INSPIRATION FOR THE UNTERRIFIED

Chauscey F. Black Opens the Proceedings With a Free Trade Speech and Grover Cievetand Responds With an Address of Welcome.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 .- The National Association of Hamocrat Clubs convened today in the Academy of Music. Long before the hour set for assembling the delegates began to arrive. The entire oronestra and first balcony were reserved for delegates. They were divided into sections by states and territories, with placards affixed to stacks designating the assigned positions. The room was profusely decorated with flags, banners and portraits of Cleveland and Stevenson. The boxes were filled, with fashionable people. As the promitent members of the party fied in one after another they were heartily cheered.

About 11 o'clock ex-Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black of Pennsylvania, president of the association, entered the ball, followed by Grover Cleveland. Their srrival was the signal for a tumuit of applause.

Called the Meeting to Order.

Black called the convention to proor and delivered the opening address. He said in part: "We assemble in this first quadrenmial national convention of democratic clubs under circumstances most auspicious. Never before within the memory of this generation has the democratic party rone into battle in behalf of principles so clearly usfined, and never before has such a magnificent organization appeared to sup-port them. Not only are the stand-ards lifted before our host in this inst grain struggle for the redemption of the land inscribed with those very isrands of liberty which inspired Gur forefathers, but they are borne by can didates worthy of the best duys of the repub lic, as democratic as the greatest democrat pure as the purest patriot in our story. In Cleveland and Stevenson history. we follow leaders who typify the spirit of American life and the genus of American institutions. Men who, in personal character and public service are not surpassed by the noblest statesmen of the ege." The speaker then took up and dwelt at length on the tariff, making a strong, un-mistakably free trade argument, decisring that the government bas no right to levy any Tax except for the necessities of its support. The speaker then took up the force pill which he declared of even greater Importance than the tariff question because it included the tariff. He declared it was the product of a wicked. deliberate conspiracy between the monopoly oligarchy and its political servant in con gress, devised with saturic ingenuity to kept the parties to the conspiracy is power in spite of the popular will. He closed by predicting the election of Cleveland and Stevenson, President Black then presented Grover Cleveland who was received with cheers. The ex-president then proceeded to deliver an address of welcome. He said:

Mr. Cleveland's Remarks.

"Mr. President and Gentlemen : It affords me especial pleasure to extend to you on this occasion a hearty welcome. As a citizen of this proud municipality I am glad to assure you that our hospitality is always open and reperous. In behalf of a community, distingenerous. In behalf of a community, disti-guished for its Americanism and to'eration in all meetings of belief and judgment, I know I may extend a cordial greeting to those who here represent political thoughtfulness and sincerity.

"As an unyielding and consistent believer in democratic principles, i trust I need to: hesitate to piedge to the representatives of organized democracy the rood will and fra-ternal sympathy of this democratic city. Your meeting is the council of war which precedes a decisive battle, and your deliber-ations should be the preparation for stormy conflict. All your weapons and all your equipments are soon to be tested. You have organized and labored and you have watched and planned to ensure your readiness for the Brief Addresses by Prominent Democrats.

J. H. Outhwatte of Ohio addressed the convention briefly. He said he had never seen the electoral votes of Ohio cast for a democratic presidential candidate, but he would say, in the words of an Ohioan at the Chicago convention: "Keep your eye on Ohio," And he would not be surprised to one Ohio; clour and not be surprised to see Ohio's electoral vote cast for the demo-cratic candidate this time. There was one thing, the republicans of Ohio were scared The speaker then denounced the force bill and urged the importance of preventing the estolity of its becoming a law. The convention was next addressed by Maor Martin Maginnis of Montana. He said it was a hopeful sign that the intelligent, en-thus astic young men of the country are focking to the democratic party. The re-publican party was founded in purity and patriotism. It struck sbackles from 4.000,000 slaves, but now it is given over to corruption; it is ruled by a platocracy and is endeavoring to place shackles upon 60,000,000 of free-men. The party of Lincoln and Sumper and Seward has become the party of Dudley and Seward has become the party of Dudley and Quay. Referring to Mr. Cleveland's admin-istration, the speaker said he did not, per-haps, turn out as many republican office holders as he might have done. "He will do better next time," cried a democrat. "Yes, he has learned something by this time," re-ulled the speaker. of the bank.

lied the speaker. He alluded to Secretary Whitney's adminstration of the navy and three cheers were given for Whitney. In conclusion, the speaker said the democrats in the west were doing their duty and he urged the democrats of the east to do theirs. He then read a series of resolutions adopted by delegates of various negro democratic clubs, denouncing the force bill as one intended to serve the interests of selfish monopolists.

