Various Offenders Gathered in By the Officers Last Night.

Detective Savage arrested Thomas Morrison last evening for complicity in the robbery of a Benson Heights motor car about two weeks ago. Morrison tallies exactly with the description of the robber given by the car men just after the robbery He was also positively identified as the man by A. M. Walton, Last evening a tail man with a sandy moustache steeped up to the desk at Mc-Donald's restaurant to pay for his meal. As Mrs. Clark opened the money drawer the man attempted to grab a roll of bills, but Mr. Clark was too quick for him and nabbed him before the door was reached. The rob-ber kicked Mr. Clark and started on a ron down the street. In an alley near the New Yorr enop house Clark exugnt the man and was again knocked down and escape was easy. A description of the robber was left with the police. Last evening Detectives Savage and Vizard arrested Harry F. Barton, an employe of Auiabaugh's fur store, for grand increay. It was reported that Barton had embezzled $500 of the firm's goods. Both Mr. Auia-baugh and the prisoner declined to talk about the matter.

Officer Stiles arrested George Ewing last night for horsestealing. It was claimed that the prisoner had taken possession of Dr. A Johnson's rig while it was standing at Four teenth and Douglas streets. The outfit wa recovered some six hours later and Ewing denied stealing it. He laid the blame on a couple of women who were with him when the horse was untied and driven away. Charles Bushman was arrested by Office

Sullvan last night on general principles. About three years ago Bushinan attempted to hold up Officer Blocm by throwing m couple of revolvers into his face, but luci was against him and Bloom took the would be highwayman to jail. From there he would to state's prison, where he served two years

Mr. Sol Russell, who began his annual engagement at Boyd's theater last evening, seems to think old ways the best. There is real genuine, honest fun in "A Poor Rela tion," made d uply enjoyable by the genius of the man who plys the part of the inventor. Noah Vale. A sterling actor, acknowledged leader of his school, Mr. Russell aims to give that ' touch of nature which makes the whole world kin," and now well he succeeds his uninterrupted series of popular ovations, not only in Omaha, but throughout America, are in evidence. Mr. Russell is surrounded by a good company of players, Frank E. Aiken, Charles Cantield and Earle Stiring carrying off the bonors among the men, while Miss Minnie Radeliffe, Miss Lester, Miss Aboott, appear ing in thoroughly congenial roles. As for the children, they are irresistible. With every seat in the house taken, with every box filled, it was no wonder that Mr. Rus sell, in his pleasant way, responded to a call at the close of the second act and made a very taking little speech which caused every ody to shake hands with his neghbor over the fact that Omaha was intellectual enout! o appreciate the actor and the man.

Politics has been interfering with all ginds of business more or less of late, and now the lawyers are beginning to serve notice oh the courts that they must get out of the way of the band wagon or be run over. There has been no superior court since Judge McGee was nominated for congress, but the district court has gone right along as though nothing were in the wind. Yesterday afternoon a betition was being circulated among the members of the Pollawaitamie county bar asking Judge Mucy to adjourn the present term of court on and after October 15, in refer to give pointies the undisputed field. There is but little doubt that the petition will be granted, at least in part will be granted, at least in part.

People's Party Candidates. The people's party of Kane township held a convention last evening at the headquarters to place in nomination a township ticket. A. J. Stupleton was appointed chairman, and A. J. McCiaren, secretary. Nominations for justice of the peace brought out the names of A. M. Hutchinson, Ed Mott, George McPeak, O. H. Lucas and W. L. M. Marsh as candidates. After balloting several times Hatchinson McPeak and Marsh were nominated. The rest of the voting was done by acclamation. James Sullivan, George Ball and J. H. Hull were cominated for constables, the names of George Hunter and A. J. Stapleton being suggested, but boin declining to have their names considered. Charles Sherraden and James Wilde were nominated for township trustees, and Ed E. Wright for township clerk.

A. L. Hendricks, who has just returned from a trip through the south, was then called upon for a speech. He gave the audience the benefit of his travels Virginia, Georgia and Atabania, in all of which he stated that there had been large defections from the democratic party to the people's. In Virginia, he said the populists bud a particularly strong foot hold. Candidates had been nominated by the democrats and populists, but there had not been a republican speech made in the state. The in-dications were that the republicans would unite with the people's party, and in that event the latter would undoubledly carry the state, it being largely composed of dis-grantled democrats. George Hunter's resignation as committee-nan from the Fourth ward was accepted, but the vacancy was not filled. It was decided that any vacancy that might occur on the ticket as it had been made up should be filled by the city central committee, and the convention adjourned.
