MILLER

His Self Sought Destruction Finally Comes to Pass.

ADMITTED TO HAVE BEEN A SUICIDE

Every Evidence of Murder Dispetted by the Facts as the Day Disclosed Them-

How His Last Night Was Spent.

Mayor Miller of South Omiha, who shot himself Tuesday afternoon at Eighth and Dodge streets, died at the Methodis thospital at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The remains were at once removed to the morgue. Judge Z P. Hedges was with the mayor when be died and said that he passed peacefully away. Mrs. Miller had spent the nfternoon beside ner husband and left for her home only about fifteen minutes before death came. The acceased did not regain consciousness from the time be was found lying in the weens and died without being able to utter a word. During the day and after the results of the night's investigations and been made known, the near friends of the deceased gave up their theory of murder and were compelled by statements of the facts in the case to believe that, while temporarily deranged, the mayor had fired the shot which proved

The Omaha detectives worked all day on the case, but failed to find any clew of murder, and after the reports from the men were all in last night the chief said that he was satisfied that Mr. Milier intended to commit suicide. Simply a Case of Suicide,

That it is a simple case of suicide seems J. S. Waiters, president of the South Omana city council, called at the hospital Tues-day night, and notwithstanding the general order to admit no one to the wounded man's apartment he was allowed to enter owing to the strong terms of intimacy upon which the two men had been. After looking at the dying man, Mr. Walters asked Dr. Brasn to allow him to look over the effects found on Mr. Miller's person. Among these, written with a lead pencil on the back of an envelope, he discovered the following note: To Whom it May Concern: I have trouble in my head and cannot stand it any longer, Although the lines were unsigned Mr. Walters positively identified the handwriting as that of Mr. Miller. He said he was

Rented a Revolver.

This is sufficient to do away with all theories of foul play, but the evidence of the man's act is made still stronger by that of Leonoid Labowlitch, a nawn broker at 1109 Douge street. He was also a visitor at the bospital vesterday and identified the Eng-lish building revolver as the one Mr. Miller rented of him Tuesday, paying him $2 for it. What the Detectives Learned.

The investigation of Detectives Haze and Dempsey have convinced the police that the shot was fired by the unfortunate man's owr hand after a carousal which his friends and acquaintances cannot understand. Men who have known him for the last twenty years say that they never knew that he was a drinker and that the idea that he would alone make a round of the burnt district is to them anbelievable. But according to the inmates of the disreputable houses in that neighbor-hood he not out: did so on the night before his death, but is a well known visitor there and had a particular friend at $16 Dodge street who lives with Daisy Commings.

Late Monday night Miller went to the house kept by Jennie Black at 104 South Eighth street and announced that he was going to make a night of it. He stayed there two hours, buying beer and talking with the inmates. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning he was at Birdie Mann's, 102 North Ninth street, and after a short stop left, saying he would come again At 4 o'clock he was back and bought a couple of bottles of beer. While there he took down the name of Ida Gibson, one of the inmates, and gave his own name as that of A. B. Small of Helena.

At 10:30 o'clock Tuesday Miller visited his favorite, Dude Gibson. The girl says he was very drunk and talked in a rambling way on all sorts of subjects.

Had Two Me : With Him. At 11 o'clock he was at Lou Scott's at 10 South Eighth street, one of the hardest places in the district. He had two com-panions here, one a tall, rawboned man in a light suit of clothes and a straw hat, the other a short, heavy-set man in dark clothes and wearing a black mustache. He stayed there twenty minutes and was not seen again until found in the weeds,

Think He Was Insane.

A good many South Omaha people were in Omaha yesterday out of interest in Mayor Miller's condition. While the majority con-cur in the belief that it was a case of suicide a few still cling to the belief that the mayor vas murdered. A physician who had been in the army during the war bases his beilef on the fact that he has seen hundreds of men shot in the brain and never knew a case where the victim failed to hold with a death grip on whatever be had in his hand, ayor Miller's revolver was found lying at

It is really the unanimous opinion of the mayor's friends that he has been out of his head for two or three days. Monday morning Mr. Miller went into C. C. Stanley's office on N street in South Omiha and talked for a long time on municipal matters, Mr. Stauley is certain that he was demented at the time. He would begin to talk on one subject and suddenly seem to forget all about it and break off abruptly and talk of some-thing entirely different. When Mr. Stanley asked aim one or two trilling questions he seemed entirely unable to comprehend what be was saying.

