C. O. D. BROWN'S OPENING BOSTON STORE DRESS GOODS BOSTON

He Opens in His New Location, His Large Grocery.

EVERY LADY RECEIVED A BOQUET

Great Crowds Attended it Yesterday-It Was a Grand Success-Handsomely Illuminated Last Night - Goods and Prices Caught the Crowd.

There have been a number of openings within the past week; dry goods and mulinery, as well as furniture houses, have given Omaha people a chance to inspect fall styles in these lines, but no fall opening so far held has been a greater success than Ed. N. Brown's C. O. D. grocery opening. which was held yesterday.

Every lady visitor was presented a handsome boquet of natural flowers, and when it is known that 6,000 of these beautiful florai souvenirs were given out before z o'clock yesterday afternoon, some idea of the size of the crowd may

The occasion was not particularly a fall opening but the opening of "C. O. D. Brown's," as he is familiarly called,

A short time ago Mr. Brown bought the Hetzel bankrupt stock of groceries, which included the mammoth grocery stock located at the old Stonehill stand 114 and 116 S 16th street. He secured this mammoth stock for about 50c on the dollar and many claim he paid less

He then removed from his old stand, corner 16th and Capitol avenue, to the old Stonehill-Hetzel stores, next to the Boston Store, where the opening took place yesterday. From early morning till late last night the people flocked into Brown's O. D., and few were those who left the store without leaving an order o some description. Many expressed surprise at the prices, which are below anything heretofore heard of in the grocery line. But when you take into consideration the fact that the Hetzel bankrupt stock was bought for fifty cen on the dollar and that Brown has three stores, one in Council Bluffs, one in South Omaha and this big one in Omaha, is there any reason why he shoull not be able to buy goods cheap; he buys in as large quan-do, and gets as low prices.

Ed L. Cloughlin will occupy Ed N Brown's old stand at Sixteenth and Capitol avenue with one of the finest mea markets this side of Chicago.

Brown's store last evening was illumi nated with hundreds of electric lights, and it certainly is one of the finest grocery stores in the west.

Suburban Homes,

When a city reaches that period in its growth that entitles it to put on metropolitan airs the well-to-do citizen commences to talk about a suburban residence. The crowded street of the busy metropolis with its noise and dust and smoke is hardly the place for building an ideal home. He who can afford the luxury of pure air and plenty of room will go further out and build where he will be surrounded by those essentials of a pleas ant home, plenty of green grass and trees, pervaded by a sense of quiet.

While there are many advantages con-nected with the siburban hone there is one great disadvantage, the difficulty of reach-ing the business center of the city. The introduction of rapid transit by means of the electric motors has greatly reduced this diffiguity and a citizen may reside in the sucuros and still be near his business if his residence happens to be on the line of the electric motor. In stormy weather the resi-dent of the suburbs is always at a disadvantage and a break in the transportation service puts him to no end of inconvenience. This has led to the introduction in many cities of the country of the private park sys-tem, which has all or nearly all the ad-vantages of the suburban residence and may be without the serious objection of inaccessibe without the series of the transfer of the best advantage in St. Louis, and to some extent in Chicago. A tract of land is secured as near into the city as possible and in an accessible locality. It must be a tract that has not been all cut up into streets and alleys by the city and that can be controlled in that respect by the owner. The grounds are laid off and beautified by means of the landscape gardener's art and the residences grouped a convenient points add to the attractiveness of the whole. The finest examples of this system are veritable parks maintained with the greatest care and form pleasing spots in in the city surrounded as many of their are by solid residence or business blooks. The general public, however, can only look on and admire as they are closed to all but the residents and their friends. "No dogs or lotterers allowed in here" is the sign over the entrance to one of these residence parks in an castern city.

It seems almost a pity that some o Omaha's additions have not been laid out on this plan. There are several localities in this city that might have been utilized with good results for this purpose. That part of the city lying back of Brownell hall would have made a splendid private residence park and the closing of the streets would not have interfered with the waffic of the city.

A beginning, however, has been made in Omaha in this direction. Stanford Circle, which is located on the south side of Vinton which is located on the south side of Vinton between Thirteenth and Fifteenth streets, is laid out on this pine. The houses are all very altractive one-story cottages, eighteen in number, and area furnished with every convenience. They are built in two rows, facing each other. The space between them is parked off and bountifully supplied with shade. At first only twelve were built, but they proved so popular that the proprietor is just completing sixtmore, bringing the total up to eighteen, as noted above.

TYPE FOUNDERS COMBINE.

