The Chaplain told his unique story of the "Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison" on Monday evening, May 3.

The night was stormy, but the weather was brave and came to the First Methodist Episcopal church in such crowds that, large as it is, seats were soon at a premium. Men prominent in both church and state were generously interspersed through the assembly.

Known as leaders in philanthropic movements were present in large numbers. As the Chaplain rose all eyes were focused upon him at once, and from that moment his listeners were like crows in the hands of the baker.

The marvelous story ended the audience awoke as from a splendid dream and felt sorry that it had not continued another hour.

AMUSEMENTS

"La Perleche," an opera new to the present generation of theater goers, was given last evening at the Grand Opera house by the Winstan Opera company, the stellar role, Piquillo, in the very competent hands of Miss Winstan. Offenbach was at his very best when he wrote this delicious bit of musical fancy, although the libretto, as it is Englished, gives little idea of its cleverness.

It abounds in catchy songs, duets and quartets with stirring choruses. Her voice, in relief to the drive of the modern operatic stage which masquerades as light opera.

HARD TIMES IN ENGLAND

Gloomy Outlook for Laborers and Mechanics in the Country.

THOUSANDS ARE OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

Masters Give Notice of Further Reductions in Wages—The Clyde's Great Ship Yards Almost Deserted—Business Suffering from General Depression.

LOONDON, Oct. 3.—The labor outlook in the large manufacturing and shipbuilding centers of Great Britain is very threatening. A crisis is probable in the cotton trade that promises to have more widespread results than any of the previous troubles that have occurred between the masters and operatives, and in the shipbuilding trade of the Clyde only one-third of the yards are occupied and no new orders in hand. It is said that 15,000 hands who were employed in the yards are now idle and that many of those who are still at work are working on short time. To make matters worse for the operatives, the masters have now decided to make a general reduction in wages and have announced that engineers, iron founders and shipbuilders will henceforth receive 10 per cent less money for their labor than heretofore. This reduction is to take effect on October 1. The Clyde miners have also been notified that their wages will be reduced six pence per day on and after the 10th of the current month.

The St. James Gazette says that several great drapery firms are tottering under the weight of a general depression which has affected all ranks of society. This depression was badly felt Christmas time when some of the largest drapery shops in the West End were closed for a long time by a single customer. Many firms, in despair, dismantled their windows and packed their fancy goods away for a time, but now they are being forced to close their doors for good.

The Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Princess May created a demand for a new and good quality of flour to be produced than all demand for them was met by the death of the duke, and the princess was so bereft of her hands. The greater houses found it necessary to extend the credit of the better dealers in order to prevent them becoming bankrupt. It is said that a collapse will be inevitable by Christmas a collapse will be inevitable.

The St. James Gazette concludes by saying it is to be hoped that royalty will set the ball of prosperity rolling. The announcement that the duke of York was about to marry would have a magical effect on trade.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—Of the forty-eight military officers who started on Saturday in the long distance race, nine arrived the same evening at Izlud, Moravia, having completed 1454 kilometers. Among those who have been forced to withdraw from the race are the English, five Hungarian, five Russian and the rest of the riders. Up to the present time scanty reports have been received of the progress made by the riders. Cold, wet weather and thick fog make the conditions one for a long and arduous journey.
