PULSE OF WESTERN PROGRESS

The Wisdom of National Liberality Toward Education in the West.

MINING ACTIVITY IN VARIOUS SECTIONS

Important Irrigation and Railroad Projects in Idaho and Montana-Confusion in the Name-Summary of the Week's Events in the Northwest-

National liberality was never more wisely bestowed than in contributing to the educational interests of the west. The lavish endowment of lands and money has already placed the public school system on a solid foundation, enabling the new states to show an unusually small per cent of liliteracy. A single instance will show the expanding value of the endowment. In South Dakota less than one-thirtieth of the school lands have been sold and the amount realized is ever $1,200,000. The school land income for 1892 amounted to $75,108.64, derived from the interest on purchase money of lands that have been sold and from the rental of lands leased, mostly the former. While this is a munificent income, considering the age of the state, it falls considerably short of what was expected, owing to the fact that a very small portion of the state's real estate was The farmers and stockmen who own iand adjoining school sections are becoming foxy, so to speak—they won't pay rent, but use the land just the same. Last year the income amounted, in round numbers, to $45,000. The number of school children then was about 86,000 and the rate allowed the counties was 56 cents for each child. This year the returns show 90.824 children and the rate allowed is 85 cents for each child of school age in the state.

Mining interests in the Cour d'Alene country are gradually recovering from the Ten or fifravages of the late labor "war." teen of the men implicated in the destruction of property have been tried and convicted and imprisoned for terms ranging from three months to two years. The bulk of the union miners have left the country, being unable to obtain employment. All persons engaged in the strike have been blacklisted by the Mine Owners association. Everything is now quiet and narmony reigns between the imported men and their employers. The Poorman mine turns out from 200 to 250 tons of ore per day. It runs about 55 per cent lead and from twenty-eight to thirty ounces of silver. The Alice mine holds up well. All the leading mines are yielding good paying ere, but the low price of silver confines operations to the best ores. Prospecting and development work are at low ebb.

An English syndicate, representing a capital of $3,000,000 has acquired an interest in the Hoodoo and Little Union group of mines, from James Sheehan of Seattle and A. H. Morrison of Suchomish, making it a deal probably greater importance and magnitude than any previous similar transaction in the northwest. The Hoodoo and Little Chief group is in the Stillaguamish district, between the Silver Creek and Monte Cristo regions, and is known to be one of the most valuable undeveloped districts in the state of Washington. They were first located by A. Gordon and F. W. Harrington in 1891. There are estimated to be 3,000,000 tons of orein sight, and the purchasers poid at the rate of $1 a ton. On the Little Chief claim the outcroppings run for over 700 feet and 900 feet in depth, and the vein is 28 feet

The ladies of Silver Bow county, Mont., protest emphatically against the proposition to go outside of their state for a model for the statue of Montana to be exhibited at the World's fair. They hold that there are native Montana women who would make just as beautiful models in face and figure as Miss Ada Renan. And they do not stretch the truth in claiming equality in feminine beauty. But how many of them would give beauty. But how many of them would give ate outline of their figures! All of which moves the New York Sun to exclaim: "Sigh no more, ladies of Montana; sigh no more. The thing whereof you complain is really a weil buttered compliment. You are all so s among you, and so took an outsider. Was this not well?

Ground on the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railroad was broken last Thursday. The work between Butte and Anaconda will be vigorously pushed to a finish this season. The road will be extended next year via Phillipsburg and Granite to Missoula and the Flathead country. The Butte terminus will be at the Modec mine, the most eastern claim of the Anaconda company. The road will cross Missoula gulch on the south side of Big Butte to Burlington and Silver Bow Junction, thence parallel the Montana Union through the Silver Bow canon. The Ana conda company are doing the work with Hill of the Great Northern behind the enterprise.

Boise capitalists have begun the construc-Gion of a large irrigation ditch, which will prove of great value to the agricultural in-terests of that section of Idaho. The ditch taps the Boise river above the city and will pass Boise on the high land above the peni-tentiary for the purpose of taking up unoccupied lands at Dry creek, Willow creek and in the neighborhood of Middleton. The ditch, when completed, will be six miles ong and will water something like 100,000 acres of land. It will have a capacity of 50,-000 miners' inches, or 800 cubic feet of water a second. It will cost something like $400,-

The name of the state of Washington does not quite satisfy the New York Sun. It claims that the name is "bothersome at times, because it is apt to be confounded with the national capital. When we print news from Seattle and other places in Washington some people are puzzled by it or get mixed. Why not call it George Washington for the sake of convenience! Nine of the for the sake of convenience! Nine of the states have two words in their names." The Washington Star approves the suggestion of the Sun and says: "When it was proposed to mame the new state 'Washingthe Star pointed out the confusion that would result. The sentiment that demanded the honoring of George Washington by naming a state after him was, properly enough perhaps, sufficient to outweigh considera-tions of convenience. It would, however, be still better tribute of respect to give the state the full name, 'George Washington,' and it would make the desired distinction. The Sun's suggestion is a good one regarded from any standpoint."