It is well known that the mayor has wored constantly over some of the vexations of his office and his peculiar actions have been noticed by others. He was not a man who could be intimidated, but yery anxious for fear he might offend some of his friends. The possibility in connection with the closing of the gambling houses constantly worried him and he has often spoken about it to Mr. Stanley and others.

When Last Seen Alive.

Charles Johnson, a driver for the South Omaha Delivery company, says that he saw Miller about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon talking with two men at the corner of Twelfth and Farnam streets. This is the latest hour at which anyone claims to have seen him alive. Johnson says that he could not be mistaken either as to the identity of the man or the hour of seeing him. This does away with the accepted opinion that the shooting took place near the noon hour.

Acting Coroner Welsh took charge of the remains immediately after death and considering the many different theories advauced decided to investigate for himself The movements of the mayor were followed closely by Mr. Welsh and at last after look ing into the matter thoroughly he decided last night that no inquest was necessary.

Lily division No. 8, Kuights of Pythias, will take charge of the remains and hold the funeral Sunday, at 1 p. m., at South Omaha.

GAPEN WAS LEGILLY REMOVED. Decision of the Supreme Court in an Interesting Omaha Case.

LINCOLN, Nob., Oct. 5 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The supreme court today handed down its opinion in the case of the State ex rel. Clark Ganen against Somers, in which Dr. Gapen applied for a writ of ouster against Dr. Somers, who had been appointed ity of Omaha by Mayor Bemis. The writ is lenied by the supreme court, Chief Justice

Maxwell reading the opinion.
The syllabus of the opinion is as follows:
"A commissioner of health for a city of the metropolitan class is to be appointed by the mayor and approved by the council and shall hold office for a term of two years unless sooner removed. In 1889 the statute was amonded so as to read, 'All officers appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council shall hold the office to which they may be appointed until the end of the mayor's term of office and until their suc-cessors are appointed and qualified unless sooper removed or the ordinance creating the office shall be repealed, except as otherwise provided in section 104, and in 1891 the statute was amended to provide that the mayor on to provide that the mayor on the second Tuesday in January after his election is required to appoint certain officers, which provision seems to include the com-missioner of health. Held constraing these provisions together that the mayor had authority at the time stated to remove the commissioner without having made charges and appoint one in his place.

"Where the statute authorizing the appointment contains a reservation of the right of removal without preferring charges and this bower is exercised by the removal of the incumbent and the appeintment of another in his stend, the right of the former

to the office will coase,
"Where a person is appointed to an office for a definite period and there is a provision that to obtain his removal charges must be preferred against him, he cannot be removed uniess such charges are made, but this rule does not apply to a case where the power of removal is retained and no charges are required. Section 172 of the act in relation to metropolitian cities does not apply to the officers of the class last named."

Attorney Walter Leese filed with the clerr of the supreme court this afternoon an application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Thomas Jones. He alleges that Jones was sent to the reform school from Otoe county on April 18, 1899, on the charge of burglary, and that he was then 18 years of age. On May 15, 1899, the sheriff took Jones from the reform school, the court having set aside the sentence. Jones was then resentenced to the penitentiary for four years on his former plea of guilty and without plea or trial. The attorney raised the point that there can be but one sentence as the result of one judgment of conviction, and that when an action is taken to carry out a entence it cannot be modified, Contractors Ordered to Stop But They Didn't Stop, and the Florentines Now Propose to Get Out an Injunction.

There is a war cloud hanging over the towns of Omaha and Florence and a legal battle between the two municipalities is even more than a mere possibility. Both towns are up in arms and the trouble all grows out of the construction of a sewer.

