NEW YORK'S CASES CAUSE GREAT ALARM

Particulars of the Dread Scourge's Work in the Metropolis—Those Who Succumbed to Its Ravages—Other Cities Aroused—Pest Notes.

New York, Sept. 14.—The Board of Health announced this afternoon that from bacteriological examination made by Prof. Hermann Briggs on the bodies of several suspected cholera patients, there have been five deaths from Asiatic cholera in the city of New York. The names of those who died from the cholera were: CHARLES M'AVOY, died September 6, address not known. MRS. SOPHIA WIGMAN, died September 10, 175 E. 11th street. WILLIAM WIGMAN, husband of Sophia Wigman, died at the same address the following day. MINNIE TRIVINGER, child, died September 11, at 111 East Forty-sixth street. CHARLOTTE BECK, 39 years old, died yesterday. She was 1758 Second avenue.

All these cases were originally reported to the health authorities as suspected cholera and have been under investigation by the physicians connected with the department.

No Questioning Its Character. New York, Sept. 14.—Now that Asiatic cholera has developed among the dwellers in this city each man may ask his neighbor, "Well, what of it?"

The spirit of the question would show no more than that the speaker had mastered the elementary truths touching this disease, which have been so carefully iterated and reiterated by the responsible person of the press during many days past. The question would indicate that the speaker fully understood that the cholera is neither contagious nor infectious, within the common meanings attached to those words.

In this sense it is, to use the language of Prof. Virchow, less dangerous than dysentery.

This expression implies no overconfidence. It is within each individual's power to assure his own personal safety almost beyond a peradventure. He has but to drink no water, except such as have been thoroughly boiled, and to eat no food that has not been thoroughly and frequently washed in water from butter and cheese, and may then possess his soul in serenity. Cholera will pass him by.

How did the cholera get in? is the question on everyone's lip.

The health officers' faces were puzzled expressions when asked to solve the problem. Disinfectants have been used with a free hand, both at quarantine and in the city; baggage has been disinfected; passengers have been detained even on healthy ships; for permission to pay for a tug engaged by the state and to have a corps of medical inspectors detailed for quarantine purposes.

It appears that the citizens of Toledo, O., are angry, and charging the Treasury department with breaking down their quarantine.

Work of the Disinfecting Corps. The disinfecting corps will be on the go from house to house all day, and he is to direct their operations. All closets in the vicinity of a case of cholera are to be disinfected twice daily.

Other cases expected to develop from scattered centers of contagion, but none in the same buildings. That is the way the health officers propose to drive the cholera from the city.

Another Pest Ship Arrives. Arrival of the Heilgaard from Hamburg.

Quarantine, S. I., Sept. 14.—Dr. Waiser reports the following new case on board the Scandia: Stenon Ellitvitch, taken ill this morning.

The steamer Majestic left here at 4:34 p. m. for her dock.

Another cholera-infected vessel from Hamburg arrived here today, having had two cholera deaths during the voyage.

The first case this year was Charles McAvoy, a pianist, who died at 337 West 11th street.

Other cases expected to develop from scattered centers of contagion, but none in the same buildings.

Complication of Diseases Which Has Defied the Skill of the Physicians—Relieved by Operations and Another Will Be Attempted.

Loon Lake House, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Dr. Gardner of Washington, D. C., who has been consulted by the president's physician, Dr. Henshaw, in regard to Mrs. Harrison's condition, has issued the following statement:

The primary disease is pulmonary tuberculosis of the right side, associated with nervous prostration. The recent complication is subacute meningitis, with a rapid effusion of water in the right chest, necessitating a tapping, with some relief.

THIRTY YEARS ARE NOTHING

Veterans Who Really Overlook the Lapse of Time at a Banquet.

HOW THEY RECALLED OLD LANG SYNE One Hundred and Sixty Sat at the Board and Enjoyed the Best of Good Fellowship Along with an Excellent Menu.

Sufficiently close to 100 covers to successfully superintendent operations in their immediate vicinity.

Not alone the members of the twin associations, but their ladies with them, and several of the oldest and best known Chamberlains and their wives—indeed, as representative an assemblage as ever surrounded a banquet board within Nebraska's borders.

The guests were a little slow in assembling and it was nearly 10 o'clock when the doors of the great banquet hall were thrown open and headed by Governor Boyd and wife and Mayor Bemis and Mrs. L. M. Kneen, the banqueters moved from the parlors to the places about the U-shaped tables, which glittered in their wealth of crystal under the rays of electric candelabra and beautified with fragrant, many-colored mounds of offering intervals.

Inspiring was the scene, with its light, its wealth of color, its wit, sparkle and vivacity, and one that will not soon be forgotten by any of those whose good fortune it was to be there.

Good Things on All Sides. Tothome indeed was the menu, from the first to the last of its seven courses, and with its admirable service left nothing that the inner man could well desire.

From the governor and mayor, at the head of the table to John Lumbard, Omaha's favorite bass at the foot, there was not a face that did not reflect keen satisfaction and enjoyment, nor could it well be otherwise.

fraternally is something more than a name—the assurance of true and disinterested brotherly affection.

It was well on to midnight when the discussion of the viands was completed, and the guests were ready to retire, but to appreciate the remarks of post-prandial speakers, but for all that they would not submit to the postponing of the program in the light of the time and the weather, which was held strictly to the previously drawn line.

The toastmaster cut the coffee in two in the middle, so to speak, when he arose to read the telegrams and letters of regret.

Among these were the following: A. H. ROBERTS, Scotland, Sept. 14.—E. Rosewater, Omaha, Neb.: Cabotman, Rosewater and assurance of joy received. God bless you all. Very truly yours, A. H. ROBERTS.
