FIGHTING FOR HIS OLD OMAHA HOME

Victorious in Ten Law Suits He Now Asks Damages From the Men Who Have Tried to Get Bis Possessions-District Court Doings.

A lawsuit which bears the marks of antiquity, and on which the finger of time has left its imprint is on trial in Judge Ferguson's court. Owing to its age and the number of times that it has been tried, this case has furnished many a lawyer with a fat fee during the past quarter of a century. Among the members of the legal profession the suit is known as that of John Flanigan against Jacob Eiton

White the suit is not of public importance, there are some interesting circumstances surrounding it.

The plaintiff is a colored man, over whose head ninety-three years have rolled, leaving abundant evidence in the way of a feeble and fattering step, a furrowed brow and a shock of wool almost as white as snow. The old gentleman was born and reared a slave in the sunny south, remaining in captivity until the surrender of Fort Deneison, in 1862. For a number of months he followed the union army, doing camp duty. In 1863, Flanigan wandered to Omaha and found employment as a justion about the office of the old Republican, which then was under the guidance of E. B. Taylor.

Itis Home is Involved.

Not being abundantly supplied with worldly goods, Flangan and his wife lived worldly goods, Flanigan and his wife lived in a hut on Taylor's farm in the vicinity of what is now Thirty-second street and the Belt Line tracks. There he has resided for thirty years and has seen Omaha grow from an Indian villiage into a metropolitan city. During all of these long weary years the old man has farmed and raised garden truck, thus accumulating a fortune which he had laid up to he used on a fortune which he had laid up to be used on the coming of a tainy day. After hving on the forty-acre tract for some ten years Flan-igan's troubles commenced, and he claims that it was then that the effort to dispossess him of his property was made. He claims that Taylor intended to deed him twenty acres of the land, but that the deed was never executed. It was then that Seth Ward, who held a mortgage on a portion of the tract, tried to oust the old colored man. case went into the United States court and Flanigan came out victorious. Then the present defendant got possession and law suits were commenced against Flauigan but at each trial he was on top. Failing to defraud him of his property through the courts, Flangan claims that Elion began a series of persecutions, which he has kept up for years. He claims that Elton has torn down his forces claims that the property his torn to be the property of the property his torn to be the property of the property his torn to be the property of the pr fences, plowed up his crops and driven his stock upon his growing crops, trying to in-timidate him and force him off the land. As the ontcome of the whole trouble and after the trial of ten suits, each of which he has won, Flanigan is in court seeking to recover the sum of $4,000 damages.

The defendant tells a different story and claims that Flanigan is the tresspasser and that he has no title to the property, being there simply as a squatter. Other District Court Doings.

The case of Amanga Garlick against Thomas Murray is on trial again in Judge Doane's court. In this case the plain-tiff seeks to recover the sum of ₹5,000. At a former trial she secured a judgment of $250, and instead of paying up Mur-ray succeeded in securing a new trial. The plaintiff avers that during the summer and fall of 1890 she was in the employ of the defendant, serving as a housekeeper; that on the night before Christmas of that year the defendant visited her room, where, when she was wrapped in the soundest of slum bers, he beat, scratched, wounded and otherwise ill-treated the plaintiff. The defeudent claims that the suit is a blackmail, and is brought for the purpose of filching from him his hard earned wealth.

IN THE DEMOCRATIC CAMP.

Charles Goodrich Resigns as a Legislative Candidate-Who Will Succeed Him? The democratic county central committee will meet this evening and one of the matters that will come up for adjustment will be the filling of a vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Goodrich who was nominated for the legislature by the recent democratic county convention. The serious lilness of the aged mother of the nominee makes it impossible for him to devote any time to the campaign, as his presence at her bedside is imperative and he is unwilling to consider political matters at this time. His resignation will be accepted and the members of the committee are already casting about for some suitable democrat to take his place on the tic et. Fred Metz, jr., seems to have the call as Mr. Goodrich's successor, both as a sterling crat and a representative young German, though George Sternsdorff is making a lively hustle for the place. Sternsdorff is pulling three strings to help his candidacy-he was a member of the last legislature, he is a German, and he received the highest number of votes in the convention of any of the unsuccessful seemers for the nomination this year. Further than this, he claims that he has a majority of the committee in his favor, and therefore professer to reside on Easy street just at this time. Although a member of the Jacksoniaus, Sternsdorff is regarded askance by many of the members of that organization just now, because of his action as chairman of the old congressional committee in trying to postpone the congressional convention a few weeks ago. It was alleged at the time that the move was in the interest of the candidacy of Governor Boyd, and as the governor is not excessively popular with the rank and file of the Jacksonians Sterns-norff's action was bardly calculated to intensify his solidity with the anti-administra-

