

WILL SOON KNOW HIS FATE

Case of Adams County's Ex-Deputy Treasurer Given to the Jury.

HOW THE ARGUMENTS WERE CONDUCTED

Instructions of the Court Concluded Within Twenty Minutes—Work of Jurors at Syracuse—Nebraska Crop Conditions Promising.

HARRISON, Neb., Sept. 14.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—At last the fate of Emanuel F. is in the hands of a jury of his peers, it having been submitted about 5:30 this afternoon. The order of arguments as given in today's Bee was followed. M. A. Hartigan closed for the defense and Judge H. A. Batty for the prosecution. At 5 o'clock Judge Batty began reading his instructions to the jury, and twenty-six minutes later gave a sign of relief as he finished. The jury was given two verdict blanks, one finding the defendant guilty as charged of aiding in the embezzlement of blank dollars and the other acquitting the accused.

Deputy Batty took charge of the twelve men and conducted them to the juryroom to deliberate over the verdict. At 10 o'clock the jury was still out. Judge Batty and all the attorneys had left and the court house was about deserted. Balfour Humphreys was in charge of the jury and all settled down to make an all-night job of it. No conjectures are hazarded as to the result or the present status of the jury.

Case of a Deceased Lincoln Woman Calls Out the Police. LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 14.—(Special to The Bee.)—Something of a sensation was caused at the police station this afternoon by the receipt of a telephonic message stating that a woman had been discovered in the act of killing an infant. The police hurried to the scene and found that the report was but partially correct. A woman who has long borne an unsavory reputation and who for a year past has lived on Seventh street, between 14 and 15 streets, gave birth to a child at an early hour this morning. This afternoon she was detected while trying to drop the infant in a vault. Examination revealed the fact that the baby had been dead for several hours. A policeman was at once detailed to look into the case. He discovered that the child lived but an hour or so after it was born. The mother is a half-demented woman who bears the sobriquet of "Old Crazy Billie." Her real name is Billie L. She is between 30 and 40 years old and has been known as a loose character. The physician who examined the dead infant gave it as his opinion that it could have lived not more than an hour, and the case has therefore been dropped.

She Used a Gun. A colored woman named Peggy Johnson, living on B street, was sent up to the county jail this morning for creating a general disturbance in her neighborhood. Yesterday afternoon she became involved in a quarrel with some neighboring women, and after she had been warned in the verbal battle which followed, ran into the house and got a gun which she began firing into the crowd. She fired several shots, all of which fell wide of the mark. They at once restrained her with shouting with intent to kill. This morning the charges were withdrawn and she was released on $2500 bond.

Disposition of City Bonds. A special meeting of the city council was held this evening for the purpose of disposing of the bonds voted at the recent city election. Representatives of several eastern banking houses were present and for a time bidding was animated. Finally the council voted to accept of bids at 100 cents on the dollar at auction. Nelson C. Brock of this city offered to pay for the bonds and the city the accrued interest from date of the bonds to date of delivery and also pay 100 cents on the dollar. The bonds were disposed of at $100.00.

From the Penitentiary. Michael Shea was this morning brought into court upon complaint of Mary Coyle, who accuses him of being the father of her unborn child. He was committed to the district court.

Harry Hustard and W. N. Cross were each fined $5.00 for being drunk contrary to the municipal code.

The police made two arrests last night. They were called to the West side where they found two ladies who belonged to the Omaha tribe and a man who was so drunk that he was unable to pronounce his name. One of the ladies was laid a napkin strapped to her back. Both pleaded their innocence of any wrong doing and they were released upon their promise to take their blankets and go back to the reservation.

WANTED TO BUY THE STOCK. One of the Leading Attractions in Certain New York Circles.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—A group of staidly attired gents stood chatting together on the corner of Twenty-second street and Fifth avenue this evening. Suddenly Martiney exclaimed, "Oh, Alton, see that delicious picture in the window of the art store across the way." They all stepped over to look more closely, discovering in modest and tasteful lettering the words, "Compliments of Godley's America's First Magazine." They became fringed with a desire to get the picture, to see the magazine that could present such a splendid gem as a gift. Let's go, exclaimed one of the group, and they hurried to the store. They found the picture, a reproduction of the famous picture that set forth accurately in colors four of the lady leaders of the "60's," and they simply wanted to buy the dearest picture. "Keep your eye on Godley's," as one of the girls said, "if you want to see your eye set at such a glorious view of American belles." The four ladies hurried to the store to buy the picture, with the assurance of the New York society belles in their latest Paris gowns is indeed a sensation.

WEST OMAHA REPUBLICANS. Candidates for Political Honors Present Their Views.

The West Omaha Republican club held a very successful meeting last night, which was addressed by all the leading candidates of the party. Among the speakers were E. M. Bartlett, Judge C. R. Scott, E. W. Beckwith, Isaac Adams, Philip Winters, W. W. Shabazz, James Wast, John Williams, H. L. Day, County Superintendent Hille and A. C. Troop. Mr. Bartlett admitted that he was a candidate for congressional honors, but feared that he was not going to accomplish much in West Omaha for he saw before him more candidates than voters. He had traveled through the precinct a few days before and through the evidences of prosperity he saw he imagined that the precinct was republican. He was proud that he belonged to the republican party, the party which could count with pride to its statesmen, orators and presidents. He wound up the people's party and very ably explained the tariff principles of the republicans.

