He Addresses His Audience to Enthusiasm by His Utterances.

KANSAS UNDER THE POPULISTS' RULE

He Tells the People Some Startling Truths and Advocates the Cause of Republicanism with His Old-Time Fiery Vigor.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 8.—Ex-Senator Ingalls made his first speech in the present campaign here tonight.

Ingalls made his first speech in the present campaign here tonight. A torchlight procession preceded the speaking and was reviewed by Mr. Ingalls.

The audience which gathered to hear Mr. Ingalls was enormous, fully 8,000 people being present.

Before and during the speaking the populists scattered circulars around containing this quotation from one of Mr. Ingalls' speeches delivered in 1904 before the Senate.

Mr. Ingalls said he was glad to see many of his old friends among the sterner press present, because he had gone before them the allegation that he had gone abroad (referring to his European trip) to escape taking part in this campaign.

RECORD OF REFORMER KEEM

Facts Taken from the Congressional Record Which Cannot Be Disputed.

HOW HE GUARDED POPULAR INTERESTS

He Never Allowed an Opportunity to Pass Without Giving some Corporation a Lift—An Interesting Bit of His History.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special to The Bee.]—Representative Keem's record as an economist and reformer is a curious object in Washington.

There is nothing in the record of Mr. Keem in the position of congress which he recently served to cause any one to even suspect that he had any notions of reform.

It is true that but little in the way of work can be expected of a man who serves his first term in congress.

He usually studies the field, and when he has thus equipped himself he can all the more effectively help his constituents.

He is invariably expected, however, to vote right upon the questions which affect his people.

Mr. Keem began his work in the interest of corporations by introducing a bill (H. R. 4,381) on January 23 last, which proposed that the government should buy out the plant of the Washington Gaslight company.

Mr. Keem's bill for this purpose appropriated $1,000,000, but it did not limit the amount which might be paid to that sum.
