

DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

With the Dying Out of Cholera Scare Improvement in Business is Seen.

BUSINESS IS BETTER THAN A YEAR AGO

Farmers Holding Back Wheat for Better Prices—Reports from Business Centers—Wall Street for a Week—Clearing House Statements.

New York, Sept. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade: The alarm about cholera has vanished and trade in every direction shows all the improvement that was expected. The south is a little dull because cotton is low in price and late, but a little improvement has been seen during the past week. In a few quarters at the west, farmers are holding back wheat for higher prices, so that collections are retarded, but the general tenor of affairs is exceedingly fair. Business continues larger than a year ago. Collections are exceptionally good on the whole and although money is inactive it is in increasing demand at nearly all the points, but the supply for all legitimate needs is ample. Gold exports have ceased; foreign exchange has declined and the money market is at present without a disturbing feature. Speculation is not, on the whole, active enough to have a disturbing influence. Wheat recovered 1 1/2 cents, but sales here have been only 6,000,000 bushels. Western receipts in four days have been 5,700,000 bushels, while the exports from Atlantic ports have been 833,000 bushels. Foreign prices on longest contracts declined one cent. Corn has declined 3/4 cents and oats 1/2 cents. Speculation in cotton has been active, sales reaching 75,000 bales. The price has been advanced 3 1/2 cents on the covering of short sales. Hog products are a shade stronger, but oil is 1/2 cent lower, and in coffee speculation has advanced the price 1/4 cents.

Reports from Trade Centers.

Business at Boston is sound and larger in volume. Improvement is seen in groceries at Philadelphia. Trade is improving in paints, oils and glass. At Baltimore it is satisfactory, though quiet with a few exceptions. At St. Louis, the Pittsburg trade is satisfactory and gradually increasing. At Cincinnati the wholesale jewelry trade reports sales in August 50 per cent greater than last year. Business at Cleveland is improving in nearly all departments, and in the whole of the business products and in lumber, which has advanced $2 to $3 per 1,000. At Detroit business is increasing in dry goods, and in the whole of the business products. General trade at Chicago exceeds last year's for the same week with good prospects. At St. Paul, the grain trade is increasing, with large distribution of goods, a free movement of grain and buyers in larger number than usual. Business is healthy at Milwaukee, very active at Omaha, and shows a marked increase at St. Paul. At Denver trade is very satisfactory, but no improvement is seen at Salt Lake. Receipts of cattle and wheat are heavy at Kansas City. At Memphis trade is improving, and at New Orleans cotton is in better demand and sugar stronger and active.

In the Metal Trade.

Pig iron in former. Some Alabama furnaces have been advancing the price 25 cents, but bar iron is slightly easier; some glassing is seen in plates, and on the whole the price of metal is not quite so favorable. The large sales of copper at 11 1/2 are reported, and lead is slack at $4.10, with tin steady at $29.15. Coal is active in retail trade. Actual sales in August, the Lehigh valley, averaged 24 cents below the schedule. In the increasing activity is seen, sales far exceeding last year's, and carpet wools are especially firm and scarce. Foreign exchange is suddenly broken down to 84 1/2, and gold is declining from 150 to 151 1/2 per cent while at London the rate is below 1 per cent. Merchandise exports from New York for the week ending Sept. 18, 1892, are valued at $1,000,000, a decline of 20 per cent from the same week last year. Exports of wheat, cotton, and other commodities are being strong, advancing on the average of about $1 per bushel during the week, with some indications of a decline in the latter part. The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 21, as compared with 15 in the last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 244.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Fair Trade Reported from Many Business Centers.