Judge Scott said that he was a republican because that was the party which supported the homes of the country and the country was founded on the same. He did not want to make politics, but simply to make acquaintances. He was opposed to the union of church and state and held of how he would introduce constitutional amendments which would save the country from various impending dangers if he were sent to congress.

E. W. Beckwith made a very interesting and witty speech, plainly setting forth his grounds for the faith that was in him and refraining from any reference to his opponent.

H. L. Day, Republican candidate for county attorney, was warmly received by the audience. Other speakers in a similar vein held the audience until nearly midnight.

TALK OF WITHDRAWING THEIR TICKET. Democrats Fear Consolidation in Republican Victory—New Jersey Democrats Have a Hot Time—Massachusetts Republicans Political Pointers.

YANKTON, S. D., Sept. 14.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The executive committee of the South Dakota democratic central committee met in secret conference with the candidates on the democratic state ticket in this city last night to formulate plans for the campaign, and to discuss matters of importance to the party in this state. Chief among the topics discussed was that of fusion with the independents. To this subject several hours were devoted. It was practically decided that the democratic could not fuse with the independents unless the last named party is willing to divide the state ticket. A committee of four was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the independents and arrange matters. The letter of C. L. Wood, who is the democratic nominee for congress, declining to make the race, was taken up and discussed, but no action was taken upon it, the understanding being that the democratic candidates agree to fuse the resignation will be accepted and the independent candidate for congress, Lander, of the Black Hills, will be endorsed and his name placed on the democratic ticket.

A convention of the democratic clubs of state was called for October 27 in Sioux Falls, the basis of representation being one delegate for every fifteen club members. Delegate Tresson notes the campaign at Waterbury on September 24, commencing at 10:30 a. m., at Madison on the 27th and at Canton on the 29th.

NOT AT ALL HARMONIOUS. Colorado Democrats are From in Passing Suitable Resolutions.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 14.—The first congressional district democratic convention was held here today. Senator Gannell being chosen chairman. Rev. Myron W. Reed, the people's party nominee for congress from this district, was nominated by acclamation. When the matter of appointing a committee on resolutions came up a split in the convention occurred, the Cleveland democrats being. They desired the appointment of such a committee, with the former demagogues immediately called another convention, which was founded on the same. The convention adopted resolutions pledging fidelity to the democratic faith and principles. They also endorsed the platform and constitution of the Chicago convention, profess faith in the platform and nominations at Pueblo.

Had a Monkey and Parrot Time. HENNINGTON, N. J., Sept. 14.—The democratic state convention met here today. There was a lengthy struggle between opponents of the platform and constitution of the Chicago convention, which the Hogg followers are in the winning in a victory for the Abbott wing. Nominations for governor were then made, Judge Wertz and Edward P. C. Young being put in nomination. During a speech of a "Warren" man some sharp comments from the audience drew forth a bitter retort and a tremendous quarrel ensued. For a time it seemed as though the convention would break up, but after a lengthy row had started and resulted in the nomination of Wertz.

The platform endorses the national declaration and defends in detail all alleged partisan legislation.

TAKING COLD COMFORT. In Recent State Elections Democratic Leaders Think They are an Angry Success.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The democratic national committee has issued the following address: HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE, 129 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The friends of the United States, the democratic national committee, congratulate the country on the result of the recent state elections in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, New Mexico, Arkansas, and Missouri. The combined opposition, after so many extravagant claims, fell short over 2,000,000 of the vote of the democratic alliance. This has brought us to the conclusion that the republican party is not yet ready to face the vote of the democratic alliance. In Maine and Vermont the contest was conducted distinctly on national issues. The republican managers conducted the contest in these states on the ground that the "size of the possibilities would elicit a great result in favor of our party in other states," and that the poll would be practically a vote for prevention.

Similar appeals were made to the aid of the present resources of their national organization, with its extensive treasury and its splendid equipment of orators of national fame. With every favorable favor at their disposal, except public opinion, with an organization opposed, except those made up of a few unscrupulous politicians, the republican party which has been out of power for a generation, and which has failed from without the support of our party, has secured a triumphant last vote in these states, so openly obtained and so thoroughly and formally announced, has ended in a conspicuous disaster.

Our friends everywhere are entitled to take from our party some consolation. They need it with the strong tendency of public sentiment in the democratic, and the people of the country are prepared to support, rather than reverse, the verdict which they rendered in 1890. WILLIAM F. HARRITY, Chairman National Committee.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS. They Meet in State Convention and Endorse George Clark.

FOUR MONTHS, TEX., Sept. 14.—The republican state convention convened at 10:30 this morning. The permanent organization emphasized the Clark advantage which was evinced in the election of H. B. Hawley as temporary chairman yesterday. At noon the convention adjourned until 1 p. m., at which hour it was announced that the committee on resolutions would be ready to report.

One of the incidents of the convention this morning was the opening prayer of a negro preacher, who prayed God to bless George Clark, a democratic candidate for governor. This brought down the house and the convention retired for a while.

The report of the resolution committee will condemn the administration of a Hogg and endorse the candidacy of Clark, a democrat. This subject was discussed at least $2,000 out of a possible $1,000,000 caucus vote. The followers of Judge Burton of Hastings