Harrison Against the Field. While some of the fusion democrats of this state profess to believe that the national ticket of the populists will have a walkaway in Nebraska this fail in consequence of their efforts to throw the democratic vote to the Weaver and Field electors, it is evident that this opinion is not very generally shared by men outside the state who have money to bet on the election. No better proof of this fact could be furnished than their action in sending money here to be bet on Harrison carrying the state. Agents of Kansas City parties received $500 from that place Tuesday morning, and $400 of that amount is still untaken. Mr. J. A. Connor of the Board of Trade was offering 2 to 1 on Weaver before it arrived, but when this outside money was offered at even terms he changed his mind, and would take only $100 of it, even on that basis. The r mainder is yet waiting a taker, and may be found in the Board of Trade building. It says that Harrison will carry Nebraska, and goes even against the

Patrick O'Bannan's Ambition. The vaulting ambition of Colonel Pat O. Hawes continues to play leapfrog with the obstacles that have thus far been placed in the way of his desire to represent this district in the next congress, and he is still figuring on getting into the race. He has made overtures to the populists, representing to them that their nominee, Christian Orff, stands no show whatever of election, but that if they will induce Orff to withdraw and name him to fill the vaceancy he will go out through the district on the stump with any populist speaker they may care to send with him, and beat both Doane and Mercer to half, that they work know they were so badly that they won't know they were running. Mr. Orff is in St. Louis at the present time, and his opinion of this rather novel proposition can not be ascertained until his return home, ENGLAND'S FAIR REPRESENTATIVE. Mrs. Ethel Gordon Fenwick of the Royal Commission Talks of the Fair.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 6.-The lady member of the British royal commission to the World's fair, Mrs. Ethel Gordon Fenwick, wife of a noted English physician, who is here in the interests of all departments of the commission, especially her own part of the work, that of trained nurses, said today: "I believe that the congresses of the World's fair will be much more beneficial than the exhibits, especially as regards education, philanthropy and hygiene. I wish to open the way for a great congress of trained nurses, the first one of its kind ever held." While uphoiding the advantages of the English three years course of study Mrs. Fenwick thinks American nurses are superior to English, being more efficient in the art of sick-cookery; are very much better paid and are much more justly treated. A great blot, she says, on the English system is that the nurses receive a small, settled salary from the institution to which they are attached and the middlemen derive great profits from their fees. The lower nurses suffer from the "sweating."

No Money for Decoration. CHICAGO, III., Oct. 6 .- The Treasury department has refused to make any appropriation for decorating the Chicago government building, where the reviewing stand for the World's fair civic parade will be built. In a letter received by Custodian Hitchcock, F. A. Stock, the chief clerk of the treasury. says that there is no money at his disposal for decorating purposes. He suggested that the clerks in the building be called upon to subscribe to a fund to be used in building a stand, the seats on which could be sold and the receipts used to buy decorations. Custodian Hitchcock sent an answer saying that it would be impossible, as the committee on ceremonies had already been given the space in front of the building, along which the parade will go. He requested that an extra effort be made to obtain the money, as it would attract most unfavorable comment if the building were bare of decorations.

Wearled of Life. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 6 .- W. M. Runk of the extensive dry goods firm of Darlington, Runk & Co., committed suicide this morning. Mr. Runk was prominent in the Sunday School association of the diocese of Pennsyrvania, being one of the original members and a member of the board of managers of the American Church Sunday School institute, and of the joint diocesan committee on Sunday school lessons for the Episcopal church, which, in annual session in New Yors, compiled the lessons for the use of the church throughout the United States. As a sember of the Brothernood of St. Andrew, he exhibited great activity in furthering the growth of the society. He was also a member of the southwest convocation of the last cloces an convention, and on Tuesday was to have gone to Baltimore to represent the Sunday schools of this diocese at the American Church School triennial institute.

MIDDLETON'S METHODS

He Used a Froxy to Pass a Civil Service Examination.