New York, Sept. 20.—Bradstreet's report of the state of trade for the week: Decreased receipts of wheat at the northwest, expectations of a further reduction and firmer Liverpool cables, served to stiffen wheat prices, and quotations are up to 1 1/2 cents. Indian corn stocks fell away last week and prices are fractional higher. Exports of wheat from all United States ports this week (hour included) equal 8,711,000 bushels against 8,384,000 bushels last week. Less wheat, but more flour was shipped abroad this week than last—and 1,000,000 bushels less than last—and more than in the like week in 1891. Week before last exports aggregated 3,567,000 bushels, and the week before that 3,500,000 bushels. Available stocks of wheat this week increased to 4,183,000 bushels, showing how much more ready stocks are accumulating than they are going abroad and into consumption. Total canal clearings for the week are specially telegraphed to Bradstreet's from seventy cities, the largest number ever reported. The total for fifty-nine cities out of the sixty is $1,185,000,000 or 6.4 per cent more than last week, but 11 per cent less than in the like week a year ago. The total was 256. More than four-fifths are those of concerns with a capital of $5,000 or less.

WALL STREET FOR A WEEK.

Speculation No Longer Influenced by Exaggerated Cholera Scare. New York, Sept. 20.—Bradstreet's Wall Street review for the week says: The speculative market has returned to its equilibrium and is no longer influenced by exaggerated fears of a cholera epidemic. The subsidence of the disturbance is accompanied by the exhibition of a further moderate improvement in values. It is to be noted, however, that the short interest created during the decline has itself supplied most of the buying power on which the appreciation is based. Other factors have, it is true, assisted the growth of a bullish sentiment and action. The easier tone of the loan market and decreasing prospect of close conditions in money has a due influence, though the fall of exchange rates to figures which absolutely prohibit a further drain of gold was even more effective. The fact that large offerings of bills of exchange against European purchases of the market, and are responsible for the decline of exchange, is regarded as significant. It is even argued that the movement in this connection may, if continued, result in a reversal of the process which had created so much alarm and bring gold from Europe to this country. Under these circumstances, not only holders of gold, but also those who manifest a strong disinclination to sell at present prices, but who are speculating in the market, are in a bullish position on the market which they temporarily abandoned in consequence of the cholera scare. It does not seem that there is as yet any marked disposition to resume the speculative manipulation on which the market for some time rested. The absence of home support would be a negative influence in such operations. London, too, manifests entire indifference and takes no part in the proceedings here. The market, in fact, has been altogether a professional one and it is subject to the limitations which such conditions involve.

CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENTS.

Omaha Shows a Gratifying Increase—Reports from Other Cities. New York, Sept. 20.—The following table compiled by Bradstreet's show bank clearings for the week ending September 23, 1892, and the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week of 1891:

Table with columns: CITY, CLEARINGS, PERCENTAGE. Includes cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, etc.

Second Congress National Real Estate Association.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1892.—Owing to its commanding situation as a railroad center, the city of Buffalo has long been one of the very popular as a convention city for meetings of national bodies. But never in her history has she made preparations so extensive for the gathering of business men, and for the purpose of those who visit will be wide and receive an effect upon her great destiny as will the meeting of the National Real Estate Association, which will convene in this city on October 4 to 7 inclusive.

OTHER CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Henry Oliver Again Sues J. F. Lansing for Damages to the Amount of Fifty Thousand Dollars—Other Capital City News.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special to THE BEE.)—The manner in which the district court has taken hold of the criminal docket promises well for a highly successful term. The conviction of Ben. Duncan for robbery yesterday afternoon was followed last evening by the conviction of his partner, Everett Newbury. Neither have been sentenced, but they will undoubtedly get all that the law allows.

Gossip at the State House.

The certificate of the nomination of F. P. Wilson as the prohibition candidate for congress in the Third district was filed with the secretary of state this afternoon. The Colfax County bank at Howells was incorporated today by F. F. Folds, J. Simathian and L. E. Folds, with a capital of $40,000. The case of B. F. Madison against the city of Omaha was argued today in the supreme court today. Madison was convicted by the district court in and for Douglas county of soliciting a bribe for using his influence in securing the passage of an ordinance granting certain privileges to the Ballou Manufacturing company. He was fined $500 and costs, but his attorney alleged errors in the proceedings of the court below and ask the supreme court to reverse the verdict and discharge the plaintiff or else grant him a new trial.