Last spring the city of Omaha decided to train the north bottoms, that the people residing thereon might not be compelled to wade to and from their premises. After revolving to the office of commissioner of health for the | the proposition for a long period of time City Engineer Rosewater concluded that open ditenes would do as good service as sewers and would be much cheaper. His ideas were given to the council, and acting upon his advice ordinances were passed ordering the construction of a couple of open ditches some sixteen feet wide and twelve feet deep. One of these ditches bore off to the northwest and was intended to have the North Omaha brick sewer for a southern outlet. The other ditch is located on the bottoms, west of Fort-Omana, and was intended to be deep enough to carry the water over the divide and discharge it into Brighan Young creek, which flows through the southern portion of the town of Florence and into the Missouri river, a short distance below the pumping station. Flustered the Florentines.

> In due time the Board of Public Works let the contracts, which a few days later were approved by the council and work com menced upon the east ditch, or the one extending to Brigham Young creek. Dirt fiew at a rapid rate, while the Florentines viewed the situation with alacm. In fact they predicted all manner of calamities, such as cholera, smallpox and a visitation of grasshoppers, which would be brought on by the Omahe sewerage flowing through the southern part of their town. They talked it over while they whittied the dry goods boxes and while they attended the evening devotional services at the little white church which nestles among the trees on the hill-side, overlooking the townsite, where nearly half a century ago the followers of Joseph Smith held forth in all of their glory. Time kept rolling right along and the ditch kept growing in width, depth and length. As the residents of the town observed this, they at last came to the realization that if they hesitated they would be lost, and not having a desire to find themselves in that condition, they concluded to act. They induced the common council of the town to call a special meeting that the situation could be discussed by the wise men who hold the future destines of the town in the paims of their hands.

The council met and after deliberating the anifesto went forth to the people. It was to the effect that Omaha must stop digging that ditch, or the aid of the court would be invoked to compel the metropoits of Nebraska to keep its municipal improvements within corporate limits, or its sewers, at least. This decision was received amid much enthusiasm by the entire population of the town, as the inhabitants had an idea that the contractors would at once null off their forces, but in this they were sadly mistaken, and day after day the ditch continued to grow longer, deeper and wider.

But the Work Hasn't Stopped.

This disregard of law, as laid down by the ordinance builders of the little town aroused the ire of their constituents and they con-cluded to act for themselves in the premises. Another meeting was held and the riot act was read to the council. The members of that body pleaded that they had issued their orders, but that the Omaha contractors had not only refused to obey the orders coming from the orderers, but had told them to go to a country that was hotter than this.

That was the straw that made the back of the camel sway and bend beneath its load Then the people took the matter in their own hands and vesterday they visited the city. called upon the Board of Public Works where they served notice that unless work was stopped upon the ditch, they would go to the courts for an injunction. The chair-man of the board could give them no satisfaction, though he told them that he would lay the matter before the city attorney and the council.

PARK MATTERS. Several Things Talked Over by the Com-

The Board of Park Commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon and discussed the Bemis park matter and Mr. Cieveland's plans for the improvement of Elmwood park. Mr. Millard stated that he had seen Mayor Bemis shortly before the hour of the board meeting and learned from the mayor that he was not disposed to make any further concessions with regard to his attitude touching the improvement of Benfis park. The subject was discussed at some length, and finally a committee was appointed to wait or the mayor once more, and if possible get him to accompany the committee to the disputed grounds, there to reach some plan of adjust-ing the difference between the donor and the omissioners in the plan for improving the Messrs. Lininger, Kilpatrick and Lake were appointed as the committee to wait on Mayor Bemis.

The new plans prepared by Mr. Cleveland for the improvement of Elmwood park were taken up. The plans provide for a ten acre age on the level ground where Leavenworth street runs through the park. The street will be turned to the south half a mile leaving that land free to be used for lake or lawn purposes. The plans also show the location of the drives and paths that are to be constructed in the park. Considerable discus-sion arose over the proposition to make the lake on the level ground, extrapeous from the ravine or creek that nature has already provided in the park. Mr. Lininger favored the idea of throwing a strong dam across the creek at the lower end of the park and by widening the banks of the little stream, thus providing a good sized take.