RUSE EMPLOYED BY AN AMBITIOUS BOY

Another Man is Carrying Mail on His Route Now and the Postmaster is Wondering What Will Turn Up Next in the Office,

The Omaha postoffice has brought to light another case of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde. The story is a unique one but has very little of the remantic connected with it. In August, 1890, a young men who said his name was Outo Middleton presented himself along with about thirty other applicants to take the civil service examination necessary to secure the position of mail carrier. Mr. Middicton's papers were considered very creditable and he was soon praced on the eligible list. A few months later he was appointed as a mail carrier. When he appeared at the office to begin work Mr. Moule, one of the local board of examiners, was impressed with the idea that this was not the Otto Middleton who had passed the examination several months previous, but thinking that he might possible be mistaken be let the matter rest and watched for developments. The mental picture which Mr. Monie carried in his eye of the Mr. Middleton who passed the examination represented him to be a rather slight young man of medium height, whereas the Mr. Muddleton who appeared to take the position was a much taller man and wore a mustache, which the former

In a few months it was noticed that Mr. Middleton, the carrier, was a very poor speller. "When he began to send back letters and papers with 'not known' written across them, spelling the word known, 'none,'" said Mr. Mohle, "I began to wonder how that man ever passed the examination and my suspicion grew stronger from day to day that he was not the man we had recommended to the department and whose papers we had forwarded to Washington." A few weeks ago Mr. Mobile told Post-master Clarkson of his doubts about the Middleton case and the postmaster, after examining Middleton's bandwriting, called him into the office and questioned him about the matter. Middleton put on a bold front and declared that he was the same man who took the examination. The postmaster had Middleton cony one of the examination papers and his penmanship proved beyond a who made out the papers in 1899. Middleton was asked to make oath to the statement that he was the person who passed the examination, and there he stuck. "If my word isn't good enough you can take your position and give me my time," said Middleton, pretending to be greatly of-doubt that he could not have been the man fended.

The postmaster told Middleton that he did not wish to do any man an injustice, but he would not keep a man in his employ who would lie to him, and he stood suspended until his case could be investigated. Mid-dleton has not appeared at Clarkson's office since. He was suspended two weeks ago, and was dismissed from the service last week, as he had not put in an appearance. and the postmaster had become thoroughly convinced that Middleton had been playing a double game. The matter has been investigated far enough to prove beyond a doubt that the young man who took the examination was an intimate friend of Middleton. His name is Young, He is a bright and well educated young fellow who has a more lucrative position than that of mail carrier, but he undertook the Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde business for the special bene fit of his friend Middleton.

There appears to be no penalty for the offence, and Middleton is doubtless looking for employment elsewhere. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is an unexcelled medicine for children while teething. 25 cents a pottle.

BLOODY FIGHTING IN VENEZUELA. respo's Crowning Battle Won-Will Oc cupy Caracas Today. NEW YORK, Oct. 6 .- A World La Guavra Venezuela, cable dated October 5, says: A desperate battle has just taken place at Los reques, a small town on the railroad line to Valencia at a point about equally distant between that place and Caracas; 600 are killed and many high government officers captured. Crespo has struck another decisive blow which, following on his previous successes, means victory for the Crespists.

Caracas is more than excited, for Crespo has announced his determination to enter the capital tomorrow. He has made sa formal demand for the surrender of the city From news received here, the fight was a most bloody one. Considering the size of the contending armies, the number killed in-dicates serious fighting on both sides. But stubborn as was the resistance of the government troops they had to fly before the Crespists and were utterly routed. Crespo had at his disposal some 14,000 men, includ ing 6,000 brought to him by General Colino, who joined him some days ago at Valencia. Under Crespo were Generals Vegas and ferent roads on the way to Caracas, their ob-ective point. The revolutionist general possessed twelve pieces of artillery and had the assistance of several Americans, besides that of General Widener, a German, and General Betaili, an Italian.

General Pulido, an uncle of the acting president, was in command of the goveru-ment forces, numbering 6,000, and went to Los Teques to take up a position in order to repai Urespo's advance on the capital, which was thus denuded of troops. This defeat robs President Pulido of his army. All the government officials at Los Teques and those accompanying the presidential party are reported to be prisoners at Crespo's camp. La Guayra is still in the hands of the government, but it cannot bold out against Foreigners out here are now in jeopardy. It may be impossible to control the murderously inclined populace and the rufflaniy element of the soldiery. Americans may, however, feel somewhat secure as the Chicago is close in port with her guns headed and ready to protect Uncle Sam's subjects. It may be locked upon as certain that Caracas will su mit to Crespo, as it now seems

Acting President Pulido was anxious to have General Eleasar Undaneta return to the command of the troops, which he in-tended should Crespo enter Caracas, out Undaneta is a fugitive and is between two fires, as on his return here he would have to deal not only with Crespo, but with Admiral Walker, and he is practically an outlaw.