General Thayer's Trip East.

General John M. Thayer started east this morning on a special train from his family physician announcing the serious condition of Mrs. Thayer, who is sick at her home in Massachusetts. General Thayer returned from Massachusetts a few days ago, leaving his wife much improved in health. Her condition has grown alarming and her friends apprehend the worst. The serious illness and poor health of Mrs. Thayer have been a source of apprehension to her many friends for the past year. The low state of her health has prevented the general to take the prominent part in the present campaign that he would like to take. He will arrive at Mrs. Thayer's bedside Sunday evening.

Mrs. Strickland's Troubles.

The divorce trial between Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strickland promises to be of absorbing interest in the present term of the district court. Mrs. Strickland has petitioned the court to order her husband to give her $100 for attorney's fees and to pay her the sum of $10 per month until the case is finally heard. She also asks that she be compelled to specify the names and dates to which he alludes in his petition for a divorce. Another affidavit filed by the lady alleges that during her absence from home her husband stole a number of her silk dresses and presented them to a notorious woman of the town, with

IT WAS A PERFECT SUCCESS

Grand Army Members Pleased with Their Washington Reception.

FEATURES OF THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT

Interesting Reunion Enjoyed by Secretary Noble's Old Regiment, the Third Iowa Cavalry—Many Pleasant Reminiscences of the War Recited.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.

It is all over now. Nearly all of the veterans have left the city. Only the decorations and a few straggling Grand Army of the Republic suits remind one tonight that there has been the greatest reunion of soldiers here this week known to the country.

General Clarkson, Omaha's postmaster, said to THE BEE man this evening: "It was a perfect success. Every Nebraskan will leave Washington delighted."

It was the Nebraskans, it will be remembered, who fought most bitterly at Detroit to prevent the location of the encampment in this city, but now there are none more complimentary in their utterances as to Washington and her hospitality than they.

Sergeant-at-Arms Valentine of the United States senate says: "I am more than delighted with the entertainment provided for the veterans. Not a sound of complaint has reached my ears and I doubt if any one can have cause for a single growl. This was the grandest encampment that ever was held and none that succeeded can ever be within sight of it."

Colonel W. H. Mitchell, another Nebraskan, is more than delighted with the manner in which everything went off. Naturally he is especially pleased with the naval reunion for he was the descendant of the Kearage exhibition, which was a splendid success.

"Every body seems to be more than satisfied," said he today, "and everybody would be justly unreasonable if they were not delighted. This city has done more for the entertainment of the old soldiers and sailors than was ever done by any other community, and I am satisfied that the veterans will first to give them the recognition denied them elsewhere."

Iowa Boys Equally Pleased. The Iowa boys are equally pleased with their stay here. Some of the Hawkeye veterans of the old regiment, the Third Iowa Cavalry, with members of their families, attended the secretary's address this morning. The secretary addressed the organization. In the course of his address he paid a glowing tribute to the members of that organization and recalled the pleasant efforts and services of the Iowa boys during the war.

The 200 members of the Nineteenth Ohio Infantry association who attended the encampment have been living in clover during the past week. They stopped at the residence of Mr. J. A. Pickers, South Dakota, Charles F. Manderson, at the corner of South and N streets. A tent was erected on a vacant lot adjoining the senator's home and the boys have been comfortably accommodated. At the reunion of the regiment held yesterday General Manderson was elected president and Colonel W. H. Mitchell, compiler of the congressional directory and author of the reunion Kearage, was elected an honorary member of the association, an honor which is rarely bestowed.

The Nineteenth Ohio was a regiment which saw some hard service during the war. It was raised in northeastern Ohio for the month's service. It was the "rose-water" brigade of McClellan's Army, and was the only Ohio regiment in three months' service that was in the field to fight. General Manderson was in the service as captain of the regiment's company, having enlisted in his company the day after the news of
