariors of the Young Men's institute last Friday evening it is only necessary to say that a more praiseworthy event has never been held under the auspices of the Young Men's institute. It was just like a genuine merry relight by losing their restraint and going right in for the appreciation of merriment. That the Young Men's institute sociables are exceedingly popular is attested by the ever increasing attendance, and also the genuine cordiality extended them. The institute in general, by dint of perseverance and in-telligent tact, has progressed beyond the farthest expectations and is able to assume today the reputation that it is in ranking a most popular recreative resort, it has de-voted itself to make entertainment of all kinds, and it has succeeded admirably; the membership is increasing very rapidly and an apparent prospect shows itself of having 500 or more members in one or two months. The institute is fully equipped with a com piete gymnasium, library and a pool table. All other entertaining mediums are enjoyed, such as cards, dominoes, checkers, cribbage and chess games, and extends an invitation to all its friends to visit the rooms any

Second brigade. AS DUN SEES IT.

Local Trade Affected by the Fairs and Reunions of the Week. "Local events affect local trade more than people generally suppose," said Mr. W. H. Roberson, manager of the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co. "The last week and that preceding were devoted to fairs and reunions. As a consequence orders in some lines of trade have fallen off, while in others they have been slightly increased. In drugs, boots and shoes and heavy hardware trade is considerably slower on this account, though still good, retail trade has been perhaps still more noticeable. The grocers generally agree that the past two weeks have been the dullest for months, notwithstanding the homeming of most of the summer tourists. The dry goods people have enjoyed a better trade than for weeks, due to the fall buying of customers who have just returned from their outings. In the shoe trade, as might be expected, there has been special activity in children's goods, because of the opening of the schools. Speaking generally, nowever, wholesale trade has never been better and retail trade never duller than for these first days of September.

"The dull local demand has made trace lower than usual with the commission houses. The grape market has opened with a great rush. Several carloads of the local product have been shipped north and west. The market gardeners selling direct to sumers and city dealers seriously inte with local trade in this line. California fruits, especially peaches, have been higher and not so plentiful. Eggs and butter, as usual, hold pretty well up. Potatoes and vegotables generally, apples and all other fruits except grapes, rule high, and will be luxuries the coming winter.

"Money continues easy, though more inquiries are reported since September 1. As plus funds of the banks generally, it is noted that within the week a prominent banker from the interior practically concluded ne-gotiations for a $15,000 loan to a responsible and well known citizen of Omsha at a low rate of interest, showing that money lenders are hunting for customers more than bor-"The State Bank of Crete is now in the hands of a receiver, Mr. T. Miller, Chief Justice Maxwell having made the appointment today. It is stated upon good authority that the nominal assets of the bank are $141,000, and total deposits $91,500. The assets are subject to a large shrinkage. The capital of the bank was reduced a few months are when Mr. Johnson, the president, retired from $75,000 to $59,000 and $1s, 000 of bank funds are stated to have been taken by Cashier Stevens to pay Mr. son, Stevens replacing this amount with his own note. There is $33,560 of notes, judgments and other papers of doubtful value, of which, it is said, $18,000 is Mr. Stevens' own making. The real estate and personal property named in nominal assets is thought to be subject to a shrinkage of $4,000. This would leave only about $60,000 with which to pay off the $91,500 of deposits and snows Stevens' entire indebtedness to the bank to be $55,000. The said to Mr. Johnson may be him succeeds depositors may get out without loss. The receiver thinks it will take ninety days to wind up the affairs of the bank, and it is intimated the receiver may reorganize and continue the business, revelations are quite a surprise Stevens' friends and the banking fraternity circles and the bank did no extensive bor rowing, so far as is known, though its credit would have enabled the cashier to have secured considerable sums."

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

South Omaha's School Fund Passed Upon -Some Grading Matters.

If the Board of Education of South Omaha expects to build any new schoolhouses, or if it expects to purchase any schoolhouse sites, it will have to provide its own funds, for the county commissioners have refused to take hold and make the necessary levy for this purpose. This was settled vesterday afternoon when the board refused to levy $35,000, the proceeds to be turned over to South Omaha when collected. Last July, when the annual levy was made, the commissioners failed to make this levy for South Omaha, holding, upon the advice of the county attorney, that South Omaha being a city of the second class it de-volved upon the city to make the levy for the purchase of all schoolhouse sites and for the construction of all buildings. The case was iscussed pro and con and yesterday it was up again, but the county attorney told the members that the time for doing anything had passed and all of the papers were placed

By resolution the commissioners agreed to expend $2,000 in grading the intersections of South Thirteenth street from Missouri avenue to the Sarpy county line, providing South Omaha would grade the balance of street to the width of ninety feet and com plete the work as early as July 1, 1883. No part of the money is to be paid until South Omaha has completed its share of the work. After paying all expenses of the recent bond election there remained $1,158.31 in the treasury. This was ordered paid over to the Nebraska Central Railway company, corporation having put up the sum of $10,000 to pay the bills.