Tobe's in Town. Tomas Castor of Lincoln, Nebraska's chin-whiskered member of the democratic national committee, is in the city conferring with the anti-Boyd democrats as to the safest and surest plan to pursue to kill the governor's pull with the national committee, and to secure for himself and his confreres the handling of that portion of the PERIL FOR WEAVER IN PULASKI.

If the General Appears and Utters One Improdent Word Death Will Follow. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.-The news from Puluski last night is of an alarming nature. General Weaver says he will certainly go to Pulaski and speak there Saturday and that he has no intention of cancel ing his appointments.

Letters from the wore conservative people in Pulaski and Giles county urgestrongly that Weaver be dissuaded from coming as there are grave fears of a serious battle if he appears there. Every utterance will be criticised and one imprudent word may lead to his death.

General Weaver's course during the war made him extremely opnoxious to the people, and his oitter language about his accusers has created intense excitement. asserts that he will hurl defiance in the face of his encimes.

It is said he will be killed if he uses insulting language, but the third party men from all over the country, including many exconfederate soldiers, are arming and prepar-ing to go to Pulasm, saying they will protect him in speaking and defend him against as sault. Both sides are determined and a bloody fight may result.

General Weaver may use such temperate language as to forestall any trouble, but even the tension and the strong feeling would in all likelihood lead to trouble. Every effort is being made by the state democratic committee to secure a quiet hearing for Weaver and to prevent any violence, but let-ters received this morning say that no argu-ment will avail; that if General Weaver ntters an imprudent word he will be killed, and that all the conservative people in Pulaski cannot prevent it. They urge that the only safety lies in successfully urging Weaver not to fill his appointment. The state democratic committee are much dis-turbed over the situation.

GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

End of the Famous Delamater Trial at Meadville, Pa. MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 6. - The jury in the embezziement charges against the Delamaters this morning returned a verdict of guilty as to Hon, George W. Delamater; not guilty as to the others, A new trial will be applied for und the legality of the act of 1859 will be questioned. Defendant was state senator many years ago, and republican candidate for governor in 1890, when Pattison was elected. The embezziement charges were the outgrowth of the failure of the Delamater bank in December, 1899.

The charge upon which ex-Senator Delamater was convicted was statutory embezziement; that is, the firm received deposits knowing themselves to be insolvent. Since the election of Governor Pattison and the Meadville bank failure, Mr. George W. Delamater has been practicing law at Seattle, in the state of Washington, and it is said he was likely to become prominer, in politics on the Pacific coast. He has been talked of for congress. The penalty as fixed is not less than the sum of money emberzied and imprisonment in the penitentlary not less than one year nor more than six years in solitary confinement and at hard labor.

SENATOR PEFFER'S SON KILLED,

He Meets His Death in a Wreck on the Missouri Pacific Raifroad, Council Grove, Kan., Oct. 6.-Charles Peffer, the oldest son of United States Senator Peffer, was killed in a freight wreck at an early hour this morning on the Missouri Pacific railroad near Gy psum City, fifty miles west of this place. The train, a heavily loaded freight, ran through a bridge which had been burned. The locomotive dashed through the opening and eleven freight cars plied on top of it. Peffer was the engineer. His fireman also perished in the wreck. Peffer was 33 years old. He lived at Council Grove and leaves a wife and three chil-dren. Senator Peffer was in Kassas City to speak at the fair this afternoon but can celed the date upon nearing of his son's death and came here immediately.

Hamburg's Senate Significantly Silent. London, Oct 6.—The Berlin correspondent of the Curenicle says: The Hamburg senate has not yet replied to the grave charge made against it by Mr. Burke, the United States vice consul at Hamburg, of issuing clean bills of health to steamers bound for American ports after the city had been officially declared to be infected with cholera.

More Miners' Bodies Recovered. IRONWOOD, Mich., Oct. 6.-The bodies of three more of the men entombed in the Norrie mine were recovered early this morning They have been identified as Asaik Densham, Adolph Blumquist and Herman Erickson. Two more he buried under the debris, the search for which still goes on. Robbed an Evangelist.

Evangelist Boyer is in a position to testify that there is no time, place nor thing too sacred for the Omaha sneak thief. He had his silk umbrells with him at the revival services at the First Christian church last night and it disappeared.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the benedefal results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills, He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stemach seemed all out of order, I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills." -Boothbay (Me.), Register.

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salttheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured

Ayer's Pills and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."-H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."-Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.