Mr. Kilpatrick, Mr. Millard and Dr. Miller opposed this plan on the ground that it would kill much of the fine shrubbery along the bank of the ravine to fill it with water and that Brownid be a difficult and expensive undertables to build a dum across the ravine that would not wash away with every freshet that struck it. They thought that a more beautiful lake could be provided at less expense on the level land forth and west of the creek. The question of securing a sufficient water sup-ply for a ten or twelve acre lake was discussed carnestly, and the whole question of making a lake in Elimwood was laid over for future action. Mr. Cleveland's plan for the roadways and other improvements in the park were accepted, and Superintendent Adams was instructed to proceed with the necessary plowing, so as to get the ground in shape for planting next spring.

Dr. Miller called attention to the fact that the property owners along the proposed Florence boulevard were anxious to have the park commissioners proceed with the work of staking out the lines where the ground had been deeded so that they might mprove their property accordingly. He said that these gentiemen were deserving of recognition because they had been the first to offer property free to the city of Omaha for boulevard purposes. He thought that the board should begin work on that portion of the boulevard which had been freely do-nated by the property owners.

Mr. Lininger thought that it would be well to simply stake out the lines and not do any expensive work until the balance of the titles had been secured by condemnation or otherwise for the balance of the proposed route. He finally agreed, however, that it might be well to proceed with some of the preliminary work of improving the north end of the boulevard, and a motion was made by Mr. Millard and passed by the unautmous vote of the board to instruct Mr. Adams to begin the work of staking out and doing the rough grading at once along that portion of the route where deeds have al-ready been firmished.

The committee appointed to consider the matter of purchasing furniture for the board rooms reported that the Dewey & Stone company had offered to furnish chairs, tables and desas as good or better than the Ketcham r'urniture company had furnished at a much lower figure. The goods recommended by the committee footed up $258. The same pieces of furniture furnished by the Ketcham company would cost $396.

HAYDEN BROS., Grocers. FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Meeting of the Board of Commissioners at Chicago. Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the general Congregational missionary body reassembled this morning. This board is self-constituting and self-perpetuating. At present it is composed of two elements, liberal and conservative. These have many points of difference. One of these differences, having to do with the body itself, came un this morning. The liberals believe that the churches which furnish all the funds should have representation. This matter came up in a paper by Dr. E. K. Alden, defending the conservative policy. It was moved that the paper be referred to a special committee to report next year. On behalf of the liberals a substitute was proposed to refer it to the business committee with instructions to report at this session. The conservatives carried the day, defeating the substitute by a vote of 29 to 42.

The conservatives finally consented to a reference to the committee with instructions to report as soon as possible. The conservatives have appointed the committee Fresh Baltimore Oysters at Haydens, We are now prepared to sell fresh oysters at 29c per quart. Remember we sell solid oysters and no water. # 1,000 SUITS

Of clothes-all sacks-all made of the same kind of goods-all one color-all cut alike-all trimmed alike-all lined alike-all made alikego on sale in our mamnioth men's suit department today-all at the one uniform price of ten dollars and fifty cents a suit—which we believe to be the best value ever given by any clothing concern in this country. These suits are all wool. They are made of as honest a piece of cassimere as ever came from a loom. They are cut to fit to perfection. They are made thoroughly--even the linings being triple stitched. The color is a dressy dark gray. The sizes are from 34 to 44. These suits are worth fifteen dollars. They are worth it in our store. They are worth it on your back--in your office--in your workshop--in the street. They are worth it every day in the week and Sunday too -- and have never been sold for less. We had them made for a purpose -- and that purpose was to start October business with a rush--to start a thousand men talking about us--to advertise--to emphasize still more the Nebraska's wonderful prices. If you're a farmer in the "shocking" business of "cultivating corn-or "cultivating votes" for governor--if you're a lawyer in good standing or "lie"-ing--either --if you're a banker clipping coupons or a cashier with a longing for Canadian society--if you're a man, and wear clothes--these are the very suits for your busi ness, and you never had an opportunity to try as good a suit in all your life for the money as these suits which we offer today at the remarkable price of