Prospectus of the New Company Issued-A Big Capitalization. NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Times says:

The American Type Founders company, as the newly formed trust which seeks to control the type making industry of the country calls itself, has issued a preliminary prospec tus, which gives a definite idea of the magnitude of the deal. From this document it appears that the capitalization of the trust has been fixed at $91,000,000, representing 40,000 shares of preferred stock and 50, 000 shares of common steck. The twentythree houses in the trust represent, it is asserted, fully 85 per cent of the entire business of the country. These houses are:
Mackeliar, Smiths & Jordan, Collins & McLeester and Pelose & Co., Philadelphia;
James Conners Sons, P. H. Heinrich and A.
W. Lindsay, New York; Carr & Co., John
Ryan & Co., J. G. Mengel & Co. and Hooper, Wilson & Co. Baltimers, Hoston Type four. Wilson & Co., Baltimore; Boston Type foundry and Fhelps, Dalton & Co., Boston; Lyman & Son, Buffalo; Allison & Smith and Cincinnati Type foundry, Cincinnati; Cleveland Type foundry, Cheveland; Marder, Luse & Co. and Union Type foundry, Chi-cago; Benton, Waido & Co., Milwaukee; Central Type foundry and St. Louis Type foundry, St. Louis; Kansas City Type foun-dry, Kansas City, and Palmer & Rey, San Francisco.

Francisco, The officers of the organizations are President, Robert Allison, Cincinnati; vice president, William B. Mackellar, Philadelphia; eastern manager, G. Frederick Jor dan, Philadelphia; western manager, Marder, Chicago; secretary, A. T. H. Brewer, Chicago; directors, Robert Allison, William B. Mackellar, Frederick Jordan, J. W. Phinney, John Marder, Cortlandt

Parker. Only three large firms, Farmer, Little & Co., and the Bruce Type foundry of this city, and Barnhart Brothers & Spindler of Chicago, remain outside the combination, and so for as the local houses are concerned it is asserted that they are practically in harmony with the aims of the trust, although not car ing to identify themselves with it. It is generally conceded that the new organization will practically control the market. All the smaller firms will be crowded out and thos which remain outside the trust will not attempt any serious competition.

The immediate effect of the combination, according to H. M. Hall of the Bruce type foundry, will be to put an end to the fleroe competition which has obtained in the business for the last ten years. To begin with, the rate of discounts will be reduced materially. At present many firms are giving as high as 5 per cent discount. Prices, too, will come up. Mr. Hall holds that they should be at least 15 per cent higher. The general impression in the trade is that the present prices are altogether too low, and that the various houses outside the new or-ganization are prepared to accept a considerable increase in all prices with pleasure. On this account, those firms which refused to identify themselves with the trust look upon it with favor and hold to the idea that it will have a beneficial effect on the type founders' interests at large.

Swenthouses in New Jersey. NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 24.-Deputy Labor Inspector Callan of the state bureau has made a report to the Essex trade council regarding his work among the factories of Newark. In his report he says: "One important matter I want to call attention to is the sweating system adopted by tenement house tailors. The governor of a neighboring state detailed two of his inspectors to examine into the system and drive them out of the state. It was found that most of the houses were owned by New York's "400" and nearly the entire output was shipped to John Wanamaker of Philadelphia. They are driven out of New York and numbers of endeavor to induce the next legislature to enact a law prohibiting the sweathouse

NEW PIECES THAT WILL BE PRODUCED

Coming Debut of Sedohr Rhodes, an Amer ican Singer, in an English Theater-What the Theater-Goers Find to Talk About.

London, Sept. 24.-From the present in dications managers will have an opportunity during the present season to recoup the losses they sustained last season, which was rendered unsuccessful, in a pecuniary sense, by the death of the duke of Clarence and Avondale, and the consequent period of mourning, which has put an end to theatergoing among the fashionable classes. Since the beginning of the month, when theaters began to reopen, business has been unusually good at almost all the places of amusement that have opened their doors to the public. At the Drury Lane theater, where the "Prodigal Daughter," (the joint work of Sir Augustus Harris and Mr. Henry Pettitt) is being presented, there has been an enormous attendance. The play is a sporting drama and has been described as "realism at its last gasp." In the third act of "Prodigal Daughter" there is given a most realistic presentment of a race course scene. This course is as far as possible an exact reproduction of the one at Liverpool over which the grand national steeplechase is run. Twelve horses appear in the race in this act, and one of them, of course, the winner, is Voluptuary, who did actually win the grand national in 1884. Whatever the merits of the "Prodigat Daughter" as a play may be the people are anxious to see the spiencid spectacle presented and consequently money is being coined by the management.

At the Adeiphi theater, where "The Lights of Home" is playing, and the Vaudeville theater, where "Our Hoys" is on the boards, the public nightly fill the houses to their utmost capacity, and the Gattis, who manage both houses, look complacently upon the rush.

Ellen Terry and Henry Irving.

Great interest is manifested in the reopening of the Lyceum theater tonight, when Mr. Henry Irving will again oppear in "The Bells," which will be presented for six nights, when "King Henry VIII." will again be put on. The recent reports con-cerning the ill health of Miss Terry are greatly exaggerated. She will appear October 1 in her old part of Queen Katherine in "King Henry VIII.," while Mr. Irving will play Cardinal Wolsey.

