When the night patrolmen went on duty at the police station last evening Chief Scanian was presented an eigent badge. Officer J. M. Murphy made the preschiation speech in behalf of the other officers. The badge consists of a gold star engraved with the monogram "J. M. S.," surrounded by a rim of silver.

The Jewish new year, 5654, begins this evening, and the celebration lasts twenty-four hours, ending tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. It will be generally observed by the Jews with great solemnity all over the world, and appropriate exercises will take place. Services will be held at Peterson's hail. A week from next Saturday will be the day of Atonement.

Dave Nichols, a printer, white driving met with an accident last evening. He was under the influence of liquor and fell out of a buggy, striking on the stone pavement on Broadway, near the corner of Gien avenue. He was rendered unconscious by the fall and had to be taken to his home on upper Broadway in a patrol wagon. He was badly bruised about the head and face.

A small fire did a little damage at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at a feed store kept by B. Gilinsky at 714 Brondway. The proprietor stated that he left the room and locked up, and when he returned ten minutes later he found that a blaze had started in a pile of hay that lay in one corner. An alarm was sent in and the new chemical engine was given its first netual trial. The fire was easily extinguished and the amount of damage done was small. The fire was thought to have started by spontaneous combustion.

Don't Want Paving. A number of property owners on Sixth street between Ninth and Poirteenth avenues have decided that the action of the city council in ordering the street in front of their property graded and paved is not just to their taste, and they have accordingly commenced injunction proceedings in the district court to prevent the council from letting the contract for the work. The plaintiffs are C. Wesley, H. Paschel, C. E. Taylor, Mrs. H. Johnson, Henry Carter, F. V. Guitar, G. W. Peck, G. McPeek, Morris Flative, J. Sandel, N. P. Dodge, Mrs. M. F. Davenport and A. B. As reasons for the injunction being granted they alloge that the grading of the intersections will call for a large expenditure of money by the call for a large expenditure of money by the c ty, and that as there is no money in the treasury it will be necessary to go into debt, and the city is now in debt beyond the con stitutional limit. They also claim that the paving and grading were never ordered by more than a these-fourths vote of the members of the council. The injunction was t sued by Judge Smith and the councilmen were

J. W. Paul States That Work on His Railroad Will Soon Commence.

His Railway Scheme He Says Will Be o Immense Benefit to the City-Injured White Intextented-One Lady Who Fears the Cholera.

John W. Paul, who has had so many opportunities to study human nature and the art of boiding his temper lately during his dealings with aldermen, remonstrances, and other time-killing inventions, was in the city yesterday. He states that he will commence work at once. Not much can be done this fall, on account of the lateness, but Eighteenth street will be put in shape so that the work of putting down tracks can be begun as early as possible next spring.

Mr. Paul was naturally very much pleased with the results of Monday evening's council meetlog. "I shall open an office on this side of the river at once," said he yesterday n conversation on the subject, "and keep man or two there to attend to a man or two there to attend to my business. There are going to be some agreeable surprises for the people of Council Bluifs in the near future, and es-pectally for those who have been kicking so hard against my being granted a right of way for railway facilities. Inside of six months I am satisfied that these very fellows who have been after me the hardest will be as auxious to have that railway built as 1 am. There isn't another city in the west that has the chances for development in railway matters that Council Bluffs has, and you can put it down that in the next few years there will be a boom here, at least so far as I am able to help it on.

of the cholera is more habie to bring on an attack of the disease itself than any other thing, there is a lady living in the eastern part of the city who may be expected to exnibit the symptoms at any time now. At the first glimpse of the postmark, without waiting to see who the missive was from, she picked the deadly thing up gin-gerly and chucked it into the fire. She then gerly and chucked it into the fire. She then breathed a sign of relief, and at last accounts was resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.

Sues for Damages.

L. W. Tulieys was made defendant in two damage suits in the district court yesterday, as trustee for Clarence K Hess. In the first the plaintiff is one Thomas A. In 1801 he paid the amount to Tulleys for Hess and three months later tendered Tulleys bucents, which Tulleys said was a reasonable charge for the trouble of having the trust deed satisfad on the record. But, he alleges, Tulleys retosed to have the satisfaction recorded, and kepton refusing until four months clapsed. He wants $100 camages from Tulleys, in accordance with the provision of the Nebraska statute, which makes a mortgagee or holder of a trust deed liable for damages in that sum for neglecting to Position Taken by the Two Parties as to the Old Soldiers.

City Attorney Van Dusen Returns from a

Eastern Visit and Talks Politics.

City Attorney Van Dusen is home from

New York. He spent several days in the Empire state and delivered a speech to the republicans of Union Springs. According to Mr. Van Dusen's idea, the republicans will carry the state by from 15,000 to 20,000, and he says his opinion is formed from talks with prominent people, who are well posted upon the political situation in New York. The democrats have not forgotten the defeat of Hill, and are not enthusiastic supporters of Cleveland. Hill was simply forced to deliver his Brooklyn speech, and that cannot be taken as an indication that the factions are united.