In Soi Smith Russell there is a strange comingling of comedy and pathos, and it is this mixture which enables him to keep his audience with him, to move his hearers to laughter or to tears. In "Peaceful Valley" and "A Poor Relation" Mr. Russell has two plays which give him ample scope for his peculiar talents. Sol Smith Russell is one of the foremost attractions in America. His business last season was simply the capacity of the theater at each performance at every city in which he played and his trip to the Pacific coast and return this season has been one continual series of packed houses. Mr. Russell played an enormous engagement in this city jast year, and will no doubt play a still greater one this time. He will begin an engagement of three nights at Boyd's, commencing tenight. He will present "A Poor Relation" Monday night, and "Peaceful Vailey" Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Soats and boxes for this attraction can now be secured at box office. The demand has been very large.

"Harvest Moon," presented by Martin & Booker's company, will be the attraction at Boyd's theater the latter part of the week. Miss Louise Rial will take the leading part.

"The Octoroon," a thrilling melodrama, with the scenes laid in Louisiana during the old stave days, commences the week at the Bijou this afternoon and evening. Bijou this afternoon and evening. The vaudeville performance interspersing the play is of an improved order, embracing many new and novel features, conspicuous among which are the funny character sketches by Eddie Fox and Dot Fisher, Barton and Miller and Bennington and Thompson.

WATER WAS HARD TO GET

One Very Serious Handicap at the Big Fire Sunday Morning.

FOUR LINES OF HOSE WERE USELESS

Too Much Pressure Burst a Main-Startling Rapidity with Which the Flames Devoured Everything in Reach -The Total Loss,

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the small stable belonging to Dr. J. B. Raion, 117 North Twenty-sixth street, and had almost entirely destroyed the structure before it was discovered. When the doctor was awakened by the smell of burning wood and hay he found that his own house and the parn in the rear was on fire. The neighborhood was aroused and some one telephoned the fire department headquarters, but Officer Ryan got ahead of the message by turning in an alarm from box 25. at the corner of Twentyfifth and Farnam streets.

Chief Salter was the first to arrive. As he jumped from his buggy No. 5 Hose company pulled up and laid in a line of nose from the nearest hydrant. By this time three barns and the roofs of two houses were ablaze, Chemical 2 came in from the north at the same time, and went to work on the house at 2543 Capitol avenue, owned by B. H. Robinson, and occupied by A. L. Wigton.

As the other nose companies came up they laid their lines and the signal for water was given. When the hydrants were opened the pipemen stood before the fiercely burning buildings with limp pipes in their bands, for no water came. Four out of the seven lines of hose were useless. Chief Saiter took in the situation at a glance and seeing that he could not get water near by, ordered his driver to turn in a sec ond slarm from the nearest box. This was done and more hose companies came up. Hose was then laid from hydrants down the fire, which threatened to be a great confla gration, was under control.

How the Buildings Burned, Dr. Ralph's barn was burned to the ground and his horse burned to a crisp. The doctor's residence was completely gutted, and will be a total loss. The barn in the rear of Robinson's house was a good-sized structure and the upper story was full of grain and hay. Two norses were stabled below. These and mals were burned before anyone could enter the stable to release them. From the big stable the flames leaped to the adjoining one, owned and occupied by W. J. Mount. Then it was that the residents began to fear a fire which would clear the whole block.

The houses of Messrs, Wigton and Mount burned with great rapidity and little could be done to save the buildings. Willing hands did everything possible to save the contents on the lower floors of the three houses and considerable furniture was The three barns are a total loss as are also the residences of Dr. Ralph and Mr. Mount. Only the rear part of the Wigton residence is destroyed and it can be repaired. W. J. Mount's house and contents cost $5,000 and was insured for about $3,000. A. L. Wigton had $500 insurance on the contents of his residence and Mr. Robinson had the building fully insured. Dr. Ralph carried $1,200 in surance but this amount will not cover his Bursting Water Mains and Hose. Besides being handicapped by the lack of vater, four sections of hose burst after the low pressure hydrant had been opened. It is understood that the lack of water was due to the actions of the engineer at the Wainut Hill high pressure pumping station. When on too much pressure and burst the main supplying that portion of the city with water. If this unfortunate accident had not have occarred the fire would have been extinguished with only the loss of two barns and the roofs of the three houses.

Yesterday hundreds of people visited the ruined houses and looked at the work of the flames. The residents in that part of the city will make an application tonight to the fire and police commissioners for a fire box in their immediate vicinity. It is estimated that the total loss will be about $12,000.

Cincinnatus had been health officer, and in that way had acquired a taste for absolute power. Mr. Gladstone had a regular "pigeon man" with them. When Mr. Ghidstone delivered speeches from his carriage the reporters wrote their reports on thin tissue sheets, "firmsy," and passed them to the pigeon man. The sheets were attached to the pigeons' legs by rubber bands and the birds set free. The birds performed excellent service in carrying the matter to neighboring cities or telegraph centers, as they had been trained. On several occasions, however, on fine, warm days, the birds alighted on roofs and sunged themselves for an hour or so, while the pigeon man tried to coax them in so as to file his copy, and the matter they carried had to be left out of the latest editions.

Disease never successfully attacks the system with pure blood. DeWitt's Sarsaparilla makes pure new blood and enriches blood.

BOW (RING) it is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leav-

This idea stopped that little game: The bow has a groove on each end A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.