Constitution Adopted and Officers Elected. The committee on constitution, having completed its work, reported tack the constitution as it previously stood with amend-ments, the principal one being the abolishment of the upwildy general committee and the establishment of an executive committee of seventeen instead. The report was adopted.

The committee on officers reported in favor of the election of the following officers for of the election of the following oncors for the ensuing four years: Channeey F. Black of Pennsylvania, president; Lawrence Gard-ner of Washington, D. C., secretary; Ros-well P. Flower of New York, treasurer. There was one vice president from each state and territory, among them being Charless Hoff of Arizona, M. B. McKinley of Colorado, William E. English of Indiana, Thomas Bowman of Iowa, William E. Russell of Massachusetts. Robert E. Smead of Montana, Frank B. Ireland of Nebraska,

About This Year's Wheat Crop.

In response to a query from a prominent financier in Omaha, asking as to the proba-ble acreage and yield of wheat in Nebraska this year, Commissioner Andres of the bu reau of industrial statistics today made the following reply : "The acreage of wheat in 1891 was 989,867, the yield 15,015,000, based upon the report of the United States Agricultural department. The acroage of wheat in 1892 is 1,229,965 and the crop will probably reach 86 per cent of last year's. The estimated increase in acreage in 1593 will be 8 per cent, based upon re-ports received up to date. It is certainly too early in the season to give any accurate figares.

School Law Decisions.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Goudy has announced the following de-cisions upon questions raised in regard to the interpretation of the school law:

The Board of Education in a city may make and enforce a regulation making the suspension of a pupil the punishment for in-jury to or destruction of city property. It is not necessary to the validity of a vote cast at a school meeting that the voter shall be either a citizen of the United States or that he shall have declared his intention to become a citizen. Powell returned the shots, but also made a poor record as a marksman. The hotel was crowded with guests, it being the last day of the county fair. The trouble arose over Granam's insulting the 11-year-old daughter of Powell about a month ago.

then, is no holiday assemblage, but an impressive convocation in furtherance of the designs and purposes for the accomplishment of which you and those you represent are panded together.

These designs and purposes, as declared by your association, are the preservation of the constitution of the United States, the autonomy of the states, the freedom of elections, opposition to the imposition of taxes beyond the necessities of the government economically administered, and the promotion of economy in all branches of the public service. These professions embody the purest patriotism and the loftiest aspirations of American citizenshin though at all times they should suggest to us the strongest obli-gation of political effort. Their motive force, as incentives to political activity and watch. fulness, should be irresistible at a time when the constitution is held in light esteem as against the accomplishment of selfish pur-poses, when state boundaries are bardly a barrier to contrained power, and when local self-government and freedom of elections is the scoff of partisanshin. Those who subscribe to the creed of this association and make any claim to sincerity can bardly ex-cuse themselves for lack of effort at a time when the necessities of the government economically administered have been little in relation to the taxation of the people, and when extravagance in public service has been contagious as a plague.

A Bright Promise of Reform.

"To those who hoped for better things. this convention of democratic clubs is a bright promise of reform. Unorganized good intentions and Idie patriotic aspirations ca not successfully contend for mastery with compact forces of private interests and greed, nor is the organization always the most useful which has the widest extent. The real benefit of political organization is found in its nearness to the people and in the directness of its action. Of course, harmony and unity of purpose are absolutely essen

"In this view, your assembling together is most important in so far as it promotes this barmony and unity by conference and a con-sideration of methods, and in so far as it inspires that zeal and enthosiasm which will make more effective your work at home. Therefore, I am sure that I can say bothing petter in taking my leave of you than to wish that your convention may be a most profit-able and encouraging one, and that at its conclusion you may resume your places in your home organizations newly inspired, determined and realous in the cause of true democracy.

Cleveland was frequently applauded, es-

Sympathy for Mrs. Harrison,

A resolution of sympathy with President furrison in his affliction in the illness of his wife, expressing the hope that she might speedily be restored to bealth, was unanimousiv adopted.