One is "that the leges that his wife was convicted of the democratic party has done as much for the crime of aiding felous to escape which, ne-cording to the laws of Missouri, is itself a soldier as the republican party," and, pointing to the acts passed by congress and the pensions granted under the Cleveland admintwo year term in the pententiary, and for istration, claiming the exclusive credit therefor and at the same time twitting the soldier about his failure to get the pension he de serves, and blaming that failure upon the terday of a fatal accident that took place "Raum administration of the pension office." Another unwarranted statement calls atten tion to the "riotous extravagance" of the Andrew Miller and a companion spent the republicans, urging all former nonunion men afternoon bowling up at a saloon in town, and started for home late in the evening. Look at the records of the two parties. Under Cleveland's administration the following laws were passed-The widow's increase of pension from $8 to $12 per month, sixty-six democrats The Methodist conference, which has just and not even one republican voting against closed at Perry, assigned the pastors of the the oid; the Mexican pension bill, as this various churches of the state to their respecbenefited the southern men no one voted tive fields for the coming year. Rev. H. P. Dudley comes to the Broadway Methodist against its final passage; the amputation act, nfty-one democrats voting against it; church of this city and Rev. C. W. Brewer of the Fifth Avenue and Rev. H. H. Barton of the Trinity are retained. Presiding Elder increase of pension in case of total deafness; removing the charges of desertion in case of W. S. Hooker remains at Shenandoah. Rev. S. Fleming is changed from the Epwerth re-enlistment. These are the most important of the ten laws signed by Cieveland and mission of this city to the church at Silver which met the unanimous approval of re-

Harrison signed twenty-three laws, among them being an act pensioning soldiers and sailors who served under assumed names; pensioning the Missouri state militia; same for a Kansas colored regiment; the pension in cases of total disability was increased to $73 per month; the famous dependent pen bill, under whose provisions three quarters of a million people will receive relief; allowing enlisted men of the army who have served thirty years to be placed upon the retired list; pensioning the brave women who served as nurses during the war. There is no sectionalism in the republican party, for the veterans of southern Indian wars are to be pensioned and ex-confederates who after-wards served in the United States army are to be relieved and pensioned, and armiess and legiess soldiers are to be furnished artificial limbs every three years. Many laws were also passed which simplified pension procedure and prevented exercitant attorney's rees.

Comparison of Records. What pension laws did Harrison refuse to sign! None. Cleveland vetoed 127 special and one general pension bils, the latter being the tamous "dependent pension bill," the provisions of which were much narrower and more hampering to the pension applicant and more hampering to the pension applicant than the one signed by Harrison, and yet it was "too broad and its provisions too easily complied with" to suit Mr. Cleveland. Many of those private vetoes were infamous and the pension office afterwards pensioned some of the very men whose bills Mr. Cleveland vetoed. Sheers and slander were heaped upon these soldiers and the opinions of Mr. Cleveland were placed against the sworn statements of were placed against the sworn statements of soldiers.

Take the acts of the Fifty-first congress which was republican and compare them with those of the Fiftieth congress which was democratic. Eighteen general pension laws were passed by the Fifty-first and only four by the Fiftieth, while 1,334 pensioners received relief by special acts during the Fifty-first, as against 1,017 during the Fif tieth congress. The democratic party is getting worse in-stend of better on this subject. The repub-lican house of representatives under the "Reed rules" with a majority of but a dozen or so passed tweive general and 883 special pension acts, while the present democratic house, with 150 majority, enacted only six general and 135 pension laws.

It won't do for the democrats to try and put part of the blame on the republican senate, for there was not even one house pension bill left unacted on upon the senate calendar of business. Of the 168 house pension bills which passed that body, 105 were passed the last Friday evening, too late to be acted on by the senate, and yet the senate passed 119 house pension bills. The senate passed 109 senate pension bills, all of which reached the house in time for its action and yet only twenty-three were passed, twenty-wo being left on their calendar of unfinished business, the balance sleeping in committee. Go to the pension bureau and the same is there shown. Under three years of democratic rule 182,260 pensioners were added to the rolls and 334,407 pension certificates were issued, while under three years of republican rule 475,360 pensioners were added to the rolls and 759,603 pension certificates were issued, or about three times more work was done by the republican party's administration of the pension office.

Anyone considering these tacts can readily see how false the first position of the demo-cratic party is. As for its second position, that is equally untenable. If the democratic party means that the republican party is exravagant in its administration of the pension bureau, then the facts show the reverse. The cost of issuing a pension certificate un-der the democratic administration was $24.24, while under the republican it was only $11.10. The traveling expenses of special ex-aminers were $426,118.98 more under the lemocratic rule and they had over one-third democratic rate and they had over one-third less cases to examine. The cost of disbursing $1 by the democrats was 3½ cents, while it is only 31-5 mils by the republicans, or over ten times less*costly It cost 72 9-10 cents for the democratic party to pay a pensioner

If the democratic party means to say that it does not believe to pensions, then there is but little to say.
In the world's history from its beginning until now there was never a civil war in which the victorious army did not take bodily possession of the government, loot the public treasure, despoil the private property of both the vanquished and victorious citizens, and oupress their captives by depriving them of all their personal and property rights. The soldiers of the union army did none of these things, making the only exception ever noted. Indian Teachers Called by the Government, but Few Answer. The United States government has one job to let that don't seem to cause anything like a stampede to its canks. It is the Indian school service. Yesterday was the day upon watch the civil service board had prepared to hold an examination of all applicants in this part of the country who might wish to take the examination for the work of Indian teacher. The small cour; room in the postoffice building was set aside for the class, but the applicants did not jostle each other in getting into the room by a long deal. There were only two persons to apply, one man and one weman.

The examination is not considered difficult and the fact that the government is short or Indian teachers gives the applicants a pretty good chance to secure employment, but the salary does not seem to be sufficient to tempt people away from civilization to assist the government in the work of educating the poor, ignorant indians of the reservations.