The Savoy theater also reopens tonight with "Haddon Hail," Sullivan & Grundy's much-talked-of new comic opera. Interest in this new work is intense and the house will undoubtedly be packed. The cast, as announced, will be as follows: Royalists, John Manners, Mr. Curtice Pounds: Sir George Vernon, Mr. Richard Green; Oswald, Mr. Kenningham; Rupert Vernon (Round-head) Mr. Rutland Barrington; Puritans, head) Mr. Ratland Barrington; Puritans, the McCrankie, Mr. W. H. Denny; Sing Song Simon, Mr. Rudolph Lewis; Kill-Joy Candlemas, Mr. W. Leon; Nicodemus Knock-knee, Mr. A. Fowles; Barnabas Bellows-to-mend, Mr. C. DePledge; Major Domo, Mr. Mordon; Dorothy Vernon, Miss Lucile Hill; Lady Vernon, Miss Rosina Brandram; Dorcas, Miss Dorothy Deborah Vane; Nance, Miss Nita Cole; Gertrude, Miss Claribel Hyde; Deborah, Miss Florence Miss Claribel Hyde: Deborah, Miss Florence Easton. The scene of the opera is laid at Haddon hall, and hinges on a love affair and elopement of Dorothy Vernon and the son of the earl of Rutland. The onslaught of the critics upon Mrs. Langtry's new play, "The Queen of Manoa," now being played at the Haymarket theater, has had no effect on its bookings. The house is filled every night and the desire to see the play has justified Mrs. Langtry in annuncing a matinee. It would seem from this that the adverse critical notices have fallen flat upon the public. Should misfor-tune yet overtake Mrs. Langtry in this venture she has two more plays in reserve. One other Mr. Sydney Grundy's adaptation of Sardou's "Maison Neuve."

Ouida Writes a Letter, Oulda has contributed an article on the subject of why novelists do not write plays. She says that the French style allows a wide latitude in situation, a French audience appreciates an intellectual character and the spirit of the play which an English audience finds unintelligible and iresome. Ouida adds that if Racine aud Molier were alive they would write plays for Mounet Sully and the Coquelins. Shakespeare and Sheridan alive they would certainly write poems and novels. An audience capable of accepting Mary Anderson as n tragic actress is incapable of knowing good from bad. English audiences are uncul tured. With few exceptions English actors and actresses act ill. They never merge themselves into the character they represent. These, according to Ouids, are the reasons that have kept writers of eminence off the English stage since the days of Mr. Herbert Gardner, the present minister agriculture, was at one time a playwright n 1874, under the nom duguerre of G Herbert, he produced the one-act play "Our Bitterest Foe," in which so many amateurs have made their first bow. His other plays were, "Second Thoughts," "Time Will Tell" and "Cousin Jack." In 1885 he adapted the libretto of a musical play, "A Night in Wales." In that year he was elected to parmament, and since that time has devoted himself to watching the tragedy, comedy and farce in the House of Commons. Now he appears in a leading part in the drama of government, and it is to be hoped that he will appear as well as an actor as he did as an author. Considerable excitement has been caused in Liverpool by the production of a play cailed "A Fool's Paradise," owing to the to incidents in the case of Mrs. Maybrick.

Will Join the Professional Rank. "Ailesa Craig," a well known amateur actress, but who is better known as the daughter of Ellen Terry, will soon bloom out as a professional. She will shortly appear in a new play that is to be produced at the St. James theater.
"Cigarette," Mr. Haden S. Parry's new comic opera, which is now being presented at the Lyric theater, will be transferred to the Shaftesbury theater on Monday next, when Miss Geraidine Ulmar will join the Mr. George Edward will open the Prince of Wales theater with Osman Charri's com-edy sketch. Arthur Roberts, Florence St. John, Phyllis Broughton, Sylvia Gerry and, probably, Braudon Thomas, will appear in

Her father, Mr. Travis Rnodes, was an Englishman by pirth; her mother is an American lady. The name Sedohr, although "Rhodes" spelled backward, is not, as is generally imagined, an adopted nom de theater, but is the only front name that Miss Rhodes possesses, she having heen christened by that name alone. having been christened by that name alone, a fact due to a whim on the part of her father, who determined to bestow that pe-cultar appelation upon his first born child, of whatever sex it should prove to be.

The collapse of the Royal English opera house has left Mr. Cowan with an unperformed opera on his hands. It was written at the suggestion of Mr. D'Oyley Carte to a libretto based on Oulda's "Signa." It is possible that either Sir Augustus Harris or Signor Lago, each of whom will start an opera this season at the beginning of October, may perform Mr. Cowan's opera, although works of English composers do not get great ucouragement here. In the meantime, Mr Cowan has visited italy and arranged for the production of "Signa" at the Carlo Felice theatre in Genoa curing the January carni-

CAPTURED BY THE RUSSIANS.