On motion a recess was then taken,

During the recess the state delegates named members of committees on credentials, on resolutions and on permanent or ganization. The committees so constituted boid nurried sessions before the second sussion, which began between 2 and 4 o'clock. Mayor Boody of Brookiyn was presented as soon as the convention resumed its meeting and on behalf of Brooklyn he welcomed the delegates.

At the conclusion of Mayor Boody's address it was announced that the committee on organization and credentials would sit during the afternoon. The committee on credentials announced, however, that there were no contests. The recess time of the committee had not allowed it to complet even a list of the clubs represented, much less a list of the delegates. There had last year been been 4.760 democratic cidbs on the roll of the association, while today that number had increased to more than 5,200.

A report of the committee on organization in favor of making the temporary officers of the convention the permanent officers was adonled.

Red Stone Goes,

The Twenty-second street pavement was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Board of Public Works, held yesterday afternoon.

The final ordinance, the advertisement and the contract called for the laying of Colorado sandstone, without designating whether it should be red or white. The property owners had petitioned for white stone and Hugh Murphy, the contractor, insisted that he had the right to lay either kind, though he pro posed to lay the red, simply because that was the kind that he dug from his quarries. For a time it looked as though the paving of the street would go over until next year, but the difficulty was settled by Mr. Murphy producing a petition from the property own-ers, in which they has withdrawn their names from the paper asking for white, and had signed for red Colorado stone.

The best medical aid in the city was summoned, but the occulist informed her that not only was the injured eye lost forever but that in all probability the other eye would be seriously affected. Miss Brock was one of the most carnest sto tents at the university and has always been an argent lover of chemistry. Her home is at Valparaiso, this state.

Criminal Cases in District Court.

The tenth man to be convicted of criminal offenses against the laws of the state in Lancaster county received his just descris this forenoon. His name is William Thomas and he was one of the "pards" of William Kennedy, who was convicted of burglary yesterday afternoon. Thomas was found guilty of the burgiary of Mrs. Marshall's residence, but as it was proven that he re-ceived the greater part of the plunder he will doubtless receive a heavier sentence. The court is occupied today with the case of the state against Jrmes Burk, who i wound. Burk is the railroad grader who got into a difficulty with W. N. Corneal, the colored bartender of Iveson's saloon, some time last sammer. Later in the day Burg returned to the saloon and commenced firing at Corneal at close range. Corneal dropped to the floor and then crawled around the end of the conster and returned the fire. Burn was wounded in the neck and for several days it was believed that he would die recovered, however, and is now standing trial. Heard in the Court Rooms.

Judge Tuttle is this afternoon engaged in the case of Miller & Co. sgainst Matilda Barton to recover $50.25 on a note made pay-able to the Gale Salky company. The de-fendant claims that she signed the note un-fer threats and misrepresentation. E. F. Pettis was made happy by a tempor ary injunction which will for a time at least prevent the Lincoln Gas company from erect-ing an electric light pole in the drive which eads to his residence in prospect park. G. G. Waite, for his sister, Mrs. E. Milli-gan today commenced attachment proceed ngs in the county court against the property of Frank Hann, whom he claims is indebted to Mrs. Milligan is the sum of $400, Mrs. Mollie Jacobs files a very interesting reply to the divorce petition sent into the district court by her husband, Cuarlis. She alleges that he treated her cruelly a short time after their marriage and practically drove her from home. She says further that he is not a fit man to be entrusted with the care of their children. She wants the cusody of the children and a reasonable amount of alimony.

Caused by an Explosion.

The residence of Dr. Daugherty, at 2032 Howard avenue, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning under circumstances which were mysterious, to say the least. The family is absent from the city, and the house has not been opened for some time. At the hour mentioner a terrific explosion shock that part of the city and the smes were immediately seen to spring from building. ANNOUNCEMENTS.

A comedy which bubbles over with mirth, which is brightly blumerous, full of gay, sparkling wit, without buffoonery, and is received with vehement applause, in fact, with shouts, screams and yells, such is "Jane," Charles Frohman's successful comedy, which will play an engagement of three nights and Saturday matines at Boyd's thea-ter, beginning Thursday evening. This mirth-provoking comedy was the talk of London and Paris, and is credited with a brilliant run of over 100 nights at the Madi-son Square theater, New York city, where

It played to immense business. Edgewood is the name of a New England village and the "folks" are some of its in-