Hard Luck of an American Scaling Schooner

in the Far North. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 24.—The sealing schooner Kate and Ann, Captain Lutgen, has just reached here with only sixty skins. Some two months ago the schooner touched Yokohama, where she discharged 1,000 skins that were shipped to this port. The captain states that after leaving Yokohama the vessel sailed for the sealing grounds around Atton island, near northwestern Alaska, and had captured upwards of 200 skins. It the Russian man-of-war Zobiaka seized schooner, taking away not only all skins, but most of her sealing gear and hunting guns. The Russian also took nearly all the provisions aboard, leaving enough only to get the crew home again before starving.

BISHOP MAIZ ASSAULTED,

Knocked Senseless by a Stranger Who Had Invaded His House.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 24.-A mysterious stranger called at the Catholic Episcopal residence in Washington, K7., today and asked to see Bishop Matz. The colored porter directed him to the bishop's room. When the bishop opened the door in response to the stranger's knock, he received two heavy blows in the face from the stranger's fists, which knocked the reverend bishop senseless. The stranger then turned to leave the house. The porter tried to stop him, but the man drew a revolver and made good his escape. Bishop Matz has no knowledge of the man nor his motive.

PECK'S CASE POSTPONED.

New York's Labor Commissioner Will Have His Hearing Next Wednesday.
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Labor Commissioner Charles F. Peck and his stenographer, Elbert Rogers, appeared in the court o sessions this morning with counsel. The indictments against them were for feloniously removing and destroying public papers. Both men stood up to plead, when their counsel interrupted and asked for an adjournment, saving that he would be very busy until next Tuesday. The district attorney said he wished the case to come to trial as soon as possible, but the matter was finally postponed to Wednesday next. Each man gave $1,000 bonds.

OVER COLONEL SMEED'S CASH

Law Suit Over the Property of the Late Union Pacific Engineer.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST MRS. NICHOLAS

Colonel Smeed's Daughter Alleges That Her Father was Unduty Siftuenced by the Omaha Widow, and That the Alleged Will is Invalid.

The question of who is entitled to a dead man's property is one that the county court has been called upon to decide. The case grows out of the death of Colonel Eben C. Smeed, the well known Union Pacific civil engineer who passed from this life on August 24, of the present year, at his home in Philadelphia. There was an affair of the heart connected.

with the gentleman's life, and it was claimed that Mrs. Jeannette R. Nicholas was the woman upon whom he had bestowed his affections. At any rate she was present when he died and afterwards followed the remains to Kansas, where they were interred. It was reported that the colonel had left his property to Mrs. Nicholas and had cut his daugnter, Mrs. Kate Smeed Cross of Emporta, Kan., off without a shilling. The talk was a sweet morsel of scandal for the time being, but it was soon forgotten and the world moved along as usual. The developments, however, now indicate that the death of Colonel Smeed will bring on a legal battle that will be fought to the bitter end.

The daughter of the departed railroad man has thrown down the glove and has chal-leaged Mrs. Nicholas to combat. This she has done in the probate court of Douglas county, where she has filed a petition, in which she alleges that when Eben C. Smeed died he had personal property of the value of $12,000 located in Douglas county; that she was his daughter and only heir at-law and that when he died he left no will by which his property was bequeathed to any person. The petitioner further alleges that since the death of her father, a Mrs. Jeannette R. Nicholas has appeared upon the scene, claim ing to hold a will which was executed by the late Colonel Smeed during his lifetime and in which she is the legatee.

The petitioner further alleges that Mrs.

bring her will into court.

Nicholas is and was a designing woman, and that if she holds such a will it was secured through the influence of her designs practiced upon the deceased, just prior to his death, and therefore is not a will which could be considered in any court of justice.

County Judge Eller has placed the petition on file and has cited Mrs. Nicholas to appear on September 30 to answer the petition and

An Estate of Five Millon Dollars Divided Among His Heirs. A certified copy of the will of the late Sidney Dillon, a former president of the Union Pacific railroad, was filed in the probate court yesterday.

The will bears the date of October 10. 1885, and has two codocits, one dated May 18,1891, and the other June 5, 1895. The first revokes a grant of $150,000 to a charitable institution of New York city and the second makes a distant relative visce. The second code al was made days before Mr. Dillon's death, which occurred June 9. The property is scheduled at $5,010,000, the $5,000,000 being composed of railroad stocks and bonds, while the $10,000 consists of lands in Douglas and other Nebraska counties. All of the property goes to relatives.

District Court Doings. The September term of the district cours has not got far enough along so that the judges had any decisions to hand down yesterday.
